REVISED NOTIFICATION.

The 11th August 1886.—Under the provisions of section 9 of the Bengal Excise Act VII of 1878, and with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, a distillery in which spirituous liquor may be manufactured after the native process having been established at Gya, it is hereby notified, in modification of the notification, dated the 6th March 1886, published at page 191 of Part I of the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 10th idem, that, from and after the 1st April 1886, within the following limits, which have been fixed with the sanction of the said Board of Revenue, no such liquor, unless manufactured at the said distillery, shall be introduced or sold without a pass from the Collector, and no still shall be constructed or worked, or spirituous liquors manufactured, except at the said distillery:—

Boundary of the Gya Distillery Tract.

The tract is comprised in a circle, with radius of seven miles from the Town of Gya as the centre, the circumference of which is formed by a line starting from the south side of a village named Bahbalpore situated east of a hill in mouzah Kusmhar, and proceeding therefrom in an easterly direction, passing along the southern sides of mouzahs Dumra, Dagoona Chaterghat, Kotary and Sadipore, until it crosses the Gya railway line near Chakua, between the villages of Hassunpore and Nawgurh; thence the line proceeds along the southern side of villages Manun-bigha Tenary and Mandour, and crosses the river Phalgoo and the road leading to Anoan at a place east of Delha. The line then passing along the eastern side of mouzah Madarpore, meets the Muksoodpore road between Buendia and Nawdharya; thence proceeding towards the east along the boundary of the village of Mirgunge, it meets the road leading to Behar between the villages Bhoray and Telar, and crossing the river Pewar it passes along the boundaries of villages Budh Bharya and Sirsa Bahaira, and after that meets the Nawadah road between Nimri and Bajo Hills. Thence it passes along the western sides of mouzahs Bhindus and Surhni, and after that crosses the river Bunsi west of Bibipura near Amaithi, east of Bussua. After that, proceeding towards the south-east, it meets the Fatehpore road between the villages Bhadoa and Bahadura. The line then passes along the western side of village Bahadura and proceeds towards the south-west along the northern boundaries of the villages of Manjhowlia and Sobal-bigha and crosses the Pewar between Akarha and Sadipore. Thence proceeding to the south-west it passes along the boundaries of the villages of Hurli Khord, Hurli Kalan, Saydpore and Koyal. After that the line crosses the river Lilajan between the villages of Chhanch and Babhui, and proceeding westward crosses the river Mohanay near mouzah Bukrour, where it cuts the road leading to Bodh-Gya west of Taradih. Thence it meets the Dobi road between Mustipore and Dhondhwan and crosses the river Jumna, cutting the Chirki road south of villages Sadipore and Barawan. The line then crosses the river Jumna, and cutting the Chirki road between Parsawan and Sadopore proceeds westward and again crosses the river Jumna between the villages Barawan and Poona, south of Bukuary. The line then cuts the Pareya road between Kurmain and Khooshdihra, and thence it proceeds towards the north, and, passing along the villages of Sulra, Nowa-bigha, and Sijua, cuts the road leading to Tikari between Juggernathpore and Nimri hills in mouzah Kasumbar at the western side of Bahbalpore.

Note.—The villages abovementioned are all outside the tract.

[Second Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 22nd September 1886.—In supersession of the notification, dated the 19th July 1877, published under the provisions of section 69 of the Indian Registration Act III of 1877, in the Calcutta Gazette of the 8th August 1877, the following revised rules under the Act have been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, and are hereby published for general information. These rules will come into force in the Provinces under the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal on and from the date of their publication in the Gazette.

F. B. PEACOCK,

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rules framed under Section 69 of Act III of 1877 (the Indian Registration Act) and sanctioned by the Government of Bengal.

LEAVE AND APPOINTMENTS.

Changes of incumbency to be reported.

1. REGISTRARS and Sub-Registrars, on giving or receiving charge of their respective offices, shall report the fact to the Inspector-General in the form given in Rule 133 below.

In the case of Sub-Registrars, such reports shall be made through the District Registrar.

Temporary appointments to be reported.

2. Whenever a District Registrar makes a temporary appointment under section 12, he shall at once report the fact to the Inspector-General.

3. When a Sub-divisional Officer who is also ex-officio Sub-Registrar goes on tour, he should, if possible, avoid carrying the sub-registry office about with him, and should ordinarily make over charge to his Sub-Deputy Collector or to the Munsif. In the latter case, the assent of the Registrar and of the District Judge must first be obtained.

4. The report referred to in section 13 shall be submitted to Government by the Inspector-General at the end of each month.

5. Head-quarter Sub-Registrars having been permanently placed in charge of district registry offices under section 7 of the Act, clause 2, temporary appointments under section 11 need only be reported when some person other than the Special Sub-Registrar is appointed to perform the duties of the Registrar during his absence.

Registrar may assume charge of the office of absent Sub-Registrar.

6. When a Sub-Registrar is absent, or his office is temporarily vacant, if the District Registrar is unable to appoint a suitable substitute, he may himself assume charge of the sub-registry office until the return of the Sub-Registrar or the appointment of a successor; and in such cases the extra or additional fee chargeable for registration by a Registrar under section 30 (a) of the Act and article K of the Table of Fees shall not be charged upon registrations effected during the absence of the Sub-Registrar.

Leave to Rural Sub-Registrars.

7. Rural Sub-Registrars are not subject to the uncovenanted leave rules. It is a condition of their appointment that they should reside at the head-quarters of their jurisdiction. Leave should, therefore, be seldom required, and should be given only in cases of urgent necessity. When the leave asked for does not exceed one month, the Registrar is competent to grant the application and appoint a substitute. All leave exceeding one month, and every extension of leave which will prolong the period of absence beyond one month, must receive the previous sanction of the Inspector-General. All leave granted to Rural Sub-Registrars shall be at once reported to the Inspector-General, and included by him in the monthly report submitted to Government under Rule 4.

SEALS.

8. The seals of District Registrars and Deputy Registrars made under section 12 of Act XVI of 1864 shall be taken to be seals of Registrars and Sub-Registrars under this Act. The seal shall always remain in the personal custody of the registering officer.

LANGUAGES COMMONLY USED.

9. The following languages shall be considered to be commonly used in the districts named, viz.—

In the Patna Division and the districts of Bhagulpore and Monghyr—English, Hindi, and Hindustani.

In the Chota Nagpore Division, in the Sonthal Pergunnahs, and in the districts of Purneah, Darjeeling and Julpigoree—English Hindi, Hindustani, and Bengali.

In the Burdwan, Presidency, Dacca, and Chittagong Divisions, in the district of Maldah, and in the districts of the Rajshahye Division not already mentioned—English, Bengali, and Hindustani.

In the Orissa Division—English, Bengali, Hindustani, and Uriya.

Copies of Bengali, Uriya, or Hindi documents sent to other presidencies.

10. When a copy of a Bengali, Uriya, or Hindi document is forwarded, under section 65 of the Act, to a Registrar in another Province or Presidency, it shall be accompanied by information in English respecting the names and additions of all persons executing and claiming under it, and a description of the property situated in the Registrar's district sufficient for its identification.

11. A power-of-attorney intended for use in another Province or Presidency, if authenticated in Bengali, Uriya, or Hindi by an officer unacquainted with English, may, if the parties desire it, be forwarded by him to the District Registrar for the endorsement on it of an English translation of the authentication.

12. A power-of-attorney authenticated in a language unknown to a registering officer to whom it is presented may, if the parties desire it, be by him submitted to the Registrar or the Inspector-General of Registration, Bengal, who will procure an English translation of the authentication.

MAPS OR PLANS.

Territorial divisions.

13. The territorial divisions to be recognized under section 21 (b) shall be registration districts, sub-districts, and thanahs; also pergunnahs and mouzahs, where they are known, and collectorate districts, if different from registration districts.

14. Copies of maps or plans shall be attested by the signatures of the persons executing the document or their agents, and the original map or plan contained in the document shall at the time of registration be signed and sealed by the registering officer. When, under section 30 (b), the Registrar of Calcutta registers a document accompanied by a map relating to property, no part of which lies within his own district, a copy of the map shall be supplied for record in his own office in addition to the number required by section 21 (c).

15. When a document containing a map or plan is presented for re-registration under the proviso to section 23, it shall not be necessary for the parties to deposit fresh copies of the map or plan under section 21 (c); but the registering officer shall certify against the copy in the register book that the map or plan attached to the document is the same as that which was attached to it on its first presentation.

VISITS AND COMMISSIONS.

16. A commission shall ordinarily be issued by a registering officer to some salaried member of his establishment, and the order shall be briefly endorsed on the document in words to this effect—

"A commission is hereby issued under section 33 (or 38) of the Indian Registration Act, 1877, to [name and designation of the officer] for the purpose of inquiring whether this power (or document) has been executed by A.B., son of C.D., of , by whom it purports to have been executed."

17. If the person to be examined under section 38 be not resident within the district or sub-district of the registering officer, a commission shall be directed to the Registrar of the district in which such person resides, who may re-direct it to the Sub-Registrar, who may, if he cannot personally attend, re-direct it to any officer of his establishment. The travelling allowance will be transferred to the registering officer to whom the commission is addressed, but the commission fee will be credited in the office where the deed was presented.

18. When the commission has been executed, the Commissioner shall return the document to the office from which it was issued, with a report, which shall be endorsed upon the document, in the following terms:— "Having visited the residence of A. B., son of C. D., at , I have this day examined the said A. B., who has been identified to my satisfaction by E F., son of G. H., &c., residents of and the said A. B. admitted (or denied) the execution of this power, (or document).

Full signature of executant.
Ditto of witnesses.
Ditto of Commissioner.

Sections 33 and 38 of the Registration Act and section 392 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

19. A Commissioner may examine witnesses in the same manner as a registering officer; and persons refusing to give testimony to a Commissioner, on being required to do so, shall be subject to the penalties and punishment which they would incur for the same offence if committed in a registration office.

20. It shall be competent to a registering officer to examine the Commissioner personally in his office touching any of the circumstances connected with the discharge of his commission, especially with reference to the voluntary nature of the admission of execution.

21. All applications for visits under sections 31, 33 or 38, or for the issue of commissions under section 33 or 38, shall be accompanied by the amount of fees chargeable, as well as the amount of travelling allowance claimable by the registering officer or Commissioner.

22. A separate commission fee shall be charged upon every signature which requires attestation, but travelling allowance shall only be charged for the actual distance travelled: provided that where two or more persons who execute the same document (or documents relating to the same transaction) reside together, only one commission fee shall be charged, so far as those persons are concerned.

23. The distances for which travelling allowance is charged shall be calculated by the Sub-Registrar himself by reference to a map or to the Table of Distances prepared by the Collector, and the making of this calculation shall on no account be left to a clerk.

POWERS-OF-ATTORNEY.

24. The form of authentication of powers-of-attorney shall be as follows:—

(1)—When the principal executing the power appears at the registration office—

"Executed in my presence on the day of 18 , by A. B., son of C. D., of , by caste , by profession , who is personally known to me (or whose identity was proved by the testimony of E. F., son of G. H., of), and I accordingly authenticate it under section 33, Act III of 1877, and record it as No. for 18 ."

Full signature of principal.
Ditto of witness or witnesses.
Seal and signature of registering officer and date.

(2)—When the principal is exempted from appearance—

"Having visited and examined at his (or her) residence the principal A. B., son of C. D., of , by caste , by profession , who is personally known to me (or whose identity was proved by the evidence of E. F., son of G. H., of), I am satisfied that this power-of-attorney has been voluntarily executed by him (or her), and I accordingly authenticate it under section 33 of Act III of 1877, and record it as No. for 18 ."

Full signature of principal.
Ditto of witnesses.
Seal and signature of registering officer and date.

When the Sub-Registrar himself does not examine the executant he should make the following endorsement below the report of the Commissioner, as provided for in Rule 18:—

"From the above report, I am satisfied, &c." (as above).

25. All interlineations, blanks, erasures, or alterations in powers-of-attorney authenticated under section 33 should, at the time of authentication, be detailed in a foot-note signed by the Sub-Registrar. When there are no interlineations, &c., the fact should be noted in the same way. This foot-note will be copied in every case into the register of powers-of-attorney.

26. General powers-of-attorney are not available under this Act unless they contain or imply an authority to appear in a registration office, and are executed and authenticated in accordance with section 33. Powers already executed may be made available by the execution, in accordance with section 33, of an additional clause empowering an attorney to appear in a registry office.

27. Powers which do not contain or imply an authority to appear in a registration office shall not be authenticated under section 33.

28. Whenever a special power-of-attorney is used in a registration office for the purposes of section 32, an endorsement shall be made upon it in the following form, and it shall be returned forthwith:—

Presented this day.

Date. (Sd.) A.B.,

[Seal.] Registrar or Sub-Registrar of

29. For general powers-of-attorney no such endorsement is required. They shall be returned after inspection to the parties by whom they were presented.

ISSUE OF PROCESS.

30. Summonses under section 75 will be issued direct by the Registrar acting according to the provisions of Chapter VI of the Code of Civil Procedure. The summonses referred to in sections 36 and 37 shall be executed through the revenue authorities, and the peon's fee shall be regulated according to the rules for the service of processes by such authorities. Provided that when a Rural Sub-Registrar's office and a Munsif's Court are located in the same place, the processes shall issue through the Munsif's Court. In such cases the peon's fee shall be regulated by the rules for the service of processes in the civil court.

31. If the summons be addressed to a person who is alleged to have executed the document, it shall require him to attend in person or by agent: if it be addressed to any person whose evidence is required to prove a fact, it shall require him to attend in person.

32. Every application for summons must be accompanied by the amount of expenses payable to the witness, as well as the amount of peon's fees usually chargeable by the revenue authority or civil court through which the summons is to be issued; and in forwarding for compliance an application for summons, the registering officer shall also forward the witness's expenses and the peon's fee, together with a draft summons in duplicate ready for signature, and purporting to issue from the civil or revenue court to which the application is forwarded for compliance.

33. In case of a person summoned under section 37 neglecting to appear, or if a summons under that section cannot be served, the registering officer may call upon the revenue officer or civil court through whom his summonses are served to take any further action authorized by the law for the time being in force for the purpose of securing the attendance of the person whose evidence is required, and such a requisition must be accompanied by the proper fee. It rests with the registering officer to specify the form of action to be taken.

34. No Rural Sub-Registrar shall issue a requisition under the preceding rule without the previous sanction of the District Registrar.

WILLS, &c

35. A will shall not be received for deposit otherwise than in the manner laid down in section 42. A will received through the post office shall be returned to the testator bearing.

Will deposited under section 42.

36 Every entry made in Register Book V, under the provisions of section 43, shall be signed in full and dated by the Registrar.

37. When a sealed cover is withdrawn under section 44, the fact shall be noted in Register Book V, and the entry shall be signed by the person by whom the withdrawal is made as well as by the Registrar.

38. When a sealed cover is opened under section 45, the fact shall be noted in Register Book V and the entry signed by the Registrar. If a cover is opened under order of a civil court, this shall be mentioned in the entry.

Wills called for by a civil court under section 46.

39. When a will is forwarded to any court under section 46, it shall be accompanied by a memorandum of the fee for opening the cover and charges for copying, and it shall be the duty of the court to levy and remit such fee and charges to the Registrar.

Wills to be examined.

40. Sealed covers deposited with a Registrar under section 42 shall be examined monthly, and their condition noted in Statement D of Return A. If there be no sealed cover in custody, the fact must be similarly noted in the statement.

PROCEDURE IN REGISTRATION.

41. On the presentation of a document for registration, the registering officer shall first satisfy himself—

(1) That it has been presented at the proper office (sections 28, 29, and 30);

(2) That it bears the proper stamp;

(3) That it is in the usual language of the district, or is accompanied by a translation and a true copy (section 19)

(4) That in the case of important interlineations section 20 and Rule 148 have been complied with;

(5) That (if the document refers to immoveable property) the description is sufficient (section 21);

(6) That it has been presented within the proper time (sections 23, 25, and 26);

(7) That it has been presented by a person authorized to do so (section 32);

When a document is presented under section 24 to a registering officer other than the Registrar, the registering officer shall, after examining it in regard to the above particulars, forward it at once to the Registrar, and if it is returned with an order for registration shall deal with it in the same manner as other documents presented within the time allowed for registration.

Proviso.—Provided that when a document is presented not duly stamped, the Registering Officer shall at once impound it under section 33 of the Indian Stamp Act I of 1879. But before forwarding it to the Collector, the Registering Officer shall record on it the endorsement prescribed by Rule 44, and if possible that under Rule 46. But the document shall not be copied or certified as registered under Rule 55 until it is returned to him with the Collector's certificate that the proper or deficient stamp duty has been paid.

Certificate of admissibility.

42. If the requirements of the law have been complied with in all the particulars mentioned in the preceding rule, the following certificate shall be entered on the face of the deed :—

"Admissible under Rule 41. Correctly stamped (or exempted from stamp duty) under the Indian Stamp Act, Schedule , No. ."

Levy of fee—section 60.

43. After entry of the certificate under Rule 42, the registering officer shall receive the fee or any fine payable under section 24, and enter the amount on the document close to such certificate, and at the same time the requisite entry shall be made in the fee-book.

First endorsement.

44. The document shall now be endorsed to the following effect under section 52 :—

"Presented for registration at A.M. (or P.M.) on the day of 18 , at the sub-registry office (or elsewhere), by A.B., son of C.D. , of , by caste , by profession [or attorney for E. F. one of the claimants under a power (No. for 18) executed in the presence of the Sub-Registrar of]."

Signature of presentant

Signature of Sub-Registrar of

45. The amount of the fee paid shall be entered on the receipt given under section 52.

Second endorsement.

46. The endorsement under section 58 shall be to the following effect :—

"Execution is admitted by A. B., son of C. D., of by caste , by profession ."

"Identified by E. F., son of G. H., of , by caste , by profession

The of 18 .

(Sd.) E. F.

(Sd.) I. J., Sub-Registrar of

When the document has been presented by the executant himself it will not be necessary to repeat in the second endorsement all the particulars recorded in the first endorsement regarding his father, &c., but the endorsement may be recorded thus—

"Execution is admitted by the above A. B., who is identified by E. F., son of G H., of , by caste , by profession ."

When execution is admitted by an agent, the following words shall be added :—

"Agent for K L., under a power-of-attorney (No. for 18) executed in the presence of the Sub-Registrar of ."

When the executant or his agent is personally known to the registering officer, the words "personally known to me", should be substituted for the identification clause.

When execution is admitted by the representative of a deceased person, the following words shall be added:—

"Representative for K. L., whose right to appear in such capacity has been proved to my satisfaction."

When any payment of money or receipt of consideration is acknowledged, the following clause should be added :—

"The receipt of rupees as consideration is admitted by the above A. B"

47. The endorsement referred to in the preceding rule shall invariably be recorded in the handwriting of the registering officer unless he has been specially authorised by the Inspector-General of Registration to use an endorsement stamp.

48. When a person who cannot write signs his name by means of a mark or by touching the pen, his name shall be recorded at length, and the writer of the name shall also sign his own name in attestation that the mark was affixed or the pen touched in his presence.

49. Whenever a registering officer administers an oath, he shall record the evidence of the witness examined on a separate sheet of paper, and a note of the fact shall be endorsed on the deed itself.

50. When a document is presented which has only been executed by some of the parties to it, the other executants may attend and execute the document and admit their execution without the payment of any further fee, so long as the certificate of registration under section 60 has not been endorsed thereon; but if the registration of the document has been completed, it must be presented afresh for registration and a second fee shall be payable.

Document to be copied after admission.

51. When all the persons executing a document, or their representatives, assigns, or agents, have appeared and admitted its execution, the document shall be copied in the register.

In the event of a document being inadvertently copied in a wrong book, the registration shall stand, but the Registrar may direct that the document, with the endorsements and certificate thereon, shall be copied into its appropriate register without further charge.

52. When two or more copies of the same document are brought for registration at the same time, it shall not be necessary to enter the document more than once in the register, but all the endorsements shall be written upon each copy.

53. All endorsements shall be made in red ink, excepting signatures, which shall be made in black ink.

54. When there is not room on a document for the necessary endorsements, they shall be made on a separate quarter sheet of hand-laid medium paper, which should be supplied by the office, and attached to the document, a note being at the same time made on the document itself and signed by the registering officer. Every piece of paper so added must bear the seal of the registering officer and be signed and dated by him.

Final endorsement.

55. When a document has been copied and compared, the registering officer shall make in his own handwriting, in the following form, the endorsement required by section 60:—

"Registered in Book , volume , page , being No. for 18 ."

The of . 18 . (Sd.) Sub-Registrar.

IDENTIFICATION.

56. In order to establish the identity of persons appearing before him, the registering officer shall require the best testimony procurable. The testimony of persons known to himself, or of persons in a public position, such as zemindars, court officials, pleaders, &c., is better than that of unknown and obscure persons.

57. Registering officers should be very cautious in accepting the testimony and statements of so-called mukhtars, who are not enrolled as such, when appearing before them for the purpose of identifying persons.

58. It is not sufficient for the registering officer to record the statement of any witness the parties may choose to produce. He must satisfy himself that the witness is really acquainted with the person or persons whom he is produced to identify. The name of the person to be identified must be stated to the identifier, and he should be clearly and specifically asked whether that person is or is not the person that he professes himself to be.

DELAY IN PRESENTATION AND APPEARING.

59. Sections 23. 24, 25, 26 and 34.—Section 25 refers to documents executed out of British India, and is noticed below. With regard to all other documents the law requires (sections 23 and 34, clause 1), that both the presentation for registration and the appearence of the executant shall take place within four months from the date of execution. But in order to avoid hardship in certain cases, it also provides that a further period of four months shall be allowed, subject to a fine: (1) when a document cannot be presented within the first four months owing to urgent necessity or unavoidable accident (section 24); and (2) when after a document has been presented, the executants, owing also to urgent necessity or unavoidable accident, cannot appear, or cannot be made to appear, to admit execution (section 34, Proviso). In cases of urgent necessity or unavoidable accident, therefore, a delay of four months is allowed for presentation, and a similar delay for appearance; and both periods may be allowed for the same document, if an urgent necessity or an unavoidable accident occurs to prevent both the presentation of the document and the appearence of the executant in due time (sections 24 and 34, Proviso). The two periods are quite distinct, and are given for different purposes and at different stages in the procedure of registration. This distinction is important; and if it is borne in mind, the following instructions will be readily understood.

60. Sections 23 and 34.—When a document has been presented under section 23, the executant must appear to admit execution within four months from the date of execution, and, on his failure to do so, the sub-registrar must immediately after the expiration of the four months record a formal refusal to register, leaving it to the parties to appeal to the registrar under section 72 within 30 days, if they think proper. Notwithstanding the executant's failure to appear, however, the sub-registrar shall not record an order refusing registration if the person presenting the document has, before the expiration of four months from the date of execution, taken proceedings under section 36 to procure the appearance of the executant, but, in that case, he shall report the matter to the registrar for orders at the end of the four months. Both in this case and in the case of an appeal under section 72, the registrar shall not pass an order directing the sub-registrar to register the document, unless it is shown that the executant had not appeared owing to urgent necessity or unavoidable accident. In both cases also, if he passes such an order a fine must be paid under section 34, and the document may be registered at any time within eight months from the date of execution, as the order would be equivalent to the granting of a delay of four months for appearance. If, after this order, the executant does not appear within the eight months, the sub-registrar must record a formal refusal to register immediately after the expiration of that period. No document presented under section 23 can, under any circumstances, be kept pending after eight months, as the presentation having been made within the ordinary time only an additional four months can be granted for the appearance of the executant.

61. Sections 24 and 34.—A document presented, on payment of a fine, under section 24 is allowed four months in addition to the ordinary period, and the executant must, therefore, appear to admit execution within eight months from the date of execution. Should he fail to do so, the sub-registrar will record a formal refusal to register immediately after the expiration of the eight months, leaving it to the parties to appeal to the registrar under section 72, within 30 days, if they think proper. Notwithstanding the executant's failure to appear, however, the sub-registrar shall not record an order refusing registration, if the person presenting the document has, before the expiration of eight months from the date of execution, taken proceedings under section 36 to procure the appearance of the executant, but in that case, he shall report the matter for the orders of the registrar on the expiration of the eight months. Both in this case and in the case of an appeal under section 72, the registrar shall not pass an order directing the sub-registrar to register the document, unless it is shown that the executant has not appeared owing to urgent necessity or unavoidable accident. In both cases also, if he passes such an order, a fine must be imposed under section 34, in addition to the fine already imposed under section 24, and the document may be registered at any time before the expiration of one year from the date of execution, as the order would be equivalent to the granting of a delay of four months for appearance, in addition to the delay of four months for presentation already granted under section 24. If, after this order, the executant does not appear within the year, the sub-registrar must record an order refusing registration immediately on the expiration of that period. No document presented under section 24 can, under any circumstances, be kept pending beyond one year from the date of execution.

62. Sections 25 and 34.—The above instructions regarding documents presented under section 23 apply also to documents presented under section 25, with this exception only that the first period of four months and the extended period of eight months must be reckoned from the date of their arrival in British India, and not from the date of their execution. These documents can, under no circumstances, remain pending beyond eight months from the date of their arrival in British India.

In the case of a document executed by some of the parties in and by others out of British India, the party presenting the document may proceed at his option under section 23 or section 24 instead of section 25, and if he does so the provisions of and the above instructions regarding those sections shall apply.

All pending documents must thus be refused registration after eight months from the date of execution, if presented under section 23; after twelve months, if presented under section 24, and after eight months from the date of arrival in India, if presented under section 25.

63. Section 26.—This section refers only to the time allowed for presentation. It therefore applies to the first period of four months from the date of execution allowed under section 23, to the second period of four months from the same date, which may be allowed on payment of a fine, under section 24, and to the period of four months after arrival in India allowed under section 25, but not to the additional period of four months which may be allowed for appearance, on payment of a fine, under section 34.

REFUSAL OF REGISTRATION.

Documents inadmissible on presentation.

64. If the deed has not been presented in the proper office [Rule 41 (1)], it shall be simply returned to the presenting party. In this case no entry need be made in Book II.

65. If the stamp is incorrect [Rule 41 (2)], the deed shall be impounded and forwarded to the Collector (section 33 of the Indian Stamp Act).

Note.—If the executant of a deed who is in doubt about the proper stamp consults a registering officer on the subject before formal presentation, the required information may be given to him without impounding the deed. But any deed formally presented with an insufficient stamp must be impounded.

66. If the provisions of Rule 41 (3) to (7) have not been complied with, or if the presenting party refuses to pay the proper fee, the deed must be returned at once to the presenting party with the endorsement—

"Registration refused,"

an entry being made at the same time in Book II.

Note.—Orders under this rule may be deferred at the request of the parties in order to enable them to comply with the requirements of the law. But in such cases an order of refusal shall be passed if the requirements of the law have not been complied with within the time allowed for presentation under sections 23, 24, 25, or 26 as the case may be.

67. A Sub-Registrar is not authorized by law to refuse to register a document because he is directly or indirectly interested in the transaction to which it relates; but he will always recommend the parties to present such a document at some other office. If the document relates to moveable property only, such other office may be the office of any Sub-Registrar under the same Local Government at which all the parties may desire the document to be registered. If the document relates to immoveable property, such other office will (unless the parties prefer to resort to the Registrar of Calcutta) be the office of the Registrar of the district. The latter officer will (as provided by the note to Article K of the Table of Fees) register such document without charging the usual extra fee. If the parties, after being recommended as above, insist on the Sub-Registrar registering a document in which he is interested, he must do so. In this case he will report the fact for the information of the Registrar to whom he is subordinate.

68. The circumstances under which a document should at once be refused on presentation are given in Rules 64-66.

Refusal of duly presented documents.

A document duly presented and accepted for the purpose of inquiry will not be admitted to registration under the following circumstances:—

(1) If the executant denies execution (Section 35.)
(2) If the executant fails to appear and admit execution. (Section 35.)
(3) If the person by whom the document purports to be executed be dead, and his representative or assign deny execution. (Section 35.)
(4) If the person purporting to have executed the document appear to be a minor, an idiot, or a lunatic. (Section 35.)
(5) If the registering officer be not satisfied of the identity of the person appearing before him and alleging that he executed the document. (Section 35.)
(6) If the registering officer be not satisfied as to the truth of the allegation that a person who executed the document is dead. (Section 35.)
(7) If the admitting agent's power-of-attorney has not been made in accordance with the Act, or if an alleged representative or assign has failed to prove his status. (Section 35.)

Provided that a document executed by several persons shall not be refused registration merely by reason of one or more of the executants denying execution, or appearing to be minors, idiots or lunatics, or being dead; but shall be registered in respect of any of the other parties who admit execution.

69. The reasons of refusal must be recorded by the registering officer with his own hand in Book II, and the particulars should be fully and clearly stated in each case. When one out of several executants declines to comply with the requirements of the law, his name should be given: when the registering officer is doubtful as to the identity of a party admitting execution, the grounds of his suspicion should be stated.

Reasons of refusal to be clearly stated.

REGISTER BOOKS.

70. The register copy of every document shall be compared with the original by some person other than the copyist, and both the copyist and the comparer shall append their signatures to the copy in the book. The registering officer shall

Copyist and comparer to sign their names.

authenticate by his initials all corrections in the copy and all notes which may be necessary under section 20 of the Act. He shall also affix his initials to each page, and shall certify with his full signature each copy to be a true one, and shall date such certificate with his own hand. The copier in his signature shall use the word "copied," and the comparer the word "compared."

71. No erasures shall be made with a knife in any register book, but mistakes shall be corrected with the pen, and shall invariably be attested by the registering officer. All interlineations and corrections in the register books shall be made in red ink when the entries are in black ink, and in black ink when the entries are made in red ink.

72. The register books shall have two margins. On the left-hand margin shall be copied in red ink the value of the stamp, the certificate of admissibilty under Rule 42, and all the endorsements made in the office; in the centre shall be copied the deed itself in black ink, and the right-hand margin shall be left vacant for notes under section 20 and Rule 148. The stamp vendor's endorsement on each document shall be copied in red ink in the registers in the centre of the page below the copy of the document itself.

73. Several volumes of Register Books I and IV may, if necessary, be kept in use simultaneously, when the documents registered are so numerous as to make this course necessary. Register Books II, III, and V shall be continued from year to year until they are full, and in small offices where the number of documents registered is inconsiderable, the same volume of Register Books I and IV may also be used for two or more years.

74. When a book is closed, a certificate to that effect shall be appended at the close of the written portion, and a certificate showing the number of pages written upon shall be entered on the first page

Certificate of closure.

75. When, owing to omission or error in any document which has been registered, a supplementary document rectifying such mistake or omission is presented for registration, a note of such rectification shall be made in the margin of the register in which the original document is registered.

76. When a document occupies more than one sheet of paper, the seal and the signature of the registering officer shall be attached to every sheet at the time that the document is presented for registration.

COPIES, MEMORANDA, AND SALE CERTIFICATES.

77. In addition to the bound volumes of Register Book I, every Sub-Registrar shall keep two file-books, in one of which he will file the memoranda of registered documents which have been forwarded to his office under sections 64, 65, and 66 of the Act, and in the other the copies of the sale certificates received by him from Civil Courts under section 107 of Act XII of 1879. Similarly, Registrars shall keep two separate file books—one for memoranda and one for copies under sections 65, 66, and 67 of the Act These papers shall be bound into a volume, or volumes, of convenient size at the end of the year. They shall be numbered consecutively, but in a series distinct from that of original registrations in Register Book I.

78. Copies shall be made on paper of the same size and description as that of the bound books. Memoranda shall be drawn up in the prescribed form.

79. Memoranda for sub-districts in another district shall be enclosed to the Registrar of that district, together with the copy required for his own office; but no memorandum need make mention of any property other than that which is situated in the sub-district to which the memorandum is to be sent.

80 When a copy of a document is sent to the Registrar of another district under sections 65-67 of the Act, a memorandum need not be sent to any Sub-Registrar whose office has been amalgamated with that of the Registrar of such district

81. The date on which copies and memoranda are despatched under the last rule shall be entered in the right-hand margin of the book in which the document has been copied.

82. When a memorandum or copy under sections 64-67 is transmitted from one office to another, it shall be accompanied by a receipt in the prescribed printed form, which shall at once be signed and returned by the receiving officer. If delay occurs in the return of the receipt, the despatching officer should send a reminder for it. All such receipts, when returned, should be filed separately.

Receipts for copies and memoranda.

Copies and translations of documents in a foreign language.

83. The copies and translations of documents required to be filed under sections 19 and 62 shall be made upon hand-laid medium paper, which may be sold to the public for this purpose at one anna per sheet. They shall be kept in a separate file, a reference being made to this in the right-hand margin of the page on which the translation is copied in the register book. The file shall be bound from time to time, when it contains a sufficient number of copies and translations to form a volume. The endorsements under Rules 42, 44, and 46 and the certificate under section 60 recorded on the original documents returned to the presentant shall be entered on the left-hand margin of the register into which the translation is copied, as provided in Rule 72.

INDEXES.

Index of persons.

84. The personal index, No. I, shall contain the following headings:—

(1) Name of persons.
(2) Addition.
(3) Interest in the transaction, as purchaser, mortgagee, decree-holder, &c.
(4) Where registered.
(5) Serial number.
(6) Book.
(7) Volume.
(8) Page.

Index of places.

85. The local index No II shall contain the following headings:—

(1) Name of property or of mouzah; or, in towns, of street.
(2) Name of pergunnah or thanah.
(3) Sub-district in which the property is situated.
(4) Nature of the transaction, as sale of land, decree for possession of house, &c.
(5) Where registered.

(7) Book.
(8) Volume.
(9) Page.

Index of wills, &c.

86. Index No. III shall contain following headings:—

(1) Name of person.
(2) Addition.
(3) Interest in will or authority to adopt.
(4) Where registered.
(5) Serial number.
(6) Book.
(7) Volume.
(8) Page.

Miscellaneous Index.

87. Index No. IV shall contain the same headings as Index No. I.

88. Except in rural offices in the charge of Sub-Registrars unacquainted with English, all indexes shall be kept in English, and shall be prepared in accordance with the following rules.

Arrangement of entries.

89. English indexes shall be kept according to the letters of the alphabet, the entry under each letter being arranged according to the vowel of the first syllable if the word begins with a consonant, or according to the second vowel in the word if it begins with a vowel.

90. If the documents to be indexed are written or executed in English, the names of the persons and places shall be spelt in the same way in which they are written in the documents. If the documents are written or executed in a vernacular language, the spelling shall be regulated according to Professor H. H. Wilson's system of transliteration as modified by the Syndicate of the Calcutta University.

Transliteration.

91. In the case of Europeans the surname shall be taken as the index word. All native names shall be indexed according to their first letters as they stand in the deed. They will be transliterated in the same form in which they are written in the document. Thus in Bengali the same affix may be written, either Banurjya or Bandopadhyay, and whichever of these forms is used in the document will be retained and transliterated.

92. When a document is executed on behalf or in favour of Government, the index entry shall be made under G, Government, the name of the officer executing the document being entered in the column headed Addition; if on behalf or in favour of the Court of Wards, under W, Wards, Court of; and in the case of any other Court, under C. The names of companies shall be entered as they stand, the article only being omitted; thus Land Mortgage Bank of India, Limited, under L; Ganges Steam Navigation Company, Limited, under G.

When a document is executed on behalf of the Administrator-General, the Receiver, the Official Trustee or the Sheriff of Calcutta, the index entry shall be under Administrator-General, &c.

When a document is executed by the representative or guardian of a private individual, the name of the individual as well as that of his representative or guardian shall be indexed.

93. The name of the depositor of a sealed cover shall be entered in Index III in black ink. The name and addition of persons claiming under a will or authority to adopt, which will not be indexed until after the death of the testator or donor, should be entered in red ink.

94. When there are two or more executants or claimants, their names shall be separately entered in Index I, III, or IV. Similarly, when two or more properties are conveyed by a single document, they shall be separately entered in Index II. But no Sub-Registrar need enter in his Index II any property which does not lie in his own sub-district.

Two or more names in one document to be entered separately.

95. Copies and memoranda of documents and sale certificates shall be indexed in the same way as original documents, but the entries relating to them shall be made in red ink.

In Index No. I, the names of the decree-holder, auction purchaser, and judgment debtor shall be indexed from sale certificates, and the names of the parties from memoranda.

96. In rural offices in the charge of Sub-Registrars unacquainted with English, the indexes shall be kept in the vernacular. The rules given above apply to indexes in the vernacular. In all rural offices one copy of Indexes I, II, III, and IV shall be made for office use in a bound volume, and a duplicate of the entries made each month in Indexes I and II shall be submitted at its close to the Sub-Registrar at sub-divisional head-quarters. In the head-quarters sub-division, or where there are no sub-divisions, the duplicate will be sent direct to the Registrar for record.

97. The Sub-Registrar, on receiving vernacular Indexes I and II from Rural Sub-Registrars shall translate the same and incorporate them in his own indexes, noting the place of registration of each document. English indexes he shall directly incorporate in his own. He shall also at the end of each year, or at such shorter intervals as the Registrar shall direct, prepare on hand-laid medium paper a copy of the incorporated index for all offices in his sub-division, and submit it to the Registrar.

A copy of the entries in his Index III shall be sent to the Registrar by each Sub-Registrar at the end of every calendar year.

98. Where the office of a Registrar has been amalgamated with that of a Sub-Registrar, the duplicate copy of the incorporated indexes of the sudder sub-division shall be sent for safe custody to the office of the Registrar of Calcutta.

Duplicate indexes of amalgamated offices.

FEES AND FEE-BOOK.

Table of fees.

99. A printed table of fees in English and in the vernacular of the district shall be suspended in some conspicuous place in every registry office.

Fee-Book.

100. Columns 1 to 7 and 13 in the fee-book should be filled up as soon as any document is presented, except in the case of documents presented at the wrong office and returned immediately under Rule 64; columns 8 and 9 should be filled up as soon as a document is admitted or refused; columns 10 and 11, as soon as registration has been completed; column 12, as soon as the document has been delivered; and column 14, as soon as the required copies and memoranda have been despatched.

101. Fees levied on documents presented for registration (whether registration has been deferred or not) shall not be retained in the personal custody of any registering officer for any time longer than may be absolutely necessary. They shall be dealt with in the same way as other public money, and be paid into the nearest treasury. From district and sub-divisional offices the fees shall be remitted to the treasury daily: from rural offices they shall be sent to the treasury twice monthly or at such shorter intervals as the Registrar shall direct. In all cases remittances to the treasury should be accompanied by the chalan book duly filled up in duplicate. One copy of each chalan will be then kept by the treasury officer and the other returned with his signature.

102. The receipts entered in the fee-book need not be entered in detail in the cash-book: their daily totals will be sufficient. But all other receipts, and all payments whatsoever, must be entered in full detail in the cash-book. All cash received must at once be entered either in the fee-book or in the cash-book. No money should under any circumstances be kept out of account. The cash-book should be balanced every day, and signed after careful examination by the registering officer.

RECORDS.

Office of record in each district.

103. The Registrar's office shall be a central office of record for each district, and the books and papers of subordinate offices (which are not to be destroyed) shall be transferred to it from time to time.

Old records to be permanently preserved.

104. The following records belonging to the period anterior to the enactment of Act XVI of 1864 shall be henceforward permanently preserved in district registry offices:—

All registers of documents and their indexes.

Duplicate copies of documents required to be filed under Regulation XX of 1812.

Registers of powers-of-attorney.

Original powers required to be filed under Regulation XX of 1812.

Kazis' records.

Books to be kept in all offices.

105. Besides Register Books I, II, III, and IV, and Indexes, I, II, III, and IV, the following records shall be kept in all registry offices:—

A register of powers-of-attorney in the prescribed form.

A register of visits and commissions in the prescribed form

A fee-book in the prescribed form.

A cash-book in the form prescribed by Accountant-General.

A catalogue in the prescribed form.

A chalan book in the prescribed form.

A file of receipts given under section 52 and returned on delivery of registered documents.

A file of receipts for copies and memoranda under Rule 82.

A file of daily notices exhibited under Rule 153.

Additional books in district offices.

106. The following additional books shall be kept in the offices of all District Registrars:—

Register Book No. V.

A register of letters received.

A register of letters despatched.

107. In January of each year the following records for the previous year shall be transferred from sub-registry offices to the district office :—

Transfer of books.

Completed volumes of Register Book I (including the files of memoranda and sale certificates).
Completed volumes of Register Book IV and Index IV.
Copies and translations filed under section 19.

108. Register Books II and III, Index III, and the register of powers-of-attorney shall be transferred to the district offices as soon as they are filled.

109. In the case of all rural offices, and wherever the sub-registry office is not a masonry building, each volume of the register books shall be forwarded to the district office as soon as it has been filled and indexed, without waiting till the end of the year.

Records to be preserved in perpetuity.

110. For the period since Act XVI of 1864 came into force, the following records shall be preserved in perpetuity in all district offices :—

All register books and their indexes prescribed by Acts XVI of 1864, XX of 1866, VIII of 1871, and III of 1877, as well those of the district registry offices as those received from the sub-registry offices.

Registers of powers-of-attorney.
Catalogues.
Cash-books.
Fee-books.
Reports of the destruction of records and lists of the papers destroyed.

111. The following records shall be preserved in perpetuity in all sub-registry offices :—

Register Book III under Act XVI of 1864, and Book V under Act XX of 1866.
The rough indexes under Act XVI of 1864.
Original Indexes I and II under Acts XX of 1866, VIII of 1871, and III of 1877.
Catalogues.
Cash-books.
Fee-books.

112. When a registered document is destroyed under section 85 a note to that effect shall be made in the margin opposite the copy in the book in which it is registered.

Section 85.

Records to be destroyed after three years.

113. The following records may be destroyed after the expiration of three full years from the period to which they relate :—

Registers of visits and commissions.
Chalan books.
The receipts referred to in section 52.
Receipts referred to in Rule 82.
All correspondence, whether in English or in the vernacular, which is of an ordinary routine character, and which the Registrar considers may be destroyed.
Monthly returns, petitions, and other records and papers not otherwise specified.

114. No documents, books or papers whatever shall be destroyed at a sub-registry office without the previous sanction of the Inspector-General; and before documents are destroyed an endeavour must always be made to induce the presentants to take them back.

115. The register books and indexes of the general registry office under Act XVI of 1864 and Act XX of 1866 shall be preserved in the Calcutta registry office.

APPLICATIONS FOR SEARCH OR FOR COPIES.

116. All applications for search or for copies should be made to the registering officer himself. If an application is made in writing, the registering officer should initial it at once, giving the date. If an application is made vivâ voce, the registering officer should write on a slip of paper "Give copy," or some such brief order, adding his initials and date. All such applications and orders should be preserved on a separate file, the date on which a search has been made or copy completed being noted. Applications made through Sub-Registrars for copies from registers deposited in the district office must be in writing, and should be at once transmitted to the Registrar for compliance. No stamp is required on applications for searches or copies.

117. Registrars shall permit search and grant copies of entries in the registers kept up previous to the enactment of Act III of 1877 at the same rate of fees and to the same extent as in the case of registers under that Act.

118. A call for information from any court or revenue authority shall, if it necessitates search in the registers, be accompanied by the necessary fee for search. Officers of Government shall be permitted to inspect the registers without fee; but if the production of a register book in any court is required, it shall be produced by an officer of the registration establishment deputed for that purpose, who will be entitled to claim payment of his expenses like any other witness.

On the occasion of the annual enquiries prescribed by Government regarding the securities of ministerial officers, the usual fee must be paid when the search is made by clerks of the registration office, but no fee will be charged if the search is made by a clerk deputed by the officer making the enquiries.

INDENTS.

Indents for forms.

119. Before the 15th June of each year every Sub-Registrar shall submit to the Registrar to whom he is subordinate an indent in the prescribed form for all register books and other registration forms which will be required in his office during the following calendar year.

120. Every Registrar shall submit to the Inspector-General on or before the 1st July of each year an indent in triplicate in the prescribed form for all register books and other registration forms, including the forms prescribed by the Accountant-General, which will be required for his own office and for those of the Sub-Registrars subordinate to him during the twelve months from the 1st March to the 28th February following. When it is desired that the supply of register books, &c., should be forwarded to any sub-registry office direct instead of being sent through the office of the Registrar to whom the Sub-Registrar is subordinate, an intimation to that effect should accompany the Registrar's indent, and the indents of such Sub-Registrars should be submitted separately in triplicate with the Registrar's endorsement, instead of being embodied in the Registrar's indent. A supply of new register books required to be opened on the 1st January of each year should be included in this annual indent. The indents will be forwarded by the Inspector-General to the Superintendent of Stationery, after being checked and countersigned, by the 1st September.

121. When delay occurs in supplying register books and other registration forms, reminders should be addressed, not to the Inspector-General of Registration, but to the Superintendent of Stationery, the number of this office order being quoted. Reminders are useless without it.

122. Rural Sub-Registrars may be supplied with registration ink and other stationery from the district office at cost price, which should be ascertained from the Superintendent of Stationery. The hand-laid medium paper required for copies under sections 64 and 65 will be supplied to them gratis. They are also supplied with registers, index books, and printed forms free of charge.

123. The cost of sending the registers, &c., from the Stationery Office to the offices of Rural Sub-Registrars which are situated at a distance from Calcutta is borne by Government, and the charge is met from the provision made in the budget for the Registrar's office contingencies.

Indents for Stationery.

124. Before the 1st March in each year all District Registrars should send to the Inspector-General an indent in duplicate in the prescribed form for the stationery (including registration ink) which will be required for the registry offices in their districts during the next twelve months. Indents from Sub-Registrars should be submitted to the district office at least fifteen days before the 1st March. The Registrar's indent should include all ink and other stationery likely to be required by Rural Sub-Registrars under Rule 122 above. The indents will be forwarded by the Inspector-General to the Superintendent of Stationery, after check and countersignature, by the 1st April.

139. A separate register will be kept for each of the three classes of contingencies, viz., one for special contingencies, one for countersigned contingencies, and one for contract contingencies; the first two in Accountant-General's form No. 181, and the other in form No. 181A. The entries in these registers will be made in accordance with rules 5 to 7, Chapter 5 of the Civil Account Code.

140. For each of these classes of contingencies separate bills must be drawn up (that is to say, the same bill may not contain contingent charges of more than one class), and the bill must be headed "Special Contingencies" or "Countersigned Contingencies," or "Contract Contingencies," as the case may be. Sub-Registrars must not in future draw any of these bills themselves without the countersignature of the Registrar, as the allotment for contract contingencies is for the whole district.

141. The money required for special and countersigned contingencies will be drawn from the treasury upon abstract bills in Accountant-General's form No. 192, and corresponding detailed bills will be drawn up at the end of the month to which all sub-vouchers, and in the case of special contingencies all sanctions, will be attached, and upon which the certificates prescribed in Chapter 5, paragraph 14 of the Civil Account Code, will be recorded.

142. In the case of special contingencies this monthly bill will always be sent to the Accountant-General direct. In the case of countersigned contingencies the monthly bill will be sent to the Inspector-General. To expedite the adjustment of these contingent charges, no abstract bill of contingencies will be paid at the treasury after the 15th of any month, unless it is accompanied by a certificate to the effect that the detailed contingent bill for the preceding month has been forwarded with all necessary vouchers to the Inspector-General.

143. Money to meet contract contingent charges will be drawn from the treasury upon bills in Accountant-General's form No. 192A. No sub-vouchers are required, and no details need be stated beyond the total figure opposite each of the printed headings. If any charge occurs which the printed headings do not provide for, the general nature of it may be entered in a similar heading in manuscript. The disbursing officer must be careful to bring forward from the last bill the correct amount of total expenditure to date, otherwise he may overrun his limit without perceiving it.

144. The disbursing officer is responsible for keeping and reproducing, when required, any sub-vouchers of his expenditure under contract contingencies, except those which he is authorized (Chapter 5, paragraph 14 of the Civil Account Code) to destroy.

145. A bill must always be drawn on or immediately before March 31st of each year for all expenditure under contract contingencies up to date. Money drawn from the treasury after that date comes out of the allotment of the next year, and it is contrary to the principle of the scheme that expenditure incurred in the current year should be in any way held over, after being incurred, to be paid out of the allowances of the next year. This final bill will produce a total which either exceeds, equals, or falls short of, the total allotment. For any excess the drawing officer is personally responsible, and unless he can procure exemption from the Government, the amount will be recovered from his personal allowances.

146. No charges for printing may be incurred without the special sanction of the Inspector-General. Such printed forms as are necessary will be printed at the Alipore Jail Press under the authority of the Inspector-General.

147. English stationery procurable from the Stationery Office may not be purchased in the local market, but charges for petty articles such as sealing-ink, paste, thread, country-paper, &c., may be included in the monthly contingent bill.

MISCELLANEOUS.

148. When the executant of any document appears personally he shall be required to attest all interlineations &c. When he appears by agent, &c., the attestation of such agent, &c., shall be accepted unless the interlineations, &c., are of an important character. A registering officer shall also be at liberty, on due cause being shown, to accept the attestation of an agent, &c., even in the case of important interlineations, &c.

Interlineations, &c.—section 20.

149. When a document is presented or admitted more than four months after execution, the Registrar may either register it himself, in which case an extra fee under Article K of the table of fees as well as the penalty under Article O shall be levied, or he may direct its registration (on payment of the penalty under Article O) by any Sub-Registrar in whose office it could have been registered if presented within four months. In such cases the date on which the application was made to the Registrar shall be regarded as the date of presentation.

Documents presented or admitted after four months—sections 24 and 34.

150. Every Sub-Registrar shall sit daily during certain hours which shall be approved by the Registrar and made known to the public by a notice in some conspicuous place outside the office. The holidays to be observed in registration offices shall be those which are gazetted by the Government under section 25 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, XXVI of 1881, and those specified in the section itself.

Daily sittings; holidays—section 69.

151. Applications for the remission of fines under section 70 may be filed with the registering officer, but no such application shall be received until the fine has been paid. The application shall be forwarded to the Inspector-General with any remarks which the registering officer may wish to make.

Section 70.

152. Registering officers shall take care that their clerks have no dealings with the public, except in their presence. They shall themselves receive documents which are tendered for registration, and when they are registered, shall return them with their own hands.

153. The serial number of the last document completed and ready for return shall be daily exhibited in the prescribed printed form in some conspicuous place outside every office.

154. A catalogue in the prescribed form shall be kept up and permanently preserved in every registry office. On the occasion of every permanent change in the incumbency, the officer receiving charge should compare his books with the catalogue, and certify therein that he has found them correct.

Catalogue.

155. All official letters and covers sent by post from any sub-registry or district registry office must be prepaid by service labels. These labels will be supplied to Sub-Registrars (on application) by District Registrars, who will disallow unreasonable and excessive demands. A monthly statement of the distribution of service labels should be submitted by each District Registrar for the information of the Inspector-General. The cost of these labels will be met from the consolidated advance mentioned in Rule 132.

156. Bills, monthly returns, and regular indents should not be accompanied by covering letters. The envelopes containing them should be marked "Returns." Letters and urgent indents should be separately sent.

157. A duplicate bill should never be submitted unless the original is lost in transit or otherwise, in which case a certificate should be attached to the effect that the bill has not been cashed at the treasury.

158. Travelling allowances of registering officers and their clerks will be drawn in Accountant-General's forms Nos. 189 and 191 respectively; and in both cases they must invariably be submitted to the Inspector-General for countersignature before payment, whatever may be the amount of the bill.

159. When ministerial officers of the department are deputed to give evidence or to produce records before any Court, application for the payment of their travelling expenses should be made to the Registrar of the district.

160. The security bonds of head-clerks should be examined at the close of each financial year, the result being reported to the Inspector-General.

Notice to Private Students and Teachers who wish to appear at the next Entrance Examination

APPLICATIONS from those who wish to appear at the next Entrance Examination as private students or as teachers must reach the undersigned not later than the 31st December 1886.

Each application must be accompanied by a certificate from the Head Master of the last school at which the applicant (whether student or teacher) read, showing the class from which he left, and that all dues have been paid.

In the case of a teacher, a certificate must be produced, showing that he is a bonâ fide teacher, and has not temporarily taken up a teachership, paid or honorary, merely to appear at the examination.

Those whose applications are accepted, whether students or teachers, will have to appear at the test examination of the nearest zillah school and pay a fee of Rs. 2 to the Head Master. If they pass the examination, their applications to the Registrar of the University will be countersigned.

JOHN VANSOMEREN POPE,
Inspector of Schools, Behar Circle.

BANKIPUR, the 25th September 1886.

CALCUTTA SMALL CAUSE COURT.

NOTICE.

IN accordance with suggestions contained in a report to the High Court, signed by Mr. Justice Wilson and Mr. Justice Trevelyan, on their inspection of the Calcutta Small Cause Court, a new system will, on and after the 28th October 1886, be tried for the purpose of revising the list of cases which come daily into the court.

All summons cases will, on the returnable date of the summons, come before one only of the Judges, who will revise the whole list of the court for each day.

He will go through the list, enter "compromises," make decrees in cases in which the defendant does not appear, give fresh summonses in cases where the summons has not been served, grant necessary postponements, ascertain what causes are defended, and dispose of any cases which, in his judgment, can be disposed of summarily.

This would leave the whole time of the other Judges free for the trial of defended causes. The defended causes will be assigned by the Judge revising the list to the lists of the different Judges on the earliest possible days, and will be adjourned by him to those days. The Judge revising the list will have before him the list of each Judge for each day, so far as already filled up; and will arrange that there should always be a sufficient number of cases, say 25 or 30, on each Judge's list. Each of the other Judges will thus have each day his list of defended cases provided for him. When a second summons has been granted, the case will, on the new return day, come again before the Judge who revises the list for that day.

If under this system a Judge should at any time find his list becoming clogged, he will communicate with the revising Judge, and inform the latter that he must have a day or days left clear to enable him to pull up. Thus if on the first of the month a Judge finds that his lists were getting blocked, and that it will take a day to get them clear, he will tell the revising Judge that this is the case. The latter, when revising the lists of the Judge in question, may see that they are already filled, say up to the 9th: he will leave the 10th blank. The Judge who had found himself blocked, knowing that the 10th would be a clear day, will use his discretion: he will either go on as usual up to the 10th, trusting to clear himself on that day, or will adjourn a sufficient number of cases to that day to enable him to take the other cases as nearly as possible on their proper dates.

ADJOURNMENTS.

No "costs of the day" will be allowed on adjournments.

Nor will adjournments be allowed, even by consent, except upon good cause shown.

By order of the Court,

COURT OF SMALL CAUSES OF CALCUTTA,
The 28th July 1886.

NOTIFICATION.

The 24th September 1886.—It is hereby notified for general information that the Lieutenant-Governor intends, in the exercise of the powers vested in the Local Government by section 351, Act III (B.C.) of 1884, and on the recommendation of the Commissioners of the Nasirabad Municipality made at a meeting, to confirm the following bye-laws, which have been framed by the said Commissioners under section 350 of the said Act, unless good reasons are shown to the contrary within one month from the date of the publication of this notification :—

Additional Bye-laws, 1885-86.

I. No person shall, without the written permission of the Municipal Commissioners, deposit, except for purposes of temporary relief, any moveable property or goods, or expose any article for sale on any road, nor shall make any excavation in any road or any way enclose the whole or any portion of a road within the municipality.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20.

The penalty for continued infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 5 daily.

II. Whoever, in contravention of a direction of the Commissioners made under section 236 of Act III (B.C.) of 1884, erects, renews, or repairs the external roof of any hut or other building with grass, leaves, mats, or other inflammable materials within the limits fixed by the Commissioners shall be liable to a fine of Rs. 20.

III. Whenever a limit has been fixed under section 236 by the Municipal Commissioners, the Commissioners may require the owners of all huts or other buildings made of grass, mats, leaves, or other inflammable substances, to have the external walls plastered on all sides with mud or some other non-combustible substances of the thickness of one inch at least, and no person shall make any fence or wall otherwise than as provided for above, or without the written permission of the Municipal Commissioners previously obtained.

The penalty for infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 20, and the penalty for continued infringement shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 5 daily.

IV. No clothes, rags and bedding, &c., soiled with cholera stools and vomitings should be thrown at random in any place, or washed in the river or tank or other reservoirs of water within the municipality. Such clothes and rags shall all be burnt by the owner or occupier of the house of which the patient is an inmate, and the stools buried at a depth of 3 feet.

The penalty for infringement of the bye-law shall subject the owner or occupier of the house in which the patient is an inmate to a fine not exceeding Rs. 5.

COLMAN MACAULAY,

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estate, situate in the district of Noakhally, will be put up to sale at the Noakhally Collectorate on Monday, the 10th of January 1887, corresponding with 27th Pous 1293B.S.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale.

Conditions of sale.

1*st*.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2*nd*.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force; and the purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators, who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the Revenue authorities.

3*rd*.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4*th*.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

PART III.

Act of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second Publication.]

THE following Act, passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, received the assent of His Honor on the 24th September 1886, and having been assented to by His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st October 1886, is hereby published for general information :—

ACT No III OF 1886.

An Act to amend Act IV (B.C.) of 1876 and Act III (B.C.) of 1884.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend Bengal Act IV of 1876 and Bengal Act III of 1884: It is enacted as follows :—

Preamble.

1. This Act shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor-General.

Commencement of Act.

2. For section 292 of Bengal Act IV of 1876, and section 251 of Bengal Act III of 1884, the following shall be substituted :—

New section for sections 292 of Bengal Act IV of 1876, and 251 of Bengal Act III of 1884.

"No person shall sell to the prejudice of the purchaser any article of food which is not of the nature, substance or quality of the article demanded by such purchaser under a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees: Provided that an offence shall not be deemed to be committed under this section in the following cases, that is to say—

Prohibition of the sale of articles of food not of the proper nature, substance or quality.

(1) Where any matter or ingredient not injurious to health has been added to the food, because the same is required for the production or preparation thereof as an article of commerce, in a state fit for carriage or consumption, and not fraudulently to increase the bulk, weight or measure of the food, or conceal the inferior quality thereof;

(2) Where the food is unavoidably mixed with some extraneous matter in the process of collection or preparation."

The term "food" shall include every article used for food or drink by man other than drugs or water.

In any prosecution under this section it shall be no defence to allege that the purchaser, having bought only for analysis, was not prejudiced by the sale.

3. After section 292 of Bengal Act IV of 1876, and after section 251 of Bengal Act III of 1884, the following sections shall be inserted :—

New sections to follow sections 292 of Bengal Act IV of 1876, and 251 of Bengal Act III of 1884.

"A. No proceedings shall be instituted under the last preceding section without the order or consent of the Commissioners."

No proceedings to be had without leave of the Commissioners.

"B. The Commissioners, or any person authorized by them in that behalf, may, at all reasonable times, enter into and inspect any market, building, shop, stall or place used for the sale or storage of articles intended for food, or as a slaughter-house, and may examine any such articles which may be therein, and if, upon examination, such articles, or any of them, appear to be unfit for food, may seize the same."

Power of Commissioners to enter and inspect markets, shops, &c., and to seize unwholesome articles exposed for sale.

"C. Upon the seizure of any article of food under the last preceding section, the same may, if the owner or the person in whose possession the same is found consents, be forthwith destroyed or so disposed of as to prevent it being used as food, but if the owner or the person in whose possession the same is found do not consent, then, if it appear to a Magistrate upon sufficient evidence that the same is unfit for food, he shall order the same to be destroyed or so disposed of as to prevent it being used as food, and may impose a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees upon the owner or person in whose possession the same was found, such person not being merely a carrier or bailee thereof."

Power to destroy unwholesome articles.

"D. If the Commissioners, or any person authorized by them in that behalf, shall apply to purchase any article of food exposed to sale, and shall tender the price for a quantity not more than shall be reasonably requisite for the purpose of analysis, and the person exposing the same for sale shall refuse to sell the same, such person shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees.

Person refusing to sell any article to Commissioners liable to penalty.

AMENDMENT OF BENGAL ACTS IV OF 1876 AND III OF 1884.

The Hon. the Advocate-General presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend Act IV (B.C.) of 1876.

The Hon. the Advocate-General also moved that the Report of the Select Committee be taken into consideration in order to the settlement of the clauses of the Bill.

He said:—Before that motion is put, I take the opportunity to point out to the Council what is set forth in the Report of the Committee which is this, that we have amended the Bill and made it applicable also to the mofussil, and the title of the Bill is therefore changed from a Bill "to amend Act IV (B.C) of 1876" to a Bill "to amend Act IV (B.C.) of 1876 and Act III (B.C.) of 1884." We have amended section 2 by making it more extensive so as to apply to municipalities in the mofussil. Section 251 of Act III of 1884, to which the amended section 2 of the Bill is to apply, is almost in the very terms of section 292 of Act IV (B.C.) of 1876, and section 251 is in Part VI of Act III of 1884. Section 220 of Act III of 1884 provides as follows:—"No provision contained in this Part or in Parts VII, VIII, IX, or X, shall apply to any Municipality unless and until it has been expressly extended thereto by the Local Government in the manner provided by the next succeeding section." The next succeeding section provides for the manner in which all or any of the provisions of that Part shall be extended So, under the operation of that section, the amended Act will extend at once to certain municipalities to which Part VI has been already extended, and may be extended to any other municipalities to which the Lieutenant-Governor may think right to extend it. The Report of the Committee also takes notice of other important matters which were brought to its attention, but in consequence of the limited character of the Bill could not do more than simply notice them.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon. the Advocate-General then moved that the Bill be passed.

The Hon. Mr. Irving said:—I have no intention of moving any amendments on the Bill before the Council, but I cannot but express my regret that the Select Committee have passed over the recommendations contained in the letter of the Public Health Society. Those recommendations have been supported by the entire European Press, and there can be no doubt whatever that they represent the views and wishes of the great majority of the European, perhaps I should rather say of the Christian, population. The recommendations appeared to me to be strictly on the lines and within the scope of the proposed amendment, and to stand in need of no special advocacy. I had hoped that they would have met with the ready and unqualified acceptance of the Select Committee, and it is difficult to understand that they can have been set aside even on the ground of expedience or want of time. No doubt the Council was called upon to deal with the specific question of ghee adulteration, but the recommendations on behalf of the European community were so closely allied to the main proposals that it seems almost invidious that any distinction should have been made, and that the grave evils of which the Health Society complains should thus be left without redress for an indefinite period. It seems to me that the Committee has created a distinction where no real distinction exists, and that consequently the European community has been placed at a serious disadvantage. In this country it is surely the Europeans who stand most in need of protection in such matters. They cannot support their claims on the grounds of religion or caste, but their desire for purity in all food stuffs should, I think, receive every consideration, the more specially as it is based on the experience acquired in the working of the existing Acts on the subject of adulteration that are in force in Great Britain. I trust it will not be supposed for a moment that I grudge our native friends the protection they have gained. On the contrary, I congratulate them on their success. But I should be glad if His Honor the President of the Council could assure the public that the wider suggestions that have been put forward will receive the favourable consideration of the Government in the larger measure which will shortly be again brought before the Council. The promptness with which the present instalment of legislation has been granted is a welcome proof that the Government is fully aware of the great importance of the subject, and may be regarded as an earnest of the liberal spirit and practical manner in which any future proposals will be considered.

The Hon. Moulvie Abdul Jubbar said:—I regret my indisposition of a few days prevented my attending the Council on the last occasion and offering, on behalf of my co-religionists, my heartfelt gratitude for the promptness with which Your Honor and the Council has taken up this legislation on the subject of the adulteration of ghee. The Muhammadan community are very sensitive of any wrong that might directly or indirectly be done to their religious feelings, and nothing wins their affections so much as the adoption of any measure, either executive or legislative, which protects their religion from danger. The question of the adulteration of ghee is not one which particularly affects their health. It is the adulteration of ghee with articles, the use of which is strictly forbidden by their religion, that has troubled their minds. In using adulterated ghee they would not suffer so much in health as in conscience, and therefore, knowing as I do the feeling of my co-religionists, I think I am right in saying that they lie under deep obligation to Your Honor and the learned Advocate-General for this Bill which is about to be passed in the nick of time to put a stop to an evil which has been complained of by the oldest Association in Calcutta, namely, the Muhammadan Literary Society.

The HON. MR. HARRISON said:—I ask leave to say on behalf of the Select Committee that I am quite sure that the very last feeling by which we were animated was indifference to the well-being of the European Christian community, or by a desire to ignore the recommendations made by the Health Society. I may say for myself, and I believe I may say for all those members who were in the Select Committee, that we were actuated by quite the opposite feeling, that is, by a desire to adopt every suggestion which we thought could be adopted, always having regard to the urgent necessity of not asking the Council to pass any measure which had not been sufficiently considered in all its details. So far from that, it seems to me that the complaint from the opposite quarter which has been received was equally worthy of attention. Whereas the complaint was that ghee was adulterated so as to injure religious sentiments, the proposed measure, instead of merely remedying the particular evil to which attention was drawn, is a measure which goes much further, and which protects all classes of food. I would therefore point out what the reasons were why we could not adopt those suggestions. I will not go into every detail, but only the principal ones. Possibly the most important recommendation proposed by the Health Society is section 2A, which runs as follows:—

"Every person who sells or exposes for sale for human food or consumption any of the following articles shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees:—

Any animal or part of an animal which died of disease;

Any animal or part of an animal, or any grain, fruit or vegetable, which is unsound or unwholesome, or unfit for human food;

Any blown, stuffed or pricked beef, mutton, veal, lamb or kid or other meat;

Any sweetmeat or confection which is unfit for human use;

Any articles for human food or consumption that have been exposed to infection."

Now, in the first place, there is the difficulty about having to prove what is intended for "human food." At present it is quite sufficient that the articles sold or exposed for sale are unfit for food. The hands of the executive officers would be tied by having the new item of proof that it was expressly intended for human food. In the second place what is the necessity of providing a new punishment for the sale of any animal or part of any animal which died of disease. Surely the sale of any animal which has died of disease is the sale of food that is noxious to health, and that is already punishable. It would simply throw a doubt as to whether it has been punishable hitherto. For years past the greatest possible care has been taken to exclude the sale of all articles of that kind: they are destroyed summarily and immediately, and the only object of making such a provision would be to inflict a fine of Rs. 100. Then we have the offence of selling blown meat Now the blowing of meat is a disgusting practice with which we are very well acquainted and which is summarily put down already. The destruction of the article is quite sufficient punishment. As regards "stuffed" meat we have no certain information as to what is intended. I am perfectly well aware of a certain kind of stuffing which is comparatively unobjectionable. I have seen it with my own eyes. As regards "pricking" the practice may be objectionable, but we do not know what it is. How was it possible when an attempt is made to pass an Act very promptly before the Durga Pujahs so as to satisfy the urgent call of the native community, how would it be right on the part of the Select Committee, to put draft sections in the Bill which they could not themselves have explained? I do not say that those provisions are not right and proper, but I am quite certain that further enquiry was necessary. I submit that no section of the kind I have read ought to be passed without at least the Corporation, in whose hands are the slaughter-house and markets of the town, having been asked to report. Then we have another new section proposed by the Health Society—section 292D, which provides as follows:—

"Every person who is found in possession of any animal or part of an animal which died of disease, or of any animal or part of an animal, or any grain, fruit, or vegetable which is unsound or unwholesome or unfit for human food, or of any adulterated or unwholesome article of food, shall be presumed to have kept or concealed the same knowingly with a view to sale until the contrary be shown."

Here a principle of evidence is brought into the law which may be perfectly right and proper. But one difficulty is that possibly it might raise an objection to the measure on the ground that it contravenes the Evidence Act. Now would it have been wise for the Select Committee to have inserted in a Bill, to the passing of which within one month the sanction of the Government of India had been given on a letter and report previously made, a provision of that kind which might have led to its being said—You have altered the Bill, which was perfectly unobjectionable at first, in a way which makes it not unobjectionable now. I would most emphatically repudiate any idea of indifference on the part of the Select Committee to the interests of the European community. That idea was totally absent from our minds. The sole question was, was it wise, in an Act to be passed as a tentative measure and in a rapid manner, to put in anything in regard to which we had the slightest doubt, or to put in anything which might lead to the complaint that legislation had been unduly precipitated. It was simply and solely that from a sense of responsibility we were bound not to insert anything in the Bill which was not perfectly free from objection that we left the measure in the state in which it is now before the Council.

The Hon. Joy Prokash Lall said:—On behalf of the people of Behar I beg to express to His Honor my sincere thanks, not only for the readiness with which he has responded to the call of the native public for prompt legislation, but also for accepting the recommendation of the Select Committee for extending the operation of the Bill to the Mofussil Municipalities. It is also a significant circumstance, pregnant, I trust, with happy augury for the future, that the European non-official community of the metropolis, both through their able representatives in this Council and the powerful exponents of their views in the English Press, have evinced warm sympathy with the people in their great distress. I accept the Bill as only an instalment of a much needed reform. I would have been very glad indeed to see it so amended as to be more complete and applicable to every part of the territories under His Honor's rule; but such a course would have entailed delay, and delay would have been dangerous in the present instance. Our great national festival is approaching, and we want a speedy and prompt relief Having, therefore, to choose between the two alternatives, I thought it expedient to accept the present measure. I hope, however, Government will not cease in their endeavour to put down the evil by all the means in their power, both legislative and executive.

His Honor the President said:—I think it is a satisfactory result that a Bill has been prepared on this subject, which has occupied the attention of the Council during the past week, and has now reached its final stage, and I hope that, with the safeguards against indiscriminate prosecutions, it will meet the particular object for which legislation was undertaken. The action of the Government has been criticised from two sides. First, it has been said that it was in no way the duty of Government to interfere in a matter of this nature, but that it should be left to the native community to make their own protective arrangements against the malpractices of the vendors of an article in such general use; and it has been urged on the other side that if the Government did intervene at all, its intervention should have gone much further and should have taken cognizance of details which demanded a remedy and which concern the interests of both Europeans and Natives alike. Now I confess, in the particular circumstances in which the Government was placed, I cannot feel any sympathy with either of those arguments. The papers noted in the margin of the Select Committee's report show that from very many places remonstrances have been addressed to the Government for not taking up this question of protecting them against the adulteration of ghee, and I may safely say that those reports and telegrams very partially indicate the extent of the excitement which prevailed amongst all the members of the native community in all parts of Bengal. Therefore, we were bound in our duty to respond at once to the application which has been made to us to provide a remedy for the evil which had been suddenly detected and which affects the native community most gravely in their religious feelings.

For the rest, as has been already explained more than once, it has been shown that there was a necessity for promptitude in legislation, and if the necessity was urgent, and the action required was prompt, it is quite clear that it was out of the power of the Council to enter upon wider considerations which would involve full and detailed enquiries, and would necessarily have required at our hands publicity to the fullest extent of our objects and intentions. We may, therefore, accept as satisfactory, though possibly serving only a temporary purpose, the Bill which has now passed the Select Committee and is before us. At the same time I am not insensible to the importance of a more thorough consideration of the whole subject of food adulteration and that not only as regards natives, but as regards Europeans also, and that such an enquiry should not be limited to the question of the manufacture and preparation of food, but also as regards its storage and supervision, and the larger questions dealt with in the memorial of the Calcutta Health Society which an Hon. Member has prominently brought to our notice. And in this connection I am glad to be in a position to announce to the members of the Council that His Excellency the Viceroy has anticipated the wishes to which expression has been given by some Hon Members and by the Calcutta Press, both European and Native. I have received a telegram in which His Excellency has given the assurance that a communication has already been issued to all Local Governments and Administrations asking for their opinions as to the desirability of legislation with a view to more effectively checking the sale of adulterated articles of food, not only within the limits of presidency towns, but also in all municipalities and other local areas to which it might be proper to extend such legislation Our present Bill will, I trust, be sufficient for the emergency which has called it forth. But in the action taken by the Viceroy in Council an opportunity will be afforded to all gentlemen and associations and societies interested in the larger scheme to assist by their co-operation and advice to mature a more complete measure which should extend, I believe, to all parts of India.

The motion was then put and agreed to, and the Bill was passed.

The Council was adjourned sine die.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE CHOTA NAGPORE DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1885-86.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 5th October 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Chota Nagpore Division for 1885-86.

Annual tours.

Mr. Stevens, by whom this report is submitted, made, as Commissioner, a very complete tour of the division. At Purulia the ghatwali settlement occupied his attention, and on the borders of Singbhoom he made a valuable local investigation into the boundary dispute with the neighbouring Keonjhur State. He was also able to inspect almost all the Government offices and important local institutions in his division, and, in marching through villages belonging to one of the Native States, had an opportunity of comparing their condition with that of the adjoining districts under British rule. The District and Sub-divisional Officers also made full and satisfactory tours, all remaining in camp for more than the full number of days prescribed by Government. Colonel Garbett in Hazaribagh, and Colonel Lillingston in Lohardugga, appear to have done specially useful work on tour.

Weather and crops.

2. The rainfall varied greatly in different parts of the division, from 32·51 at Chattra, on the west of Hazaribagh, to 75·14 at Giridih, in the same district. The fall at Chattra was exceptionally light; generally speaking, more rain fell throughout the division than in the previous year, and it was distributed more evenly. The result was a good winter rice crop every where, except in the western pergunnahs of Hazaribagh, in which, as Colonel Garbett reports, "a great deal of the higher lying lands had not been cultivated at all, and a great deal of what had been cultivated bore indications of the crops having been poor in a greater or less degree." The bhadoi crops were fair, except in Palamow, where they were injured by excessive rain in August. Singbhoom is reported to have been exceptionally fortunate, every important crop yielding a bumper outturn; and not less than a 14 anna-crop of winter rice was harvested in any other district, except the Chattra sub-division of Hazaribagh, where the outturn is estimated at 8 annas. The yield of mahua, which is an important crop in Hazaribagh, is set down at 12 annas.

Public health, vaccination.

3. In Hazaribagh cholera appeared in an epidemic form in June, and did not disappear until November. The number of recorded deaths from the disease was 3,634, but the real number must have been very much greater. In all the other districts the year was more healthy than 1884-85 had been. Vaccination was actively pushed on by an agency of 33 paid vaccinators and 107 licensed vaccinators, under adequate supervision: 106,679 operations were performed, of which 93·9 per cent. are said to have been successful.

Material condition of the people; emigration and immigration; prices of food and labour.

4. Except in portions of Hazaribagh and Manbhoom, the Commissioner reports that "the people were, on the whole, far better off than in 1884-85. Some parts of Hazaribagh have suffered for three or four years from scanty harvests; but the good opium crops of the past two years have counteracted to some extent the failure of food crops, and the good harvests of all important staples secured during the past year have considerably improved matters. In pergunnahs Kendi, Ahoori, and Choi, however, where the rainfall was again deficient, there has been no such improvement in the condition of the people. In the Giridih and Kharakdiha thanas the cultivators are fortunate in having the collieries to turn to for work when their crops fail. Of the district of Manbhoom Mr. Stevens writes—

"In Manbhoom there was a good deal of pressure in many parts, and something like a scarcity in pergunnah Bagda, where the rice crop in 1884 had been an almost total failure. The ryots had no money to buy seeds, and as they were already in debt to the mahajans, the latter refused to give them any further credit. Persons who had no means of subsistence, except the charity of their neighbours, were for a time in a state of semi-starvation. Relief was promptly sent out. A Deputy Collector remained in the pergunnah for over a month, relieving the immediate necessities of the individuals who were totally without means of subsistence. Fortunately their number was not large. The total amount expended on charitable relief was Rs. 267, which sum was raised by private subscriptions. A sum of Rs. 5,000 was sanctioned by Government for agricultural loans, and the whole amount was lent out in time for the sowing of the rice crop."

The distress was, he adds, intensified by the closing of work on the Bengal-Nagpore Railway, which threw some 13,000 persons out of work.

5. The number of persons registered for emigration to Assam was smaller than it has been since 1882-83. The Commissioner thinks that this is to be accounted for by the development of free emigration, and that the number actually leaving the districts did not diminish. But, as has been noticed in dealing with the annual report of Inland Emigration for the Province, there was an actual decrease in the number of free emigrants, as well as in that of registered emigrants, owing to a restricted demand for labour in the Assam tea-gardens: so the decrease in Chota Nagpore is probably real. There were no complaints against garden-sardars during the year.

6. The average price of rice was lower than in the previous year in every district but Manbhoom, where "the brisk demand for export to other parts of the province kept prices at a much higher level than they would otherwise have attained." The price of wheat fell in Hazaribagh and Lohardugga. The Commissioner writes—

"The rates of skilled and unskilled labour remained almost unchanged during the past year, except in Manbhoom and Singbhoom. In the former district the wages of unskilled labourers are reported to have risen from 7 pice to 2 annas per diem. The rise took place when the railway works were first commenced, and the rate has not fallen since, notwithstanding the large number of labourers seeking employment at the beginning of the year. In Singbhoom also the rates for earthwork are said to have risen owing to better rates given by the railway contractors."

Manufactures and mines.

7. The large export of raw tussar silk to Europe for the purpose of manufacture has raised its price throughout the division, and seriously affected the tussar silk-weaving industry. In Manbhoom many of the silk-weavers have taken to weaving cotton cloth, for which a demand is said to be reviving "on account of the increasing dislike to the flimsy nature of the European piece-goods." In Hazaribagh and Lohardugga new lac factories have been opened, but prices continuing low the result has been overproduction and further stagnation. With a favourable season, there was a considerable increase in the outturn of tea in Lohardugga and Hazaribagh. From a separate report submitted by the Commissioner on this subject, it appears that there was a better average produce per acre, and that higher prices were obtained for the tea in the Calcutta market.

8. Three new indigo factories were opened in Manbhoom, and 85 maunds were manufactured against 46 in the previous year. The output of coal during the past two years from the important collieries of this division has been as follows:—

Districts.	Names of collieries.	1884-85.	1885-86.
		Tons.	Tons.
Hazaribagh ...	East Indian Railway collieries, Kurhurbari...	266,244	311,000
	Bengal Coal Company's collieries, ditto ...	1,075,116	2,425,962
	Raneegunge Coal Association collieries, Kurhurbari.	98,752	76,259
Manbhoom ...	Kumardubbi	75,728	82,175
	Laikdi	75,728	87,997

The Palamow Sub-divisional Officer writes—

"Mr. Hodges, a contractor, has been working the Singra coal-pits and has excavated and exported a little coal by river and carts to Dehri, but Mr. Hodges only exports what he requires for the use of his own steamers. Directly a railway reaches Palamow and allows of the coal being exported in quantity, then the coal mines of Palamow will indeed be valuable, for I believe the coal is of good quality, and that there is an unlimited supply of it."

The larger mica mines of Hazaribagh are reported to yield annually about 960 maunds of mica, and the new Baragunda copper mine has been worked so far with great success.

Trade and Commerce.

9. The good rice harvests in Manbhoom and Singbhoom enabled exporters to do a very large business, especially with the districts in Bengal that had suffered from floods. A considerable quantity of rice also found its way from Manbhoom, Singbhoom, and Palamow into Hazaribagh. The export trade in stick-lac from Hazaribagh, and both stick and shell lac from Manbhoom was very brisk; but, as has been already indicated, could not keep pace with production by the manufacturers. The Commissioner writes as follows on the trade in tussar cocoons:—

"In Manbhoom the export of tussar cocoons also received a remarkable impetus during the year, owing, it is said, to the operations of a French firm, who have been buying on a large scale for export to Europe In Singbhoom the agents of two large firms are at present engaged in collecting cocoons. It is said that these firms propose to undertake reeling at Chyebassa. I was much struck with the great quantities of tussar cocoons which I saw brought for sale to the Chyebassa market. About 13',000 kahans of cocoons, valued at Rs. 8,95,850, are reported to have been exported from Singbhoom, and about 20,000 kahans from Manbhoom. The value of cocoons exported from Hazaribagh is estimated at Rs. 35,000. In Palamow an agent of a well-known firm at Rajshahye is reported to have appeared 'on the scene, and is said to be trying to establish a business.'"

10. Of late years it has been asserted that the ryots of Manbhoom and Singbhoom no longer found the raising of these cocoons remunerative, but the expansion of trade noticed in the passage above quoted will, it is hoped, give the much-needed stimulus to the production of this important article of commerce. It is reported from Manbhoom, as from the Sonthal Pergunnahs, that the importation of European piece-goods is beginning to decline, and the same reason for the decrease is assigned, viz., the growing preference for country cloth. An increase in the imports of coarse cotton twist seems to lend colour to this theory, and, as has already been noticed, the cotton cloth-weaving industry shows signs of a revival. On the other hand, the statistics of imports furnished by the East Indian Railway do not support the conclusion that there has been any decrease in the imports of European piece-goods; and it may possibly be that the appearance of a revival of the trade of weaving in cotton is due simply to the decay of the tussar silk-weaving industry. The weavers must continue to weave, because they can turn to nothing else, and the price of raw tussar silk having become prohibitive, they weave cotton twist into cloth. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Commissioner will give his special attention to this subject, and will be in a position to express a more decided opinion in his next report.

Police and crime.

11. The conduct of the police force is said to have been on the whole nearly the same as in the preceding year, when it was reported satisfactory; but the number of punishments inflicted on the superior grades of the force was very large, particularly in Hazaribagh. The arrangements in this division for the maintenance of a village patrol are complicated, differing considerably in the several districts, and it is only necessary to notice here that the subject has received due attention during the year, particularly in Lohardugga, where there has been a marked improvement in the collection of the chowkidari and ghatwali cesses.

12. The total number of cognizable cases reported during the calendar year 1885 was 5,623 against 5,803 in the previous year. There was thus a decrease of 180 cases during the year. The details of the true cases reported from the several districts during the past two years are given below—

Civil Justice.

13. The following statement shows that in civil suits of every class there was a slight increase, both in number and value:—

Districts.	Number of suits in—						Value of suits in—
	1884.			1885.			1884.			1885.

The increase of suits under the heading "title and other" is attributed to the action of Messrs. Watson & Co. as izaradars of pergunnah Burrabhoom, who appear to be engaged with their temporary tenants in very extensive and complicated litigations. The bad harvests of the three preceding years, and the contraction of the area protected by the Encumbered Estates Act, account for the increase in suits for rent or money.

Land revenue.

14. The current land revenue of this division is Rs. 3,79,308, and at the commencement of the year there was an arrear balance of Rs. 22,007. The collections amounted to Rs. 3,74,004, being 94 per cent. of the gross and 99 per cent. of the current demand. In the absence of any large arrear balances the division compares favourably with some others. In Hazaribagh the whole of the unremitted arrear demand was collected, and the collections of the current demand amounted to 98 per cent., and Singbhoom shows equally good results, while in Manbhoom collections were made in full.

Miscellaneous revenue,—excise, license tax, stamps.

15. Excise receipts show a slight falling off of 3 per cent., from Rs. 5,70,208 to Rs. 5,52,773, all under the heads of country spirit and tari. The settlements of outstills at the beginning of the year were affected by the succession of bad harvests in previous years.

16. The net demand of license tax fell from Rs. 52,340 to Rs. 50,020, and collections from Rs. 50,410 to Rs. 49,265. The gross stamp revenue was Rs. 3,03,437 against Rs. 2,84,467 in the previous year. The receipts from hundi and bill-of-exchange stamps nearly doubled those of the previous year, and there was an advance of 15·3 per cent. on the rates of one-anna receipt stamps, as to which the Commissioner remarks:—"The increased facilities afforded to the public for the purchase of these stamps, and the attention which has been given to the subject of late, have had a marked effect."

Forests.

17 Three additional blocks were added to the area of reserved forests in the Palamow sub-division, and proposals for constituting the Khoor-choota forests in Hazaribagh a reserved forest were under the consideration of Government at the close of the year. The measures which were taken to protect from fire the whole of the reserved areas in Hazaribagh and Palamow were attended with considerable success, but in Singbhoom out of 101,120 acres which it was sought to protect, only about 20,900 acres escaped injury.

Education.

18. The number of schools in the division is reported to have fallen from 1,724 to 1,620, and the number of scholars from 51,365 to 47,976. The decrease is almost entirely confined to lower primary schools, and is mainly due to the more strict exclusion of inefficient schools and of schools with less than ten pupils from the list of those recognised by Government. Of the 47,976 pupils, 32,412 were Hindus, and most of the rest were "aborigines." The results of the middle English scholarship examination compare unfavourably in every district with those of the preceding year, but there was an increase in the number of pupils, both boys and girls, who passed the primary scholarship examination. Regarding Singbhoom, the Commissioner quotes the following remarks of Colonel Samuells, late Officiating Deputy Commissioner:—

"There is no doubt that through the interest taken by Major Garbett, when Deputy Commissioner of the district, and the energies of the district educational staff, wonderful progress has been made in education in this district during the last few years. I visited a number of schools during my cold-weather tour, and the local interest, generally speaking, which was taken in the schools was a very pleasing and hopeful sign. Some of the girls schools in Dalbhoom and the south of the Kolhan were particularly interesting, as the quickness and intelligence of the girls was often remarkable."

"These observations," Mr. Stevens adds, "I can confirm from what I myself saw in passing through the district."

A notable event of the year was the award of a special scholarship to the first Kol boy who has ever passed the University Entrance examination.

Wards' and Encumbered Estates.

19. A special officer has been deputed for the survey and settlement of selected Wards and Government estates in this division, the late Commissioner having recommended very strongly an adjustment of the rent demand. The Deputy Commissioner of Hazaribagh says that the sooner these proceedings are brought to a close the better for everybody concerned, as their continuance has a disturbing effect. The settlement has certainly been protracted to great length on Dhanwar, the estate to which he more particularly refers, owing to repeated references as to the rates of rent which should be considered fair and equitable. Sixty-six estates were managed during the year under the Encumbered Estates Act, with a current rent demand of a little more than two lakhs and a half, of which 92 5 per cent. was collected. On these estates there is a considerable arrear demand, exceeding a lakh and a half. The total debts due by the estates was Rs. 17,58,796, of which Rs. 7,78,758 had been paid by the 31st March 1886, a sum which is less by a lakh than that for the payment of which arrangements had been made. The progress towards the liquidation of debts, though considerable, is therefore not as great as had been anticipated.

Conduct of zemindars.

20. The necessity for maintaining an establishment for managing Encumbered estates indicates the tendency towards undue extravagance which prevails among the old families of Chota Nagpore. The Rajah of Dalbhoom having at an early age plunged his property in debt has applied during the year for the protection of the Act. The zemindars are said to be generally deficient in attention to business and interest in public affairs. Several exceptions are, however, mentioned, notably the Rajah of Seraikella. The Lieutenant-Governor believes that in Chota Nagpore the officers of the Commission may, by friendly intercourse and sympathetic advice, exercise a very salutary influence on the zemindars.

21. The remarks of the Commissioner on the character of his subordinate officers will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

PROPOSED ADELAIDE JUBILEE INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION OF 1887.

Circular No. 50Ex.—103-4.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Department (Museums and Exhibitions), under date Simla, the 6th September 1886.

READ—

The following despatch with enclosures received from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, regarding the proposed Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition of 1887:—

No. 818 C., dated India Office, London, the 22nd July 1886.

From—Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India,
To—The Government of India.

I FORWARD herewith a copy of a letter, dated 19th May last, from the Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies, with its enclosures, respecting the proposed Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition of 1887, for such action in the matter as you may think advisable.

Dated Colonial Office, Downing Street, the 19th May 1886.

From—JOHN BRAMSTON, ESQ.,
To—The Under-Secretary of State for India.

I AM directed by Earl Granville to transmit to you to be laid before the Earl of Kimberley, a copy of a despatch from the Governor of South Australia, with its enclosures, respecting the Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition, 1887.

No. 33, 5th April.

I am to request that you will move Lord Kimberley to take the necessary steps to invite representation of the Indian Government at this Exhibition.

I am also to enclose a copy of a previous despatch from Sir W. Robinson, with its enclosures which explain the nature and objects of the Exhibition, and to state that the Prince of Wales was pleased to consent to the request there made, that His Royal Highness would accord his patronage to the Exhibition, and permit his sons, their Royal Highnesses Princes Edward and George of Wales, to be associated with himself as patrons of the Exhibition.

No. 92, 28th December.

No. 33, dated Government House, Adelaide, South Australia, 5th April 1886.

From—HIS EXCELLENCY SIR W. C. F. ROBINSON, K.C.M.G., Governor of South Australia,
To—The RIGHT HON'BLE THE EARL GRANVILLE, K.G., &c. &c &c.

I HAVE the honour to forward printed copies of a letter addressed to the Chief Secretary by the Secretary to the Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition, requesting that communications may be opened up with the Governments of foreign countries, including India, China and Japan, and requesting that an invitation may be given to such Governments to participate in the Exhibition.

2. At the instance of my Ministers, I beg leave to request that your Lordship will be so good as to cause the necessary steps to be taken in this matter.

3 One hundred copies of the enclosures to this despatch are herewith forwarded for circulation.

No. 92, dated Government House, Adelaide, South Australia, 28th December 1885.

From—HIS EXCELLENCY SIR W. C. F. ROBINSON, K.C.M.G., Governor of South Australia,
To—The RIGHT HON'BLE COLONEL STANLEY, M.P., &c., &c., &c., Colonial Office.

I HAVE the honour to forward a copy of an Act passed during the last Session of Parliament, entitled "An Act to set apart certain lands for a Jubilee Exhibition and for other purposes."

2. I also forward a memorandum relating to the proposed Exhibition, an extract from the South Australian Register of the 2nd of December, a copy of the speech delivered by Mr. E. T. Smith, M.P., on bringing the question before Parliament, a plan of the site of the proposed Exhibition, and a letter addressed to me by the Secretary covering the documents which I now enclose.

3. Although the scheme for the proposed Exhibition has been set on foot by private individuals, I may observe that Parliament has provided the land, and contributed £32,000 towards the cost of the necessary buildings, which are to remain the property of the Colony. The undertaking has therefore become to this extent a public one, and there is certainly every disposition on the part of the Colony to make it a thorough success. My object in now addressing you is to request, at the instance of the Promoters, that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales will be graciously pleased to accord his patronage to the Exhibition, and, if His Royal Highness sees no objection, to permit his sons, their Royal Highnesses Princes Edward and George of Wales, to be associated with His Royal Highness as Patrons of the Exhibition. It is further requested in the letter from the Secretary, which I enclose, that a reply may be sent by telegram, as the Promoters desire to issue the prospectus as soon as possible.

4. I have conferred with Ministers on the subject, and I may say that it will afford the Government, and the Colony generally, much gratification should His Royal Highness be graciously pleased to extend his patronage to the Exhibition.

Dated Adelaide, 4th December 1885.

From—JNO. FAIRFAX CONIGRAVE, Esq., Secretary pro tem., South Australia Jubilee Exhibition,

To—HIS EXCELLENCY SIR WM. C F. ROBINSON, K.C.M.G., Governor of South Australia.

I HAVE the honour, by direction, to inform you that at the first meeting of the Promoters of the Exhibition to be held in Adelaide in 1887 to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the foundation of South Australia, the following resolution was unanimously passed, viz.—

That the Chairman, E. T. Smith, Esq., M.P., be requested to wait upon His Excellency the Governor to ask His Excellency to be good enough to communicate with the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Colonies, asking that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales will be graciously pleased to accord to the Exhibition His Royal patronage, and at the same time, if his Royal Highness sees no objection, to permit his sons, their Royal Highnesses Princes Edward and George of Wales, to be associated with His Royal Highness as Patrons of the Exhibition.

In forwarding copy of this resolution, by direction of Mr. Smith, who has seen Your Excellency upon the subject, I have to say that it will be esteemed a great favour by the Promoters if the communication to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales can be sent by the outgoing mail, and if also a request can be made that the tenor of the Prince's reply may be sent by telegram, as the Promoters desire to issue the prospectus of the Exhibition early in the year, and would very much like to have His Royal Highness's answer before doing so.

With a view to place His Royal Highness in full possession of the facts connected with the Exhibition, I have pleasure in handing to Your Excellency, for transmission to England, the following documents:—

Two copies of "memorandum."

Two copies of plan of site.

Two copies of speech of E. T. Smith, Esq., M.P., in House of Assembly, upon the proposed Exhibition.

Two copies of extract from South Australian Register of 2nd December 1885, being report of the first meeting of Promoters of the Exhibition.

Two copies of Bill which has passed both Houses of Parliament.

PROCLAMATION.

Adelaide, 1st March 1886.

As South Australia will attain its fiftieth year as a colony, December 28th, 1886, a desire has naturally arisen among the colonists to mark that event by some suitable public demonstration; and no way of gratifying this desire seems so appropriate, or will be so beneficial, as that of holding an International Exhibition.

Parliament has dedicated land for the purposes of the Exhibition, and sanctioned the expenditure of money in erecting the main building and laying out the grounds. The Exhibition will be conducted by the Promoters, whose names are appended, and such other gentlemen as they may appoint to assist in the management.

The age of the colony being co-eval with the reign of Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria, the day for the opening of the Jubilee Exhibition has been fixed for the 20th June 1887 (the completion of the fiftieth year of Her Majesty's reign).

Steps have already been taken for the construction of buildings of an appropriate character, with a minimum risk of fire; and these will be erected on the Adelaide Park Lands, a site which for beauty and convenience can scarcely be surpassed.

A direct line of railway, seven miles in length, delivering goods on the ground, will connect the Exhibition Buildings with the wharves at Port Adelaide, alongside which vessels drawing 22 feet of water may quietly lie and discharge cargo into the railway trucks.

To ensure success requires the free and full support of other countries; and it is hoped that Foreign Nations and British Colonies will co-operate with our Mother Country, and accept our invitations and be represented at this Jubilee Exhibition, where there productions, manufactures, and machinery may appear in juxtaposition with Australasian product and manufactures, and prove of mutual benefit.

Arrangements are in progress for the appointment of a Representative Commission in London.

The year 1887 will be memorable throughout the British Empire, and will be of special local interest to these Australasian Colonies, from the fact that that year will witness the union of the Capitals of South Australia, Victoria, New South Wales, and Queensland by a continuous line of railway, 1,760 miles in length, viz.—

	Miles.
From Adelaide to Melbourne	508
„ Melbourne to Sydney	574
„ Sydney to Brisbane	678
Total ...	1,760

The import and export trade of the Australasian Colonies in 1884 amounted to a total of £116,249,116, the population being 3,074,503.

The Government will secure free Customs regulations for exhibits, and the due protection of the interests of all exhibitors.

Diagrams of buildings and grounds, and all other necessary information, will be published and distributed to the various countries and colonies.

The following documents are appended.

1. A list of the Promoters of the Exhibition
2. A list of officers and members of the Executive and Divisional Committees.
3. The synopsis and general classification of exhibits.
4. Adopted system of awards.
5. Regulations for exhibitors and form of application for space.

The above Proclamation was adopted at a meeting of the Promoters, held at Adelaide on the 2nd of March 1886.

	I	661 to 662	Insects, &c.
	J	663 to 666	Water Animals. Fish Culture and Apparatus.
	K	667 to 672	Machines, Implements, and Processes of Manufacture.
	L	673 to 676	Agricultural Engineering and Administration.
	M	677 to 681	Tillage and General Management.
VII.—Horticulture and Floriculture.	A	700 to 701	Pomology.
	B	702 to 711	Ornamental Trees, Shrubs, and Flowers.
	C	712 to 716	Hothouses; Conservatories, Graperies, and their Management.
	D	717 to 719	Garden Tools, Accessories of Gardening.
	E	720 to 722	Garden Designing, Construction, and Management.

Classification.

DEPARTMENT I.—MINING, METALLURGY, AND THEIR PRODUCTS.

Section A—Rocks, Minerals, and Mining Products.

Class 100. Geological collections.
„ 101. Samples of Reef and Alluvial Gold and associated rocks and minerals.
„ 102. Ores of Copper, with associated rocks and minerals.
„ 103. Ores of Silver, Tin, Iron, Antimony, Bismuth, Lead, Nickel, Manganese, Zinc, Cobalt, &c., with their associated rocks and minerals.

Class 104. Collections of Minerals, systematically arranged.

„ 105. Gems and Precious stones

„ 106. Minerals, Combustible.—Coal. Anthracite and Bituminous, with samples showing thickness of seams: Bitumen, Kerosine, and other oil shales; Asphalt and Asphaltic-rocks, Mineral-tar, crude Petroleum, Coal-waste, Pressed Coal and Coke.

„ 107. Building Stones.—Rough, hewn, sawn, or polished, for buildings, bridges, walls or other constructions, or for furniture.

Marble—White, black, or colored; and other ornamental stones, used in decorations, statuary, and monuments, or furniture, in blocks or slabs, rough or polished, not manufactured

Specimens illustrating the processes of mixing, burning, and preparing. Samples of the results of the preparation.

„ 109. Clays, Kaolin, Silex, Fire Clay, and other materials for the manufacture of porcelain, faience, glass, bricks, terra-cotta, tiles and fire-brick Refractory Stones for lining furnaces; sandstone, steatite, &c., and refractory furnace materials; also samples showing the relative effects of heat on different kinds of fire resisting materials and fire-bricks.

„ 110 Graphite, crude and refined, for polishing purposes, for fabricating, electro-typing, photography, pencils, crucibles, &c.

„ 111. Lithographic Stones, Hones, Whetstones, Grindstones, Grinding and polishing materials, Sand, Quartz, Garnet, Topaz, Diamond, Corundum, Emery in the rock and pulverised, and in assorted sizes and grades.

„ 112. Mineral Waters, Artesian Well Water, Natural Brines, Saline and Alkaline Efflorescences and Solutions.

Mineral Fertilising Substances—Gypsum, Phosphate of Lime, Marls, Shells, Coprolites, &c, not manufactured.

SECTION B.—Metallurgical Products.

Class 113. Precious Metals.

„ 114. Iron and Steel in the pig, ingot, bar, plates, and sheets, with specimens of slags fluxes, residues, and products of working.

„ 115. Copper—In cakes, tiles, ingots, bars, hammered and rolled, with specimens illustrating their various stages of manufacture.

„ 116. Tin, Nickel, Lead, Zinc, Antimony, Bismuth, and other Metals, the result of extractive purposes.

„ 117. Alloys and combined metals used as materials—Nickel-silver, Brass, Bronze, Gun-metal, Bell-metal, Solder, &c.

SECTION C.—Mine-Engineering, Models, Maps, and Sections.

Class 118. Surface and underground surveying and plotting, projection of underground work location of shafts, tunnels, &c., surveys for acqueducts and for drainage.

Boring and drilling rocks, shaft, and tunnels, &c

Construction, sinking, and lining shafts by various methods, driving and timbering tunnels, and the general operations of opening, stopping, and breaking down ore, timbering, lagging, and masonry.

Hoisting and delivering at the surface rock, ore, or miners.

Pumping and draining by engines, buckets, or by adits.

Ventilating and lighting

Subaqueous-mining, blasting, &c

Hydraulic-mining, and the various processes and methods of sluicing and washing auriferous gravel, and other superficial deposits.

Quarrying.

„ 119. Model of mines of veins, &c.

„ 120. Geological Maps, sections, and plans of goldfields, and other mineral localities.

DEPARTMENT II.—MANUFACTURES

SECTION A.—Chemical Manufactures.

Class 200. Chemicals—pharmaceutical preparations. Mineral Acids, and the methods of manufacture. Sulphuric, Nitric and Hydrochloric Acids.

The common commercial Alkalies—Potash, Soda, and Ammonia, with their carbonates.

Salt and its production. Salt from deposits—native salt, salt by solar evaporation from sea water. Salt by evaporation from water of saline springs or wells. Rock Salt; Ground and Table Salt.

Bleaching Powders and Chloride of Lime. Disinfectant.

Yeast Powders, Baking Powders, and Self-raising Flour.

Class 201. Oils from mineral, animal, and vegetable sources. Refined Petroleum, Benzine, Naphtha, and other products of the manufacture.
Oils from various seeds, refined, and of various degrees of purity—Olive Oil, Cotton-seed Oil, Palm Oil, &c. Animal Oils, of various kinds, in their refined state.
Oils prepared for special purposes besides lighting and for food. Lubricating Oils.
Soap and detergent preparations—Candles, Stearine, Glycerine, Paraffine, &c., Spermaceti.
Illuminating and other Gases and their manufacture, Oxygen Gas and its application for heating, lighting, metallurgy, and as a remedial agent.
„ 202 Chlorine and Carbonic Acid.
„ 203. Paints, Pigments, Dyes, Colors, Turpentine, Varnishes, Blacking.
„ 204 Flavoring Extracts, Essences, Perfumery, Pomades, Cosmetics.
„ 205. Pyrotechnics, for display, signalling, missiles.
„ 205A. Tobacco (manufactured) Cigars, Cigarettes, &c.

SECTION B.—Ceramics, Pottery, Porcelain, &c.

Class 206. Bricks, Drain Tiles, Terra-cotta, Architectural Pottery, and Modelling.
„ 207. Fireclay Goods—Crucibles, Pots, Furnaces, Chemical Stoneware.
„ 208. Tiles—Plain, Enamelled, Encaustic; Geometric Tiles and Mosaics; Tiles for pavements and for roofing, &c.
„ 209. Porcelain for purposes of construction, Hardware, Trimmings, &c.
„ 210 Stone China, for chemists, druggists, &c.; Earthenware, Stoneware Faience, &c.
„ 211. Majolica, Wedgewood, and Palissy Ware.
„ 212. Biscuit-ware, Parian, &c.
„ 213. Porcelain, China, and Earthenware for table and toilet use and for decoration.

SECTION C.—Glass and Glassware.

Class 214. Glass used in construction and for mirrors. Window Glass, of various grades of quality and size. Plate Glass, rough and ground or polished. Toughened Glass.
„ 215. Chemical and Pharmaceutical Glassware, vials, bottles, &c.
„ 216. Decorative Glassware.

SECTION B.—Furniture and Objects of General Use in Constructions and in Dwellings.

Class 217. Heavy Furniture—Chairs, Tables, &c. Suites for Drawing, Dining, and other Rooms, Chamber Suites, Bedsteads, Offices and Library Furniture, Vestibule Furniture, Church Furniture and Decoration.
„ 218. Table furniture—Glass, China, Silver, Silver-plate, Tea and Coffee Sets, Urns, Samovars, Epergnes Japannedware, Trays, &c.
„ 219. Mirrors, Stained and Enamelled Glass, Cut and Engraved Window Glass, and other decorative objects.
„ 220. Gilt Cornices, Brackets, Picture-frames, &c.
„ 221. The Nursery and its Accessories—Childrens' Cots, Chairs, Walking Chairs, &c.
„ 222. Household Athletic Apparatus.
„ 223. Apparatus and Fixtures for Heating and Cooking—Stoves, Ranges, Heaters, &c. Plans or Models of Ice Chambers for Preservation of Fresh Meats, &c., domestic or trade.
„ 224. Apparatus for Lighting—Gas Fixtures, Lamps, Globes, Chimneys, &c.
„ 225. Kitchen and Pantry Utensils, Tinware, and Apparatus used in Cooking (exclusive of Cutlery).
„ 226. Laundry Appliances—Washing Machines, Mangles, Clothes-wringers, Clothes-bars, Ironing-tables, &c
„ 227. Bathroom and water-closet, Shower, and other Bath, Earth-closet, &c.
„ 228. Manufactured Parts of Buildings—Sash, Blinds, Mantels, Metalwork, &c.

SECTION E.—Yarns and Woven Goods of Vegetable or Mineral Materials.

Class 229. Woven fabrics of Mineral Origin—Warecloth, Sievecloth, Wire Screens, Bolting Cloth.
Asbestos Fibre, spun and woven, with the clothing manufactured from it.
Glass-thread, Floss and Fabrics.
„ 230. Coarse Fibres of grass, Rattan, Cocoanut, and Bark.
Mats and Matting—Cocoanut Fibre. Twine, Chinese, Japanese, Palm leaf, Grass Rushes, Rattan, Aloe, Fibre, &c

„ 281. Traps for Game, Birds, Vermin, &c.
„ 282. Aboriginal Weapons.

SECTION K.—Medicine, Surgery, Prothesis.

Class 283. Medicines—Officinal (in any authoritative Pharmacopœia) articles of the Materia Medica, Preparations Un-officinal.
„ 284. Dietetic Preparation, as Beef Extract and other articles intended specially for the sick.
„ 285. Pharmaceutical Apparatus.
„ 286. Instruments for Physical Diagnosis, Clinical Thermometers, Stethescopes, Ophthalmoscopes, &c. (except Clinical Microscopes, for which see Class 312).
„ 287. Surgical Instruments and appliances, with Dressings, Apparatus for Deformities, Prothesis, Obstetrical Instruments.
„ 288. Dental Instruments and Appliances.
„ 289. Vehicles and Appliances for the Transportation of the Sick and Wounded during Peace and War, on shore or at sea.

SECTION L.—Hardware, Edge Tools, Cutlery, and Metallic Products.

Class 290. Hand Tools and Instruments of every description used by artificers.
„ 291. Cutlery—Knives, Penknives, Scissors, Razors, Razor Strops, and Implements sold by Cutlers.
„ 292. Emery and Sandpaper and Cloth, Polishing Powders, Polishing and Burnishing stones.
„ 293. Metal Hollow-ware, Ornamental Castings.
„ 294. Hardware used in Construction, exclusive of Tools and Implements. Spikes, Nails, Screws, Tacks, Bolts, Locks, Latches, Hinges, Pulleys, Plumbers' and Gasfitters' Hardware, Furniture, Fittings, Ships' Hardware, Saddlers' Hardware, and Harness Fittings, and Trimmings.
„ 295. Galvanized Ironwork.
„ 296. Wirework.

SECTION M.—Fabrics of Vegetable, Animal, or Mineral Materials.

Class 297. Indiarubber Goods and Manufactures.
„ 298. Brushes.
„ 299. Ropes, Cordage.
„ 300. Flags, Insignia, Emblems.
„ 301. Wooden and Basket Ware, Papiermaché.
„ 302. Undertakers' Furnishing Goods, &c.

SECTION N.—Carriages, Vehicles, and Accessories. (For Farm Articles see Departments of Agriculture, Section K, and for Machinery and Railway Carriages, Section H.)

Class 303. Pleasure Carriages.
„ 304. Travelling Carriages, Coaches, Stages, Omnibuses, Hearses, Bath and other Invalid Chairs, Bicycles, Tricycles, Perambulators, &c.
„ 305. Vehicles for Movements of Goods and heavy articles, Vans, Carts, Wagons, Trollies, Spring Drays, Trucks, &c.
„ 306. Carriage and Horse Furniture, Harness and Saddlery. Whips, Spurs, Horse Blankets, Carriage Rugs, Robes, &c.

DEPARTMENT III—EDUCATION AND SCIENCE.

SECTION A.—Educational Systems, Methods and Libraries.

Class 350. Elementary Instruction—Infant Schools and Kindergarten—arrangements, furniture, appliances, and modes of training.
„ 351. Elementary Schools—Buildings and Grounds, Equipments, Courses of Study, Methods of Instruction, Textbooks, apparatus including Maps, Charts, Globes, &c.; Pupils' Works, including Drawing and Penmanship; provisions for Physical Training.
„ 352. Higher Education—Grammar and High Schools, Colleges and Universities. Buildings and Grounds, Libraries, Museums of Zoology, Botany, Mineralogy, Art and Archæology; apparatus for illustration and research; Mathematical, Physical, Chemical, and Astronomical courses of study; Textbooks, Catalogues, Libraries, and Gymnasiums.

Class 353. Professional and Technical Schools.—Buildings, Textbooks, Libraries, Apparatus. Modes, Methods, and other accessories.

„ 354. Institutions for Instruction of the Blind, Deaf, and Dumb, and the Feeble-minded.

„ 355. Education Reports and Statistics.

„ 356. Libraries, History, Reports, Statistics, and Catalogues.

„ 357. School and Textbooks, Dictionaries, Encyclopædias, Gazetteers, Directories. Index Volumes, Bibliographies, Catalogues, Almanacs, Special Treatises, General and Miscellaneous Literature, Newspapers and Journals, Illustrated Papers, Periodical Literature.

SECTION B.—Scientific and Philosophical Instruments and Methods.

Class 358. Instruments of Precision and Apparatus of Physical Research, Experiment and Illustration.

Astronomical Instruments and Accessories used in Observatories.

Transits, Mural Circles, Equatorials, Collimators.

Geodetic and Surveying Instruments.—Transits, Theodolites, Needle, Compasses, Instruments for Surveying underground in Mines, Tunnels, and Excavations Nautical Astronomical Instruments—Sextants, Quadrants, Repeating Circles, Dip-sectors.

Levelling Instruments and Apparatus.—Carpenters' and Builders' Levels, Hand Levels, Water Levels, Engineers' Levels.

Instruments for Deep-sea Sounding and Hydrographic Surveying.

Meteorological Instruments and Apparatus.

Thermometers, Pyrometers, Barometers.

Hygrometers and Rain-gauges, Maps, Weather Bulletins.

Blanks for Reports, Methods of Recording, Reducing, and Reporting Observations.

„ 359. Indicating and Registering Apparatus other than Meteorological Mechanical Calculation.

Viameters, Pedometers, Gas Meters.

Water Meters, Current Meters, Ships' Patent Logs, Electrical Logs.

Tide Registers.

Apparatus for Printing Consecutive Numbers.

Counting Machines, Calculating Engines, Arithmometers.

„ 360. Weights, Measures, and Weighing Apparatus.

Measures of Length.—Graduated Scales on Wood, Metal, Ivory, Tape or Ribbon; Steel Tapes, Chains, Rods, Verniers.

Measures of Capacity for Solids and Liquids.

Graduated Scales for Measuring Lumber, Goods in Packages, Casks, &c. Gaugers' Tools and Methods.

Weights —Scales and Graduated Beams for Weighing; Assay Balances, Chemical Balances; Ordinary Scales for Heavy Weights, weighing Locomotives and Trains of Cars; Postal Balances; Hydrometers, Alcohometers, Lactometers, Gravimeters, &c.

„ 361. Chronometric Apparatus—

Chronometers, Astronomical Clocks, Church and Metropolitan Clocks, Ordinary Commercial Clocks, Pendulum and Spring Clocks, Marine Clocks, Watches, Clepsydras, Hourglasses, Sundials, Chronographs, Electric Clocks, Metronomes.

„ 362. Optical and Thermotic Instruments and Apparatus—

Mirrors, Plane and Spherical.

Lenses and Prisms.

Spectacles and Eyeglasses, Field and Opera Glasses, Graphoscopes and Stereoscope.

Cameras and Photographic Apparatus.

Microscopes.

Telescopes.

Apparatus for Artificial Illustration, including Electric, Oxyhydrogen, and Magnesium Light.

Stereopticons

Photometric Apparatus.

Spectroscopes and Accessories for Spectrum Analysis.

Polariscopes, &c.

Thermotic Apparatus.

„ 363. Telegraphic Instruments and Methods—

Batteries and Forms of Apparatus used in generating the Electrical Currents for Telegraphic Purposes.

Conductors and Insulators and Methods of Support, Marine Telegraph Cables.

Apparatus of Transmission, Keys, Office Accessories, and Apparatus.

Receiving Instruments, Relay Magnets, Local Circuits.
Semaphoric and recording Instrument.
Codes, Signs, or Signals; Heliographs.
Printing Telegraphs for special uses.
Electrographs.
Dial or Cadran Systems.
Apparatus for Automatic Transmission.
Telephone, Microphone, &c.

Class 364. Musical Instruments and Acoustic Apparatus.
Percussion Instruments, Drums, Tambourines, Cymbals, Triangles, &c.
Pianos.
Stringed Instruments, other than Pianos.
Automatic Musical Instruments, Music Boxes.
Wind Instruments of metal and of wood.
Harmoniums.
Church Organs and similar Instruments.
Speaking Machines.
Phonographs.

SECTION C.—Engineering, Architecture, Charts, Maps, and Graphic Representations.

(For Agricultural Engineering, see Section K.)

(For Mining Engineering, see Section C.)

Class 365. Civil Engineering, Land Surveying, Public Lands, &c.
River, Harbour, and Coast Survey.
Construction and Maintenance of Roads, Streets, Pavements, &c.
Surveys and Location of Towns and Cities, with system of Water-supply and Drainage.
Arched Bridges of metal, stone, brick or beton.
Trusted Girder Bridges.
Suspension Bridges.
Canals, Aqueducts, Reservoirs. Construction of dams.
Hydraulic Engineering and means of arresting and Controlling the Flow of Water.
Sumarine Constructions, Foundations, Piers, Docks, &c.

„ 366. Dynamic and Industrial Engineering, Construction and Working of Machines, Examples of Planning and Construction of Manufacturing and Metallurgical Establishments.

„ 367. Railway Engineering.
Location of Railways, and the Construction and Management of Railways.

„ 368. Military Engineering.

„ 369. Naval Engineering.

„ 370. Topographical Maps.
Marine and Coast Charts.
Geological Maps and Sections.
Botanical, Agronomical and other maps, showing the extent and distribution of Men, Animals and Terrestrial Products.
Physical Maps.
Meteorological Maps and Bulletins.
Telegraphic Routes and Stations.
Railway and Route Maps.
Terrestrial and Celestial Globes
Relief Maps and Models of portions of the Earth's surface.
Profiles of Ocean Beds and Routes of Submarine Cables.

SECTION D.—Physical, Social, and Moral Condition of Man.

Class 371. Physical Development and Condition.
The Nursery and its Accessories.
Gymnasiums, Games, Manly Sports, and Physical Training.

„ 372. Alimentation.
Markets, Preparation and Distribution of Food.

„ 373. The Dwelling.
Sanitary Conditions, Appliances, and Regulations.
Domestic Architecture.
Dwellings characterized by cheapness, combined with the conditions essential to health and comfort.
Plans or Models of Dwelling-houses best suited for hot climates.
Fireproof Structures.
Hotels, Clubhouses, &c.
Public Baths.

„ 374. Commercial Systems and Appliances.
Mercantile Forms and Methods, Counting-houses and Offices.
Banks and Banking.

Savings and Trust Institutions.
Insurance, Fire, Marine, Life, &c.
Commercial Organisations, Boards of Trade, Produce and Stock Exchanges.
Corporations for Commercial and Manufacturing Purposes.
Railway and other Transportation Companies.
Building and Loan Associations.

Class 375. Money.
Mints and Coining.
Collection of Current Coins.
Historical Collections.
Tokens, &c.
Bank Notes, and other paper-circulating mediums.
Commercial Paper, Bills of Exchange, &c.
Securities for Payment of Money, Stocks, Bonds, Mortgages, Ground-rents, Quit-rents, &c.
Precautions against Counterfeiting and Misappropriation of Money.

„ 376. Government and Law.
Various systems of Government Codes.
Municipal Government
Protection of Property in Inventions.
Postal System and Appliances.
Punishment of Crime
Prisons and Prison Management and Discipline; Police Stations; Houses of Correction; Reformatory and Industrial Schools.

„ 377. Benevolence,
General Hospitals.
Special Hospitals for the Eye and Ear, &c.
Hospitals for Women.
Hospitals for Contagious and Infectious Diseases
Quarantine Systems and Organisations.
Hospitals for the Insane—under State Control, and Private Asylums.
Sanitary Regulations of Cities.
Dispensaries
Inebriate Asylums.
Lying-in Asylums.
Magdalen Asylums.
Asylums for Infants and Children.
Founding and Orphan Asylums—Childrens' Aid Societies and Boarding-out Systems.
Blind, Deaf, and Dumb Asylums.
Homes for the Aged and Infirmed; Homes for Aged Men and Women; Home for the Maimed and Deformed; Homes for Incurables: Convalescent Homes; Sailors' Homes.
Treatment of Paupers.
Alms-houses, Feeding the Poor, Lodging-houses.
Emigrant Aid Societies
Immigration Systems, including Shipping and Depôts.
Servants' Houses.
Labour-hiring Establishments and Systems of Distribution of Labour.
Treatment of Aborigines.
Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

„ 378. Co-operative Associations.
Military Organisations and Orders.
Trade Unions and Associations.
Industrial Organisations.

„ 379. Religious Organisations and Systems, Statistical, Historical and other Facts.
Bible Societies, Tract Societies, Colportage.
Systems and Methods of Religious Instructions and Training for the Young.
Sunday Schools, Furniture and Apparatus.
Associations for Religious or Moral Improvement.
Dispensing Charities, Church Guilds.

„ 380. Art and Industrial Exhibitions.
Agricultural Fairs.
Juvenile Exhibitions.
National Exhibitions.

DEPARTMENT IV.—ART.

Section A.—Sculpture.

Class 400. Figures and Groups in stone, metal, clay, terra-cotta, or plaster.
„ 401. Works, in relief, in stone or metal; Electrotype Copies
„ 402. Medals, pressed and engraved; Electrotypes of Medals.

Class 403. Hammered and Wrought Work; Repousse Work.
„ 404. Cameos, Intaglios, Engraved Stones, Seals, Dies, &c.
„ 405. Carvings in Wood, Ivory, Metal, or other material.

Class 406. Paintings in Oil, on canvas, panels, ivory, glass, terra-cotta, &c.
„ 407. Water-color Pictures—Aquarelles, Miniatures, &c.
„ 408. Frescoes, Cartoons for Frescoes &c
„ 409. Painting with vitrifiable colors; Pictures on Porcelain, Enamel, and Metal.

SECTION C.—Drawing, Engraving, and Lithography.

Class 410. Drawing with Pen, Pencil, or Crayons.
„ 411. Engravings from steel, Copper, Stone, and Wood.
„ 412. Etchings.
„ 413. Lithographs, Zincographs, &c.
„ 414. Oleographs, Cromo-lithographs, &c.

SECTION D.—Photography.

Class 415. Photographs on paper, metal, glass, wood, fabrics, or enamel surfaces.

Class 418. Industrial Designs.
„ 419. Architectural Designs—Studies and Fragments, Representations and Projects of Edifices; Restorations from Ruins and from Documents.
„ 420. Ecclesiastical Designs.
„ 421. Designs for Decorations of Interiors of Buildings.
„ 422. Designs for Decorations of Exteriors of Buildings.
„ 423. Designs for Artistic Hardware and Trimmings Artistic Castings, Forged Metalwork for Decoration, &c.

SECTION F.—Decorations with Ceramic and Vitreous Materials.

Class 424. Mosaic and Inlaid Work in stone.
„ 425. Mosaic and Inlaid Work in tiles, tessaræ, glass, &c.
„ 426. Inlaid Work in wood and metal, partqueterie, markqueterie.
„ 427. Stained, Embossed, and Engraved Glass.
„ 428. Cameo and Intaglio in Glass.
„ 429. Miscellaneous objects of Art.

DEPARTMENT V.—MACHINERY.

SECTION A.—Machines, Tools and Apparatus of Mining, Metallurgy, Chemistry, and the Extractive Arts.

Class 500. Machines and Apparatus for Rock Drilling.
„ 501. Machines and Apparatus for Well and Shaft Boring.
„ 502. Machines and Apparatus for Coal-getting.
„ 503. Machines and Apparatus for Hoisting.
„ 504. Machines and Apparatus for Pumping, Draining, and Ventilating.
„ 505. Machines and Apparatus for Crushing, Grinding, Sorting, and Dressing—Breakers, Stamps, Mills, Pans, Screens, Sieves, Jigs, Amalgamators, Concentrators, &c.
„ 506. Furnaces, Smelting Apparatus, and Accessories.
„ 507. Machinery used in Bessemer, Siemens-Martin and other processes.
„ 508. Machines and Apparatus for Chemical Manufactures, Electro-plating, paint and Powder Mills, Blacking, Soap, Candle-making, &c.
„ 509. Machinery and Apparatus for the manufacture of Gas for illuminating or heating, compressed or otherwise.

SECTION B.—Machines and Tools for Working Metal, Wood, and Stone.

Class 510. Machines and Tools for Working Wood:—Planing, Sawing, Turning, Veneering, Grooving, Mortising, Tongueing, Cutting, Moulding, Stamping, Carving, Cask-making, and Cork-cutting, &c.
„ 511. Machines for direct-acting Steam-sawing, &c.
„ 512. Rolling Mills, Bloom Squeezers, Blowing Fans, Furnaces, Moulding Machines, and Apparatus for Casting Metals, with Specimens of work, also models and drawings.
„ 513. Rivet, Nail, Bolt, Screw, and Tack-making Machinery
„ 514. Steam, Trip, Drop, and other Hammers; Hydraulic Presses for Forging with specimens of work; Anvils, Forges, Bellows, and Tools.

Class 515. Machines for Working Metals:—Planing, Drilling, Slotting, Turning, Shaping, Bending, Punching, Stamping, and Cutting, &c.; Wheel-cutting, and Dividing Machines; Emery Wheels, Drills, Taps, Gauges, Dies, &c.

„ 516. Machines for Sawing, Planing, Dressing, Shaping, and Polishing Stone, Sand Blasts, Grindstones, &c.

„ 517. Machines for making Bricks, Pottery, Drain Pipes, Tiles, and Artificial Stone.

„ 518. Furnaces, Moulds, Blowpipes, &c., for making Glass and Glassware; Machines for Grinding, Cutting and Polishing Glass.

„ 519. Tools, Implements, &c., for working Metal, Wood, and Stone, not before enumerated.

„ 520. Machines for Stone-breaking for Road Metal.

„ 521. Machines for Coining Metals; Drop, Die, and Stamping Machinery.

SECTION C.—Machines and Implements of Spinning, Weaving, Felting, and Paper-making.

Class 522. Machines for the manufacture of Silk Goods.

„ 523. Machines for the manufacture of Cotton Goods.

„ 524. Machines for the manufacture of Woollen Goods—Carpets, Tapestry, &c.

„ 525. Machines for the manufacture of Linen Goods.

„ 526. Machines for the manufacture of Rope and Twine and Miscellaneous Fibrous Materials.

„ 527. Machines for the manufacture of Paper and Felting.

„ 528. Machines for the manufacture of India rubber and Guttapercha Goods.

„ 529 Machines for the manufacture of Mixed Fabrics, Floorcloth, Kamptulicon, &c

„ 530. Machines for the manufacture of Wire-cloth and Netting.

„ 531. Machines for the manufacture of Asbestos Goods.

SECTION D.—Machines, Apparatus, and Implements used in Sewing and Making Clothing, and Ornamental Objects.

Class 532. Machines used in the Manufacture of Lace, Fancy Embroidery, Hair Ribbons, &c.

„ 533. Machines for Sewing and Knitting; Clothes, Corset, Hat, and Bonnetmaking Machines.

„ 534. Machines for preparing and working Leather.

„ 535. Machines for making Boots and Shoes.

„ 536. Machines for making Buttons, Pins, Needles, &c.

„ 537. Machines for Ironing, Drying, Scouring, Cleaning, and Dyeing.

„ 538. Machines for making Clocks and Watches.

„ 539. Machines for making Jewellery.

SECTION E.—Machinery and Apparatus for Type-setting, Printing, Stamping, Embossing, and for Making Books, and Paper Working.

Class 540. Printing, Stamping, Embossing, and Lithographic Presses.

„ 541. Type-casting Machines, Apparatus for Stereotyping and Electrotyping, Types and Type-setting Machines.

„ 542. Writing and Copying Machines.

„ 543. Printers' Furniture.

„ 544. Book-binding Machines.

„ 545. Paper-folding Machines.

„ 546. Paper and Card-cutting Machines, Paper Box Machines.

„ 547. Envelope Machines.

„ 548 Steel Pen Machines.

„ 549. Lead Pencil Machines.

SECTION F.—Motors and Apparatus for the Generation and Transmission of Power.

Class 550. Boilers, and all vessels or apparatus for Generating Steam, Gas, or other motive powers.

„ 551. Water-wheels, Water engines, Hydraulic Rams, Windmills.

„ 552. Steam, Air, Gas, Electro-Magnetic or other Engines, &c.

„ 553. Apparatus for the Transmission of Power—Shafting, Gearing, Belting, Cables, &c.

„ 554. Screw Propellers, wheels, and other motors for the propulsion of Vessels.

„ 555. Implements and Apparatus used in connection with Motors; Steam Gauges, Manometers, &c., Anti-friction Metals, and Bearings.

SECTION G.—Hydraulic and Pneumatic Apparatus, Pumping, Hoisting, and Lifting.

Class 556. Pumps and Apparatus for lifting and moving Liquids.

„ 557. Pumps and Apparatus for moving and compressing Air or Gas.

„ 558. Pumps and Blowing Engines, Blowers and Ventilating Apparatus.

„ 559. Hydraulic Engines, Accumulators, Cranes, Jacks, Presses, Elevators, Lifts, Meters, &c.

Class Apparatus for Fire extinction, Hand, Steam, or Chemical; Hose, Ladders, Fire Escapes, &c., and Accessories.
„ 561. Beer Engines, Soda and Aërated Water Machines, Bottling Apparatus, Corking Machines.
„ 562 Stop Valves, Cocks, Syphons, Pipes, &c.
„ 563. Pile-driving Apparatus and Machinery
„ 564. Ice Machines.

SECTION H.—Railway and Tramway Plant, Rolling-Stock, and Apparatus.

Class 565. Locomotives, Models, Drawings, Plans, &c.
„ 566 Carriages, Wagons, Trucks, Cars, &c.
„ 567. Brakes, Buffers, Couplings
„ 568. Wheels, Tires, Axles Bearings, Springs.
„ 569. Permanent Ways, Ties, Chairs, Switches, &c.
„ 570. Station Arrangements, Dynagraphs, Dynamometers, &c, Electrical Signals, Interlocking Gear, &c, Water Cranes, Turntables.
„ 571. Miscellaneous Locomotive Attachments.
„ 572. Tramway Plant, Rolling-stock and Apparatus; Electric Motors.

SECTION I.—Machines used in preparing Agricultural Products.

Class 573 Flour Mills and Dressing Machinery.
„ 574. Mill and Crushing Mills, Bark Mills.
„ 575. Sugar refining Machinery.
„ 576. Confectioners' Machinery.
„ 577. Oil-making Machinery.
„ 578. Tobacco manufacturing Machinery.
„ 579. Mills for Spices, Coffee, &c.
„ 580 Machines for Preparing other Agricultural Products.
„ 581. Machines for Preparing Malt and Spirituous Liquors.
„ 582. Machines for preserving Fruits and Vegetables.
„ 583. Machines for Preserving Meat.

SECTION J.—Aerial, Pneumatic, and Water Transportation.

Class 584. Suspended-Cable Railways.
„ 585. Transporting Cables.
„ 586. Balloons, Flying Machines, &c.
„ 587. Pneumatic Railways, Pneumatic Despatch.
„ 588. Models or Drawings of Boats and Sailing Vessels used in Commerce or in War, Yachts, &c.—
Pleasure Boats.
Rowing Boats of all kinds.
Life Boats and Salvage Apparatus, with Life Rafts, Belts, &c.
Submarine Armour, Diving Apparatus and Machinery, &c.
„ 589. Models or Drawing of Steamships, Steamboats, and all Vessels Propelled by Steam, or other motive power.
„ 590. Models or Drawings of Vessels for Carrying Telegraphic Cables and Railway Trains, also Coal Barges, Water Boats, Dredging Machines, Floating Docks, and for other special purposes.
„ 591. Marine Engines, Dredging Machinery, Steam Capstans, Windlasses, Deck Winches, Steering Apparatus, &c.

SECTION K.—Castings in Metal (various).

Class 592. Iron Castings, Malleable Castings, Steel, Silver, Brass other Metal Castings.

SECTION L.—Machinery and Apparatus especially adapted to the requirements of the Exhibition.

Class 593. Boilers, Engines, Cranes, Lifts, Pumps, Electric Lighting, &c.

DEPARTMENT VI.—AGRICULTURE.

SECTION A.—Arboriculture and Forest Products.

Class 600. Timber and Trunks of Trees, entire or in transverse or truncated sections with specimens of Barks, Leaves, Flowers, Seed Vessels, and Seeds, Masts, Spars, Knees, Longitudinal Sections of Trees, Railway Ties, Ship Timber, Lumber roughly sawn as planks.
Shingles, Laths, and Staves, split or sawn.
„ 601. Timber and Lumber prepared in various ways to resist Decay and Combustion, as by injection of salts of copper and zinc, &c
„ 602. Ornamental Wood used in Decorating and for Furniture, as Veneers of Mahogany, Rosewood, Ebony, Walnut, Maple, and Madrona, Cedar, Huon Pine, Blackwood (Acacia Melanoxylon), &c.
„ 603. Dyewoods Barks, Galls and other Vegetable Substances for coloring and Tanning.

Class 604 Gums, Resins, Caoutchouc, Guttapercha, Vegetable Wax, &c.
„ 605. Lichens, Mosses, Fungi, Pulu, Ferns, &c.
„ 606. Seeds, Nuts, Fruits, Seed Vessels, &c., for Food and Ornamental Purposes.
„ 607. Forestry—Illustrations of the Art of Planting, Managing and Protecting Forests; Statistics; also Illustrations of Botanical Physiology.

SECTION B.—Agricultural Products.

Class 608. Wheat.
„ 609. Oats, Barley, Rye, Millet, Maize, Rice, and other Cereals.
„ 610 Samples of Cereals in the straw.
„ 611. Grasses and Forage Plants.
„ 612. Leguminous Plants and Esculent Vegetables.
„ 613. Roots Tubers, Bulbs, and their allies.
„ 614. Tobacco, Hops, Tea, Coffee, Spices, Herbs, Condiments, &c.
„ 615. Seeds and Seed Vessels.
„ 616. Oil, Scent, and Medicinal Plants.
„ 617. Illustrations of Systems of Hybridizing Cereals.
„ 618. Illustrations of Fungi injurious to Cereals, and other Plants, and systems of their treatment.

SECTION C.—Vegetables Products used as Food.

Class 619. Flour; crushed and ground Cereals; decorticated grains.
„ 620. Preserved Vegetables and Fruits, dried or in cans or jars, Vegetable Extracts.
„ 621. Starch, Arrowroot, and similar products.
„ 622 Sugar and Syrups.
„ 623. Bread, Biscuits, Cakes, Confectionery. Cocoa, Chocolate, &c.
„ 624. Olive, Almond, and other Vegetable Oils, Oil-cake.

SECTION D.—Wines and other drinks.

Class 625. Wine, the produce of the Grape:—
White Wine, of a light character.
White Wine, full-bodied, dry.
White Wine, full-bodied, fruity.
Red Wine, of a light character,
Red Wine, full-bodied, dry.
Red Wine, sweet, full-bodied, fruity.
Liqueur Wine, of any color.
Sparkling Wines, of a champagne character.
Aerated Wine.
„ 626. Ale, Porter, and other Beverages made from Cereals.
„ 627. Cider, Perry, wine from fruit not the produce of the Vine, Vinegar, and other Fermented Drinks.
„ 628. Alcohols:—Brandy, Whisky, Gin, Rum, Spirit of Wine, &c.
„ 629. Liqueurs, Cordials, Bitters, Aerated Waters, &c.

SECTION E.—Animal Products, Land and Marine (used as Food).

Class 630. Fish, Flesh, Fowl, Game, Eggs, &c., tinned, salted, dried, or otherwise preserved. Animal Extracts.
„ 631. Dairy Produce: Milk, Cream, Butter, Cheese, Bacon, &c.
„ 632. Oysters, Molluscs, Clams, Crustaceans, Echinoderms, Beche-be-mer, &c.
„ 633. Honey and other Animal Products used for Food, Gelatine, Isinglass, &c.

SECTION F.—Animal Products, Land and Marine (used as Materials).

Class 634. Skins, Hides, tanned, cured, and dressed. Leather all kinds, prepare for gloves and Parchment. Marocco, Basile, Shagreen, Hogskin Chamois.
„ 635. Furs, Feathers, Down, and Felting.
„ 636. Whalebone, Bones, Horns, Hoofs, Animal and Fish Glue and Glue Pieces, Ivory, Tortoise-shell, &c
„ 637. Tallow, Stearine, Buterine, Glycerine, Candles, Lard, Animal (land and marine) Oils.
„ 638. Animal Perfumes; as Musk, Civet, Ambergris.
„ 639. Shells, Coral, Pearls, Sponges, Seaweeds, and other Marine growths used in the Arts.
„ 640. Beeswax, Shellac, Cochineal, and other Insect Secretions.

SECTION G.—Textile Substances of Animal or Vegetable Origin.

Class 641. Wool of Sheep:—In the Fleece—Washed or in the grease, baled or not baled. Scoured—Carded, combed, or otherwise prepared for manufacture. Sheep or other skins, dressed, with wool or hair on.
„ 642. Fleeces of Alpacca, Llama, Angora Goat, or of other animals.

Class 643. Illustrations of Wool by magnifiers
„ 644. Cotton in the Stem, in the Boll, ginned and baled.
„ 645. Hemp, Flax, Jute, Esparto Grass, Ramie, &c., in primitive forms and in all stages of preparation for spinning.
„ 646. Silk in the Cocoon and reeled.
„ 647. Hair Bristles.

SECTION H.—Land Animals.

[Vide Regulation No. 27.—With respect to Live Stock (Classes 648 to 659), should the Promoters determine to accept such exhibits, full Programmes and further Regulations will be published hereafter.]

Class 648. Horses.
„ 649. Asses, Mules.
„ 650 Horned Cattle.
„ 651. Sheep.
„ 652. Goats.
„ 653. Alpacas.
„ 654. Llamas.
„ 655. Camels.
„ 656. Swine.
„ 657. Poultry, Birds and Game, and their management.
„ 658. Ostriches, and their management.
„ 659. Dogs, Cats, Ferrets, &c.
„ 660. Wild Animals, Specimens of, stuffed, or otherwise preserved.

SECTION I.—Insects, &c.

„ 661. Insects, Useful—Honey Bees, Cochineal, Silkworms, Specimens, and Illustrations, and systems of their treatment.
„ 662 Insects, Injurious—Specimens and Illustrations, and systems of their treatment.

SECTION J.—Water Animals, Fish Culture and Apparatus.

Class 663. Marine Mammals—Seals, Cetaceans, specimens living in aquaria, or stuffed, salted, preserved in spirit, or otherwise.
„ 664. Fish, living or preserved.
„ 665. Instruments and Apparatus of Fishing, Nets, Baskets, Hooks and other Apparatus used in Catching Fish.
„ 666. Fish Culture, Aquaria, Hatching Pools, Vessels for Transporting Ova and Spawn, and other Apparatus used in Fish Breeding, Culture, or Preservation.

SECTION K—Machines, implements and Processes of Manufacture.

Class 667. Tillage.—Manual Implements—Spades, Hoes, Rakes, &c. Animal Power Machinery—Ploughs, Cultivators, Scarifiers, Stump-jumping Implements, Horse-hoes, Clod-crushers, Rollers, Harrows, &c.

SYSTEM OF AWARDS.

Judges shall be appointed—One-half of whom may be nominated by the official representatives of the foreign countries and colonies exhibiting, acting in conjunction with the Executive Committee

Judges will be selected for their qualifications in relation to the special class of work assigned to them, and will be chosen from the best sources available, and will impartially recognise merit without regard to nationality.

The Executive Committee will appoint a sufficient number of Judges to each group of classes

The Executive Committee will app int Judges for collective exhibits.

The Executive Committee will appoint a Superintendent of Juries and Awards to frame rules for the guidance of Judges, to regulate their meetings and facilitate their work, and otherwise carry out the instructions of the Juries and Awards Committee.

Judges absent from three consecutive meetings, unless by written permission of the Superintendent of Juries and Awards, will be held to have surrendered their posts.

A vacancy in any body of Judges shall at once be reported by the said Superintendent of the Juries and Awards, and such place declared vacant, and such vacancy shall forthwith be filled by the Executive Committee.

Experts may be called in by a majority of any jury, their names having been previously submitted to and approved by the Juries and Awards Committee.

No exhibitor, nor his agent, shall be a Judge in any class in which he exhibits.

An Exhibitor who is not the manufacturer or producer of the article exhibited shall not be entitled to an award. (Fine Arts and Live Stock excepted).

Awards shall consist of three classes, viz.:—

1st Class—Diploma of First Order of Merit and Medal.
2nd Class—Diploma of Second Order of Merit.
3rd Class.—Diploma of Third Order of Merit.

Awards to be based on reports, made in writing by the Judges and attested by their signatures, setting forth the merits of the product adjudged, which have formed the ground of the award; and the awards so made shall be forthwith forwarded to the Superintendent of Juries and Awards, to whom the records of Juries shall be open for inspection.

The elements of merit shall include originality, invention, discovery, utility, quality, skill, workmanship, fitness for the purposes intended, adaptation to public wants, economy, and cost.

The promoters hope to be able to secure additional valuable awards for exhibits of a special character.

All decisions of Juries must be returned to the Superintendent of Juries and Awards on or before a date to be declared by the Juries and Awards Committee, unless special written permission for an extended time shall have been granted by such Committee.

The Juries and Awards Committee will constitute a Court of Appeal.

In case of appeal, a fee of £2 2s. must be deposited with the Superintendent of Juries and Awards; if appeal allowed the fee will be returned.

The reports of the Judges recommending awards shall be forwarded by the Juries and Awards Committee to the Executive Committee by whom awards will be finally decreed.

The above System of Awards was adopted at a meeting of the Promoters held at Adelaide on the 2nd day of March 1886.

The above Regulations and Form of Application for Space were adopted by the Promoters at a meeting held at Adelaide on the 2nd day of March 1886

JOHN FAIRFAX CONIGRAVE, Secretary.

OFFICE OF PROMOTERS.

Adelaide, 17th March 1886.

From—JOHN FAIRFAX CONIGRAVE, ESQ., Secretary,
To—The Honorable the Chief Secretary, Adelaide.

I HAVE the honor, by direction, respectfully to request that the Government will bring under the attention of the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State for the Colonies the fact that an International Exhibition will be held in Adelaide in the year 1887, to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the foundation of the Province of South Australia and the completion of the fiftieth year of the reign of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen, with a view to an official intimation being made to the Governments of foreign countries of the holding of such an Exhibition, and an invitation being given to such Governments to participate in the Exhibition.

In making the request I have to ask that immediate communications may be opened up with the Secretary of State and also with the various Governments (including the Governments of India, China and Japan); and in your despatch I am to beg that you will be good enough to give prominence to the following points:—

1. That Parliament has set apart land for the Exhibition, and contributed £32,000 towards the erection of a permanent Exhibition Building and the laying out of the Exhibition grounds.

2. That, although the Exhibition has been set on foot by private individuals, His Excellency the Governor is President of the Exhibition, and His Excellency's Ministers are associated with him in the Executive management of it.

3. That H.R.H the Prince of Wales and T R.H. the Princes Edward and George of Wales have generously accorded to the Exhibition their royal patronage.

4. That it is proposed to open the Exhibition on the 20th June 1887.

5. That applications for space must be forwarded to the Secretary of the Exhibition in Adelaide, or to the Secretary to the Commission in London, not later than 1st January 1887. Applications must be made through the Commission or other official representative of the country or colony to which the applicant belongs, but in the event of no such representative existing, intending exhibitors can communicate direct as above.

6. Space up to 20 square feet will be free, but any excess of that quantity will be charged for at the rate of one shilling per foot for floor space, and six pence per foot for wall space, excepting sculpture and paintings approved by the Fine Arts Committee, which will be admitted free. Special arrangements may, however, be made for machinery and bulky goods.

7. Governments intending to take part in this Exhibition are requested to forward an intimation to that effect not later than 1st January 1887.

8. Articles intended for exhibition will be received on or after the 1st day of March 1887, and not later than 20th day of May 1887, unless further time is allowed by the Executive Committee.

9. Copies of the Proclamation of the Exhibition, together with the Sectional Commitee's Classifications of Exhibits, and General Regulations are forwarded herewith for the information of the respective Governments.

It will be a source of great satisfaction to the promoters and the colonists generally to learn that the European and American Governments, as well as the Eastern countries, will be represented at the Exhibition.

* Means for six days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the readings during the same period for the past ten. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number are the numerical means or averages of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional stations for the period in question during the past stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 1st October 1886.

CALCUTTA, the 28th September 1886.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 1st OF OCTOBER 1886.

THE weather of the past week in the Province has been mainly dependent upon a small depression in the Bay, which commenced to form at the end of last week. The barometer began to fall locally in South Burmah, Arracan, and the adjacent portions of the Bay on Friday, the 24th. This local decrease of pressure continued until Sunday morning (the 26th), when, as shown by the prevalence of strongish winds at Diamond Island, a small depression was formed off the Arracan and West Pegu Coast. During this interval, the barometer was steady over the Province, rainfall was small in amount, and occurred as local showers. In Behar the weather was fine, and skies very slightly clouded.

The depression advanced across the north of the Bay, but did not begin to affect the west coast of the Bay until Monday afternoon (the 27th), when the barometer commenced to fall. Skies clouded over on that day in South Bengal, Orissa, and the southern districts of Chutia Nagpur, over which moderate general rain began to fall. On Tuesday morning the depression was apparently in the neighbourhood of the coast of Ganjam and the Circars. The absence of strong winds and the irregularity of the wind directions showed that the disturbance was diffused and destitute of a well-developed centre. There was hence equally, unsettled, gloomy weather over the north and centre of the Bay.

The disturbance did not concentrate any further, and presented the same general features during the remainder of the week. The area of slight depression remained almost stationary over the mid west coast until Friday morning, the 1st of October, when it either passed inland, or; as is more probable, began to fill up. During this period, from Tuesday, the 28th, until Friday, October 1st, the moderate indraught from the northern quadrant of the depression gave heavy general rain in Orissa and South-West Bengal, and moderate rain to Chutia Nagpur and the Sonthal Pergunnahs. The rainfall was, of course, heaviest in Orissa and the adjacent districts of South-West Bengal. North Bengal obtained general rain on the 23rd (registered on the morning of the 24th), brought up by the disturbance of the previous week, and East Bengal light to moderate rain on the 27th, due to the disturbance of the present week, when it was approaching the West Coast A few light local showers fell in Behar, where the weather was on the whole fine during the week.

The barometric changes during the past week have been small in amount, except in Orissa, where a moderate fall occurred on the approach of the depression to the West Coast. Pressure was above the normal in all divisions except Orissa. The average excess for the week in Behar and Chutia Nagpur was ·05″, in East and South-West Bengal ·02″, whilst in Orissa the average pressure was ·01″ below the normal.

The range of temperature as usual during humid weather was small. Temperature was generally below the average in the areas of heaviest rainfall, that is, in Orissa, South-West Bengal, and Chutia Nagpur, and above it in the remainder of the Province (excepting Central Behar). The mean temperature of the week was 1° below the average in South-West Bengal and Orissa, and from ·2° to 1½° above it in East Bengal.

At the commencement of the week north-easterly winds prevailed generally over the Province. As the depression approached the west coast of the Bay, the winds shifted round in the usual manner; so that during the latter part of the week (from Tuesday) south-easterly winds obtained in Bengal, and easterly winds in Behar.

In consequence of the unusually heavy rains in Behar during the present season, the humidity of the air in that area is very high, and from 10 to 15 per cent. above the average of the period.

The character of the rainfall of the week has been already indicated. Fairly general rain was registered on the 25th in South-West Bengal, North Bengal, and the Mymensingh district of East Bengal. Falls exceeding two inches occurred at a considerable number of stations in the Rungpore, Julpigoree, Cooch Behar, Bogra, Pubna, and Mymensingh districts. During the next two days local showers were received in Bengal and Orissa. General rain fell in South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur on every day during the remainder of the week. The largest amounts were received in the coast districts including Pooree, Cuttack, Balasore, Midnapore, the 24-Pergunnahs, and Howrah, where an average of from 4 to 11 inches fell. Falls exceeding 4 inches during the 24 hours were received at Bhuddruck (5·58 inches registered on the 30th), Balasore (4·89 inches on the 30th), Sorah (4·09 inches on the 29th), and Saugor Island (4·38 inches on the 29th). Over the remainder of the Province the rainfall was local and generally small in amount, more especially in Behar.

The rainfall of the week is hence in excess for Orissa and South-West Bengal, the excess being greatest in the districts bordering the north-west angle of the Bay and more especially Balasore, and in defect in the remaining divisions.

The rainfall returns for Orissa are incomplete. The average of those received show that the mean rainfall of the week was 9·02 inches, more than six times the normal rainfall of the week (1·37 inches). Balasore received the exceptionally large average of 12·02 inches, a larger amount than the mean rainfall of the month of September (11·36, inches). In South-West Bengal the rainfall was in excess in all districts except Jessore and Krishnagur, for which it was very slightly below the average. The mean rainfall for the week of South-West Bengal was 2·72 inches, exactly double the normal mean (1·36 inches). East Bengal obtained an average of ·99 inch, or only 44 per cent. of its normal amount (2·43 inches), North Bengal an average of 1·93 inches, or 81 per cent., North Behar ·32 inch, or one-seventh of its normal amount, South Behar ·89 inch. or 63 per cent.. and Chutia Nagpur ·59 inch, or 40 per cent.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 1st of October 1886 :—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of former years (at the Park-street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet, higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently equal; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDUM.

THE chief features in connection with the vital statistics of the principal Municipalities in Bengal, for the week ending 18th September 1886, are the following:—

1. That births and deaths were registered in these Municipalities at the rates, respectively, of 23·0 and 32·1 per 1,000 of population, as opposed to 20·5 and 28·1 per 1,000 in the preceding week ending 11th September, indicating a substantial improvement in the registration of both events.

2. That the highest proportions of births and deaths were returned from the following Municipalities:—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille.
Bhagulpore	45·3	Gya	100·4
Gya	41·0	Serampore	41·1
Bali	38·6	Utterpara	37·8
Serampore	35·4	Patna	37·3
		Bhagulpore	37·1
		Suburbs of Calcutta	35·8
		Puri	33·6
		Darjiling	32·6
		Monghyr...	32·5

3. That the principal recorded diseases proved fatal at the following rates in comparison with the rates of the preceding week:—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
	18th Sept. 1886.	11th Sept 1886.
Cholera	4·6	2·4
Small-pox	...	·03
Fever	12·3	11·1
Bowel-complaints	4·3	4·2
Injury	·7	·7
Other causes	10·2	9·6

The above figures indicate mainly that there was a noticeable increase of mortality from cholera and fever, particularly from the former.

4. That referring to the diseases mentioned above, while no death was reported from small-pox, and the injury were nowhere great, and bowel-complaints, which proved conspicuously fatal only in the casualties for Puri Municipality, viz., at the rate of 16·8 per 1,000 of population, cholera, fever and the maladies coming under the head of "other causes", were most fatal to life in the following Municipalities:—

Cholera.	Ratio per mille.	Fever.	Ratio per mille.	Other causes.	Ratio per mille.
Gya	31·5	Gya	29·4	Gya	28·0
Naraingunge	12·4	Beauleah	21·0	Serampore ...	25 5

Patna	6·1			Durbhanga ...	12·6
Arrah	4·8			Patna	12·3
Dacca	4·5			Monghyr	10·8

5. That in relation to Sex, Class and Age, the mortality of the week stands as noted below:—

According to Sex.	Ratio per mille.	According to Class.	Ratio per mille.	According to Age.	Ratio per mille.
Males	31·4	Christians	30·4	Under 1 year ...	295·0

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans, above alluded to, cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorised form of age classification.

A. D. LARYMORE,
For Inspector-General of Jails, Bengal.

[Third Publication.]

NOTIFICATION.

The 22nd September 1886.—In supersession of the notification, dated the 19th July 1877, published under the provisions of section 69 of the Indian Registration Act III of 1877, in the Calcutta Gazette of the 8th August 1877, the following revised rules under the Act have been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, and are hereby published for general information. These rules will come into force in the Provinces under the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal on and from the date of their publication in the Gazette.

F. B. PEACOCK,

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rules framed under Section 69 of Act III of 1877 (the Indian Registration Act) and sanctioned by the Government of Bengal.

LEAVE AND APPOINTMENTS.

Changes of incumbency to be reported.

1. REGISTRARS and Sub-Registrars, on giving or receiving charge of their respective offices, shall report the fact to the Inspector-General in the form given in Rule 133 below.

In the case of Sub-Registrars such reports shall be made through the District Registrar.

Temporary appointments to be reported.

2. Whenever a District Registrar makes a temporary appointment under section 12, he shall at once report the fact to the Inspector-General.

3. When a Sub-divisional Officer who is also ex-officio Sub-Registrar goes on tour, he should, if possible, avoid carrying the sub-registry office about with him, and should ordinarily make over charge to his Sub-Deputy Collector or to the Munsif. In the latter case, the assent of the Registrar and of the District Judge must first be obtained.

4. The report referred to in section 13 shall be submitted to Government by the Inspector-General at the end of each month.

5. Head-quarter Sub-Registrars having been permanently placed in charge of district registry offices under section 7 of the Act, clause 2, temporary appointments under section 11 need only be reported when some person other than the Special Sub-Registrar is appointed to perform the duties of the Registrar during his absence.

Registrar may assume charge of the office of absent Sub-Registrar.

6. When a Sub-Registrar is absent, or his office is temporarily vacant, if the District Registrar is unable to appoint a suitable substitute, he may himself assume charge of the sub-registry office until the return of the Sub-Registrar or the appointment of a successor; and in such cases the extra or additional fee chargeable for registration by a Registrar under section 30 (a) of the Act and article K of the Table of Fees shall not be charged upon registrations effected during the absence of the Sub-Registrar.

Leave to Rural Sub-Registrars.

7. Rural Sub-Registrars are not subject to the uncovenanted leave rules. It is a condition of their appointment that they should reside at the head-quarters of their jurisdiction. Leave should, therefore, be seldom required, and should be given only in cases of urgent necessity. When the leave asked for does not exceed one month, the Registrar is competent to grant the application and appoint a substitute. All leave exceeding one month, and every extension of leave which will prolong the period of absence beyond one month, must receive the previous sanction of the Inspector-General. All leave granted to Rural Sub-Registrars shall be at once reported to the Inspector-General, and included by him in the monthly report submitted to Government under Rule 4.

SEALS.

8. The seals of District Registrars and Deputy Registrars made under section 12 of Act XVI of 1864 shall be taken to be seals of Registrars and Sub-Registrars under this Act. The seal shall always remain in the personal custody of the registering officer.

LANGUAGES COMMONLY USED.

9. The following languages shall be considered to be commonly used in the districts named, viz —

In the Patna Division and the districts of Bhagulpore and Monghyr—English, Hindi, and Hindustani

In the Chota Nagpore Division, in the Sonthal Pergunnahs, and in the districts of Purneah, Darjeeling and Julpigoree—English Hindi, Hindustani, and Bengali.

In the Burdwan, Presidency, Dacca, and Chittagong Divisions, in the district of Maldah, and in the districts of the Rajshahye Division not already mentioned—English, Bengali, and Hindustani.

In the Orissa Division—English, Bengali, Hindustani, and Uriya.

Copies of Bengali, Uriya, or Hindi documents sent to other presidencies.

10 When a copy of a Bengali, Uriya, or Hindi document is forwarded, under section 65 of the Act, to a Registrar in another Province or Presidency, it shall be accompanied by information in English respecting the names and additions of all persons executing and claiming under it, and a description of the property situated in the Registrar's district sufficient for its identification.

11. A power-of-attorney intended for use in another Province or Presidency, if authenticated in Bengali, Uriya, or Hindi by an officer unacquainted with English, may, if the parties desire it, be forwarded by him to the District Registrar for the endorsement on it of an English translation of the authentication.

12. A power-of-attorney authenticated in a language unknown to a registering officer to whom it is presented may, if the parties desire it, be by him submitted to the Registrar or the Inspector-General of Registration, Bengal, who will procure an English translation of the authentication.

MAPS OR PLANS.

Territorial divisions.

13. The territorial divisions to be recognized under section 21 (b) shall be registration districts, sub-districts, and thanahs; also pergunnahs and mouzahs, where they are known, and collectorate districts, if different from registration districts.

14. Copies of maps or plans shall be attested by the signatures of the persons executing the document or their agents, and the original map or plan contained in the document shall at the time of registration be signed and sealed by the registering officer. When, under section 30 (b), the Registrar of Calcutta registers a document accompanied by a map relating to property, no part of which lies within his own district, a copy of the map shall be supplied for record in his own office in addition to the number required by section 21 (c).

15 When a document containing a map or plan is presented for re-registration under the proviso to section 23, it shall not be necessary for the parties to deposit fresh copies of the map or plan under section 21 (c); but the registering officer shall certify against the copy in the register book that the map or plan attached to the document is the same as that which was attached to it on its first presentation.

VISITS AND COMMISSIONS.

16 A commission shall ordinarily be issued by a registering officer to some salaried member of his establishment, and the order shall be briefly endorsed on the document in words to this effect—

"A commission is hereby issued under section 38 (or 38) of the Indian Registration Act, 1877, to [name and designation of the officer] for the purpose of inquiring whether this power (or document) has been executed by A.B., son of C.D., of , by whom it purports to have been executed."

17. If the person to be examined under section 38 be not resident within the district or sub-district of the registering officer, a commission shall be directed to the Registrar of the district in which such person resides, who may re-direct it to the Sub-Registrar, who may, if he cannot personally attend, re-direct it to any officer of his establishment The travelling allowance will be transferred to the registering officer to whom the commission is addressed, but the commission fee will be credited in the office where the deed was presented

18. When the commission has been executed, the Commissioner shall return the document to the office from which it was issued, with a report, which shall be endorsed upon the document, in the following terms:— "Having visited the residence of A. B., son of C. D., at , I have this day examined the said A. B., who has been identified to my satisfaction by E F., son of G. H., &c., residents of and the said A. B. admitted (or denied) the execution of this power, (or document).

Full signature of executant.
Ditto of witnesses.
Ditto of Commissioner.

Sections 33 and 38 of the Registration Act and section 392 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

19. A Commissioner may examine witnesses in the same manner as a registering officer; and persons refusing to give testimony to a Commissioner, on being required to do so, shall be subject to the penalties and punishment which they would incur for the same offence if committed in a registration office.

20. It shall be competent to a registering officer to examine the Commissioner personally in his office touching any of the circumstances connected with the discharge of his commission, especially with reference to the voluntary nature of the admission of execution.

21. All applications for visits under sections 31, 33 or 38, or for the issue of commissions under section 33 or 38, shall be accompanied by the amount of fees chargeable, as well as the amount of travelling allowance claimable by the registering officer or Commissioner.

22. A separate commission fee shall be charged upon every signature which requires attestation, but travelling allowance shall only be charged for the actual distance travelled: provided that where two or more persons who execute the same document (or documents relating to the same transaction) reside together, only one commission fee shall be charged, so far as those persons are concerned.

23. The distances for which travelling allowance is charged shall be calculated by the Sub-Registrar himself by reference to a map or to the Table of Distances prepared by the Collector, and the making of this calculation shall on no account be left to a clerk.

POWERS-OF-ATTORNEY.

24. The form of authentication of powers-of-attorney shall be as follows:—

(1)—When the principal executing the power appears at the registration office—

"Executed in my presence on the day of 18 , by A. B., son of C. D., of , by caste , by profession , who is personally known to me (or whose identity was proved by the testimony of E. F., son of G. H., of), and I accordingly authenticate it under section 33, Act III of 1877, and record it as No. for 18 ."

Full signature of principal.
Ditto of witness or witnesses.
Seal and signature of registering officer and date.

(2)—When the principal is exempted from appearance—

"Having visited and examined at his (or her) residence the principal A. B., son of C. D., of , by caste , by profession , who is personally known to me (or whose identity was proved by the evidence of E. F, son of G. H, of), I am satisfied that this power-of-attorney has been voluntarily executed by him (or her), and I accordingly authenticate it under section 33 of Act III of 1877, and record it as No. for 18 ."

Full signature of principal.
Ditto of witnesses.
Seal and signature of registering officer and date.

When the Sub-Registrar himself does not examine the executant he should make the following endorsement below the report of the Commissioner, as provided for in Rule 18:—

"From the above report, I am satisfied, &c." (as above).

25. All interlineations, blanks, erasures, or alterations in powers-of-attorney authenticated under section 33 should, at the time of authentication, be detailed in a foot-note signed by the Sub-Registrar. When there are no interlineations, &c., the fact should be noted in the same way. This foot-note will be copied in every case into the register of powers-of-attorney.

26. General powers-of-attorney are not available under this Act unless they contain or imply an authority to appear in a registration office, and are executed and authenticated in accordance with section 33. Powers already executed may be made available by the execution, in accordance with section 33, of an additional clause empowering an attorney to appear in a registry office.

27. Powers which do not contain or imply an authority to appear in a registration office shall not be authenticated under section 33.

28. Whenever a special power-of-attorney is used in a registration office for the purposes of section 32, an endorsement shall be made upon it in the following form, and it shall be returned forthwith:—

Presented this day.

Date. (Sd.) A.B.,

[Seal.] Registrar or Sub-Registrar of

29. For general powers-of-attorney no such endorsement is required. They shall be returned after inspection to the parties by whom they were presented.

ISSUE OF PROCESS.

30. Summonses under section 75 will be issued direct by the Registrar acting according to the provisions of Chapter VI of the Code of Civil Procedure. The summonses referred to in sections 36 and 37 shall be executed through the revenue authorities, and the peon's fee shall be regulated according to the rules for the service of processes by such authorities. Provided that when a Rural Sub-Registrar's office and a Munsif's Court are located in the same place, the processes shall issue through the Munsif's Court In such cases the peon's fee shall be regulated by the rules for the service of processes in the civil court.

31. If the summons be addressed to a person who is alleged to have executed the document, it shall require him to attend in person or by agent: if it be addressed to any person whose evidence is required to prove a fact, it shall require him to attend in person.

32. Every application for summons must be accompanied by the amount of expenses payable to the witness, as well as the amount of peon's fees usually chargeable by the revenue authority or civil court through which the summons is to be issued; and in forwarding for compliance an application for summons, the registering officer shall also forward the witness's expenses and the peon's fee, together with a draft summons in duplicate ready for signature, and purporting to issue from the civil or revenue court to which the application is forwarded for compliance.

33. In case of a person summoned under section 37 neglecting to appear, or if a summons under that section cannot be served, the registering officer may call upon the revenue officer or civil court through whom his summonses are served to take any further action authorized by the law for the time being in force for the purpose of securing the attendance of the person whose evidence is required, and such a requisition must be accompanied by the proper fee. It rests with the registering officer to specify the form of action to be taken.

34. No Rural Sub-Registrar shall issue a requisition under the preceding rule without the previous sanction of the District Registrar.

WILLS, &c.

Will . deposited under section 42

35. A will shall not be received for deposit otherwise than in the manner laid down in section 42. A will received through the post office shall be returned to the testator bearing.

36. Every entry made in Register Book V, under the provisions of section 43, shall be signed in full and dated by the Registrar.

37. When a sealed cover is withdrawn under section 44, the fact shall be noted in Register Book V, and the entry shall be signed by the person by whom the withdrawal is made as well as by the Registrar.

38. When a sealed cover is opened under section 45, the fact shall be noted in Register Book V and the entry signed by the Registrar. If a cover is opened under order of a civil court, this shall be mentioned in the entry.

39. When a will is forwarded to any court under section 46, it shall be accompanied by a memorandum of the fee for opening the cover and charges for copying, and it shall be the duty of the court to levy and remit such fee and charges to the Registrar.

Wills called for by a civil court under section 46

40. Sealed covers deposited with a Registrar under section 42 shall be examined monthly, and their condition noted in Statement D of Return A. If there be no sealed cover in custody, the fact must be similarly noted in the statement.

Wills to be examined.

PROCEDURE IN REGISTRATION.

41. On the presentation of a document for registration, the registering officer shall first satisfy himself—

(1) That it has been presented at the proper office (sections 28, 29, and 30);

(2) That it bears the proper stamp;

(3) That it is in the usual language of the district, or is accompanied by a translation and a true copy (section 19)

(4) That in the case of important interlineations section 20 and Rule 148 have been complied with;

(5) That (if the document refers to immoveable property) the description is sufficient (section 21);

(6) That it has been presented within the proper time (sections 23, 25, and 26);

(7) That it has been presented by a person authorized to do so (section 32);

When a document is presented under section 24 to a registering officer other than the Registrar, the registering officer shall, after examining it in regard to the above particulars, forward it at once to the Registrar, and if it is returned with an order for registration shall deal with it in the same manner as other documents presented within the time allowed for registration.

Proviso.—Provided that when a document is presented not duly stamped, the Registering Officer shall at once impound it under section 33 of the Indian Stamp Act I of 1879. But before forwarding it to the Collector, the Registering Officer shall record on it the endorsement prescribed by Rule 44, and if possible that under Rule 46. But the document shall not be copied or certified as registered under Rule 55 until it is returned to him with the Collector's certificate that the proper or deficient stamp duty has been paid.

Certificate of admissibility.

42. If the requirements of the law have been complied with in all the particulars mentioned in the preceding rule, the following certificate shall be entered on the face of the deed :—

"Admissible under Rule 41. Correctly stamped (or exempted from stamp duty) under the Indian Stamp Act, Schedule , No. ."

Levy of fee—section 80.

43. After entry of the certificate under Rule 42, the registering officer shall receive the fee or any fine payable under section 24, and enter the amount on the document close to such certificate, and at the same time the requisite entry shall be made in the fee-book.

First endorsement.

44. The document shall now be endorsed to the following effect under section 52 :—

"Presented for registration at A.M. (or P.M.) on the day of 18 , at the sub-registry office (or elsewhere), by A.B., son of C.D. of , by caste by profession [or attorney for E. F. one of the claimants under a power for 18) executed in the presence of the Sub-Registrar of]."

Signature of presentant

Signature of Sub-Registrar of

45. The amount of the fee paid shall be entered on the receipt given under section 52.

Second endorsement.

46. The endorsement under section 58 shall be to the following effect :—

"Execution is admitted by A. B., son of C. D., of , by caste , by profession ."

"Identified by E. F., son of G. H., of , by caste ; by profession

The of 18 .

(Sd.) E. F.

(Sd.) I. J., Sub-Registrar of

When the document has been presented by the executant himself it will not be necessary to repeat in the second endorsement all the particulars recorded in the first endorsement regarding his father, &c., but the endorsement may be recorded thus—

"Execution is admitted by the above A. B., who is identified by E. F., son of G H., of , by caste , by profession ."

When execution is admitted by an agent, the following words shall be added :—

"Agent for K L., under a power-of-attorney (No. for 18) executed in the presence of the Sub-Registrar of ."

When the executant or his agent is personally known to the registering officer, the words "personally known to me" should be substituted for the identification clause.

When execution is admitted by the representative of a deceased person, the following words shall be added:—

"Representative for K. L., whose right to appear in such capacity has been proved to my satisfaction."

When any payment of money or receipt of consideration is acknowledged, the following clause should be added :—

"The receipt of rupees as consideration is admitted by the above A. B"

47. The endorsement referred to in the preceding rule shall invariably be recorded in the handwriting of the registering officer unless he has been specially authorised by the Inspector-General of Registration to use an endorsement stamp

48. When a person who cannot write signs his name by means of a mark or by touching the pen, his name shall be recorded at length, and the writer of the name shall also sign his own name in attestation that the mark was affixed or the pen touched in his presence.

49. Whenever a registering officer administers an oath, he shall record the evidence of the witness examined on a separate sheet of paper, and a note of the fact shall be endorsed on the deed itself.

50. When a document is presented which has only been executed by some of the parties to it, the other executants may attend and execute the document and admit their execution without the payment of any further fee, so long as the certificate of registration under section 60 has not been endorsed thereon; but if the registration of the document has been completed, it must be presented afresh for registration and a second fee shall be payable.

Document to be copied after admission.

51. When all the persons executing a document, or their representatives, assigns, or agents, have appeared and admitted its execution, the document shall be copied in the register.

In the event of a document being inadvertently copied in a wrong book, the registration shall stand, but the Registrar may direct that the document, with the endorsements and certificate thereon, shall be copied into its appropriate register without further charge.

52. When two or more copies of the same document are brought for registration at the same time, it shall not be necessary to enter the document more than once in the register, but all the endorsements shall be written upon each copy

53. All endorsements shall be made in red ink, excepting signatures, which shall be made in black ink.

54. When there is not room on a document for the necessary endorsements, they shall be made on a separate quarter sheet of hand-laid medium paper, which should be supplied by the office, and attached to the document, a note being at the same time made on the document itself and signed by the registering officer. Every piece of paper so added must bear the seal of the registering officer and be signed and dated by him.

55. When a document has been copied and compared, the registering officer shall make in his own handwriting, in the following form, the endorsement required by section 60:—

Final endorsement.

"Registered in Book , volume , page , being No. for 18 ."

The of 18 . (Sd.) Sub-Registrar.

IDENTIFICATION.

56. In order to establish the identity of persons appearing before him, the registering officer shall require the best testimony procurable. The testimony of persons known to himself, or of persons in a public position, such as zemindars, court officials, pleaders, &c., is better than that of unknown and obscure persons.

57. Registering officers should be very cautious in accepting the testimony and statements of so-called mukhtars, who are not enrolled as such, when appearing before them for the purpose of identifying persons.

58. It is not sufficient for the registering officer to record the statement of any witness the parties may choose to produce. He must satisfy himself that the witness is really acquainted with the person or persons whom he is produced to identify. The name of the person to be identified must be stated to the identifier, and he should be clearly and specifically asked whether that person is or is not the person that he professes himself to be.

DELAY IN PRESENTATION AND APPEARING.

59. Sections 23, 24, 25, 26 and 34.—Section 25 refers to documents executed out of British India, and is noticed below. With regard to all other documents the law requires (sections 23 and 34, clause 1), that both the presentation for registration and the appearence of the executant shall take place within four months from the date of execution. But in order to avoid hardship in certain cases, it also provides that a further period of four months shall be allowed, subject to a fine: (1) when a document cannot be presented within the first four months owing to urgent necessity or unavoidable accident (section 24); and (2) when after a document has been presented, the executants, owing also to urgent necessity or unavoidable accident, cannot appear, or cannot be made to appear, to admit execution (section 34, Proviso). In cases of urgent necessity or unavoidable accident, therefore, a delay of four months is allowed for presentation, and a similar delay for appearance; and both periods may be allowed for the same document, if an urgent necessity or an unavoidable accident occurs to prevent both the presentation of the document and the appearence of the executant in due time (sections 24 and 34, Proviso). The two periods are quite distinct, and are given for different purposes and at different stages in the procedure of registration. This distinction is important; and if it is borne in mind, the following instructions will be readily understood.

60. Sections 23 and 34.—When a document has been presented under section 23, the executant must appear to admit execution within four months from the date of execution, and, on his failure to do so, the sub-registrar must immediately after the expiration of the four months record a formal refusal to register, leaving it to the parties to appeal to the registrar under section 72 within 30 days, if they think proper. Notwithstanding the executant's failure to appear, however, the sub-registrar shall not record an order refusing registration if the person presenting the document has, before the expiration of four months from the date of execution, taken proceedings under section 36 to procure the appearance of the executant, but, in that case, he shall report the matter to the registrar for orders at the end of the four months. Both in this case and in the case of an appeal under section 72, the registrar shall not pass an order directing the sub-registrar to register the document, unless it is shown that the executant had not appeared owing to urgent necessity or unavoidable accident. In both cases also, if he passes such an order a fine must be paid under section 34, and the document may be registered at any time within eight months from the date of execution, as the order would be equivalent to the granting of a delay of four months for appearance. If, after this order, the executant does not appear within the eight months, the sub-registrar must record a formal refusal to register immediately after the expiration of that period: No document presented under section 23 can, under any circumstances, be kept pending after eight months, as the presentation having been made within the ordinary time only an additional four months can be granted for the appearance of the executant.

61. Sections 24 and 34.—A document presented, on payment of a fine, under section 24 is allowed four months in addition to the ordinary period, and the executant must, therefore, appear to admit execution within eight months from the date of execution. Should he fail to do so, the sub-registrar will record a formal refusal to register immediately after the expiration of the eight months, leaving it to the parties to appeal to the registrar under section 72, within 30 days, if they think proper. Notwithstanding the executant's failure to appear, however, the sub-registrar shall not record an order refusing registration, if the person presenting the document has, before the expiration of eight months from the date of execution, taken proceedings under section 36 to procure the appearance of the executant, but in that case, he shall report the matter for the orders of the registrar on the expiration of the eight months. Both in this case and in the case of an appeal under section 72, the registrar shall not pass an order directing the sub-registrar to register the document, unless it is shown that the executant has not appeared owing to urgent necessity or unavoidable accident. In both cases also, if he passes such an order, a fine must be imposed under section 34, in addition to the fine already imposed under section 24, and the document may be registered at any time before the expiration of one year from the date of execution, as the order would be equivalent to the granting of a delay of four months for appearance, in addition to the delay of four months for presentation already granted under section 24. If, after this order, the executant does not appear within the year, the sub-registrar must record an order refusing registration immediately on the expiration of that period. No document presented under section 24 can, under any circumstances, be kept pending beyond one year from the date of execution.

62. Sections 25 and 34.—The above instructions regarding documents presented under section 23 apply also to documents presented under section 25, with this exception only that the first period of four months and the extended period of eight months must be reckoned from the date of their arrival in British India, and not from the date of their execution. These documents can, under no circumstances, remain pending beyond eight months from the date of their arrival in British India.

In the case of a document executed by some of the parties in and by others out of British India, the party presenting the document may proceed at his option under section 23 or section 24 instead of section 25, and if he does so the provisions of and the above instructions regarding those sections shall apply.

All pending documents must thus be refused registration after eight months from the date of execution, if presented under section 23; after twelve months, if presented under section 24, and after eight months from the date of arrival in India, if presented under section 25.

63. Section 26.—This section refers only to the time allowed for presentation. It therefore applies to the first period of four months from the date of execution allowed under section 23, to the second period of four months from the same date, which may be allowed on payment of a fine, under section 24, and to the period of four months after arrival in India allowed under section 25, but not to the additional period of four months which may be allowed for appearance, on payment of a fine, under section 34.

REFUSAL OF REGISTRATION.

Documents inadmissible on presentation.

64. If the deed has not been presented in the proper office [Rule 41 (1)], it shall be simply returned to the presenting party. In this case no entry need be made in Book II.

65. If the stamp is incorrect [Rule 41 (2)], the deed shall be impounded and forwarded to the Collector (section 33 of the Indian Stamp Act).

Note.—If the executant of a deed who is in doubt about the proper stamp consults a registering officer on the subject before formal presentation, the required information may be given to him without impounding the deed. But any deed formally presented with an insufficient stamp must be impounded.

66. If the provisions of Rule 41 (3) to (7) have not been complied with, or if the presenting party refuses to pay the proper fee, the deed must be returned at once to the presenting party with the endorsement—

"Registration refused,"

an entry being made at the same time in Book II.

Note.—Orders under this rule may be deferred at the request of the parties in order to enable them to comply with the requirements of the law. But in such cases an order of refusal shall be passed if the requirements of the law have not been complied with within the time allowed for presentation under sections 23, 24, 25, or 26 as the case may be.

67. A Sub-Registrar is not authorized by law to refuse to register a document because he is directly or indirectly interested in the transaction to which it relates; but he will always recommend the parties to present such a document at some other office. If the document relates to moveable property only, such other office may be the office of any Sub-Registrar under the same Local Government at which all the parties may desire the document to be registered. If the document relates to immoveable property, such other office will (unless the parties prefer to resort to the Registrar of Calcutta) be the office of the Registrar of the district. The latter officer will (as provided by the note to Article K of the Table of Fees) register such document without charging the usual extra fee. If the parties, after being recommended as above, insist on the Sub-Registrar registering a document in which he is interested, he must do so. In this case he will report the fact for the information of the Registrar to whom he is subordinate.

Refusal of duly presented documents.

68. The circumstances under which a document should at once be refused on presentation are given in Rules 64-66. A document duly presented and accepted for the purpose of inquiry will not be admitted to registration under the following circumstances:—

(1) If the executant denies execution. (Section 35.)
(2) If the executant fails to appear and admit execution. (Section 35.)
(3) If the person by whom the document purports to be executed be dead, and his representative or assign deny execution. (Section 35.)
(4) If the person purporting to have executed the document appear to be a minor, an idiot, or a lunatic. (Section 35.)
(5) If the registering officer be not satisfied of the identity of the person appearing before him and alleging that he executed the document (Section 35.)
(6) If the registering officer be not satisfied as to the truth of the allegation that a person who executed the document is dead. (Section 35.)
(7) If the admitting agent's power-of-attorney has not been made in accordance with the Act, or if an alleged representative or assign has failed to prove his status. (Section 35.)

Provided that a document executed by several persons shall not be refused registration merely by reason of one or more of the executants denying execution, or appearing to be minors, idiots or lunatics, or being dead; but shall be registered in respect of any of the other parties who admit execution.

Reasons of refusal to be clearly stated.

69. The reasons of refusal must be recorded by the registering officer with his own hand in Book II, and the particulars should be fully and clearly stated in each case. When one out of several executants declines to comply with the requirements of the law, his name should be given: when the registering officer is doubtful as to the identity of a party admitting execution, the grounds of his suspicion should be stated.

REGISTER BOOKS.

Copyist and comparer to sign their names.

70. The register copy of every document shall be compared with the original by some person other than the copyist, and both the copyist and the comparer shall append their signatures to the copy in the book. The registering officer shall authenticate by his initials all corrections in the copy and all notes which may be necessary under section 20 of the Act. He shall also affix his initials to each page, and shall certify with his full signature each copy to be a true one, and shall date such certificate with his own hand. The copier in his signature shall use the word "copied," and the comparer the word "compared."

71. No erasures shall be made with a knife in any register book, but mistakes shall be corrected with the pen, and shall invariably be attested by the registering officer. All interlineations and corrections in the register books shall be made in red ink when the entries are in black ink, and in black ink when the entries are made in red ink.

72. The register books shall have two margins. On the left-hand margin shall be copied in red ink the value of the stamp, the certificate of admissibilty under Rule 42, and all the endorsements made in the office; in the centre shall be copied the deed itself in black ink, and the right-hand margin shall be left vacant for notes under section 20 and Rule 148. The stamp vendor's endorsement on each document shall be copied in red ink in the registers in the centre of the page below the copy of the document itself.

73. Several volumes of Register Books I and IV may, if necessary, be kept in use simultaneously, when the documents registered are so numerous as to make this course necessary. Register Books II, III, and V shall be continued from year to year until they are full, and in small offices where the number of documents registered is inconsiderable, the same volume of Register Books I and IV may also be used for two or more years.

Certificate of closure.

74. When a book is closed, a certificate to that effect shall be appended at the close of the written portion, and a certificate showing the number of pages written upon shall be entered on the first page.

75. When, owing to omission or error in any document which has been registered, a supplementary document rectifying such mistake or omission is presented for registration, a note of such rectification shall be made in the margin of the register in which the original document is registered.

76. When a document occupies more than one sheet of paper, the seal and the signature of the registering officer shall be attached to every sheet at the time that the document is presented for registration.

COPIES, MEMORANDA, AND SALE CERTIFICATES.

77. In addition to the bound volumes of Register Book I, every Sub-Registrar shall keep two file-books, in one of which he will file the memoranda of registered documents which have been forwarded to his office under sections 64, 65, and 66 of the Act, and in the other the copies of the sale certificates received by him from Civil Courts under section 107 of Act XII of 1879. Similarly, Registrars shall keep two separate file books—one for memoranda and one for copies under sections 65, 66, and 67 of the Act. These papers shall be bound into a volume, or volumes, of convenient size at the end of the year. They shall be numbered consecutively, but in a series distinct from that of original registrations in Register Book I.

78. Copies shall be made on paper of the same size and description as that of the bound books. Memoranda shall be drawn up in the prescribed form.

79. Memoranda for sub-districts in another district shall be enclosed to the Registrar of that district, together with the copy required for his own office; but no memorandum need make mention of any property other than that which is situated in the sub-district to which the memorandum is to be sent.

80. When a copy of a document is sent to the Registrar of another district under sections 65-67 of the Act, a memorandum need not be sent to any Sub-Registrar whose office has been amalgamated with that of the Registrar of such district.

81. The date on which copies and memoranda are despatched under the last rule shall be entered in the right-hand margin of the book in which the document has been copied.

Receipts for copies and memoranda.

82. When a memorandum or copy under sections 64-67 is transmitted from one office to another, it shall be accompanied by a receipt in the prescribed printed form, which shall at once be signed and returned by the receiving officer. If delay occurs in the return of the receipt, the despatching officer should send a reminder for it. All such receipts, when returned, should be filed separately.

Copies and translations of documents in a foreign language.

83 The copies and translations of documents required to be filed under sections 19 and 62 shall be made upon hand-laid medium paper, which may be sold to the public for this purpose at one anna per sheet. They shall be kept in a separate file, a reference being made to this in the right-hand margin of the page on which the translation is copied in the register book. The file shall be bound from time to time, when it contains a sufficient number of copies and translations to form a volume. The endorsements under Rules 42, 44, and 46 and the certificate under section 60 recorded on the original documents returned to the presentant shall be entered on the left-hand margin of the register into which the translation is copied, as provided in Rule 72.

INDEXES.

Index of persons.

84. The personal index, No. I, shall contain the following headings:—

(1) Name of persons.
(2) Addition.
(3) Interest in the transaction, as purchaser, mortgagee, decree-holder, &c.
(4) Where registered.
(5) Serial number.
(6) Book.
(7) Volume.
(8) Page.

Index of places.

85. The local index No II shall contain the following headings:—

(1) Name of property or of mouzah; or, in towns, of street.
(2) Name of pergunnah or thanah.
(3) Sub-district in which the property is situated
(4) Nature of the transaction, as sale of land, decree for possession of house, &c.
(5) Where registered.
(6) Serial number.
(7) Book.
(8) Volume.
(9) Page.

Index of wills, &c.

86. Index No. III shall contain the following headings:—

(1) Name of person.
(2) Addition.
(3) Interest in will or authority to adopt.
(4) Where registered.
(5) Serial number.
(6) Book.
(7) Volume.
(8) Page.

Miscellaneous Index.

87. Index No. IV shall contain the same headings as Index No. I.

88. Except in rural offices in the charge of Sub-Registrars unacquainted with English, all indexes shall be kept in English, and shall be prepared in accordance with the following rules

Arrangement of entries.

89. English indexes shall be kept according to the letters of the alphabet, the entry under each letter being arranged according to the vowel of the first syllable if the word begins with a consonant, or according to the second vowel in the word if it begins with a vowel.

90. If the documents to be indexed are written or executed in English, the names of the persons and places shall be spelt in the same way in which they are written in the documents. If the documents are written or executed in a vernacular language, the spelling shall be regulated according to Professor H. H. Wilson's system of transliteration as modified by the Syndicate of the Calcutta University.

Transliteration.

91. In the case of Europeans the surname shall be taken as the index word. All native names shall be indexed according to their first letters as they stand in the deed. They will be transliterated in the same form in which they are written in the document. Thus in Bengali the same affix may be written, either Banurjya or Bandopadhyay, and whichever of these forms is used in the document will be retained and transliterated.

92. When a document is executed on behalf or in favour of Government, the index entry shall be made under G, Government, the name of the officer executing the document being entered in the column headed Addition; if on behalf or in favour of the Court of Wards, under W, Wards, Court of; and in the case of any other Court, under C. The names of companies shall be entered as they stand, the article only being omitted; thus Land Mortgage Bank of India, Limited, under L; Hanoes Steam Navigation Company, Limited, under G.

When a document is executed on behalf of the Administrator-General, the Receiver, the Official Trustee or the Sheriff of Calcutta, the index entry shall be under Administrator-General, &c.

When a document is executed by the representative or guardian of a private individual, the name of the individual as well as that of his representative or guardian shall be indexed.

93. The name of the depositor of a sealed cover shall be entered in Index III in black ink. The name and addition of persons claiming under a will or authority to adopt, which will not be indexed until after the death of the testator or donor, should be entered in red ink.

94. When there are two or more executants or claimants, their names shall be separately entered in Index I, III, or IV. Similarly, when two or more properties are conveyed by a single document, they shall be separately entered in Index II. But no Sub-Registrar need enter in his Index II any property which does not lie in his own sub-district.

Two or more names in one document to be entered separately.

95. Copies and memoranda of documents and sale certificates shall be indexed in the same way as original documents, but the entries relating to them shall be made in red ink.

In Index No. I, the names of the decree-holder, auction purchaser, and judgment debtor shall be indexed from sale certificates, and the names of the parties from memoranda.

96. In rural offices in the charge of Sub-Registrars unacquainted with English, the indexes shall be kept in the vernacular. The rules given above apply to indexes in the vernacular. In all rural offices one copy of Indexes I, II, III, and IV shall be made for office use in a bound volume, and a duplicate of the entries made each month in Indexes I and II shall be submitted at its close to the Sub-Registrar at sub-divisional head-quarters. In the head-quarters sub-division, or where there are no sub-divisions, the duplicate will be sent direct to the Registrar for record.

97. The Sub-Registrar, on receiving vernacular Indexes I and II from Rural Sub-Registrars shall translate the same and incorporate them in his own indexes, noting the place of registration of each document. English indexes he shall directly incorporate in his own. He shall also at the end of each year, or at such shorter intervals as the Registrar shall direct, prepare on hand-laid medium paper a copy of the incorporated index for all offices in his sub-division, and submit it to the Registrar.

A copy of the entries in his Index III shall be sent to the Registrar by each Sub-Registrar at the end of every calendar year.

98. Where the office of a Registrar has been amalgamated with that of a Sub-Registrar, the duplicate copy of the incorporated indexes of the sudder sub-division shall be sent for safe custody to the office of the Registrar of Calcutta.

Duplicate indexes of amalgamated offices.

FEES AND FEE-BOOK.

Table of fees.

99. A printed table of fees in English and in the vernacular of the district shall be suspended in some conspicuous place in every registry office.

Fee-Book.

100. Columns 1 to 7 and 13 in the fee-book should be filled up as soon as any document is presented, except in the case of documents presented at the wrong office and returned immediately under Rule 64; columns 8 and 9 should be filled up as soon as a document is admitted or refused; columns 10 and 11, as soon as registration has been completed; column 12, as soon as the document has been delivered; and column 14, as soon as the required copies and memoranda have been despatched.

101. Fees levied on documents presented for registration (whether registration has been deferred or not) shall not be retained in the personal custody of any registering officer for any time longer than may be absolutely necessary. They shall be dealt with in the same way as other public money, and be paid into the nearest treasury. From district and sub-divisional offices the fees shall be remitted to the treasury daily: from rural offices they shall be sent to the treasury twice monthly or at such shorter intervals as the Registrar shall direct. In all cases remittances to the treasury should be accompanied by the chalan book duly filled up in duplicate. One copy of each chalan will be then kept by the treasury officer and the other returned with his signature.

102. The receipts entered in the fee-book need not be entered in detail in the cash-book: their daily totals will be sufficient. But all other receipts, and all payments whatsoever, must be entered in full detail in the cash-book. All cash received must at once be entered either in the fee-book or in the cash-book. No money should under any circumstances be kept out of account. The cash-book should be balanced every day, and signed after careful examination by the registering officer.

RECORDS

Office of record in each district.

103. The Registrar's office shall be a central office of record for each district, and the books and papers of subordinate offices (which are not to be destroyed) shall be transferred to it from time to time.

Old records to be permanently preserved.

104. The following records belonging to the period anterior to the enactment of Act XVI of 1864 shall be henceforward permanently preserved in district registry offices:—

All registers of documents and their indexes.

Duplicate copies of documents required to be filed under Regulation XX of 1812.

Registers of powers-of-attorney.

Original powers required to be filed under Regulation XX of 1812.

Kazis' records

Books to be kept in all offices.

105. Besides Register Books I, II, III, and IV, and Indexes, I, II, III, and IV, the following records shall be kept in all registry offices:—

A register of powers-of-attorney in the prescribed form.

A register of visits and commissions in the prescribed form.

A fee-book in the prescribed form.

A cash-book in the form prescribed by Accountant-General.

A catalogue in the prescribed form.

A chalan book in the prescribed form.

A file of receipts given under section 52 and returned on delivery of registered documents.

A file of receipts for copies and memoranda under Rule 82.

A file of daily notices exhibited under Rule 153.

Additional books in district offices.

106. The following additional books shall be kept in the offices of all District Registrars:—

Register Book No. V.

A register of letters received.

A register of letters despatched.

Transfer of books.

107. In January of each year the following records for the previous year shall be transferred from sub-registry offices to the district office :—

Completed volumes of Register Book I (including the files of memoranda and sale certificates).
Completed volumes of Register Book IV and Index IV.
Copies and translations filed under section 19.

108. Register Books II and III, Index III, and the register of powers-of-attorney shall be transferred to the district offices as soon as they are filled.

109. In the case of all rural offices, and wherever the sub-registry office is not a masonry building, each volume of the register books shall be forwarded to the district office as soon as it has been filled and indexed, without waiting till the end of the year.

Records to be preserved in perpetuity.

110. For the period since Act XVI of 1864 came into force, the following records shall be preserved in perpetuity in all district offices :—

All register books and their indexes prescribed by Acts XVI of 1864, XX of 1866, VIII of 1871, and III of 1877, as well those of the district registry offices as those received from the sub-registry offices.

Registers of powers-of-attorney.
Catalogues.
Cash-books.
Fee-books.
Reports of the destruction of records and lists of the papers destroyed

111. The following records shall be preserved in perpetuity in all sub-registry offices :—

Register Book III under Act XVI of 1864, and Book V under Act XX of 1866.
The rough indexes under Act XVI of 1864.
Original Indexes I and II under Acts XX of 1866, VIII of 1871, and III of 1877.
Catalogues.
Cash-books.
Fee-books.

112. When a registered document is destroyed under section 85 a note to that effect shall be made in the margin opposite the copy in the book in which it is registered.

Section 85.

Records to be destroyed after three years.

113. The following records may be destroyed after the expiration of three full years from the period to which they relate :—

Registers of visits and commissions.
Chalan books.
The receipts referred to in section 52.
Receipts referred to in Rule 84.
All correspondence, whether in English or in the vernacular, which is of an ordinary routine character, and which the Registrar considers may be destroyed.
Monthly returns, petitions, and other records and papers not otherwise specified.

114. No documents, books or papers whatever shall be destroyed at a sub-registry office without the previous sanction of the Inspector-General; and before documents are destroyed an endeavour must always be made to induce the presentants to take them back.

115. The register books and indexes of the general registry office under Act XVI of 1864 and Act XX of 1866 shall be preserved in the Calcutta registry office.

APPLICATIONS FOR SEARCH OR FOR COPIES

116. All applications for search or for copies should be made to the registering officer himself. If an application is made in writing, the registering officer should initial it at once, giving the date. If an application is made viva voce, the registering officer should write on a slip of paper "Give copy," or some such brief order, adding his initials and date. All such applications and orders should be preserved on a separate file, the date on which a search has been made or copy completed being noted. Applications made through Sub-Registrars for copies from registers deposited in the district office must be in writing, and should be at once transmitted to the Registrar for compliance. No stamp is required on applications for searches or copies.

117. Registrars shall permit search and grant copies of entries in the registers kept up previous to the enactment of Act III of 1877 at the same rate of fees and to the same extent as in the case of registers under that Act.

118. A call for information from any court or revenue authority shall, if it necessitates search in the registers, be accompanied by the necessary fee for search. Officers of Government shall be permitted to inspect the registers without fee; but if the production of a register book in any court is required, it shall be produced by an officer of the registration establishment deputed for that purpose, who will be entitled to claim payment of his expenses like any other witness.

On the occasion of the annual enquiries prescribed by Government regarding the securities of ministerial officers, the usual fee must be paid when the search is made by clerks of the registration office, but no fee will be charged if the search is made by a clerk deputed by the officer making the enquiries.

INDENTS.

Indents for forms.

119. Before the 15th June of each year every Sub-Registrar shall submit to the Registrar to whom he is subordinate an indent in the prescribed form for all register books and other registration forms which will be required in his office during the following calendar year.

120. Every Registrar shall submit to the Inspector-General on or before the 1st July of each year an indent in triplicate in the prescribed form for all register books and other registration forms, including the forms prescribed by the Accountant-General, which will be required for his own office and for those of the Sub-Registrars subordinate to him during the twelve months from the 1st March to the 28th February following. When it is desired that the supply of register books, &c., should be forwarded to any sub-registry office direct instead of being sent through the office of the Registrar to whom the Sub-Registrar is subordinate, an intimation to that effect should accompany the Registrar's indent, and the indents of such Sub-Registrars should be submitted separately in triplicate with the Registrar's endorsement, instead of being embodied in the Registrar's indent. A supply of new register books required to be opened on the 1st January of each year should be included in this annual indent. The indents will be forwarded by the Inspector-General to the Superintendent of Stationery, after being checked and countersigned, by the 1st September.

121. When delay occurs in supplying register books and other registration forms, reminders should be addressed, not to the Inspector-General of Registration, but to the Superintendent of Stationery, the number of this office order being quoted. Reminders are useless without it.

122. Rural Sub-Registrars may be supplied with registration ink and other stationery from the district office at cost price, which should be ascertained from the Superintendent of Stationery. The hand-laid medium paper required for copies under sections 64 and 65 will be supplied to them gratis. They are also supplied with registers, index books, and printed forms free of charge.

123. The cost of sending the registers, &c., from the Stationery Office to the offices of Rural Sub-Registrars which are situated at a distance from Calcutta is borne by Government, and the charge is met from the provision made in the budget for the Registrar's office contingencies.

Indents for Stationery.

124. Before the 1st March in each year all District Registrars should send to the Inspector-General an indent in duplicate in the prescribed form for the stationery (including registration ink) which will be required for the registry offices in their districts during the next twelve months. Indents from Sub-Registrars should be submitted to the district office at least fifteen days before the 1st March. The Registrar's indent should include all ink and other stationery likely to be required by Rural Sub-Registrars under Rule 122 above. The indents will be forwarded by the Inspector-General to the Superintendent of Stationery, after check and countersignature, by the 1st April.

SALARY BILLS.

125. Registrars and Sub-Registrars who are paid by fixed salaries will draw their pay in Accountant-General's form No. 187, and the bill may be paid without the countersignature of superior authority.

126. Sub-Registrars who are wholly or partly remunerated by a commission on the number of documents will draw their commission at the end of each month, in Accountant-General's form No. 198, upon such documents only as shall have been completed during the month. Documents presented but still pending at the close of the month or refused registration shall be excluded; but if they are eventually registered, the fees previously credited in respect of them will be brought into the commission account for the month in which they are completed. Commission bills require the Registrar's countersignature before payment.

127. Commission to ex-officio Sub-Registrars will be drawn in Accountant-General's form No. 199 at 25 per cent. upon such fees only as shall have been actually paid into the treasury during the period for which the commission is drawn. In calculating commission, the fees levied on documents which are still pending at the close of the period, or which have been refused, shall be excluded; but if the documents are eventually registered, the fees previously credited in respect of them will be brought into the commission account of the period in which they are completed. No commission is payable on fines or on the extra fees for registration by a Registrar, or on the receipts for the sale of paper. If an officer of Government is appointed ex-officio Sub-Registrar during the temporary absence of a Special or a Rural Sub-Registrar, he may draw his commission at the end of each month on the bill countersigned by the Registrar. If the duties of the sub-registry office are ordinarily performed by an officer of Government ex-officio, the commission is payable half-yearly, and the bills require the countersignatures of both the Registrar and the Inspector-General of Registration The commission is not payable at more than Rs. 100 per month, or Rs. 600 for each half-year.

128. When an officer is temporarily placed in charge of the office of a Special or an ex-officio Sub-Registrar during his absence on casual leave or on inspection duty in the interior of his district, he is not entitled to draw commission, but the commission for that period shall be retained by the Special or the ex-officio Sub-Registrar.

ESTABLISHMENT BILLS.

129. Salary bills for permanent establishments will be drawn in Accountant-General's form No. 188 by the head of the office. They do not require the countersignature of any higher authority.

130. Bills for extra establishments paid by salary may be drawn in the same way as those for fixed establishments in Accountant-General's form No. 201A, the orders sanctioning their entertainment being always quoted in the bill.

131. Whenever special establishments are entertained, whether they are paid by salary or at contract rates, a weekly progress statement must be submitted to the Inspector-General in printed form No. 42.

PERMANENT ADVANCE.

132. A permanent advance, not exceeding Rs. 200, will be allowed for each District Registrar on account of (1) contingencies, (2) service postage, and (3) refund of registration fees; but he need not draw the full advance of Rs. 200 where his ordinary expenses fall much below that amount. The Registrar will apportion the amount drawn according to the requirements of each subordinate office, care being taken that a sum is allowed sufficient to meet charges for refunds only; because in the case of rural offices contingent charges will be defrayed by the Rural Sub-Registrars, and in other sub-registry offices they should be met from the advance for general purposes received from the Accountant-General. In cases of the dismissal or death of Rural Sub-Registrars, the District Registrars will be held responsible for the amount of the advances made by him. At the close of each official year the District Registrar will send an acknowledgment of the entire advance to the Accountant-General, Bengal, in A. G. B. form No. 177, of which a supply should be kept at hand.

133. The advance received by a Sub-Registrar will never be repaid into the treasury, but recouped from time to time, when necessary, by the submission to the Registrar of an abstract bill or bills supported by needful vouchers. On the first office day after the 25th March in each year the officer receiving the advance will forward an acknowledgment of its receipt to the District Registrar. Whenever there is a change of incumbency, the relieving officer shall also address to the Registrar an acknowledgment in the following form:—

"To the Registrar of

"We, the undersigned, have the honour to report that we have this day, at o'clock in the forenoon (or afternoon), respectively made over and received charge of the office of

"Relieved Officer."
"Relieving Officer."

"And I, the Relieving Officer, acknowledge to have received Rupees of the permanent advance of Rupees , and that the full amount of such advance is due from and to be accounted for by me.

"Dated the 188 .

"Relieving Officer."

In case of transfer of charge by a Registrar, a similar certificate shall be sent to the Accountant-General by the relieving officer.

134. Contingent charges are divided into three categories, viz.—

A.—Special contingencies.
B.—Countersigned contingencies.
C.—Contract contingencies.

135. Special contingencies are those which cannot be incurred without the sanction of the Inspector-General of Registration, or of Government previously obtained.

This class includes—

(1) Purchase of books and publications.
(2) Petty construction.
(3) Compensation for land taken up for public purposes.
(4) Other exceptional contingencies of large amount and unusual character.

When any single item of this class involves an expenditure of more than Rs. 100, the sanction of Government must be obtained by the Inspector-General. When the expenditure on a single item is Rs. 100 or less, the sanction of the Inspector-General will be sufficient.

136. Countersigned contingencies are those which are under the direct supervision of the Inspector-General, and for which detailed bills are submitted to him for check and countersignature. They are—

(1) House allowances, and
(2) Purchase of tents.

137. Contract contingencies are those for which a lump sum is allotted annually to each Registrar, within which he can spend without any further sanction. At the beginning of each year the Inspector-General will distribute the allotment sanctioned by Government amongst the officers subordinate to him, keeping 10 per cent. of the total allotment for distribution towards the end of the year according to the requirements of the different districts. If any disbursing officer can make a saving from the amount allotted to him, he will be able to spend it on those items of extraordinary contingencies which would otherwise require to be separately sanctioned and accounted for, provided that the amount is drawn within the year for which the allotment was made.

138. Under contract contingencies are included the following charges:—

(1) Country stationery.
(2) Hot and cold weather charges.
(3) Purchase and repair of furniture.
(4) Office and ground rent.
(5) Section writing.*
(6) Petty repairs.
(7) Postage and telegram charges.
(8) Office expenses.
(9) Miscellaneous.
(10) Municipal rates and cesses.
(11) All other items of expenditure not specially included under special or countersigned contingencies.

* Previous sanction of the Inspector-General is invariably necessary for the employment of extra writers at section rates.

139. A separate register will be kept for each of the three classes of contingencies, viz., one for special contingencies, one for countersigned contingencies, and one for contract contingencies; the first two in Accountant-General's form No. 181, and the other in form No. 181A. The entries in these registers will be made in accordance with rules 5 to 7, Chapter 5 of the Civil Account Code.

140. For each of these classes of contingencies separate bills must be drawn up (that is to say, the same bill may not contain contingent charges of more than one class), and the bill must be headed "Special Contingencies" or "Countersigned Contingencies," or "Contract Contingencies," as the case may be. Sub-Registrars must not in future draw any of these bills themselves without the countersignature of the Registrar, as the allotment for contract contingencies is for the whole district.

141. The money required for special and countersigned contingencies will be drawn from the treasury upon abstract bills in Accountant-General's form No. 192, and corresponding detailed bills will be drawn up at the end of the month to which all sub-vouchers, and in the case of special contingencies all sanctions, will be attached, and upon which the certificates prescribed in Chapter 5, paragraph 14 of the Civil Account Code, will be recorded.

142. In the case of special contingencies this monthly bill will always be sent to the Accountant-General direct. In the case of countersigned contingencies the monthly bill will be sent to the Inspector-General. To expedite the adjustment of these contingent charges, no abstract bill of contingencies will be paid at the treasury after the 15th of any month, unless it is accompanied by a certificate to the effect that the detailed contingent bill for the preceding month has been forwarded with all necessary vouchers to the Inspector-General.

143. Money to meet contract contingent charges will be drawn from the treasury upon bills in Accountant-General's form No. 192A. No sub-vouchers are required, and no details need be stated beyond the total figure opposite each of the printed headings. If any charge occurs which the printed headings do not provide for, the general nature of it may be entered in a similar heading in manuscript. The disbursing officer must be careful to bring forward from the last bill the correct amount of total expenditure to date, otherwise he may overrun his limit without perceiving it.

144. The disbursing officer is responsible for keeping and reproducing, when required, any sub-vouchers of his expenditure under contract contingencies, except those which he is authorized (Chapter 5, paragraph 14 of the Civil Account Code) to destroy.

145. A bill must always be drawn on or immediately before March 31st of each year for all expenditure under contract contingencies up to date. Money drawn from the treasury after that date comes out of the allotment of the next year, and it is contrary to the principle of the scheme that expenditure incurred in the current year should be in any way held over, after being incurred, to be paid out of the allowances of the next year. This final bill will produce a total which either exceeds, equals, or falls short of, the total allotment. For any excess the drawing officer is personally responsible, and unless he can procure exemption from the Government, the amount will be recovered from his personal allowances.

146. No charges for printing may be incurred without the special sanction of the Inspector-General. Such printed forms as are necessary will be printed at the Alipore Jail Press under the authority of the Inspector-General.

147. English stationery procurable from the Stationery Office may not be purchased in the local market, but charges for petty articles, such as sealing-ink, paste, thread, country-paper, &c., may be included in the monthly contingent bill.

MISCELLANEOUS.

148. When the executant of any document appears personally he shall be required to attest all interlineations, &c. When he appears by agent, &c., the attestation of such agent, &c., shall be accepted, unless the interlineations, &c., are of an important character. A registering officer shall also be at liberty, on due cause being shown, to accept the attestation of an agent, &c., even in the case of important interlineations, &c.

Interlineations, &c.—section 20.

149. When a document is presented or admitted more than four months after execution, the Registrar may either register it himself, in which case an extra fee under Article K of the table of fees as well as the penalty under Article O shall be levied, or he may direct its registration (on payment of the penalty under Article O) by any Sub-Registrar in whose office it could have been registered if presented within four months. In such cases the date on which the application was made to the Registrar shall be regarded as the date of presentation.

Documents presented or admitted after four months—sections 24 and 34.

150. Every Sub-Registrar shall sit daily during certain hours which shall be approved by the Registrar and made known to the public by a notice in some conspicuous place outside the office. The holidays to be observed in registration offices shall be those which are gazetted by the Government under section 25 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, XXVI of 1881, and those specified in the section itself.

Daily sittings; holidays—section 69.

151. Applications for the remission of fines under section 70 may be filed with the registering officer, but no such application shall be received until the fine has been paid. The application shall be forwarded to the Inspector-General with any remarks which the registering officer may wish to make.

Section 70.

152. Registering officers shall take care that their clerks have no dealings with the public, except in their presence. They shall themselves receive documents which are tendered for registration, and when they are registered, shall return them with their own hands.

153. The serial number of the last document completed and ready for return shall be daily exhibited in the prescribed printed form in some conspicuous place outside every office.

154. A catalogue in the prescribed form shall be kept up and permanently preserved in every registry office. On the occasion of every permanent change in the incumbency, the officer receiving charge should compare his books with the catalogue, and certify therein that he has found them correct.

Catalogue.

155. All official letters and covers sent by post from any sub-registry or district registry office must be prepaid by service labels. These labels will be supplied to Sub-Registrars (on application) by District Registrars, who will disallow unreasonable and excessive demands. A monthly statement of the distribution of service labels should be submitted by each District Registrar for the information of the Inspector-General. The cost of these labels will be met from the consolidated advance mentioned in Rule 132.

156. Bills, monthly returns, and regular indents should not be accompanied by covering letters. The envelopes containing them should be marked "Returns." Letters and urgent indents should be separately sent.

157. A duplicate bill should never be submitted unless the original is lost in transit or otherwise, in which case a certificate should be attached to the effect that the bill has not been cashed at the treasury.

158. Travelling allowances of registering officers and their clerks will be drawn in Accountant-General's forms Nos. 189 and 191 respectively; and in both cases they must invariably be submitted to the Inspector-General for countersignature before payment, whatever may be the amount of the bill.

159. When ministerial officers of the department are deputed to give evidence or to produce records before any Court, application for the payment of their travelling expenses should be made to the Registrar of the district.

160. The security bonds of head-clerks should be examined at the close of each financial year, the result being reported to the Inspector-General.

Notice to Private Students and Teachers who wish to appear at the next Entrance Examination

APPLICATIONS from those who wish to appear at the next Entrance Examination as private students or as teachers must reach the undersigned not later than the 31st December 1886.

Each application must be accompanied by a certificate from the Head Master of the last school at which the applicant (whether student or teacher) read, showing the class from which he left, and that all dues have been paid.

In the case of a teacher, a certificate must be produced, showing that he is a bond fide teacher, and has not temporarily taken up a teachership, paid or honorary, merely to appear at the examination.

Those whose applications are accepted, whether students or teachers, will have to appear at the test examination of the nearest zillah school and pay a fee of Rs. 2 to the Head Master. If they pass the examination, their applications to the Registrar of the University will be countersigned.

JOHN VANSOMEREN POPE,
Inspector of Schools, Behar Circle.

BANKIPUR, the 25th September 1886.

CALCUTTA SMALL CAUSE COURT.

NOTICE.

IN accordance with suggestions contained in a report to the High Court, signed by Mr. Justice Wilson and Mr. Justice Trevelyan, on their inspection of the Calcutta Small Cause Court, a new system will, on and after the 28th October 1886, be tried for the purpose of revising the list of cases which come daily into the court.

All summons cases will, on the returnable date of the summons, come before one only of the Judges, who will revise the whole list of the court for each day.

He will go through the list, enter "compromises," make decrees in cases in which the defendant does not appear, give fresh summonses in cases where the summons has not been served, grant necessary postponements, ascertain what causes are defended, and dispose of any cases which, in his judgment, can be disposed of summarily.

This would leave the whole time of the other Judges free for the trial of defended causes. The defended causes will be assigned by the Judge revising the list to the lists of the different Judges on the earliest possible days, and will be adjourned by him to those days. The Judge revising the list will have before him the list of each Judge for each day, so far as already filled up, and will arrange that there should always be a sufficient number of cases, say 25 or 30, on each Judge's list. Each of the other Judges will thus have each day his list of defended cases provided for him. When a second summons has been granted, the case will, on the new return day, come again before the Judge who revises the list for that day.

If under this system a Judge should at any time find his list becoming clogged, he will communicate with the revising Judge, and inform the latter that he must have a day or days left clear to enable him to pull up. Thus if on the first of the month a Judge finds that his lists were getting blocked, and that it will take a day to get them clear, he will tell the revising Judge that this is the case. The latter, when revising the lists of the Judge in question, may see that they are already filled, say up to the 9th: he will leave the 10th blank. The Judge who had found himself blocked, knowing that the 10th would be a clear day, will use his discretion: he will either go on as usual up to the 10th, trusting to clear himself on that day, or will adjourn a sufficient number of cases to that day to enable him to take the other cases as nearly as possible on their proper dates.

ADJOURNMENTS.

No "costs of the day" will be allowed on adjournments.

Nor will adjournments be allowed, even by consent, except upon good cause shown.

By order of the Court,

COURT OF SMALL CAUSES OF CALCUTTA,
The 28th July 1886.

C. Y. C. BOLST,
Clerk of the Court.

NOTIFICATION OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE.

No. 1197B.

NOTIFICATION.

The 3rd October 1886.—It is hereby notified for general information that the Lieutenant-Governor intends, in the exercise of the power conferred on him by section 221 of Act III (B.C.) of 1884, to extend the provisions of section 259 of that Act to the Santipore Municipality, in the district of Nuddea, unless good reasons are shown to the contrary within one month from the date of the publication of this notification within the municipality.

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

The 3rd October 1886.—It is hereby notified that, under section 27 of Act III (B.C.) of 1884, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to appoint Baboos Shew Nath Patuck and Shew Prosad Singh to be Commissioners of the Tikari Municipality, in the district of Gya, vice Baboo Ambica Pershad Singh and Mirza Jalaluddin Buht Bahadoor who have ceased to be Commissioners under section 20 of the Act.

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

The 7th October 1886.—Whereas a notification, dated the 3rd July last, declaring the intention of the Lieutenant-Governor to confirm the bye-laws framed by the Commissioners of the Commillah Municipality, under section 350 of Act III (B.C.) of 1884, was published at page 215, Part IB of the Calcutta Gazette of the 14th idem, and whereas no valid objection has been raised to the proposed bye-laws, it is hereby notified for general information that, in the exercise of the power vested in the Local Government by section 351 of the said Act, and on the recommendation of the Commissioners of the Commillah Municipality made at a meeting, the Lieutenant-Governor confirms the bye-laws set forth below—

1. When the owners or occupiers of any land have been ordered, under section 200 of the Act, to cleanse any water-course, private tank, or pool therein, they may, in addition, be ordered to remove the weeds instead of accumulating them on the slopes or banks of the tank, water-course, or pool.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 10.

2. Any person committing nuisance on or by the side of a public road, or on any public ground, or on the banks of such tanks as are open to the use of the public, within the limits of the Municipality, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 10.

3. No person shall cut sods or grass or remove earth or grass from the margin of any public road or from any public drain.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 10.

4. No person shall leave any truck, cart, or other vehicle on any public road or form any encampment on a public road or public ground.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 20. The penalty for continued infringement, after notice, shall be a fine not exceeding Rs. 2 daily.

5. No person shall deposit, except for the purpose of temporary relief, any article or thing on any public road without the permission of the Commissioners.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 10.

6. All owners or drivers of carts laden with bricks or other materials shall be responsible for their being so secured that the contents may not fall on the road.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 10.

7. No person shall, without the permission of the Commissioners, carry bamboos or long planks of wood at night along any of the public roads without sufficient lights accompanying them, except on bright moonlight nights.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 5.

8. No person shall, without the permission of the Commissioners, take more than ten head of cattle at one time along any of the public roads within the limits of the Municipality except by such routes as shall be fixed for the purpose by the Municipal Commissioners.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 25.

9. No person shall slaughter kine or any other animal on or by the side of a public road.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 25.

10. Every carriage plying within municipal limits between dusk and dawn shall carry two conspicuous lights, and every cart, palkee, or other vehicle or elephant or camel shall carry one conspicuous light in front.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 20.

11. No person shall, without the permission of the Commissioners, take an elephant along any of the public roads within the limits of the Municipality except by such routes and during such hours as shall be fixed for the purpose by the Municipal Commissioners.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 20.

12. No person shall allow any animal to stray into any public road, or picket, or tether any animal so that it may, while so picketted or tethered, reach any public road.

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 10.

13. No person shall, without the written permission of the Commissioners, set up any obstruction in any nullah or water-course, and the Commissioners may order the removal of any such obstruction on grounds of public health. Spreading fishing nets and placing fishing traps in a public drain or water-course are included within the meaning of the word "obstruction."

Penalty for infringement, a sum not exceeding Rs. 10.

14. Any person who shall break, or cause to be broken, any wall, fence, rail, or post constructed for the protection of any public well, tank, drain, or other excavation, or who shall break, or cause to be broken, any municipal lamp-post or lamp on the side of any public road, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 25.

LAND SALE NOTICES.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned plots of land, no longer required by Government, situated along the Bengal Central Railway, in the district of Nuddea, will be put up to sale at noon on Saturday, the 30th October 1886, corresponding with the 14th Kartic 1293 B.S. at the Collector's Office of Nuddea.

The purchasers of the plots will be subject to the following conditions:—

1*st*.—The purchasers will have no power to make any excavations on the land nearer than fifteen feet from the railway fencing, or plough it closer than three feet from its foundation.

2*nd*.—If the amount of purchase-money does not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

3*rd*.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the estate to be again put up for sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

4*th*.—The plots will be sold revenue-free to the highest bidders.

5*th*.—The purchasers shall be put in possession on receipt of the orders of the Collector approving of the sales. But such possession shall be liable to be disturbed in case the final confirmation of the Board of Revenue should not be accorded to the proceedings.

Notes on Forestry

BY C. F. AMBERT,

Deputy Conservator, Forests, N.-W. Provinces.

THIS little work, published with the approval of the Government of India, treats of the general principles of forest management in all its branches, and is recommended not only to forest officers, but to all who are interested in the progress of forest management in this country.

May be obtained of Messrs. King, King & Co., Bombay, and of Messrs. Wyman & Co., Calcutta. Price Rs. 3-8, or including postage, Rs. 4. Or of the publishers, Messrs. Trübner & Co., Ludgate Hill, London. Price five shillings.

The following revised advertisement is published in substitution of that which appeared at page 1084, Part II of the Calcutta Gazette of the 9th July 1884:—

The Indian Law Reports,

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat; the copies for subscribers registered by Messrs. Thacker, Spink & Co., are distributed by that firm; and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1885, the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows:—

Terms of subscription payable annually in advance

PART III.

Act of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Third Publication.]

THE following Act, passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, received the assent of His Honor on the 24th September 1886, and having been assented to by His Excellency the Governor-General on the 1st October 1886, is hereby published for general information :—

ACT No III OF 1886.

An Act to amend Act IV (B.C) of 1876 and Act III (B.C) of 1884.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend Bengal Act IV of 1876 and Bengal Act III of 1884: It is enacted as follows :—

Commencement of Act.

1. This Act shall come into force from the date on which it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette with the assent of the Governor-General.

New section for sections 292 of Bengal Act IV of 1876, and 251 of Bengal Act III of 1884.

2. For section 292 of Bengal Act IV of 1876, and section 251 of Bengal Act III of 1884, the following shall be substituted :—

Prohibition of the sale of articles of food not of the proper nature, substance or quality.

"No person shall sell to the prejudice of the purchaser any article of food which is not of the nature, substance or quality of the article demanded by such purchaser under a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees: Provided that an offence shall not be deemed to be committed under this section in the following cases, that is to say—

(1) Where any matter or ingredient not injurious to health has been added to the food, because the same is required for the production or preparation thereof as an article of commerce, in a state fit for carriage or consumption, and not fraudulently to increase the bulk, weight or measure of the food, or conceal the inferior quality thereof;

(2) Where the food is unavoidably mixed with some extraneous matter in the process of collection or preparation."

The term "food" shall include every article used for food or drink by man other than drugs or water.

In any prosecution under this section it shall be no defence to allege that the purchaser, having bought only for analysis, was not prejudiced by the sale.

New sections to follow sections 292 of Bengal Act IV of 1876, and 251 of Bengal Act III of 1884.

3. After section 292 of Bengal Act IV of 1876, and after section 251 of Bengal Act III of 1884, the following sections shall be inserted :—

No proceedings to be had without leave of the Commissioners.

"A. No proceedings shall be instituted under the last preceding section without the order or consent of the Commissioners."

Power of Commissioners to enter and inspect markets, shops, &c., and to seize unwholesome articles exposed for sale.

"B. The Commissioners, or any person authorized by them in that behalf, may, at all reasonable times, enter into and inspect any market, building, shop, stall or place used for the sale or storage of articles intended for food or as a slaughter-house, and may examine any such articles which may be therein, and if, upon examination, such articles, or any of them, appear to be unfit for food, may seize the same."

Power to destroy unwholesome articles.

"C. Upon the seizure of any article of food under the last preceding section, the same may, if the owner or the person in whose possession the same is found consents, be forthwith destroyed or so disposed of as to prevent it being used as food, but if the owner or the person in whose possession the same is found do not consent, then, if it appear to a Magistrate upon sufficient evidence that the same is unfit for food, he shall order the same to be destroyed or so disposed of as to prevent it being used as food, and may impose a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees upon the owner or person in whose possession the same was found, such person not being merely a carrier or bailee thereof."

Person refusing to sell any article to Commissioners liable to penalty.

"D. If the Commissioners, or any person authorized by them in that behalf, shall apply to purchase any article of food exposed to sale, and shall tender the price for a quantity not more than shall be reasonably requisite for the purpose of analysis, and the person exposing the same for sale shall refuse to sell the same, such person shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty rupees.

PART V.

Acts of the Governor General's Council assented to by the Governor General

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second publication.]

The following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 24th September, 1886, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT NO. XVIII OF 1886.

An Act to amend Act XXXVI of 1858.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend Act XXXVI of 1858 (an Act relating to Lunatic Asylums); It is hereby enacted as follows :—

New section inserted after section 6.

1. After section 6 the following shall be inserted, namely :—

Detention of supposed lunatics under observation.

"6 A. (1) Where a person found wandering at large who is deemed to be a lunatic, or where a person believed to be dangerous by reason of lunacy, is apprehended and sent to the Magistrate or the Commissioner of Police, or where, on report or information that a person deemed to be a lunatic is not under proper care and control or is cruelly treated or neglected, the Magistrate or the Commissioner of Police sends for him and then determines to proceed as prescribed in section 4 of this Act, the Magistrate or the Commissioner of Police, on the request of the medical officer, may, by order in writing, authorise the detention of the supposed lunatic for such time, not exceeding ten days, as, in the opinion of the Magistrate or the Commissioner of Police, may be necessary to enable the medical officer to form an opinion on the question whether or not the supposed lunatic is a person with respect to whom a certificate in the form A in the schedule to this Act ought to be signed.

"(2) If the medical officer certifies further detention than has been authorised under sub-section (1) to be necessary to enable him to form his opinion on that question, the Magistrate or the Commissioner of Police may from time to time, by order in writing, authorise such further detention as he deems to be necessary :

"Provided that a supposed lunatic shall not be detained for the purpose of this section for a longer time than fourteen days from the date on which the first order authorising his detention for that purpose is made.

"(3) The Executive Government may from time to time make rules as to the place of detention, and the care and treatment, of supposed lunatics detained under this section."

Amendment of section 9.

2. To section 9 the words "Subject to the provisions of any enactment for the time being in force," shall be prefixed.

New sections to follow section 17.

3. After section 17 the following shall be inserted, namely :—

Provision for provinces not having asylums.

"17A. When an Executive Government has not established within its limits a public asylum for the reception and detention of lunatics under this Act, the Governor-General in Council may from time to time appoint an asylum established in British India beyond those limits to be an asylum to which a Magistrate or Judge exercising jurisdiction within those limits may send lunatics as to an asylum established under this Act for the division in which his jurisdiction is situate.

Use of provincial asylums as presidency asylums for purposes of the Act.

"17B. The Governor-General in Council may from time to time, by order, direct, with respect to any part of British India which is not annexed to a presidency or, being annexed to the presidency of Fort William, Fort Saint George or Bombay, is situated at a greater distance than three hundred miles from Calcutta, Madras or Bombay, respectively, that any lunatic asylum in British India named in the order shall be deemed for that part to be a lunatic asylum at the presidency for the purposes of this Act."

S. HARVEY JAMES,
Offg. Secretary to the Government of India.

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend Act XXXVI of 1858 was presented to the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 15th September, 1886 :—

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

WE, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to amend Act XXXVI of 1858 was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report.

From Officiating Assistant Secretary to Chief Commissioner, Central Provinces, No. 182—9, dated 21st January, 1886 [Paper No. 1].
From Secretary for Berar to Resident, Hyderabad, No. 146., dated 19th January, 1886 [Paper No. 2].
From Secretary to Chief Commissioner, Assam, No 224, dated 27th January, 1886 [Paper No. 3].
From Officiating Secretary to Chief Commissioner, British Burma, No. 534—4L., dated 29th January, 1886 [Paper No. 4].
From Chief Commissioner, Ajmer-Merwára, No. 294C., dated 3rd February, 1886 [Paper No 5].
From Under-Secretary to Government, Bombay, No. 522, dated 9th February, 1886, and enclosures [Papers No. 6].
From Acting Chief Secretary to Government, Madras, No. 855, dated 9th February, 1886, and enclosures [Papers No. 7].
From Secretary to Government, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, No. 334—VI-590-6, dated 19th February, 1886, and enclosure [Papers No. 8].
From Registrar, High Court, Calcutta, No. 502, dated 23rd February, 1886 [Paper No 9].
From Secretary to Chief Commissioner, Coorg, No. 288—12, dated 1st March, 1886 [Paper No 10].
From Officiating Secretary to Government, Bengal, No. 1004, dated 1st April, 1886 [Paper No 11].
From Secretary to Government, Punjab, No. 319, dated 19th March, 1886, and enclosures [Papers No. 12].

2. The Bill as introduced was approved by the authorities to whom it was referred, but further amendments of the Act were proposed by the Governments of Bengal and the Punjab.

3. The former Government drew attention to the absence of any provision authorising the detention of supposed lunatics for observation, and the latter to the inconvenience ensuing from the provision which requires lunatics who are not natives of the country to be sent in all cases to an asylum at the presidency.

4. It appeared to us that express provision ought to be made for the detention of supposed lunatics. As a matter of practice they are detained, for in many cases the medical officer is not in a position to form an opinion on the question whether or not a person is a lunatic until he has had the person under observation for some days. The detention is probably legal where it is authorised by the Magistrate (I. L. R. 9 Cal. 341), but it is desirable that there should be no room for doubt as to the legality of a practice which is in fact absolutely necessary. We considered it desirable, however, before submitting our Report, to consult Local Governments, and we therefore circulated a draft clause proposing, in accordance with the advice of the Surgeon-General, a period of ten days as the maximum term of detention for purposes of observation. We have now, after considering the replies to our circular, proposed to extend the term to fourteen days, and to authorise Local Governments to make rules as to the place of detention, and the care and treatment, of supposed lunatics.

5. The proposal of the Punjab Government with respect to the establishment of asylums at other places than the presidency-towns for lunatics who are not natives of the country was referred by us to other Local Governments, and has been approved by them. We have provided, therefore, that the Governor-General in Council may, with respect to any part of British India which is not annexed to a presidency, or is more than three hundred miles from a presidency-town, direct that any lunatic asylum named in the order shall be deemed for that part to be a lunatic asylum at the presidency for the purposes of the Act.

6. Section 9 of the Act empowers the visitors of a lunatic asylum to order the discharge of any person detained in the asylum. As the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882, and the Prisoners Act, 1871, reserve that power in certain cases to other authorities, we have proposed to prefix to that section an express saving of the provisions of other enactments.

PART VI.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[First publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 24th September, 1886, and was referred to a Select Committee on the 30th idem:—

NO. 25 OF 1886.

A Bill to abolish Military Courts of Requests as established by Indian Military Law.

WHEREAS it is expedient to repeal that portion of the Indian Military Law which relates to Military Courts of Requests and to military tribunals having jurisdiction with respect to actions of a civil nature; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Repeal of enactments.

1. The enactments mentioned in the schedule hereto are hereby repealed to the extent specified in the third column of that schedule.

THE SCHEDULE.

ENACTMENTS REPEALED.

Number and year.	Subject or title.	Extent of repeal.
1	2	3
Acts of the Governor-General in Council.
Act XI of 1841.	Military Courts of Requests for Native Officers and Soldiers.	So far as it has not been repealed.
Act XII of 1842.	Regulation of Military Bázárs and Liabilities of Camp-followers.	So far as it has not been repealed.
Act XXXIII of 1852.	Enforcement of judgments in places beyond the jurisdiction of the Courts pronouncing the same.	So far as it has not been repealed.
Act III of 1859.	Conferment of Civil Jurisdiction in certain cases on Cantonment Joint Magistrates.	So far as it has not been repealed.
Act XII of 1868.	Suspension of operation of section 17, Act XI, 1841.	The whole.
Act III of 1880.	Cantonments ...	Section 8.
Act XIV of 1882.	Code of Civil Procedure.	Clause (b) of section 6.
Act of the Governor of Madras in Council.
Act I of 1866.	Cantonments ...	Section 9, down to and inclusive of the words "provided also that."
Bombay Regulation.
XXII of 1827.	Military Authority ...	The following portions so far as they have not been repealed, namely:— (a) the first clause of section 3; (b) the first twenty-seven words of the second clause of that section; (c) section 7; and (d) section 32.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is, by repealing that portion of Indian military law which relates to Military Courts of Requests, to make the provisions of the Army Act, 1881, respecting Courts of Requests in India (44 & 45 Vict, c. 58, ss. 148-151), apply to Her Majesty's Indian forces, and thus to place those forces, with respect to indebtedness, in the same position as the rest of the British Army. In this respect the law enacted nearly half a century ago for the Indian army is more severe than Parliament has seen fit to enact for the other branches of Her Majesty's regular forces or than the Council of the Governor-General would now enact.

The 22nd September, 1886.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE DACCA DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1885-86.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 12th October 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Dacca Division for 1885-86.

Mr. Larminie, who submits the Report, was in charge of the Division for all but seven days of the year; and all the Collectors from whom the district reports were received had held their posts for the greater part of the twelve months under review.

Annual tours.

2. The Commissioner devoted 108 days during the year to visiting the districts in his jurisdiction, and the Collectors' tours were all of sufficient length. Among the Sub-divisional Officers, the only failures to remain in camp for the prescribed number of days occurred in the Patuakhali sub-division and in Kishoregunge, where the tours fell short by 9 and 35 days respectively. The explanation given by the defaulting officer in the latter case is not altogether satisfactory. In every district, except Furreedpore, Joint-Magistrates were employed to some extent in camp.

Weather and crops.

3. The rainfall was sufficient, and on the whole well distributed, though in some parts of the Division, notably in Furreedpore and Mymensingh, floods were caused by excessively heavy rain in June, and the sub-division of Bhola, in Backergunge, suffered to some extent from an unusually copious fall in September.

The Commissioner's remarks on the agricultural results of the year are not entirely consistent with the figures given in the tabular statement appended to the Report. Thus he reports the aman rice crop to have been "good" in Dacca, whereas the statement shows that, although rather more than one-fifth of the population, viz. the inhabitants of the Manickgunge sub-division, reaped a bumper crop, the outturn in the other three sub-divisions varied from 10 to 12 annas, which (taking 16 annas to represent an average crop) cannot be considered a good result. The crop was very full in Furreedpore, and quite up to the average in Mymensingh and Backergunge. The less important aus crop was not so good, except in Mymensingh. In the other districts it suffered more or less from excessive rain, and this was especially the case in Furreedpore. Of other important crops, jute did well in Furreedpore, but not so well in Dacca; sugarcane was below the average in Furreedpore, while betelnuts were plentiful, and cocoanuts sufficient in Backergunge.

Prices of food and labour.

4. The following statement shows the average price of common rice during the year, as compared with 1884-85:—

District.	Number of seers per rupee. 1884-85.	1885-86.
Dacca	15 7	15 8
Furreedpore	15 13	16 1
Backergunge	17 3	13 13
Mymensingh	14 10	15 4

There was thus very little change from the high prices of the previous year, and in Backergunge the rate even increased. The Commissioner writes "this result is probably due to large exports;" but, under the head "Trade and commerce," he reports that Dacca does not export rice, and that the exports from Backergunge and Mymensingh were less than usual, while nothing is said as to the extent to which rice was sent out of Furreedpore.

5. The price of labour began to increase in this Division in 1883-84, and advanced very greatly in 1884-85. The wages of the latter year were, as shown in the statement below, maintained throughout 1885-86, owing to the prosperity of the lower classes, and the brisk demand for labour of all kinds:—

District.	Year.	Skilled labour.	Unskilled labour.
Dacca ...	1884-85 ...	Rs. 12 to Rs. 20 a month ...	Rs. 7-8 to Rs. 15 a month.
	1885-86 ...	Ditto ditto ...	Ditto ditto.
Furreedpore ...	1884-85 ...	Rs. 15 to Rs. 18-12 ditto ...	Rs. 6-8 to Rs. 10 ditto.
	1885-86 ..	Ditto ditto ...	Ditto ditto.
Backergunge ...	1884-85 ..	Rs. 12 to Rs. 24 ditto ..	Rs. 8 to Rs. 12 ditto.
	1885-86 ...	Ditto ditto ...	Ditto .. ditto.
Mymensingh ...	1884-85 ...	Rs. 12 to Rs. 30 ditto ...	Rs. 6 to Rs. 11 ditto.
	1885-86 ...	Ditto ditto ...	„ 6 to „ 10 ditto.

Material condition of the people.

6. The Commissioner reports that there was no diminution in the prosperity of the agricultural classes, who are exceptionally well off in this Division, and especially in Backergunge and Mymensingh; but he repeats the observation made by him last year, that there is a considerable population of young men, who have received a certain amount of English education, living in idleness, supported by their not very wealthy relatives. The Officiating Collector of Backergunge (Mr. Fasson) considers that in his district the incidental crops of betel and cocoanut, costing nothing but the trouble of gathering, bring in to the average ryot more than the whole income of some ryots in Behar; and he quotes, as an additional sign of prosperity, the fact that in many parts of the district the rice harvest is reaped for the ryots by immigrant labourers. As regards the year immediately under review, Mr. Fasson writes—

> The past year has furnished indications of increasing prosperity, notably in the much increased consumption of kerosine oil and in the widespread use of corrugated iron for roofing.
> The ordinary ryot of a Patuakhali village can now in many cases spend his evenings and entertain his friends in a spacious hut roofed with corrugated iron and lit with glass lamps burning kerosine oil. I quote the following extract from a recent tour diary of the Sub-divisional Officer:—
> "During my tour, I have noticed several corrugated iron houses built by the cultivators. They build these expensive houses to protect their property from fire, though the houses are not comfortable to live in. I had no tent to hold my court in the interior, but I did not experience much difficulty in getting a house to hold court, as almost every cultivator has a spare house in his bari. The spare house is called the kachari of the cultivator. Here he receives his friends, sits down for an evening talk, and also uses it as a dining-room on the occasion of a dinner. Unless a cultivator is in a position to spend money on luxury, he could not possibly build an extra house for his parlour."

The use of corrugated iron roofing appears also, from another section of the Report, to have greatly extended in Furreedpore, and it must be taken as evidence of the growing prosperity of the ryots of this Division, where reclaimable land is still to be found for the maintenance of the increasing population, and rights of occupancy have been, to a very great extent, preserved and enforced.

Immigration and internal movements of the people.

7. Under this head the Commissioner observes that during the year bands of labourers from Nuddea and Moorshedabad came to the south of the district of Furreedpore in the cold season, chiefly to work on the roads and dig tanks. In Mymensingh a number of Garos come down from the hills every year to settle in the villages at the foot, and some move on to the Madhupur jungle in the centre of the district, where they get land on easy terms. They are said to dislike the taxation in the hills, and run away to the plains. It is also reported that, on account of the abundance of cultivable soil, people from Dacca, Tipperah, and other neighbouring districts come with their families, and sometimes remain as permanent residents.

Public health.

8. Both fever and cholera were less prevalent, and the health of the people improved in the three districts of Dacca, Furreedpore, and Backergunge. In each of these districts the registered number of deaths from cholera was less than half that of the previous year. In Mymensingh cholera appeared in an epidemic form in the Netrokona subdivision, and fever was very destructive in other parts of the district. As, however, the registered mortality in 1884-85 was only 4·6 per mille of the population, and the figure rose in 1885-86 only to 13, it is impossible to say how much of the increase is due to more correct reporting. The other districts are slightly better in this respect, the rates being in Furreedpore 16·7, in Dacca 19·51, and in Backergunge 24·25; but even in the last-named district there is evidently great room for improvement in the system of reporting deaths, and an effort should be made throughout the division to supply more correct statistics.

Manufactures, trade, and commerce.

9. The Commissioner reports that two steam oil-mills have been started at Jhalokatty in Backergunge, and that glass lamps and tumblers are made at the same place. "In Furreedpore an enterprising potter of the Goalundo subdivision is making very fair pipes of 12 inches diameter, which are useful for village roads." Imports of rice into Dacca diminished, and the export trade in jute was dull. A large increase in the importation of piece-goods is reported by the Collector, but it is unexplained, and the Commissioner thinks the figures given for 1884-85 were incorrect. The trade in hides is rapidly expanding, while the shell-work business continues to decline. It would be useless to quote the general statistics supplied by the Collectors, which are mere estimates, and are not accepted as correct by the Commissioner. The registered trade of the port of Naraingunge shows that 966,529 hundredweight of jute, valued at Rs. 58,62,059, were exported, against 1,203,903 hundredweight in the previous year. There was also a slight decrease in imports, reported by the Commissioner, in the table given in paragraph 59 of his Report, as Rs. 1,35,840, but shown by the details given in paragraph 61 to have been of the value of Rs 84,013. Both cultivators and local traders in Backergunge appear to have held up their stocks of rice in expectation of better prices, and exports from the district therefore diminished. Kerosine oil was imported in largely increased quantities, and there was a strong demand for corrugated iron. Trade in Mymensingh is restricted by defective means of communication, and the Commissioner has recently made this the subject of a special report. The opening of the Dacca State Railway has added a new line for external trade; but owing to high freight charges, the railway has as yet secured only a small portion of the traffic previously carried by boats. As in Backergunge, the people held up their rice, and exports diminished. In other respects, general trade is reported to have been brisk.

Public feeling; the public press.

10. The Commissioner states that "the Tenancy Act, which is gradually coming into operation, has not excited as much publicly-displayed interest as might have been expected." Public opinion appeared dormant on the subject of Local Self-Government until the date for the elections drew near, when there was a considerable display of feeling. Seven weekly newspapers and six monthly periodicals were published in the division during the year, Dacca being the place of publication of six of the newspapers and three of the periodicals; none of them are very extensively circulated. Two new monthly periodicals were started in Mymensingh—Muhammadan publications printed in Bengali. Both are filled principally with fragments of Mussulman history, and lamentation over the low state of the Mussulmans in India at the present time, which they very properly ascribe to want of English education.

Police and crime.

11. The regular police are said to have worked well in Dacca, and fairly in Backergunge and Furreedpore, while the Magistrate of Mymensingh considers that in his district there has been an improvement. The force employed in the last-named district is again reported to be inadequate, and the large number of cases not enquired into in this district (286 out of a total for the division of 318) is attributed to this cause. This question, which has been fully considered on previous occasions, requires for its satisfactory solution a larger expenditure of money than the provincial revenues have hitherto been able to afford. It is closely connected, too, with the more important consideration of the division of the huge Mymensingh district, 6,287 square miles in area with a population exceeding 3 millions, into two districts The village police are reported to have slightly improved during the year in every district except Dacca, where difficulty is still experienced in collecting the chowkidars' pay and in making them of any real use in police work. The year appears to have exhibited no marked features in regard to crime.

Civil Justice.

12. The Commissioner gives the following statistics of institutions of suits during the past two years:—

	1884.	1885.
I.—Suits for money or moveables	54,983	59,642
II.—Rent-suits	32,160	32,285
III.—Title and other suits	7,061	7,223
Total ...	94,204	99,150

In Dacca the number of suits for money and moveables increased by 2,424. The Collector is of opinion that the increase is "chiefly due to the delay in deciding cases and in executing decrees, which no doubt induces a good many debtors to purposely allow themselves to be sued, especially since no court allows more than 6 per cent. interest on the amount due."

Land and Land Revenue.

13. The current demand of land revenue increased from Rs. 33,57,406 to Rs. 33,67,739, owing to the settlement of alluvial accretions. The collections amounted to Rs. 33,61,851, or almost exactly the current demand. In this Division there is a large arrear balance of over four lakhs of rupees, to the realization of which the Commissioner is giving his best attention. In 168 settlement cases (including resettlements), a revenue of Rs. 30,988 was obtained, the net increase being Rs. 18,059. The net demand of cesses was Rs. 10,31,195, of which Rs, 8,29,815, or 80·4 per cent., were collected—a slight improvement on the unsatisfactory figures of the previous year. The number of partition cases disposed of was 88 against 72 in the previous year; and 374 estates were added to the revenue-roll by this means. Institutions almost kept pace with disposals; and the Commissioner thinks that the services of the two special Deputy Collectors employed on this work in Dacca and Mymensingh will have to be retained for a long period.

Relations of landlord and tenant.

14. The Commissioner considers that the Bengal Tenancy Act has been introduced with perhaps less friction than was anticipated. The provisions in the new law, which prevent the evasion of the old rule as to the giving of a definite receipt on the payment of rent, is the only one as to the working of which specific information is given in the report. On this subject the Collector of Backergunge writes—

Rent receipts under the Tenancy Act are being given and received nearly everywhere, though they never include entries of area except in the khas mehals. In many considerable tracts, however, the conditions of tenancy and rental are so uncertain and unfixed that it will be some time before the forms can be filled up to the satisfaction of both parties, rents having hitherto been collected in the loosest kind of give and-take style. Some of the notorious bad landlords of the district are reported to be refusing the receipts, and in several instances more or less dead-lock is beginning to result from the attempt of the landlords to make the rent statements in the receipt forms cover various abwabs and illegal cesses, as well as the excess road cess improperly levied by so many of the district zemindars. This circumstance is likely to lead to trouble and litigation.

The Sub-divisional Officer of Perozepore states: "Bamna zemindars refused to give cheque receipts, and at my request they gave some receipts when I was there, but as soon as I left the place they entered akrajat expenses in the receipts, and several ryots deposited rents in the Civil Court. There were six cases of wrongful confinement for compelling ryots to pay rents without cheques. This difference is gradually dying out."

The Collector of Mymensingh reports—

Here and elsewhere there has been a difficulty raised about the new rent receipts. Where neither side trusts the other, and where the character of the holding, the quantity of land, and the amount of rent, are all in dispute, there seems no way of settling matters but by the arbitrament of the Civil Court, or by the operation of the Revenue authorities under the Tenancy Act. In Tangail Mr. Badshah, the Sub-divisional Officer, did a good piece of work in stopping an incipient dispute in the Atia pergunnah by bringing zemindar and ryots together, and settling, in consultation with them, the terms to be used in the receipts. The period has hardly yet arrived for making such a settlement in the Mymensingh pergunnah; but time has a very moderating influence, and a gradual approach of the contending parties to each other may be anticipated. Elsewhere in the district the receipts are being brought into use without demur.

In all these instances it would appear that the provision of the law on the subject of receipts did not create disputes, but drew attention to differences already existing, and afforded the ryots a just protection against fraudulent practices, which could hardly have been checked by any other means. The difficulty felt, it would seem, is not really in discharging any novel obligation imposed by the new law, but in giving even such receipts as were required by Act VIII of 1869, the evasion of which in this important matter is one of the main causes of the confusion in which rent accounts are so generally involved, and of the consequent disputes and litigation between landlords and tenants.

The objection to giving receipts seems to be intimately connected with the practice of levying illegal cesses. Mention is made in the report of a zemindari charge called "nazar salami," explained to be a tax on incontinence, and of a dalan cess, levied after the earthquake for the repair of the landlords' houses.

Excise.
Stamps.
License-tax.

15. The excise revenue aggregated Rs. 7,65,771, against Rs. 7,36,407 in the previous year. The increase was confined almost entirely to Mymensingh, where license fees for both ganja shops and country spirit outstills showed a very marked rise. The revenue from country spirits fell off in the other three districts. In the town of Dacca the central distillery system was introduced from April 1885. The Commissioner writes: "It is too soon yet to express an opinion on the system pursued of working a central distillery side by side with outstills. Theoretically I am opposed to the system; but it must be allowed a fair trial."

The receipts from stamps increased from Rs. 21,44,591 to Rs. 22,18,735—an advance of Rs. 74,144, which was shared by all the districts in the Division, and spread over all kinds of stamps. The license-tax brought in Rs. 1,44,859—a decrease of Rs. 1,953 on the receipts of 1884-85, which amounted to Rs. 1,46,812. A fall of Rs. 2,911 in Dacca, owing to the depression of the jute trade, swamped small increases in Mymensingh and Backergunge.

Monetary arrangements.

16. As has been reported from other divisions, the closing of district savings banks gave a considerable impetus to transactions with the post-office savings banks; and the money-order system continues to expand. Mr. Larminie's remarks on the loan banks of his Division were printed as an appendix to the Resolution on his Report for 1884-85. No new banks were opened during the year; but some of those already in existence extended their business.

Communications—Railways.

17. The Dacca State Railway was formally opened by the Lieutenant-Governor on the 18th February 1886; but it had been worked for goods traffic for several months previously, and a part of the line between Naraingunge and Dacca and in some other sections had also been open for passenger traffic from August 1885. The passenger traffic is reported to be very great; but the railway, it is said, cannot yet compete successfully with country-boats for the carriage of jute, the principal article of traffic in the districts served by it. This criticism, considering the short time the line has been open to goods traffic and its incomplete condition, is somewhat premature. The bulk of the heavy goods traffic along the line of the Central Bengal Railway also continued to be carried by country-boats and the steamers of the India General Steam Navigation Company.

Roads.

18. District roads were kept in a fair state of repair in all the districts of the Division, and in Dacca and Mymensingh good progress was made in the construction of important original works. In both districts the Committees are wisely concentrating their efforts on completing the work already in hand, before proceeding with the construction of other new and costly works which have not yet passed beyond the project stage. In Dacca Rs. 31,539 were spent on the extension of the road from Dacca to Goalundo, which has now been under construction for some years. The grant for original works in Mymensingh was mainly expended in bridging existing roads; and the Commissioner says "it is estimated that, assuming the same policy to be followed up during the cess year 1886-87, all the existing main roads, aggregating 260 miles in length, will be provided with bridges, mostly of a permanent and all of a safe description." In Backergunge and Furreedpore very little new work was done. It is probable, however, that Furreedpore will before long be supplied with a tramway from the head-quarters of the district to the Rajbari station on the Eastern Bengal State Railway. The offer of the contractors, Messrs. Mitchell and Company, has been approved by the Committee, and the application for sanction is now under the consideration of Government.

Education.

19. The following table shows the total number of schools and pupils in each district of the division, compared with the figures for 1884-85:—

Districts.	1884-85.		1885-86.		Less.
	Schools.	Pupils.	Schools.	Pupils.	Schools.	Pupils.
Dacca	3,097	67,681	2,708	62,445	389	5,236
Furreedpore	2,605	51,788	2,331	43,744	274	7,844
Backergunge	3,190	79,687	2,808	73,007	382	6,680
Mymensingh	4,650	84,722	3,401	66,589	1,202	18,133
Total ...	13,542	283,678	11,248	245,735	2,247	37,943

20. In high English schools there was an increase of five schools and 1,022 pupils, accompanied by a decrease in the cost to Government—a very satisfactory result; the number of boys' upper primary schools, also, increased by 113, and the number of pupils educated in them by 3,249. The whole of the decrease was in boys' lower primary schools and in middle vernacular and lower primary schools for girls. The number of lower primary schools for boys diminished by 2,854, and the decrease in pupils was 49,288; but the following remarks of the Inspector of Schools shows that the decrease resulted from the application of stricter tests, and did not imply any diminution in the educational advantages of the division:—

> For the last five years the increase in the number of schools and pupils has been so great as to cause, in some cases, a doubt of its genuineness. Where new schools were known to have come into existence their character was often very doubtful; accordingly various orders were passed, partly to meet necessary retrenchment in Government expenditure, partly to test more severely the character of the new schools. The various causes which have led to the disappearance of so many schools are as follow:—
> (a)—The Government expenditure being lessened (chiefly in the primary grant), schools entirely dependent on it have ceased to exist.

(b)—The standard of reward examinations have been lessened and made more difficult. Schools not up to the lowest present standard have disappeared.

(c)—Schools that had not existed for six clear months prior to the reward examination were excluded, it having been the custom for village loafers to keep nominal schools for a short period of the year, on the chance of a reward Many such schools, not being admitted to the reward examination, collapsed, as far as we can tell.

(d)—Small schools having less than 10 pupils were not returned, nor were their pupils counted.

(e)—The reward examinations were held simultaneously, as far as possible, to prevent the "repeating system," by which boys would appear as pupils of more than one school. Schools which relied on this system have of course disappeared.

(f)—Enforcement of fees, especially in girls' schools. There is very little genuine wish for female education among the people.

21. Of the pupils reading on the 31st March 1884, 126,518, or 51·5 per cent., were Muhammadans. The following table shows how they were distributed among schools of different classes:—

Class of schools.	Total number of pupils.	Hindus.			Muhammadans.
		Number of Hindus.	Percentage.		Number of Muhammadans.	Percentage.
			1884-85.	1885-86.		1884-85.	1885-86.

22. There is some slight improvement in the proportion of Muhammadans in the superior colleges and schools; but the broad distinction remains that, while they take readily to primary instruction, they are far behind the Hindus in every class of English education. The Muhammadans themselves now perceive the necessity for effecting a change in this respect, if they are to recover the position natural to them in Bengal, or even to escape further decadence.

23. The Jagannath College, maintained at Dacca by private enterprise, competed successfully during the year with the Government College in the same town. Its members rose from 48 to 112, and sending up 48 for the F.A. examination it passed 28, against 22 out of 59 passed by the Dacca College. On the other hand none of its pupils gained scholarships, while those of the Government College carried off seven. Since January last, law classes have been opened at the Jagannath College, which may in the immediate future be able to supply all the college education required in the division.

Committees.

24. The Magistrate of Dacca mentions that the Road Cess Committee of his district has continued to work well With regard to the Municipal Committees of Dacca and Naraingunge, he observes that they seem to have done pretty much the same work in the same way as they did when they had Official Chairmen. He adds—

I am unable to see any marked improvement under the new system; but I am unable to note any positive defect, except that matters are carried on in a more dilatory way than they were formerly. This fault must, however, I am afraid, always attach to popular government. The Dacca Municipality seems, too, to be very loath to revise the house assessment, which is much required; and the Naraingunge Municipality have been too ready to pay for higher education out of the rates, before roads, drains, and other primary necessities had been provided for.

Mr. Barrow, Magistrate of Furreedpore, expresses himself as follows about the municipalities of Furreedpore, Goalundo, and Madaripore:—

The Municipal Commissioners of the three municipalities have given time and attention to their duties. The Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen, however, want more confidence I find they have a tendency to refer every petty executive matter to the Committee. For instance, the Chairman of Furreedpore Municipality puts up before his Committee the overseer's report of petty nuisances, to get its sanction before a prosecution is undertaken. Much delay is thus caused, and clumsiness of administration introduced. This practice is no doubt owing to want of experience in working the law, and to hesitation whether the proper course of action is being taken.

These defects will no doubt diminish or disappear as the new executive becomes accustomed to its work. The Burisal Municipal Commissioners are said to have much improved the sanitation of the town.

Exhibitions and Fairs.

25. The Furreedpore exhibition has now become an annual institution It was held in January 1886, and the exhibits comprised agricultural produce and implements, works of art, and live-stock. Prizes, amounting to Rs. 675, were distributed. The local contributions towards its expenses amounted to Rs. 2,500, and the number of persons present is estimated at 20,000. In Mymensingh an annual exhibition of art-work and manufactures is held at the town of Nasirabad, and that held during the year under review is reported to have been more successful than any of its predecessors. An agricultural show was held for the first time at Perozepore in Backergunge. It was, the Commissioner says, "well organized and carried through by the Sub-divisional Officer, to whose initiative it was due."

26. The most important fair held in the division is the Kartick Baroni fair in Dacca. The following table shows that its reputation was well kept up:—

Years.	Shops.	Goods for sale.	Sold.	Attendance.
1883-84	1,159	35 lakhs.	34 lakhs.	54,389
1884-85	941	31 „	28 „	141,443
1885-86	827	37 „	34 „	143,685

Conduct of Zemindars.

27. The Commissioner makes the following remarks on this subject:—

Foremost among the zemindars of this division for liberality and public spirit are Nawab Sir Abdul Ghany, K.C.S.I., and Nawab Ahsanullah of Dacca, Raja Surjya Kanta Acharjya Chaudhuri of Muktagacha, and Raja Rajendra Narayan Ray Bahadur of Bhowal. The recent honours bestowed upon Nawab Sir Abdul Ghany, K.C.S.I., and on Raja Rajendra Narayan Ray Bahadur, have been endorsed by public opinion.

The landholders generally have conducted themselves so as to give satisfaction to the local authorities, who have made special mention of Baboo Kali Kista Tagore of Calcutta, and the Raja of Bhukailash, who hold extensive landed properties in Furreedpore and Backergunge, Srimati Bisvesvari Devi of Gouripur, the Mirs of Shaistabad, and Messrs. Gasper of Dakhin Shahabazpore in Backergunge and Golam Ali Choudhry of Furreedpore.

There have of course been a few riots in which zemindars were responsible, and special precautions have to be taken in various quarters to prevent breaches of the peace.

28. The Commissioner's remarks on the character of his subordinates will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

EMPLOYMENT OF MUHAMMADANS IN THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Darjeeling, the 8th October 1886.

RESOLUTION.

Resolution of the Government of India, Home Department, No 7—215-25, dated the 15th July 1885, regarding the position and claims of the Muhammadan community in British India, and the best means of furthering their interests.

Read—

(1) Circular of this Government, No. 8, dated the 27th January 1886, regarding the larger employment of Muhammadans in the public service.

(2) The replies of the officers who were consulted on the above subject.

In paragraph 22 of the Resolution cited in the preamble to this Resolution, the Governor-General in Council observed:—"There are a large number of appointments the gift of which lies in the hands of the Local Governments, the High Courts, or local officers. The Governor-General in Council desires that in those provinces where Muhammadans do not receive their full share of State employment, the Local Governments and High Courts will endeavour to redress this inequality as opportunity offers, and will impress upon subordinate officers the importance of attending to this in their selection of candidates for appointments of the class referred to. The subject of the extent to which Muhammadans are employed in offices under Government might usefully be noticed in the annual reports of provincial administration." With a view to give effect to the wishes of the Government of India, the Board of Revenue, Heads of Departments, and local officers were requested by this Government to ascertain and report to what extent the services of Muhammadans are at present utilized; what opportunities present themselves for redressing any inequality which might be found to exist, without lowering the efficiency of the public service; and whether existing rules pressed unduly upon Muhammadan candidates.

2. The information furnished in reply to the first enquiry is imperfect, some officers not having given any definite returns of the number of Muhammadans employed. It is, however, sufficiently indicated that in several branches of the public service, and in many districts, Muhammadans do not receive employment in proportion either to their numbers or to their qualifications. Thus in the 24-Pergunnahs' revenue establishment there are 215 ministerial officers, of whom only six are Muhammadans, and this number is not exceeded in Hooghly, Burdwan, and several other districts. There are 110 Hindu clerks employed in offices subordinate to the Judge of Jessore, against nine Muhammadans. The Calcutta offices, with regard to which details are given in the reports, are those of the Inspector-General of Jails, the Custom House, Stamps and Stationery, and the Shipping Master; in none of these are any Muhammadam clerks employed.

3. The cause of the disparity is to be sought primarily in the predilections of the Muhammadans themselves, who prefer Persian and Arabic learning, now of little use in the conduct of public business, to the English education given to their children by Hindus. Even the Muhammadans who go through the usual school and college course learn their own classical languages in addition, and thus have less time to devote to studies more immediately remunerative. This habit is deeply rooted in sentiments of which they are not unjustly proud, and may never be abandoned; but its effects are daily becoming less striking. It is noticed by the Board that up to the year 1885 the Muhammadans gained only 2·4 of the B.A. degrees and 2·06 of the B.L., while in 1885 they secured 6·29 per cent. of the former and 9·24 of the latter. It is probable that even a greater improvement has taken place in secondary education, and that the supply of candidates eligible for subordinate Government service must treble or quadruple what it was at no very remote date.

4. The possibility of redressing inequality of this kind has been shown in Behar, where, at one time, almost all appointments were held by Bengalis often very imperfectly acquainted with the language, and it was urged, in defence of the system, that suitable Behari candidates did not come forward. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, declined to admit the sufficiency of this plea, and after a certain time it was found possible to fill all vacancies locally, with great advantage to the efficiency of the public service, as well as to the popularity of the administration. In Behar a considerable and satisfactory proportion of those now employed are Muhammadans.

5. In some of the reports submitted by the officers consulted, it is stated that the rule prohibiting admission to the public service after the age of 25 years should be modified in favour of Muhammadans, who are often late in completing their education. The rule has been made for financial reasons to prevent the undue multiplication of pensioners, and it cannot be relaxed. The other suggestions made with a view to giving effect to the policy indicated by the Government of India are that in certain cases a preference should be shown to candidates able to read the Persian character; that a list of Muhammadans eligible for employment should be prepared and circulated; and that half-yearly returns showing the creed of officers appointed should be submitted. For the present, however, it seems to the Lieutenant-Governor sufficient to impress the orders of the Government of India on the attention of officers having the power to appoint or nominate to the public service. In offices in which there are at present no Muhammadans the close attention of the controlling officer will be required to procure suitable candidates, and to secure that they receive fair treatment after appointment. It is for obvious reasons undesirable that this duty should be delegated to the head ministerial officer of an office. Those who have the privilege of making appointments should realise that something more has to be considered than the convenience of the moment; that, besides the efficiency of the public service, which is always the first thing to be regarded, it is necessary also to attend to the due distribution of places of emolument, so as to prevent the depression of a numerous and influential class, and secure their co-operation for the general benefit of the administration.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE STAMP DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1885-86.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—STAMPS.

Darjeeling, the 7th October 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Stamp Department for the year 1885-86.

Read also—

The Report for the year 1884-85 and the Resolution recorded upon it.

As in previous years, the stamp revenue was collected under the Indian Stamp Act I of 1879 and the Court-fees Act VII of 1870. No change was introduced either in the description of stamps used under the two Acts, or in the system under which they are supplied to the public.

2. During the year under report non-judicial impressed sheets of the value of four annas for use in realizing copying fees were received from England. The issue of these stamps commenced from November 1885, and consequently the sales of the stamps "for copies" during 1885-86 were composed partly of two-anna and partly of four-anna stamps. It is reported that the introduction of the four-anna stamps has resulted in the reduction of the manufacturing cost by one-half. Having regard to the economy thus effected, the question has been raised whether a similar description of paper to that now used "for copies" should not be used for non-judicial stamps of the value of two, four, and eight annas, whereby a saving of Rs. 50,000 a year might be effected. The Lieutenant-Governor has submitted his views on this question to the Government of India advocating the change.

3. The representation of certain Insurance Offices in Calcutta for a reduction of the stamp duty on policies of insurance other than Life and Marine, and on re-insurances, was considered during the year. The duty on policies of re-insurance has been fixed at one rupee, irrespective of the amount of the policy; but the proposal to reduce the rates on short-term policies has been shown to involve the principle of levying a duty on renewals; and as it is uncertain whether the companies would approve such a change, the matter has been deferred pending a further expression of their opinion.

Certain documents called "kabinnamahs," or deeds of dower, executed on the occasion of marriages between Mahomedans, were referred by the Board to the High Court under section 46 of Act I of 1879, and the High Court held that the instrument in question was subject to stamp duty as a bond. But the Government of India, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 8 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, were pleased, by notification in the Gazette of India, to exempt this class of instruments from the payment of stamp duty.

It came to the notice of the Board that general powers-of-attorney executed by two or more persons authorizing one or more agents to act on behalf of them in their joint and several interests were, in some instances, stamped under Article 50 of Schedule I of the Indian Stamp Act according to the number of persons authorized to act jointly and severally, irrespective of the number of persons executing them. The Board held that each of the parties executing a power should pay a separate stamp duty, to be calculated according to the number of persons authorized to act, if the power authorizes the agents to act on behalf of the executants in their joint and several interests, and the High Court agreed with the principles laid down by the Board.

Another case of importance was decided by the High Court. A firm of Solicitors in Calcutta submitted for adjudication of stamp duty a deed conveying a tea-estate from certain persons as private individuals to themselves as a Limited Company. The deed was held by the Collector to be a conveyance, and ad valorem stamp duty on the nominal value of the property was charged. The firm appealed to the Board, urging that the tea-estate was, for its convenient working, intended to be transferred from the vendors under one designation to themselves under another, and that therefore the deed could not be made liable to ad valorem duty as a conveyance, but should be stamped as a "transfer" under clause (b) of Article 60, or as a "declaration of trust" under Article 25 of Schedule I of the Stamp Act. The Board submitted the case for the opinion of the High Court, which decided that the deed should be stamped under Article 21 as a conveyance chargeable with ad valorem duty on the par value of the shares and debentures.

4. The financial results of the administration of the Stamp Department during the year are shown in the following table:—

Year.	Stamps under Act I of 1879.			Court-fees under Act VII of 1870.			Total.
	Receipts.	Refunds and other charges.	Net revenue.	Receipts.	Refunds and other charges.	Net revenue.	Receipts.	Charges.	Net revenue.

The first four years' figures in the above statement are based on the returns furnished by the Accountant-General in his final statements for those years, while the figures for the year under report are approximate only. The total realizations under the Indian Stamp Act exceed those of the preceding year by Rs. 1,17,319, and are the largest that have been obtained since the introduction of the Act In consequence of a comparative decrease in the charges, the net revenue was higher than that of 1884-85 by Rs. 1,21,988. In the sale of judicial stamps, there was an increase of Rs. 1,49,513, and, exclusive of charges and refunds, there was an increase of Rs. 1,30,563 in the net revenue. The realizations under the two Acts amounted to Rs. 1,32,58,046 against Rs. 1,29,91,214 in the previous year, giving an increase of Rs 2,66,832. The charges amounted to Rs. 6,25,992, and the net receipts to Rs. 1,26,32,054.

5 The following table shows the receipts from sales of the different descriptions of stamps during 1884-85 and 1885-86:—

Decrease per cent.	.. ..	3·8	...	5·5	4·3	.....	.....	30·1	2·3	.	.	..	..

There was an increase in the sales of impressed sheets, receipt or revenue stamps, hundi or bill-of-exchange stamps, notarial stamps, court-fees stamps, and stamps for copies, and a falling off in the sales of impressed labels, share transfer, foreign bill, advocate, vakeel, attorney, and one-anna impressed stamps for cheques and bills. The total sales of non-judicial impressed sheets amounted to Rs 24,45,294, or Rs. 2,061 in excess of the preceding year. Twenty-two districts showed an increase, while there was a decrease in 23 districts. The sale of impressed labels, which is limited to Calcutta, amounted to Rs. 5,67,237 against Rs. 5,89,917 of the previous year, showing a decrease of Rs. 22,680. It is reported that the decrease under this head would have been much greater, but for the stamping of the conveyances of certain tea-estates, on which ad valorem duty was paid under the ruling of the High Court referred to in paragraph 3 above. The sale of one-anna receipt stamps increased from Rs. 1,86,046 in the preceding year to Rs. 2,08,125. Thirty-three districts yielded an increase of Rs. 24,088, while in twelve districts there was a falling off of Rs. 2,009. There is still much room for improvement in this branch of the revenue, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the extended use of the Post Office for the sale of these stamps will tend to diminish the evasion of the law which is now undoubtedly very common. The sale of foreign bill stamps amounted to Rs. 33,074 against Rs. 34,590 in the previous year, showing a decrease of Rs. 1,516. The falling off is attributed to the fact that remittances are now made by telegraphic transfer more frequently than formerly. The Collector is of opinion that a larger decrease may occur in future. The sum realized on account of the advocate, vakeel, and attorney stamps, which are sold through the Registrar of the High Court, was Rs. 7,000 against Rs. 10,025. This decrease is due to a smaller number of enrolments at the Bar of the High Court. The sale of share-transfer stamps amounted to Rs 22,115 against Rs. 23,408 of the previous year. There was an increase in the receipts from the stamps for notarial acts, the amount sold being Rs. 4,855 against Rs 4,371. The receipts from the sale of hundi stamps amounted to Rs. 86,862 against Rs. 79,569 in the previous year. Under the head of one-anna impressed stamps, which are impressed by the Superintendent of Stamps on skeleton forms of choques, drafts, brokers' notes, &c., the receipts were Rs. 39,826 against Rs. 40,797 in 1884-85.

6. Under the head of Judicial Stamps are included the sale proceeds of adhesive and impressed court-fee stamps, High Court service and Calcutta Small Cause Court stamps, and stamps for copies. Exclusive of the stamps for copies, the sales of judicial stamps amounted to Rs. 90,44,963 against Rs. 89,53,519 in the previous year. There was an increase in 31 districts, ranging from 87·3 per cent. in Singbhoom to 1·2 per cent. in Tipperah, and a decrease in 14 districts, varying from 19·6 per cent. in Rajshahye to ·07 per cent. in Dinagepore. The principal increases occurred in the 24-Pergunnahs, Hooghly, Dacca, Gya, Backergunge, Jessore, Chittagong, Khulna, and Cuttack. The falling off was considerable in Rajshahye, Bhagulpore, and Monghyr. The proceeds of the sale of stamps for copies amounted to Rs. 4,64,326, being 12·8 per cent. in excess of the receipts during the previous year.

7. The following statement compares the number of cases in which deficient stamp duty and penalty were levied by Civil Courts and Collectors under sections 34 and 37 of the Indian Stamp Act during the year under report and the previous year :—

Year.	Number of cases in which duty and penalty were levied by—			Amount of duty and penalty realized by—
	Civil Courts.	Collectors.	Total.	Civil Courts.	Collectors.	Total.
				Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1884-85	1,498	2,193	3,691	13,815	22,866	36,681
1885-86	1,586	2,162	3,748	12,629	21,699	34,328

The total number of cases detected by the Civil Courts showed an increase of 88 cases, or 5·8 per cent. There was a decrease of Rs. 1,186, or 8·5 per cent., in the amount of duty and penalty realized under the orders of the Civil Courts. The number of cases in which action was taken by the revenue officers showed a decrease of 31 cases, or 1·4 per cent., and the amount of duty and penalty realized at their instance showed a decrease of Rs. 1,167, or 5·1 per cent.

The results of the prosecutions instituted for infringement of the provisions of the Indian Stamp Act during the year under report were satisfactory. Seven hundred and sixty-seven cases in which 954 persons were brought to trial were instituted, against 595 cases in which 704 persons were concerned in the preceding year. The fines imposed by the Magistrate amounted to Rs. 6,361 against Rs. 5,367 in 1884-85.

8. The names of the officers favourably mentioned by the Board for their attention to the working of the Stamp Department will be noted in the Appointment Department.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution, with a copy of the Report, be submitted to the Government of India, in the Department of Finance and Commerce, for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Board of Revenue.

Ordered further that extract paragraph 8 of the Resolution and paragraphs 91, 92, and 93 of the Report, be forwarded to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE MARINE DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1885-86.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MARINE.

Darjeeling, the 7th October 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Annual Report of the Port Officer, Calcutta, for the year 1885-86.

Captain A. W. Stiffe was the Port Officer throughout the year, and the report is submitted by him.

2. The Port and Shipping Offices still remain in different buildings. A scheme has been drawn up for the erection of a combined office on a portion of the site occupied by the disused Custom-house godowns, but no funds are available for this purpose at present.

3. At the close of the year the pilot service was 85 strong, including 40 Government pilots, 21 licensed pilots, and 24 not fully qualified leadsmen and mates. The number of qualified pilots, both service and licensed, was 61. This brings the number to within one of accepted constitution of the Pilot Service.

4. Four leadsmen apprentices arrived from England during the year to recruit the service. Out of the total number of leadsmen apprentices, seven, on passing the necessary examinations, were admitted to the mate's grade. The Port Officer reports favourably on the conduct of the leadsmen apprentices. As remarked last year, it was the intention of the Lieutenant-Governor to reserve one of these appointments for a locally selected candidate; but as no candidate appeared at the examination, which was duly advertised to take place in April last, it was decided to include the vacancy among those to be filled by cadets from the training-ships in England. It has been decided to reserve one vacancy next year also for a locally selected candidate. The leadsmen's quarters at Garden Reach, under the superintendence of Mr. Mignon, are now well established and are reported to be comfortable and attractive.

5. The number of steamers which arrived at Calcutta during the year was 587 with a gross tonnage of 1,363,932 tons, as against 532 with a gross tonnage of 1,243,500 tons in the previous year. The number of sailing vessels rose from 371 to 444, and the gross tonnage from 486,374 to 610,457. The increase of tonnage indicates a revival in the trade of the port. The increase in the size of the ships visiting the port enhances the difficulty and responsibility of the work of pilots, and leads to the higher grades obtaining a larger proportion of ships than was intended when the existing distribution of tonnage was made. It is proposed to revise the scales now in force, so as to increase the emoluments of the mate and junior master grades. The departures during the year are shown below:—

Steamers.

Year.	No.	Gross tonnage.
1884-85	528	1,230,284
1885-86	582	1,351,059

Sailing vessels.

1884-85	395	514,987
1885-86	387	520,877

These figures do not include 10 light-vessels, 10 pilot and other Government vessels, 4 sea-going vessels, 8 tugs, and the steamers plying to the Orissa ports, of which there were 335 arrivals and 336 departures, and native craft. There was during the year a decrease of six in the number of arrivals of vessels of heavy draught, and an increase of nine in the number of departures, as shown below:—

	Above 21 to 22 feet.		Above 22 to 23 feet.		Above 23 to 24 feet.		Above 24 to 25 feet.		Above 25 to 26 feet.		Total.

The gross tonnage of the port was 3,846,325 tons against 3,475,145 in 1884-85. There was, however, still a falling off compared with 1882-83 and 1883-84, when the tonnage amounted to 3,961,294 and 3,937,195 tons respectively.

6. The receipts under the head of pilotage during the year were Rs. 7,59,771, or Rs. 20,021 in excess of 1884-85. The mercantile community have benefited to the extent of Rs. 1,34,077 during the year from the reduction of pilotage by 15 per cent. carried out on the 1st August 1881. During the year the Branch Pilots piloted on an average 5·56 vessels a month against 4·99 of 1884-85, the Senior Master Pilots 3·41 against 3·02, the Junior Masters 2·38 against 1·92, and the Mates 2·58 against 3·41. Six vessels were placed in charge of leadsmen apprentices in the temporary absence of qualified pilots.

7. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with satisfaction that there was a marked decrease (from 51 to 37) in the number of groundings, and that only in two cases was any damage done, while the pilot in charge was considered to blame in only four cases. Of the 16 collisions which occurred during the year, six were either unimportant or accidental, and five were the result of mismanagement. In three cases only was serious damage done. Taking groundings and collisions together, the percentage of accidents to the number of vessels was 2·65 against 3·72 in the preceding year. Sir Rivers Thompson gladly endorses the remark made by the Port Officer that "the manner in which the pilotage duties have been conducted during the year has been highly satisfactory, and reflects great credit on the service, which has maintained its character for efficiency."

8. Fifteen departmental enquiries were held during the year to investigate the conduct of pilots in connection with casualties which had occurred to vessels in their charge. In two cases only was any substantial punishment inflicted upon the pilots, while in one case—that of the fouling of the Apex buoy by the S. S Medina—owing to the gravity of the offence, and the inability of the Departmental Committee to deal with the case adequately, the matter had to be referred to a Court appointed under Act XII of 1859, and eventually the license of the pilot was suspended for two months. There were twelve cases in which Special Courts of Enquiry, under Act V of 1883, were held during the year. These were the stranding of the ships Glenlui, Knight of the Garter, Star of Albion, Karamania, and General Picton; the grounding of the Kalmia and Cannanore; the foundering of the British Statesman and the Merchantman; the wreck of the Tewkesbury, the collision between the British barque Wolseley and the schooner Strathendrick, and the outbreak of fire on board the British ship J. W. Parker

9. Appended to the Port Officer's report are two diagrams showing the depth of water in the best tracks in the Eastern Gut and Moyapore Channels. According to these, the Eastern Gut Channel was very favourable during the year, with the exception of the Nynan bar, which was so low for five months as to be an obstruction to navigation. The depth of water over the Moyapore bar was also somewhat low, but at no time of the year excessively low.

10. The S. S. Undaunted, which underwent thorough repairs during the year, made 19 trips, viz., 12 to the Sandheads, 5 to Orissa and False Point, and 2 to Chittagong. The pilot brigs Coleroon and Sarasuti are both in good order. The Cassandra, according to the report of the officers who conducted her survey in April 1884, will not be fit for further service as a pilot-vessel after March 1889, and arrangements are now being considered for replacing her by a steam-vessel to be specially constructed for pilot work.

11. The examination for Colonial Certificates to Masters, Mates, and Engineers resulted in the passing of 8 Masters, 32 Mates, and 9 Engineers, out of 11, 44 and 30 candidates respectively. For Local Certificates, only one candidate appeared for the Master's examination and two for examination as First Mate, all of whom passed; while out of 3 candidates for the Second Mate's examination and 33 for Engine-drivers, 1 and 24 respectively passed. Five candidates appeared for certificates of competency as First-class Engineers of inland steamers, of whom none passed; while all the four candidates for certificates of competency as Second-class Engineers of inland vessels were successful. Out of 11 candidates for certificates as Commanders of inland vessels and 2 as Ship-surveyors, 10 and 1 respectively passed. Four candidates obtained licenses as steam-tug pilots of the Hooghly. Of the four licenses to native pilots, three were renewed during the year. Eighteen new permits were granted to native coasters between 100 and 200 tons, and 11 were renewed. Three vessels were registered under the Merchant Shipping Act of 1854, and the registry of 6 was cancelled. One vessel was registered under Act X of 1841. Sixty-five A and 436 B certificates under the Native Passengers Act VIII of 1876 were issued by the Port Officer during the year, showing a decrease of 8 and an increase of 64 certificates respectively compared with the figures of 1884-85.

12. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Captain Stiffe for his efficient management of the Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the readings during the same period for the past ten years. The normal of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional stations for the period in question during the past ten years are the numerical means of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional stations for the period in question during the past stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 8th October 1886.

CALCUTTA, the 12th October 1886.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 8TH OF OCTOBER 1886.

THE weather of the past week was of an unusual character over the province and in the Bay of Bengal. At the end of the previous week a small depression, which had apparently crossed from the Arracan to the Ganjam coast, seemed to be filling up. It had almost disappeared on Sunday, the 3rd, when a tendency to slight depression began to shew itself in Chutia Nagpur and the Gya and Shahabad districts of South Behar. On the morning of the 4th the depression on the west coast of the Bay, instead of completely filling up, began to re-form, and continued to be a permanent feature during the remainder of the week. It concentrated slightly on the 6th, and was afterwards unaltered in position and character. The disturbance was of a diffused irregular character, accompanied with moderate variable winds, and gave occasional rain squalls to the west coast. The very slight depression in Chutia Nagpur caused a very considerable indraught of humid winds, which gave heavy general rain to the whole of Behar and Chutia Nagpur from the 3rd to the end of the week under review. The rainfall was exceptionally heavy in the Chumparun, Sarun, Shahabad, Gya, Patna and Hazaribagh districts.

The weather in Bengal, in consequence of the existence during the week of these two centres of disturbance, was slightly unsettled. Frequent thunder-storms with heavy showers of rain occurred. They were most frequent in South-West Bengal and, to a slightly less extent, in North Bengal. The rainfall of the week in Bengal and Orissa was hence very variable in amount and irregularly distributed.

The fluctuations of the barometer were small in amount, but irregular in character, differing considerably at neighbouring stations. This was associated with slight atmospheric disturbance in Bengal during the week, which gave frequent thunder-storms and local rain. The mean pressure of the week is considerably above the normal average. The excess in Orissa was ·02″, in South-West and East Bengal ·05″, in North Behar ·08″, in South Behar ·06″, and in Chutia Nagpur ·04″. The chief features in the distribution of pressure in Bengal and the Bay of Bengal were (as previously indicated) the continued existence of low pressure over a portion of the west coast of the Bay, and the tendency to relatively low pressure in Chutia Nagpur and the adjacent districts of South Behar.

The mean temperature was below the normal mean in all divisions except East and perhaps North Bengal. The deficiency was most marked in Behar. The mean temperature of South Behar was 3° below the normal, and of Chutia Nagpur and North Behar 2°.

The air motion in the province was mainly determined by the continuance of the south-west monsoon current over the Bay and in Bengal, subject to the pressure conditions noted above. Easterly winds prevailed in South-West and East Bengal and Behar, and also in Orissa north-easterly winds in North Bengal, and variable winds in Chutia Nagpur.

The air was unusually humid during the whole week in Behar and Chutia Nagpur. The mean humidity was 85 per cent., the normal mean being only 75 per cent. In the other divisions it varied very slightly from the normal humidity.

The general character of the rainfall has been already noted. Excessive rain was received in Behar and Chutia Nagpur. In these areas the number of rainy days averaged 4·8, the normal being 1·5. Rain was also received on a larger number of days than usual in South-West and North Bengal and in Orissa, but the average rainfall did not differ much from the normal. In East Bengal alone was the rainfall deficient to any marked extent

On the 2nd local showers of little importance fell in Orissa, South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur. On the 3rd general rain began in Behar. It was heaviest on that day in the Chumparun, Mozufferpore and Sarun districts. Sinhar (in Mozufferpore) received 6·76 inches, Bettiah 5·11 inches and Chuprah 3·96 inches. A few showers of little importance fell in the other divisions The rainfall of the 4th was general in Orissa, Chutia Nagpur, South Behar and the western districts of North Behar. Light showers also fell in the southern and central districts of North Bengal, and local showers elsewhere. It was nowhere excessive in amount. On the 5th and 6th rain fell in the same districts as on the 4th, and was heaviest on the 5th in the Gya and Monghyr districts. Rainfalls exceeding three inches were registered at Shaikpura (Monghyr) 5·07 inches, Shereghati 3·72 inches, Aurungabad 3 38 inches. The rainfall of the 6th was exceptionally heavy in the Shahabad and Gya districts. The former received an average of 4½ inches on that day, and the latter 3¼ inches. The most remarkable falls on that day were—Shereghati 7 inches, Bhabooah 5 54 inches, Dehree 5·5 inches and Sasseram 5 inches. The rainfall of the 7th and 8th was less concentrated, and extended over the whole province, although the largest amounts were received in Behar.

In Orissa the rainfall was in excess in all divisions, the average fall being 2 inches or 38 per cent. in excess of the normal. In South-West Bengal every district except Nuddea obtained more than its average amount; Burdwan received the largest average, 2¼ inches. The average for the whole division was 1·53 inches, 54 per cent. in excess. The rainfall was in defect in East Bengal and the northern districts of North Bengal The deficiency was most marked in Chittagong, which obtained an average of ¼ inch, the normal average being 2¼ inches. North Behar received an average of 4·4 inches, the normal mean fall of the week being only 1·6 inches. In South Behar an average of 5 20 inches fell, nearly five times the normal amount, 1·13 inches. The rainfall was excessive in Chupra (average fall 8·81 inches), Shahabad (average fall 8·02 inches), Gya (average fall 6·66 inches), Patna (average 5·93 inches), Chumparun 5·71 inches. These districts obtained from three to seven times the amount of their normal rainfall of the week. Chutia Nagpur obtained an average of 4·45 inches, upwards of five times its normal amount. In the Hazaribagh district, which received an average of 5·86 inches, the rainfall was almost as excessive as in the adjacent districts of Behar.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 8th of October 1886 :—

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

The 16th October 1886.—The following rules passed by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the payment of revenue by means of postal money-orders are published for general information. As an experimental measure, the rules will come into force on the 1st November, only in the districts of Burdwan, Bankoora, Beerbhoom, Midnapore, Hooghly, Howrah, Dacca, Furreedpore, Backergunge, and Mymensingh.

Rules relating to Revenue Money Orders.

These rules are divided into five parts—

PART I.—Form of Revenue Money Order.
PART II.—Issue of Revenue Money Orders.
PART III.—Payment of Revenue Money Orders.
Section A.—Payment from Disbursing Offices at the head-quarters of districts.
Section B.—Procedure to be followed in the Collectorate.
PART IV.—Treatment of Revenue Money Orders not accepted by the Collector.
PART V.—Disposal of Acknowledgments.

PART I.

THE FORM OF REVENUE MONEY ORDERS.

1. The Revenue Money Order form is divided into four parts, viz. :—
(a) the Money Order,
(b) lower portion of Money Order or the Receipt,
(c) the Coupon or Chalan,
(d) the Acknowledgment.

2. Parts (a) and (b) require no description, as they are exactly like the corresponding portions of the ordinary inland Money Order form. Parts (c) and (d) are considerably larger than the Coupon and Acknowledgment of an ordinary Money Order. Part (c) contains on one side all the particulars required by the Treasury and on the reverse instructions for remitters of Revenue Money Orders. Part (d) is on one side a duplicate of the Chalan and is returned to the remitter as his receipt; on the reverse of this part are the remitter's name and address.

3. This form is to be used for Revenue Money Orders only and for no other purpose.

4. The forms of Revenue Money Order should be freely distributed among the revenue-paying classes, and no restrictions whatever should be placed in the way of zemindars obtaining these forms.

5. Every Postmaster, Sub-Postmaster and Village Postmaster will be personally responsible that a sufficient supply of Revenue Money Orders is always available in his office. In cases of emergency, supplies may be obtained by telegraph direct from the Stock Depôt of the Circle. Divisional Superintendents and Inspectors when visiting offices will see that a sufficient supply of Revenue Money Order forms is available, and mention in their diaries and inspection reports that they have done so.

PART II.

ISSUE OF REVENUE MONEY ORDERS.

6. Revenue Money Orders are issued from every Head, Sub and Village Post Office under the rules which govern the issue of ordinary Inland Money Orders. The following paragraphs contain additional instructions which relate solely to the issue of Revenue Money Orders :—

7. No Revenue Money Order may be issued for more than 50 rupees. The rule prohibiting the inclusion of pies (fractions of an anna) in the amount of a Money Order is not applicable to Revenue Money Orders, which may be for amounts including any fraction of an anna not less than one pie.

8. The Office of Issue will help the remitter in making the requisite entries, and, if necessary, will make entries for him in the form of a Revenue Money Order, but no fee or any other gratification whatsoever is to be demanded or accepted, either directly or indirectly, by any official of the Postal Department for this service. Disregard of this order will be punished by dismissal of the official in fault, who will, moreover, be liable to any further penalties provided by law.

9. The Office of Issue is responsible that no Revenue Money Order is issued of which the Coupon (Chalan) is blank or is not completely filled up. The Post Office has no means of ascertaining the correctness of the information supplied by a remitter; all that it is necessary to see is that entries are made against every printed item in the Coupon (Chalan), and that the Money Order is not for a larger sum than 50 rupees.

10. The letter "R" should be written before the number of every Revenue Money Order, and this mode of distinguishing Revenue Money Orders should be adopted wherever the number is entered.

11. The number assigned to a Revenue Money Order by the Head Office or Selected Sub Office of Issue will also be entered at the top of the Coupon (Chalan) by the Money Order Clerk of the Head Office or the Sub-Postmaster of the Selected Sub Office of Issue as the case may be. The number on the acknowledgment will, as in the case of an ordinary Money Order, be the number of the receipt given to the remitter.

12. On the 5th of every month Head and Sub Offices will prepare a return (Form $\frac{4}{R.M.O.}$) of all Revenue Money Orders issued during the last month, and forward the same to the Disbursing Postmaster who will compile a General District Return and submit it to the Head of the circle not later than the 15th of the month following that to which it relates. Village Offices will not submit returns, as Revenue Money Orders issued from such offices will be included in the returns of the Account Offices to which they are attached. The district return submitted by the Disbursing Postmaster will be in Form $\frac{5}{R.M.O.}$

PART III.

PAYMENT OF REVENUE MONEY ORDERS.

SECTION A.—Procedure in the Disbursing Office.

13. When the Revenue Money Orders are in all respects ready to be handed over to the Postman, a list in duplicate (Form $\frac{2}{R.M.O.}$) should be made out by the Money Order Clerk, and the entries in the money column of the list carefully totalled.

14. The Money Orders, both copies of the list, and a slip receipt (Form $\frac{3}{R.M.O.}$) duly filled up, should then be handed over to the Postman for delivery at the Collectorate, the Postman's receipt for the documents being taken in the usual manner in the register of Money Orders received.

15. The Postman will deliver all the documents mentioned in paragraph 14 to the treasury officer (or other responsible official authorized by the Collector, in writing, to receive Revenue Money Orders and whose name has been communicated by the Collector to the Postmaster), and will take back to the Post Office the slip receipt duly signed by the officer receiving the Money Orders. The slip receipt will be kept by the Money Order Clerk under lock and key.

16. When the original list, duly signed by the treasury officer or other authorized officer, is received back, along with the refused Money Orders (if any), the Postmaster will give in exchange for the list a treasury voucher (Form A C—17) representing the value of the Money Orders accepted, as shown in the certificate at the foot of the list.

17. The Postmaster should on no account give a treasury voucher, in payment of Revenue Money Orders, without receiving the original list with the certificate of acceptance written at the foot thereof.

18. The Postmaster will be responsible always to have sufficient funds at his credit in the district treasury to meet Revenue Money Order demands, and it will be his duty, when giving a treasury voucher, to see that there are funds in the District Treasury to meet it.

19. The original list and the slip receipt will be filed together by the Money Order Clerk. The refused Money Orders (if any) will be dealt with in accordance with the instructions laid down in Part IV of these rules.

20. On receipt of the Money Orders, together with the receipts and ackowledgments duly signed, the Money Order Clerk will examine and compare all the documents with the original list already in his possession and with the duplicate presented to him along with these documents and if all are found correct will sign the duplicate list and return it to the Collectorate official who brought back the documents to the Post Office.

21. The Money Order Clerk should be particularly careful to see that he receives from the Collectorate an acknowledgment for every Money Order accepted, and that every acknowledgment which he receives is in acknowledgment of the full amount of the Money Order to which it appertains.

22. The Money Order receiveds back from the Collectorate, with their receipts, will be entered in the Journal of Money Orders paid and be disposed of in the usual manner. The acknowledgments will be returned to the remitters in the manner described in Part V of these rules.

23. The amount of the treasury voucher will be entered in the Post Office and Treasurer's cash day books and the cash account on the receipt side opposite the item "Drawn from District Treasury," and will be included in the sum entered on the disbursement side under the head "Amount of Money Orders paid." The amount will also appear in the Treasury account as money drawn from the District Treasury. All these entries must be made on the same date.

24. Before the duplicate list is finally returned to the Collectorate, the Money Order Clerk will carefully compare it with the original and see that they are exactly alike, any remark recorded in the one list (either in the Collectorate, or by the Money Order Clerk, or the Postmaster) being copied in the other list.

25. It will be the duty of the Money Order Clerk to report to the Postmaster if the Money Orders and other documents sent to the Collectorate are not returned to him before 12 o'clock (noon) on the day following that on which they were sent.

26. The Money Order Clerk will report to the Postmaster every case in which the Coupon (Chalan) of a Revenue Money Order received by him is blank or is imperfectly filled up.

27. On the 5th of every month the Money Order Clerk will prepare a return (Form $\frac{6}{R.M.O.}$) of all Revenue Money Orders received during the last month, and this return will be submitted by the Postmaster to the Head of the circle along with the District Return of Revenue Money Orders issued.

SECTION B.—Procedure to be followed in the Collectorate.

28. On receipt of the Money Orders, with other documents, in the Collectorate, the treasury officer, or other responsible official authorised as above (see Rule 15) to receive Revenue Money Orders, will carefully compare the entries in the list with the Money Orders, and, when satisfied of their correctness, will sign the slip receipt and hand it over to the Postman who has brought the documents to the Collectorate, retaining the other papers for subsequent disposal.

29. The next business to be done in the Collectorate will be the careful examination of the Money Orders to see that the necessary particulars of remittance are given in each case, and that the Money Orders are otherwise such as should be accepted.

30. The original list, together with refused Money Orders (if any), must be returned to the Post Office and a treasury voucher be obtained immediately on the certificate of acceptance being signed. The officer signing the certificate will be responsible that the check prescribed in paragraph 29 has been carried out, and that the original list, with the certificate duly endorsed, is returned to the Post Office on the day of receipt.

31. On receipt of the treasury voucher from the Post Office the treasury officer will on the same day credit the amount thereof in the accounts of the Collectorate as remittances received by means of Money Orders from the zemindars concerned, and will charge the amount against the monthly letter-of-credit of the Postal Department as money paid to the Disbursing Postmaster.

32. After the amount of the treasury voucher has been credited in the Collectorate in the accounts of the mahals concerned, the acknowledgments will be signed by the appropriate officers.

33. The Money Orders will then be signed by the treasury officer or other officer authorized as above to receive them, and that officer, after detaching the Coupons (Chalans) from the Money Orders, will return the original orders, with the receipts, acknowledgments, and the duplicate list, to the Post Office and retain the Chalans in the Collectorate.

34. When the duplicate list, with the Postmaster's acknowledgment for the documents returned to him written thereon, is received back from the Post Office, it should also be filled in the Collectorate.

35. The original Money Orders with their receipts and acknowledgments must be returned by the Collectorate before 12 o'clock (noon) on the day following their receipt. This period is on no account to be exceeded.

PART IV.

TREATMENT OF REVENUE MONEY ORDERS NOT ACCEPTED BY THE COLLECTORATE.

36. If the Collector or the officer to whom he delegates authority in this matter declines to accept a Money Order, because of the omission of necessary particulars in the Coupon (Chalan), or other cause, the Money Order will be treated as refused and be disposed of in the usual manner.

PART V.

DISPOSAL OF ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

37. The acknowledgments appertaining to Revenue Money Orders received from the Collectorate will be sorted separately for each office of issue and enclosed in envelopes (Form $\frac{9}{\text{R. M. O.}}$) addressed to the Postmasters of those offices; the numbers of Money Orders to which the acknowledgments appertain being detailed on the back of the envelopes, thus $\frac{103}{314}$ where 103 is the number of the acknowledgment and 314 the number of the Money Order.

38. These envelopes will be entered in detail, in a special memorandum book (Form $\frac{7}{\text{R. M. O.}}$) and be despatched as letters registered on Postal Service. The total number of acknowledgments closed in each envelope will be the registered number assigned to that envelope.

39. On arrival in the Office of Issue, the envelopes will be opened and the acknowledgments contained in each envelope compared with the entries on the back thereof. The acknowledgments will then be stamped with the Money Order stamp and be sorted for distribution to Postmen. The numbers of all acknowledgments to be given to each Postman will be detailed separately in a special memorandum book (Form $\frac{8}{\text{R. M. O.}}$) and the Postman's signature obtained against the entry. The acknowledgments will then be handed over to the Postmen. The envelopes will be retained for 12 months sorted in daily and monthly bundles, and will be destroyed after the expiration of that period.

40. The Postmen will enter the acknowledgments in detail in their books, and will obtain the remitter's signature or mark when delivering each acknowledgment.

41. Acknowledgments which cannot be delivered in consequence of the remitter not being found will be returned by the Postman to the Sub-Postmaster or the Money Order Clerk (as the case may be), and his signature obtained in the Postman's book.

42. Undelivered acknowledgments will be kept in the Office of Issue (if a Head Office) for a period of 12 months, and, if still unclaimed, will be destroyed.

43. In Sub Offices and Village Offices undelivered acknowledgments will be retained for a period of three months, and, if still unclaimed, will be forwarded to the Head Office under a Postal Service Registered cover. Such acknowledgments will be kept in the Head Office for a further period of nine months, and, if then still on hand, will be destroyed.

44. Postmasters, Sub-Postmasters and Village Postmasters of the Offices of Issue will be responsible that acknowledgments are delivered to remitters of Revenue Money Orders without any unnecessary delay and free of charge. Enquiries as to the punctual and free delivery of acknowledgments should be made from time to time from zemindars who may call at the Post Office to have Revenue Money Orders issued.

CALCUTTA SMALL CAUSE COURT.

NOTICE.

IN accordance with suggestions contained in a report to the High Court, signed by Mr. Justice Wilson and Mr. Justice Trevelyan, on their inspection of the Calcutta Small Cause Court, a new system will, on and after the 28th October 1886, be tried for the purpose of revising the list of cases which come daily into the court.

All summons cases will, on the returnable date of the summons, come before one only of the Judges, who will revise the whole list of the court for each day.

He will go through the list, enter "compromises," make decrees in cases in which the defendant does not appear, give fresh summonses in cases where the summons has not been served, grant necessary postponements, ascertain what causes are defended, and dispose of any cases which, in his judgment, can be disposed of summarily.

This would leave the whole time of the other Judges free for the trial of defended causes. The defended causes will be assigned by the Judge revising the list to the lists of the different Judges on the earliest possible days, and will be adjourned by him to those days. The Judge revising the list will have before him the list of each Judge for each day, so far as already filled up, and will arrange that there should always be a sufficient number of cases, say 25 or 30, on each Judge's list. Each of the other Judges will thus have each day his list of defended cases provided for him When a second summons has been granted, the case will, on the new return day, come again before the Judge who revises the list for that day.

If under this system a Judge should at any time find his list becoming clogged, he will communicate with the revising Judge, and inform the latter that he must have a day or days left clear to enable him to pull up. Thus if on the first of the month a Judge finds that his lists were getting blocked, and that it will take a day to get them clear, he will tell the revising Judge that this is the case. The latter, when revising the lists of the Judge in question, may see that they are already filled, say up to the 9th: he will leave the 10th blank. The Judge who had found himself blocked, knowing that the 10th would be a clear day, will use his discretion: he will either go on as usual up to the 10th, trusting to clear himself on that day, or will adjourn a sufficient number of cases to that day to enable him to take the other cases as nearly as possible on their proper dates.

ADJOURNMENTS.

No "costs of the day" will be allowed on adjournments.

Nor will adjournments be allowed, even by consent, except upon good cause shown.

By order of the Court,

COURT OF SMALL CAUSES OF CALCUTTA,
The 28th July 1886.

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

PROPOSED RULES UNDER THE NEW PETROLEUM ACT, XII OF 1886.

IN exercise of the powers conferred by sections 8 and 11 of the Petroleum Act, 1886, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal is pleased, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, to make the following rules to regulate the importation, possession, and transport of petroleum :—

PRELIMINARY.

1. (1) All words and expressions used in these rules, and defined in the Act, shall in these rules have the meanings respectively assigned to them by the Act.

(2) In these rules "petroleum declared dangerous" means petroleum which the master of a ship has declared under rule 2 to be dangerous petroleum.

"Certificated petroleum" means petroleum covered by a certificate granted at the port of shipment of such description as the Local Government may from time to time by written order prescribe, and to the effect that the petroleum is not dangerous petroleum.

"Uncertificated petroleum" means petroleum which the master of the ship has not declared under rule 2 to be dangerous petroleum, and which is not covered by a certificate as aforesaid.

"Petroleum reported dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report signed by the Testing Officer appointed by Government, and deposited in the office of the Port Commissioners, to be dangerous petroleum.

"Petroleum reported not dangerous" means petroleum stated in a report as aforesaid not to be dangerous petroleum.

IMPORTATION AT CALCUTTA.

2. The master of every ship bound for Calcutta and carrying petroleum shall, before reaching Budge-Budge, declare in writing to the pilot—

(a) What quantity of petroleum the ship is carrying.

(b) Whether any and, if so, what part of the petroleum is dangerous.

(c) Whether any and, if so, what part of the petroleum is certificated.

When the master declares that any petroleum is certificated, he shall produce to the pilot the certificate covering the same.

3. If the petroleum is in iron drums with a certified flashing point above 80° by Abel's test and does not exceed 5,000 gallons in quantity,

Or if it is petroleum which has been certified not to be dangerous under section 9 of the Act, and has come from a port in British India as part of a general cargo, and the quantity does not exceed 5,000 gallons,

Or if it is certificated petroleum not exceeding 5,000 gallons in quantity and the master produces the certificate to the pilot,

Or if it is dangerous or uncertificated petroleum not exceeding 40 gallons in quantity, the ship may proceed to any mooring in the port and there discharge the petroleum.

4. Any ship having on board a larger quantity of petroleum than is allowed under rule 3 shall not proceed upwards further than Budge-Budge, and such petroleum, whether landed at the petroleum wharf or otherwise discharged, shall be detained there pending the grant of an import license under section 5 of the Petroleum Act, or the issue of a certificate under section 9, or the orders of the Local Government for the disposal of the same.

5. (1) When a ship is stopped at Budge-Budge under rule 4, the Superintendent of the Petroleum Wharf shall, as soon as possible, not exceeding 48 hours from the time of the petroleum being landed or discharged into boats, obtain samples of all the oil thus landed or discharged.

(2) Every different quality of oil shall be separately sampled, and when oil is represented to be of uniform quality, a sample shall be taken from one case in every 10,000 cases.

(3) The Superintendent shall forthwith seal the receptacles containing the samples, and having labelled them with the name of the ship, the name of the consignee, and such other distinguishing marks as may be necessary, shall forward them to the Testing Officer for report.

6. The Testing Officer shall, as soon as practicable, and ordinarily within 24 hours, after the receipt of the samples, sign a report certifying that they are, or are not, dangerous petroleum (as the case may be), and shall forward such report to the office of the Port Commissioners, sending also a copy of the same to the Commissioner of Police of Calcutta.

7. No petroleum shall be removed from the wharf limits at Budge-Budge until it has been certified to be not dangerous, except in accordance with a license granted under section 5 of the Act.

8. Unless with the written permission of the Commissioners, no petroleum shall be discharged or landed within the port of Calcutta, except between day-light and dark, and at the wharves expressly set apart for the landing of petroleum.

9. The fee for sampling and testing petroleum shall be five rupees for each sample tested.

10. No smoking, fire, or light of any description shall be allowed at the Budge-Budge Petroleum Wharf, and no receptacle containing petroleum shall be opened or the contents drawn off, within the bunds enclosing the sheds constructed for the storage of petroleum, except in such special place or places in the depôt as may be set apart by the Port Commissioners for that purpose.

IMPORTATION AT OTHER PORTS.

11. The master of every ship conveying petroleum shall, on entering a port in the Lower Provinces of Bengal other than the port of Calcutta, give intimation of the quantity and description of the petroleum to the Magistrate of the district, and shall not allow more than three gallons of dangerous petroleum to be removed from the ship for delivery to any one person, except upon the production by the consignee or his agent of a license under section 5 or section 6 of the Act (as the case may be) to possess the same.

GENERAL.

12. Nothing in the foregoing rules applies to petroleum comprised in a ship's stores, and manifested as such, provided it is not of unreasonably large amount. If any question arises as to whether any petroleum, manifested as ship's stores, is of an unreasonably large amount, the decision thereon of the Port Commissioners in Calcutta, and of the Magistrate of the district elsewhere, shall be final.

Possession of Petroleum.

13. The following rules shall extend, so far as they apply to dangerous petroleum, to all the territories administered by the Lieutenant-Governor, and so far as they apply to other petroleum, only to—

(1) the Town and Port of Calcutta;
(2) the Municipality of the Suburbs of Calcutta;
(3) the North Suburban Municipality;
(4) the South Suburban Municipality;
(5) the area at Budge-Budge bounded as follows:—On the north by the Budge-Budge Road, on the east by the Aitcheepore Road, on the south by the Gurria Khal, and on the west by the river Hooghly.
(6) the Municipality of Howrah.

14. Licenses for the possession of petroleum within the town of Calcutta shall be granted only when—(1) the quantity of petroleum to be kept in one place does not exceed 50,000 gallons, and (2) the place intended to be used for the keeping of the petroleum fulfils the following conditions, viz:—(a) If the quantity of petroleum to be kept in the place does not exceed 5,000 gallons, the building itself shall be constructed of masonry with a terraced or iron roof, and the doorways and other openings of the building shall be built up to a height of not less than two feet above the level of the road or street, or the floor shall be sunk at least two feet below the level of the road or street, so that the petroleum cannot flow out of the place in case of fire. (b) If the quantity of petroleum to be kept in the place exceeds 5,000 gallons, but does not exceed 50,000 gallons, the building itself shall be constructed of masonry with a terraced or iron roof, and the doorways and other openings of the building shall be built up to a height of not less than three feet above the level of the road or street, or the floor shall be sunk at least three feet below the level of the road or street, so that the petroleum cannot flow out of the place in case of fire, and there shall be a clear open space of at least 20 feet round the building.

15. Licenses for the possession of petroleum outside the town of Calcutta shall, if the quantity of petroleum to be kept in the place does not exceed 50,000 gallons, be granted on the same terms as those granted in Calcutta for the possession in one place of not more than 5,000 gallons. If a license for the possession in one place of a larger quantity than 50,000 gallons be required, the license shall be granted on the same conditions as those granted in Calcutta for the possession in one place of petroleum exceeding in quantity 5,000 gallons; provided that, if the place in which the petroleum is to be kept is situated within one hundred yards of the river Hooghly or Tolly's Nullah, or the Circular Canal, the building shall further be surrounded by a wall or earthen embankment not less than four feet high with a trench close to, and completely surrounding, the building, of sufficient capacity to hold all the petroleum stored, and to prevent its escape beyond the limits of the trench in case of fire.

16. The Magistrate of the district, or in Calcutta the Commissioner of Police, or any police officer of or above the rank of head-constable appointed by him in writing for this purpose, may enter any place in respect of which a license for the possession of petroleum has been granted, for the purpose of inspecting the same at any time after sunrise and before sunset.

17. The Magistrate of the district, Commissioner of Police, or any police officer as aforesaid may require a sample to be delivered to him from any receptacle containing petroleum stored in any licensed premises. The procedure prescribed in sections 12, 13, and 14 of the Act shall apply to any demand for samples made under this rule and to the testing of such samples.

18. The following fees shall be charged for licenses for the possession of petroleum under the Act in places situated within the town of Calcutta, the Municipality of the suburbs of Calcutta, and the Municipality of Howrah :—

	Rs.
Licenses for the possession of dangerous petroleum—
When the quantity to be stored exceeds 40 gallons (section 5), for every 40 gallons or fraction of 40 gallons	5
When the quantity to be stored exceeds 3 gallons, but does not exceed 40 gallons (section 6) ...	3

	Rs.
Licenses for the possession of other petroleum—
When the quantity to be stored does not exceed 1,000 gallons	12
When the quantity to be stored exceeds 1,000 gallons, but does not exceed 5,000 gallons ...		2 extra for each 1,000 gallons, or part of 1,000 gallons.
When the quantity to be stored exceeds 5,000 gallons		4 for every (additional) 1,000 gallons or part of 1,000 gallons, in excess of 5,000 gallons.

19. The fees for licenses for the possession of petroleum in places situated beyond the limits of the town of Calcutta, the Municipality of the suburbs of Calcutta, or the Municipality of Howrah, shall be half those prescribed in rule 18.

20. Every license for the possession of petroleum in any place shall specify the maximum quantity of petroleum which may be stored in that place.

21. Licenses for the possession of petroleum shall be in force for one year, from the date of the grant of the license, provided that the licensing officer may at any time, for good and sufficient reason, cancel a license.

22. No license shall be necessary for the Port Commissioners' sheds at Budge-Budge; nor shall any license be required for sheds used by the Port Commissioners for the temporary storage of petroleum brought into the port under rule 3.

Transport of Petroleum.

23. Licenses for the transport of petroleum reported not dangerous in quantities not exceeding 500 gallons may be either general or special. General licenses for a period of twelve months shall be issued for transport by cart only. Such licenses shall authorize the holders to transport by cart any petroleum bonâ fide their own property without restriction as to destination or quantity.

24. The holder of a general license shall with each consignment of petroleum conveyed under cover of his license issue a pass in Form F appended to these rules, specifying the places from and to which the petroleum is to be conveyed, and the quantity of petroleum covered by it. Each pass shall be numbered, and the number of the general license shall be legibly marked on a conspicuous part of the last case on the cart.

25. Special licenses for the transport of petroleum shall be in force for such period not exceeding six months from the date of the grant of the license as may be specified in the license.

26. Every special license for the transport of petroleum shall specify the places from and to which respectively the petroleum is to be conveyed, the quantity of petroleum covered by the license, and the time for which the license is in force.

27. Applications for special licenses for the transport of petroleum by rail, by boat, and by steamer, or by two or more of these modes of conveyance, shall specify the description and quality of petroleum to be transported, and the places from and to which respectively the petroleum is to be conveyed, and shall describe the receptacles in which it is to be contained.

28. When a license has been granted under these rules for the transport of petroleum, the Magistrate of the district, or in Calcutta the Commissioner of Police, or any police officer of or above the rank of head-constable appointed by him in writing for this purpose, may, at any time after sunrise and before sunset, and on or before the arrival of the petroleum at its place of destination, board any steamer or boat, or detain any cart in respect of which a license for the transport of petroleum has been granted, for the purpose of inspecting the license and seeing whether its provisions are being complied with.

29. The following fees shall be charged for licenses for the transport of petroleum under the Act:—

	Rs.
License for the transport of dangerous petroleum—
When the quantity to be transported exceeds 40 gallons (section 5), for every 40 gallons or fraction of 40 gallons	4
When the quantity to be transported exceeds 3 gallons, but does not exceed 40 gallons (section 6)	2
Special license for the transport of other petroleum—
When the quantity to be transported does not exceed 5,000 gallons	1
For every additional 5,000 gallons, or a part of 5,000 gallons ...	1
General license for the transport of petroleum by cart for twelve months	100

General.

30. Licenses for the possession or transport of dangerous petroleum in quantities exceeding 40 gallons will be granted, subject to the provisions of section 5 of the Act, under the signature of the Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Municipal Department, on the recommendation of the Commissioner of Police, if the application for the license is made in Calcutta, or of the Commissioner of the Division, if the application is made elsewhere.

Applications for such licenses should be made through the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, or the Divisional Commissioner, as the case may be.

31. Licenses for the possession or transport of dangerous petroleum in quantities not exceeding 40 gallons, and licenses for the possession or transport of other petroleum, will be granted in Calcutta by the Commissioner of Police or Deputy Commissioner of Police, at Budge-Budge by the Port Commissioners, and elsewhere by the Magistrate of the district, or by such other officer as the Local Government may from time to time, by an order in writing, appoint in this behalf.

32. Subject to the restrictions contained in section 5 of the Act, and Rules 14 and 15 of these rules, the licensing officer may, in his discretion, grant a license for the possession or transport of such quantity of petroleum as he thinks fit.

33. The licensing officer may, for special reasons to be reported to Government, refuse a license in any case.

34. Licenses granted under these rules shall be in the forms, and shall have endorsed on them the conditions, respectively, prescribed for them in the schedule hereto annexed. Every such license shall, on the breach of any such condition, be liable to be forfeited.

35. Every application for the renewal of a license shall be made in the same manner as an application for an original license. Every such application shall be made at a date not less than 15 days before the date on which the original license expires. The same fee shall be charged for the renewal of a license as for a new license.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO FRAME RULES UNDER THE PETROLEUM ACT XII OF 1886.

WE, the members of the Committee appointed at the 479th Meeting of the Commissioners to consider and report upon the rules for the importation, transport, and storage of petroleum under Act XII of 1886, have the honour to submit the following report:—

Meetings of the Committte were held on the 28th June, and on the 5th and 7th of July.

The general tendency of the alterations which we have suggested is in the direction of relaxing the restrictions provided by the existing rules We think that the experience of the last five years has shown that some precautions, which were thought necessary when the Act of 1881 was passed, may be dispensed with, and we desire to leave the trade as free as is compatible with public safety.

The rules fall under three general heads—importation, transport, and possession. The matters in respect of which rules may be made to regulate the importation of petroleum are specified in section 9 of the Act; rules relating to transport and possession fall under section 11.

In the preliminary section, we have substituted the testing officer appointed by Government for the Chemical Examiner to Government. This brings the rule into accordance with the wording of the Act, and the Chemical Examiner will not necessarily be the testing officer. He will probably be appointed in the first instance, but it will perhaps hereafter be found convenient to have a resident testing officer at Budge-Budge, so as to avoid the delay of sending the oil up to Calcutta to be tested.

In rule 3 we have raised the quantity of certificated petroleum which may be brought into the Port as part of a general cargo to 5,000 gallons. It has been represented to us that coasting steamers sometimes bring to Calcutta oil which has already passed the test at Bombay or elsewhere, and we think it unnecessary that such oil should be tested again. If the quantity is limited to 5,000 gallons, we think there is no danger of this liberty being abused.

Section 8 of the Act contemplates the possibility of the petroleum being discharged into boats instead of being landed, and we have modified the wording of rule 5 accordingly.

Rule 7 provides for a contingency which is apparently not covered by section 9 of the Act, and we therefore think the rule is necessary.

Rule 8 is intended to apply to the landing of petroleum both at the Budge-Budge wharf and at such other landing places within the Port as may be set aside for the landing of petroleum. We do not think that vessels which bring up 5,000 gallons of oil under rule 3 should be permitted to discharge the oil except at proper times and at suitable places.

The Act contemplates the fixing of fees for the sampling and testing of petroleum, and we accordingly give power in rule 9 to fix the fee at Rs. 5 for each sample tested. But we are disposed to think it unnecessary that this power should be exercised. The amount realized from such fees would be scarcely Rs. 1,000 a year, and it is not worth while, for so small a sum, to levy a charge which would certainly be unpopular, and might in some cases be troublesome to collect. We understand that no fees are charged at present for testing oil, and we recommend that Government should be asked to continue to allow the oil to be tested free of charge.

We have extended the rules for the possession of petroleum to the area at Budge-Budge surrounding the Commissioners' wharf and sheds. We think it undesirable, and indeed dangerous, that large quantities of petroleum should be stored in the immediate vicinity of the Commissioners' sheds, except under the precautions provided by the rules

In rule 19 we have left the charge for storage licenses as it stands at present. The scale was fixed after full and long discussion, and though we understand that the dealers complain of it as too high, we have not found sufficient grounds for altering it. The matter appears to us of less importance, because it is in contemplation to levy a municipal tax of 2 annas a case on all petroleum stored in the town, and if this proposal takes effect, the municipal tax will presumably be substituted for the present license fee.

Rule 23 declares that no license shall be required for the Port Commissioners' storage sheds at Budge-Budge or elsewhere. It is clearly unnecessary that these sheds, which are erected for the public convenience, should be licensed.

In the rules regarding transport, we have found it necessary to make special provision for the case of transport by carts. A cart does not take so much as 500 gallons of oil, and therefore no license is required for it; but the Advocate-General has given an opinion that a batch or string of carts, starting together, and conveying oil which is the property of one person, must be licensed. We propose to allow the owner of the oil to take out a general license, which shall be in force for 12 months, and to give passes to the cartmen who are in actual charge of the petroleum. A fee of Rs. 100 will be charged for such a general license. At the same time, we are of opinion that the earliest opportunity should be taken to vest Government with the power to free carts from the necessity for being licensed when carrying non-dangerous petroleum, not only because we are strongly of opinion that there is no necessity for interfering with the movement of non-dangerous petroleum when moved in quantities under 500 gallons on each cart, but also because the licensing of carts would lead to much public inconvenience, and probably be used as a means for extortion and oppression by native policemen. For special licenses, which will generally be for transport by boat, we have reduced the amount of the fee from Re. 1 per 1,000 gallons to Re. 1 per 5,000 gallons. We have authorized the Port Commissioners to grant transport licenses at Budge-Budge. It will manifestly be the most convenient plan that an owner who wishes to remove his oil from the sheds, should be able to obtain a license on the spot from the Superintendent of the Petroleum Wharf.

We recommend that the rules, as now revised, should be sent to the Commissioner of Police for communication to the Legal Remembrancer.

Berhampore, the 18th October 1886.

THE following Reports of the Bengal Meteorological Department, issued by orders by the Government of Bengal, can be supplied to the public at the prices annexed:—

1*st*.—Bay of Bengal Daily Report giving observations taken at 20 stations on or near the coast of the Bay, with a chart and summary. This is published in connection with the Calcutta Storm Signal Service. The report giving 10 A.M. observations of the day is distributed by peon in Calcutta after 4 P.M. Price to subscribers in Calcutta, Rs. 2 per mensem.

2*nd*.—Bengal Daily Report containing observations taken at 37 meteorological stations, and transmitted to Calcutta by weather telegrams, with a brief summary of the weather in Bengal during the preceding 24 hours. The report giving the 10 A.M. observations of each day is printed in time for the evening mail. This report for the present will only be published during the south-west monsoon, i e, from May 15th to November 15th. Price Rs. 2-8 per mensem, including postage.

3*rd*.—A Weekly and Monthly Statement of Meteorological Observations taken at 44 observing stations, and of rainfall recorded at 245 sub-divisional stations, together with summaries of the more important features of the meteorology of the past week or month of the province, and of the distribution of the rainfall and its variation from the normal. Price of the Weekly Report including postage, Rs. 6 per annum, payable in advance, and of the Monthly Summary Report, Rs. 2 per annum, payable in advance.

Subscriptions payable to the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of Bengal for the Bay of Bengal Daily Report, and to the Accountant and Treasurer, Bengal Secretariat, for the other reports.

Notes on Forestry

BY C. F. AMERY,

Deputy Conservator, Forests, N.-W. Provinces.

THIS little work, published with the approval of the Government of India, treats of the general principles of forest management in all its branches, and is recommended not only to forest officers, but to all who are interested in the progress of forest management in this country.

May be obtained of Messrs. King, King & Co., Bombay, and of Messrs. Wyman & Co., Calcutta. Price Rs. 3-8, or including postage, Rs. 4. Or of the publishers, Messrs. Trübner & Co., Ludgate Hill, London. Price five shillings.

The following revised advertisement is published in substitution of that which appeared at page 1044, Part II of the Calcutta Gazette of the 9th July 1884:—

The Indian Law Reports,

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat; the copies for subscribers registered by Messrs. Thacker, Spink & Co., are distributed by that firm; and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1885, the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows:—

Terms of subscription payable annually in advance.

For the complete series, including postage, Rs. 22-8.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE EXCISE DEPARTMENT FOR 1885-86.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—EXCISE.

Darjeeling, the 12th October 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The report of the Board of Revenue on the administration of the Excise Department for 1885-86.

The Board's detailed report on the several recommendations of the Excise Commission, to which reference was made in the Resolution recorded last year, was received during the year under review. As the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor on the report have been embodied in a separate Resolution, dated the 10th March last, it will not be necessary to refer to them again. He will, therefore, confine himself in the present Resolution to an examination of the Board's annual report.

2. The financial results of the year were a decrease of Rs. 4,67,386 in the revenue, and an increase of Rs. 15,908 in the charges. The largest falling off in revenue occurred in Calcutta (Rs. 97,841), Patna (Rs. 56,503), Bhagulpore (Rs. 45,134), Gya (Rs. 40,595), Chittagong (Rs. 30,598), Durbhunga (Rs. 28,902), Monghyr (Rs. 27,855), and Hooghly (Rs. 22,709);

while the most considerable increase was shown in Mymensingh (Rs. 30,460). The variations in each division and the incidence of the revenue were:—

It will be observed that the revenue decreased under every head, except charas, sidhi, majum, chundoo, and miscellaneous. An examination of the returns further shows that the sum of Rs. 95,81,583 represents the gross realization during the year including advance collections made on account of the succeeding year, the revenue for the year itself being Rs. 95,08,040.

4. The total number of shops licensed for the sale of country spirits was only 4,204 against 4,422 in 1884-85. Of these 590 were licensed under the sudder distillery system and 3,614 were licensed under the outstill system against 479 and 3,943 respectively in the previous year. The increase of shops under the sudder distillery system was due to the reintroduction of the system into large towns, where country liquor is the principal alcoholic drink of the people. It is a grave error to assume, as has been constantly done, that outstills and central distilleries are two systems opposed to one another, clearly defined and radically different in principle, and producing diametrically opposite results. The Excise Commission have shown that both systems have their proper place in the administrative economy of the province, the former being suitable for sparsely populated rural tracts, where great facilities exist for illicit distilling, while the latter is appropriate for towns, the neighbourhood of factories, and other localities where a considerable body of consumers is gathered together within a small and compact area. The sudder distillery system was during the year under review in force in Burdwan, Hooghly (except Jehanabad), Calcutta, parts of 24-Pergunnahs, Moorshedabad, Dacca, Gya, Durbhunga, Chupra, Betiah, Monghyr, Jamalpore, Bhagulpore,

Sonthal Pergunnahs, the head-quarters stations in Orissa, and Giridih in Hazaribagh. The decrease in the revenue from this branch of the excise was universal throughout the province, the largest falling off occuring in Calcutta (Rs 1,23,285), Gya (Rs. 79,987), Patna (Rs. 72,860), Bhagulpore (Rs. 59,994), Lohardugga, (Rs. 38,113), Durbhunga (Rs. 36,980), Hazaribag, (Rs. 27,252), and Chumparun (Rs. 24,477). The decrease in Calcutta is due to unfavourable settlements of surrendered shops owing to a temporary combination among the vendors, and in Hazaribagh and Lohardugga to unfavourable settlements owing to the partial failure of the harvest. In the remaining districts the chief causes of the deduction in receipts were bad harvests and the re-opening of suddor distilleries. That the changes recommended by the Excise Commission would, at the outset, have an unfavourable effect on the revenue from outstills in some places was to be expected; but this was a natural consequence of the reform. The Lieutenant-Governor, while fully satisfied of the wisdom of maintaining the outstill system in rural tracts, considers that the extension of this system to some urban areas resulted in an artificial increase in the revenue, accompanied by serious defects in administration; and he believes that a return to the method of direct control in large towns is advisable in the interests of good government. A very interesting chapter is devoted in the Board's report to showing in some detail the action taken towards carrying out the proposals of the Excise Commission from the commencement up to date

5. The number of wholesale licenses for the vend of rum fell from 23 to 20, and the number of licenses for the retail sale fell from 93 to 86. The revenue on the whole fell from Rs. 98,707 to Rs. 77,091 The quantity of rum of local manufacture passed for consumption is steadily diminishing in consequence of increased importation of foreign rum and cheap brandies. The revenue from licenses for the sale of imported spirits and wines fell from Rs. 2,28,218 to Rs. 2,18,466, notwithstanding that there was an increase in the number of licenses by 25. The number of licenses issued for the sale of tari was 19,555 against 19,577 in the previous year. The revenue amounted to Rs. 6,58,552 against Rs. 6,74,368, the decrease chiefly occurring in Hooghly, Calcutta, Patna, Gya, Mozufferpore, Durbhunga, Maldah, and Hazaribagh.

6. The number of licenses for the sale of pachwai was Rs. 2,162 against 2,168 in 1884-85, and the revenue fell from Rs 1,58,820 to Rs. 1,50,544. The actual results of the year itself, however, excluding arrear and advance collections, show a decrease of Rs. 13,437, the decrease chiefly occurring in Burdwan, Beerbhoom, Moorshedabad, and Darjeeling. The high price of rice—the raw material of pachwai—is considered to be the chief cause of the decrease in revenue.

7. The ganja crop of the year was less plentiful than in the previous year, being 3,887 maunds against 7,076 maunds, and the result was a considerable rise in prices. The wholesale price of flat ganja ranged between Rs. 15 and Rs. 40 against Rs. 6 and Rs. 35, and that of round ganja between Rs. 20 and Rs. 50 against Rs. 8 and Rs. 40. There was a decrease in the number of shops from 3,196 to 3,033; in the quantity consumed from 5,798 maunds to 5,717 maunds; in the revenue from license-fees from Rs. 8,62,417 to Rs 8,60,991; and in the revenue from duty from Rs. 11,25,183 to Rs. 10,85,636. The actual results of the year itself, however, shew a decrease of Rs. 56,076 in the total revenue realized from ganja. There were no cases of ganja smuggling of any importance reported during the year.

8. There was a decrease of 93 in the number of licenses issued for the sale of excise opium, a decrease of 34 maunds in consumption, and a decrease of Rs. 25,954 in the revenue realized By far the largest decrease occurred in the Chittagong district, where comsumption had for years shown an increase without any proportionate increase in the amount levied from license-fees—a fact which pointed to extensive smuggling of the duty paying drug into Burmah. During the year under review, however, more active measures have been adopted to prevent illicit dealings both in Chittagong and in Burmah with the result that while the quantity passed for consumption was reduced by 33 maunds 3 seers, the reduction in license-fees was only Rs. 110. These results are creditable to the local officers.

9. The number of arrests for offences against the excise laws was 4,122 against 4,228 in the previous year, and the number of persons convicted was 3,583 against 3,576. Of the persons arrested, 3,582 were other than licensed vendors, 460 committed breaches of license, and 80 were employed in the Excise Department.

10. The Board bring to notice the neglect of the Deputy Commissioner of the Sonthal Pergunnahs and his subordinates in the matter of the inspection of distilleries. The Lieutenant-Governor will await the explanation called for from these officers.

11. The names of the officers selected by the Board for special mention will be noted in the Appointment Department. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to thank the Board for their careful and efficient adminstration of the Excise Department during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE ORISSA DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1885-86.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 19th October 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Orissa Division for 1885-86.

Mr. Metcalfe, who submits the report, was in charge of the division throughout the year, and there were hardly any changes among the district and sub-divisional officers. The district report for Cuttack, however, was submitted after Mr. Currie, who had held the post of Magistrate and Collector throughout the year, had gone on leave; and as that officer is said to have left no notes for the guidance of his successor, the report was necessarily incomplete. The Commissioner should take measures to prevent the recurrence of such omissions on the part of district officers.

Annual tours

2. The Commissioner was unable, owing to the special circumstances of the year, to visit the Gurjats or the Khondmals; his attention was therefore confined to Orissa proper, and so many questions of pressing importance arose in succession in different parts of the division, that Mr. Metcalfe's tour was necessarily more a series of local investigations than a systematic circuit of the districts under his charge. Of the district officers, the late Mr. Porch, at Pooree, made an exceptionally long tour, extending over 175 days, and Mr. Currie was in camp for 92 days in Cuttack; but Mr. Grant, of Balasore, was away from his head-quarters for only 49 days, and the explanation submitted by him of his shortcoming in this respect is altogether unsatisfactory. The sub-divisional officers of Bhuddruck and Khorda made sufficient tours, but that of the sub-divisional officer of Jajpur was 20 days short of the required limit

Rainfall, weather and crops.

3. In Pooree the rainfall was scanty, 33·80 inches in the Sudder sub-division, and 49·75 in the Khorda sub-division against five-year averages of 62·55 and 61·14 respectively. The Collector writes:—

"There were no rains from the middle of May to that of June, resulting in the puddling operations being retarded, and the crops in the several parts of this district drying up to some extent. Towards the latter end of the month of June 1885, a sudden high flood visited the district, which, though not of long duration, entirely damaged the crops on the low lands, where replanting was impossible. The sand crops on the Chilka tracts suffered very seriously from drought."

4. "There was also an unusual amount of rain in November and December, which, though advantageous to the spring crops, did considerable damage to the ripe crops in the ground. On the whole the year was an unfavourable one to the agriculturists of Pooree, and, as was to be expected, those of the Sudder sub-division, where the rainfall was almost a third less than in the Khorda sub-division, suffered most. The following is the Commissioner's estimate of the outturn of the most important crops (16 annas being taken as an average crop):—

Sub-divisions.	Ordinary proportion of harvest to food-supply.			Estimated outturn.
				As.
Sudder ...	Beali or early winter rice	10 per cent.	...	7
	Laghusaly sarad rice (winter)	27 „	...	8
	Sarad rice (winter)	40 „	...	9
	Dalua or spring rice	15 „	...	10
Khorda ...	Beali	10 „	...	8
	Lughi (Laghusaly ?)	35 „	...	8
	Sarad	45 „	...	10

The cyclone of September did no further damage in Pooree than blowing down trees, unroofing some houses, and injuring pán gardens and sugarcane in the north-eastern part of the Dandimal estate.

5. In the Cuttack district, also, there was less rain than usual; and it was remarkably deficient in the Sudder sub-division, in which the greatest fall is generally registered, but which this year shows lower figures than any other sub-division of the district. A sufficient quantity of rain, however fell in the months of July, August, and September, when it was most needed, and the Commissioner reports that "the weather up to the day of the cyclone (22nd September) was all that could have been wished for, and there would have been a bumper crop this year had not the cyclone occurred." This terrible visitation destroyed all hopes of good crops in the Jajpur and Kendrapara sub-divisions, and it was attended also with great loss of houses and other property, of live-stock, and of human life. In the Kuldeep pergunnah of Kendrapara, the whole of the cultivation was lost, and in the pergunnah of Kerora the loss amounted to 75 per cent. Ten thousand head of cattle are reported to have been destroyed; and the loss of human life is estimated at 5,000. The measures taken to relieve the distress following on this calamity have been fully detailed in reports already given to the public; and it is sufficient to reproduce here the Commissioner's summary of what has been done—

"Immediate measures were taken for the relief of the surviving distressed people by sending down rice for gratuitous distribution and establishing grain depôts; and tuccavi advances are now being given to enable the people to reconstruct their houses and purchase cattle. These advances are being made from the funds of the Konika Ward's estate, and, with the sum expended on agricultural implements, will probably amount to Rs. 50,000."

6. The important agricultural results of the year are shown in the following table:—

7. Balasore was very little affected by the great cyclone; and the storm-wave accompanying it, which would otherwise have destroyed a large area of good crops, was kept out by the coast-canal embankments; so the only part of the district that suffered was the narrow tract unprotected between the canal and the sea. The Collector writes—

"Of course the cyclone caused loss to the individuals whose crops were wholly or in great measure destroyed. The greatest mischief was done to a certain triangular shaped area, in which lies the Government estate of Birso, where the loss has been estimated at about three-fourths of the crop. In the small portions of the Basudebpore and Chandbally thanas, where the wave managed to penetrate inland of the canal, the loss is put at about half of the crop, but the proportion of cultivated land on the sea face of the canal is small, and the area touched on the land face is small. The mischief done to the district as a whole was very slight indeed as regards the crops. The people concerned had enjoyed a long run of good agricultural years, and the last year had been most extraordinarily good, while the price of produce had been most unusually high. They could not therefore have been in a better position to face this misfortune, and evidently have not suffered much from it; what they feel most is the loss of cattle, for the wave came while the cattle were on the sea-side grazing grounds, and about 1,400 heads were destroyed in all. The district has escaped very lightly from what would have been a most grave calamity had it not been for the coast canal embankment."

The rainfall, though not up to the average of previous years, was well distributed, and the sarad rice crop (the only important crop in the district) is reported to have been "quite exceptional." The Commissioner's tabular statement, however, states the outturn at 16 annas, which should represent only an average crop.

Public health.

8. The registered mortality in Cuttack rose from 38,646 to 41,617, a ratio of 23·9 per mille of the population. The increase in natural deaths was entirely under the heads of cholera and bowel-complaints, owing to the people on the coast tracts using damaged food and salt-water after the storm-wave had passed over their villages. Under the head of "Injuries" the total number of deaths registered for the whole district is 3,127; but as the Commissioner reports, in another paragraph that the number of deaths by drowning in the cyclone is estimated at 5,000 for the Kendrapara sub-division alone, these statistics are clearly very wide of the mark. Special mention is made of Baboo Baidyanath Pundit, Bahadur, of Killa Durpan, for his liberality in engaging to establish in Cuttack a dispensary for the treatment of native females. The general health of the district of Pooree was fairly good during the year; but there was an increase in the mortality of the town of Pooree itself. The Civil Surgeon concludes that, because cholera is more prevalent when the town is crowded with pilgrims than when they have left it, the disease is not locally bred, but imported. The Commissioner is, however, of opinion that the periodical outbreaks of cholera "are chiefly due to the bad drinking-water that the town supplies to the large number of pilgrims and also to the residents of the place." His proposal for improving the water-supply is now under the consideration of Government. Both of these views appear to leave out of sight the general insanitary condition of the town, and the excessive overcrowding and bad quality of the food-supply during the most popular religious festivals. With the exception of the narrow tract of land that suffered from the storm-wave, where fever and cholera prevailed, Balasore enjoyed a remarkably healthy year. The recorded total of deaths fell from 26,545 to 20,641, and the number of deaths from cholera was less than half that of the previous year. Forty-five vaccinators were at work in Cuttack during the year, and were successful in 48,429 out of 50,838 operations, the cost of each successful case being 1 anna 9 pie. Very little vaccine work was done in the rest of the division.

Material condition of the people.

9. The Commissioner's report exhibits a very striking contrast in the condition of the people of the two adjoining districts of Cuttack and Balasore. In the former district the cyclone left a considerable proportion of the population of two sub-divisions almost destitute, and relief operations are still carried on amongst them; while throughout the district the people were, in Mr. Metcalfe's opinion, worse off than in the previous year. But of Balasore, on the contrary, a very bright picture is given in the following extract from the Collector's report:—

"The extraordinary good fortune which has made the year as agriculturally prosperous as was the last, has of course had a great effect in improving the material condition of the people The comparatively small numbers whose crops suffered by the cyclone are of course an exception, but the general rule is a considerable increase in wealth As I said before, not only is the harvest very nearly as large, but the prices of produce continue to be as high as in 1884-85, which showed the largest harvest and the highest prices known in Balasore These two consecutive bumper years have come after a series of good years. The improved mode of life of the people is now a thing plain to the most superficial observer. I have actually heard the people accused of wicked extravagance because, instead of hoarding away all their earnings, they have expended parts in improving their dwelling-houses, their food, their furniture and their clothing I can only repeat what I have said elsewhere, that it is to me the best news I have heard since I came to Orissa"

There was no marked change in the general condition of the people of Pooree.

Prices of food and labour.

10. In Cuttack and Pooree the average price of rice was considerably higher than in the previous year, the figures for the two Sudder sub-divisions being 15 seers 8 chittacks and 17 seers 9 chittacks, respectively, against 18 seers 8 chittacks and 19 seers 9 chittacks in 1884-85. In Balasore, where prices are kept up, in spite of good harvests, by the export trade, there was very little change. The average for the Sudder sub-division was 21·4 seers, and that for the Bhuddruck sub-division

29·7 seers to 22·66 and 29 seers in the previous year. There was no change in the wages of labour.

Manufactures, mines.

11. The only subject noticed by the Commissioner under this head is the manufacture of salt. The mineral resources of the province—the coal of Talcher and Angul, and the iron said to exist in some of the hilly tracts—must remain unexplored until the extension of the Indian railway system to Orissa makes it profitable to develop them; and beyond the gold and filigree work of the Cuttack town, which is rather an art than an industry, there are no manufactures worthy of the name.

Sales of locally manufactured salt fell off in Cuttack and Balasore, and the net receipts decreased in the former district by Rs. 39,998, and in the latter by Rs 30,305. In the case of Cuttack the Commissioner considers that the decrease is due to illicit trading, while the Balasore manufacture is, as last year, reported to be a dying business, kept up only on account of large illegitimate profits to which it serves as a cloak. The Orissa Salt Department has now been transferred to the Commissioner of Salt Revenue, Madras. There was an expansion of sales in Pooree owing to reduction of prices, and the net revenue increased by Rs. 23,483.

Trade and Commerce.

12. The total value of the trade of all the Orissa ports during the year was Rs. 1,80,54,315, thus distributed—

	Rs.
Balasore Ports	1,44,82,262
Cuttack, False Point	31,96,423
Pooree	3,75,630

The progress of the Balasore ports has been very rapid during the last few years, a large quantity of traffic having been diverted from False Point to Chandbally, which is conveniently situated as a port for both Cuttack and Balasore. The Pooree trade, which made a great advance in 1883-84, again shows symptoms of decline.

13. No statistics are available of internal trade; but the Commissioner thinks "it is evident that considerable development has taken place in this kind of trade since the past few years." He adds—

"The trade with the Madras Presidency is partly carried on by boats passing through the Chilka lake, and partly by carts passing by the Ganjam road. The principal articles of imports are ghee, turmeric, molasses, chillies, and glass ornaments, &c., and those of exports, rice, cocoanuts, salt, dried fish, &c. Timber and fuel wood are also imported in the same way from some of the Tributary States for use in all the districts of the Division."

14. Mr. Metcalfe writes, in another section of his report, of the success of the experiments made last year in nankin khaki-coloured cotton on the Khorda Government estate; and if the cultivation of this cotton could be introduced, it might become an important article of trade. The military authorities, however, who represent almost the whole body of consumers of this cotton at present, are unable to offer the rates demanded by the Orissa cultivators; and unless the crop can be grown more cheaply, it seems improbable that this new staple can be added to the products of the district.

Public feeling and Press.

15. The subjects which excite interest in this Division, which, in spite of some improvement in communications is still remote from the centres of thought and intelligence in Upper India, are almost exclusively local. The Collector of Cuttack reports that the transfer of the service of the water-rate certificates from the canal revenue officials to the Collector's nizarut, appears to have been a popular measure; and he also states that the educated Muhammadans of the district have taken much interest in the proceedings of the Committee appointed to enquire into Muhammadan educational endowments. The Cuttack presses produce two weekly and three monthly journals, and at Balasore two weekly newspapers are published. All are reported to have been moderate in tone, with the exception of the Utkul Darpan of Balasore, which was discontinued during the year. The Lieutenant-Governor's tour through the Province is mentioned as a leading subject of interest in the Pooree district.

Police and Crime.

16. The Commissioner writes: "Judging from the smaller number of punishments inflicted both departmentally and judicially, it appears that the conduct of the police generally was more satisfactory than in the year before." He, however, considers that many of the Sub-Inspectors sent from Bengal are not efficient, and suggests that such officers should be selected from the local colleges and schools or appointed after examination.

The figures given below show the result of trials in the Divisions:—

Cases cognizable by Police.

Districts.	Cases.		Persons.				Percentage of conviction to arrest.	Percentage of acquittals to arrest.
	Brought to trial.	Convicted.	Arrested during the year.	Brought to trial.	Convicted.	Acquitted.
Cuttack	2,320	1,106	2,510	2,483	1,654	687	65·8	27·3
Pooree	2,658	907	2,587	1,723	1,544	1,001	59 6	38·6
Balasore	1,153	323	978	1,029	553	381	56 5	36·9
Total ...	6,031	2,336	6,075	6,234	3,751	2,069	61·7	34·05

Cases not cognizable by Police.

Districts.	Number of cases instituted.	Number of persons tried.	Number of persons convicted.	Percentage of conviction to trial.
Cuttack	3,080	1,683	834	49·4
Pooree	2,038	1,525	785	51·4
Balasore	1,231	861	519	60 2
Total ...	6,349	4,069	2,138	.....

There was a slight increase in the amount of reported crime, which rose from 11,993 cases in 1884 to 12,738 in 1885. More than half the excess is accounted for by greater activity in prosecuting nuisance cases in Cuttack.

Civil Justice.

17. In all districts of the division there was an increase in civil litigation during the year under review In Cuttack it was confined almost entirely to money suits, while the increase in Pooree was most marked in suits for title (61 per cent.), explained by the Commissioner to be due to the completion of the land revenue settlement of the Khorda Government Estate, which has left all disputes to be taken up by the courts instead of by the settlement officer. The Balasore figures call for no special comment.

Land and Land Revenue.

18. The current demand of land revenue was Rs. 18,71,022, and the arrear demand amounted to Rs. 2,25,910. Of the total, Rs. 20,96,932, the collections, Rs. 18,42,014, amounted to 87·8 per cent. Though the revenue receipts nearly equalled the current demand, the realizations were unsatisfactory on estates managed directly, either as being the property of Government, or on account of the recusancy of the proprietors. This is only very partially accounted for by the floods which devastated some estates, and there are indications that this branch of the administration requires the special attention of the Commissioner. The road and public works cess collections were also unsatisfactory, and partition cases show a tendency to accumulate unduly.

Rent-suits.

19. The following statement shows the different classes of rent-suits instituted during the year in the three districts of the Division—

	Cuttack.		Pooree.		Balasore.
	1884-85.	1885-86.	1884-85.	1885-86.	1884-85.	1885-86.

2. Suits to establish or contest rights to enhancement ...	2	.....	1	9	2	0
3. Suits regarding illegal exactions, &c.	126	66	25	47	55	61
4. Suits relating to ejectment	54	54	279	725	20	82
5. Notices of enhancement, &c.	82	62	19	14	50	71

The Commissioner writes—

"Cuttack shows a decrease under all classes of suits and applications, except those for recovery of arrears of rent. The increase under this head is, however, slight, being 5·48 per cent., and was due to no special circumstances indicative of any unpleasant relation between the landlords and tenants. On the other hand, the decrease in the cases of illegal exactions, &c., shows that there was less friction between them than in the year before. The Collector observes—'It is satisfactory that the cases of deposits of rent have fallen considerably. Last year there were many such cases from killah Coojung and pergunnah Apila in consequence of demand of enhanced rent, &c.; this year there has been a decrease in such cases.'

"In Pooree the decrease in the number of suits instituted for recovery of rents is said to have been due to a smaller number of suits being filed this year by the zemindars of Kotdesh and Limbai, and also for the lakhrajdars having recovered their rents in most cases by distress. As regards the increase in deposit of rent included in miscellaneous applications, the Collector attributes it to disputes regarding land which led the tenants to pay their rents into the treasury.

"But in Balasore the increase of rent-suits, especially under suits for enhancement of rent and notices of deposits, shows an unsatisfactory state of affairs as regards the relations between some of the landed proprietors and their tenants. Writing on this subject, Mr. Grant remarks as follows:—

"'The increase in the number of suits is due to the fact that the relations between landlords and tenants continue to be decidedly unsatisfactory. I am sorry to say I have in previous years written fully on this subject, and have nothing to add, except that matters seem to be growing worse. The landlords seem more than ever determined to endeavour to raise their rent-rolls, urged on (I do not doubt) by the fact that a new settlement and the new law of landlord and tenant are both simultaneously approaching. The ryots are more than ever determined to resist, and there are many signs that they are beginning to combine for this purpose.'"

The observations of the Collector of Balasore may be justified by facts within his knowledge, but are hardly suggested by the moderate increase in litigation shown in the return. Enhancement suits numbered nine in 1885-86 against two in the previous year.

Stamps.

20. The stamp revenue of the Division increased from Rs. 2,97,347 in 1884-85 to Rs. 3,22,790 in 1885-86—a rise of 8·5 per cent., in which all three districts share. The increase was most marked in court-fee stamps.

Excise.

21. The total receipts under Excise amounted to Rs. 5,16,224 against Rs. 5,10,833 in the previous year. The depressed condition of the people in Cuttack and Pooree naturally resulted in a decrease in the excise revenue of those districts; but the rise in the prosperous district of Balasore was more than sufficient to counteract these losses. The decrease in Cuttack was Rs. 1,344, spread over all heads of excise except ganja, which was nearly stationary, and madat, in which there was some increase. On this the Collector writes—

"The increase in madat, specially in a year of poverty, deserves notice. It has made so rapid progress in this country during the last few years that its consumption has extended even amongst many of the poorest Oriyas in the interior, who live only by manual labour. The result is that theft cases of most trifling nature increased gradually to find means to purchase the drug. The consumers are said to become weak and disinclined for labour. It is said that the habit of madat smoking is being contracted by females also."

The Commissioner has called for further information on this important subject. In Pooree also there was a slight increase in madat, and a remarkable rise in the receipts from opium; but diminished receipts under the head of ganja and country spirits caused a decrease in the total revenue. On the decrease in ganja receipts, the Commissioner writes as follows:—

"The decrease in receipts under ganja was due solely to decrease in consumption, which fell off by 20 maunds 36 seers 14 chittacks as compared with the previous year. This unfavourable result was due to the smuggling of Gurjat ganja. The people of the district do not at all like Rajshahye ganja, and since the prohibition of importation of Gurjat ganja, they have used it by illicit importation. In cases detected, the quantities of this drug illicitly imported, which were seized, aggregated so much as 2 maunds 24 seers 6 chittacks. From this it may be inferred that a considerable quantity must have been passing into the district without detection. It is a well-known fact that the whole of the temple cooks daily use Gurjat ganja smuggled into the town."

The question of Gurjat ganja is now under the consideration of the Board. The receipts in Balasore rose by Rs. 7,142, the largest increase being under country spirits and opium, due, in the latter case, to the breaking up of a ring of monopolists.

License-tax.

22. License tax receipts aggregated Rs. 36,581 : the whole of the tax was collected during the year, with the exception of Rs. 500 in Pooree (of which only Rs 10 remained outstanding at the date of the Commissioner's report) and Rs. 24 in Balasore.

Roads and communications.

23. No new work of any importance was carried out on the roads of the division during the year, and in Cuttack several important roads, severely damaged by the cyclone, do not yet appear to have been put in thorough repair. The passenger traffic of the steamers plying between Cuttack and Chandbally and the Balasore ports continues to increase, and is indeed limited only by the amount of accommodation afforded. During the year the total number of passengers increased from 132,444 to 137,780.

Education.

24. The Ravenshaw College (the only college in Orissa) and the affiliated collegiate school were not so successful in passing candidates for the Arts and Entrance examinations, respectively, as they had been in 1884-85. It is to be regretted, as the Commissioner remarks, that the higher classes in Orissa are still so indifferent to education ; there is not a single student of this class of society in the Ravenshaw College, except the minor Maharajah of Mohurbhanj, now under the control of the Commissioner in his capacity of Superintendent of the Tributary Mehals. The survey school at Cuttack continues to be a useful institution, and of 25 of its students who went up for the final examination in April 1885, 23 passed A hostel for the accommodation of students is being built in the same town, from funds supplied by the Rajah of Keunjhur, and will soon be ready for occupation. In comparing the divisional statistics of 1885-86 with those of the former year, the most noticeable feature is a large decrease in the number of lower primary schools. The figures are as follows :—

Class of Schools.	1884-85.								1885-86.
	Schools.				Pupils.				Schools.				Pupils.
	Cuttack.	Pooree.	Balasore.	Total.	Cuttack.	Pooree.	Balasore.	Total.	Cuttack.	Pooree.	Balasore.	Total.	Cuttack.	Pooree.	Balasore.	Total.
Primary.
Lower	4,527	2,388	2,222	9,137	58,507	29	34,930	116,336	3,834	1,639	1,871	7,344	58,496	24,049	11,474	114,019

The decrease is attributable to two causes—the temporary disappearance of many small schools after the disastrous cyclone, and the exclusion from the return of 900 schools with less than 10 pupils on their rolls. It is satisfactory to note that the number of students decreased in a much smaller ratio than the number of schools. On the education of the lower castes in Orissa, the Commissioner makes the following observations :—

"The good example set by Cuttack in the way of providing schools for pupils of the low castes has not been followed by the other two districts. The number of such institutions in Cuttack has advanced from 6 to 13 There are 223 pupils in these schools, consisting for the most part of Kelas Bourees, Kandras, Pans and Dhobees. Education amongst these people is a very up-hill business, partly from their own apathy, and partly from the existence of strong popular prejudices against them."

Excellent progress has been made in female education in Cuttack. During the year under review the number of girls under instruction in that district increased by 590, and the number of successful candidates at the departmental examination was 64—a total said to be far in excess of the number passed in any previous year in the whole division. The number of schools to every 100 square miles is 100 in Cuttack, 70 in Pooree, and only 18 in Balasore; and the last-named district also compares unfavourably with the other two in the results of the examinations of all standards.

The temple of Jagannath.

25. The following numbers of persons are reported to have been present at Pooree at the important festivals of the ye r:—At the Car festival, 70,000; at the Pandah festival, 40,000; and at the Dolejatra festival, 40,000. There were 277 deaths from cholera at the first of these gatherings, and 29 at the second. The mortality at the third is not reported. The management of the temple affairs has been the subject of many complaints and serious inconvenience during late years; and it is hoped that the arrangements recently made by Government will set matters on a better footing. The Lodging-house Act is reported to have been worked with exceptional success by Dr. Lyons, the Medical Officer of Pooree. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Mr. Metcalfe who takes a keen interest in the progress of the Orissa Division and in the proper administration of the Tributary States by their Chiefs. He has already received the acknowledgments of Government for his energetic efforts to relieve the wide distress caused by the storm-wave of September 1885.

26. The Commissioner's remarks on the work of his subordinates will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

PROHIBITION AGAINST THE INTRODUCTION INTO WESTERN AUSTRALIA OF HORNED CATTLE, SHEEP AND SWINE FROM PLACES BEYOND THE LIMITS OF THE AUSTRALIAN COLONIES.

No. 3308—86, dated Perth, the 13th August 1886.

From—M. S. SMITH, Esq., Acting Colonial Secretary, Western Australia,
To—The Hon'ble the Home Secretary to the Government of India, Calcutta.

I HAVE the honour, by direction of His Excellency Governor Sir F. N. Broome, to enclose six copies of a Proclamation, issued on the 26th ultimo, prohibiting the introduction into Western Australia from any place beyond the limits of the Australasian Colonies of all horned cattle, sheep, and swine, and to request that you will kindly give due publicity to the same.

No. 2676.—C.S.O.

PROCLAMATION

Western Australia, to wit.

(L. S.)
F. NAPIER BROOME,
Governor.

BY His Excellency SIR FREDERICK NAPIER BROOME, Knight Commander of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Territory of Western Australia and its Dependencies, &c., &c., &c.

WHEREAS under the provisions of an Act of the Legislative Council, passed in the 43rd year of the reign of Her present Majesty, numbered 23, intituled "An Act for the prevention of the Importation of Diseased Stock," the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, is empowered by Proclamation to prohibit the introduction into the Colony, either by land or sea, of any cattle within the meaning of the said Act and of "The Cattle Diseases Ordinance, 1865," and "The Imported Stock Act, 1876," or either of them: Now THEREFORE I, the said Governor, in exercise of such power and of all other powers enabling me in this behalf, do by this Proclamation, with the advice of the Executive Council, prohibit the importation into, and landing in, Western Australia, either by land or sea, from Great Britain or Ireland, or from any other place beyond the limits of the Australasian Colonies, of all horned cattle, sheep, and swine.

Given under my hand and under the Public Seal of the said Colony, this twenty-sixth day of July 1886.

By His Excellency's Command,

M. S. SMITH,
Acting Colonial Secretary.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN!!!

NOTIFICATION.

The 18th October 1886.—The following is published for the guidance of gentlemen who are assisting Mr. H. H. Risley in the ethnological enquiries on which he is engaged.

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

ANTHROPOMETRIC INSTRUCTIONS.

(For Bengal Assistant.)

1. When about to commence measurements in any particular jail, the assistant should, in the first place, communicate personally or by letter with the Superintendent and the Jailor, and should arrange with the latter to have all the men of the caste selected for measurement on a particular day mustered in the jail yard or in any place that may be convenient.

2. Having got the men arranged in line, the assistant will pick out from 20 to 25 persons, or as many as he expects to be able to measure during that visit, and will take them to the jail office, or to any place, such as an empty ward or work shed, that may be allotted by the Superintendent for the purpose of conducting the measurements. Care will of course be taken not to choose more men than will actually be wanted during the day, so as to avoid unnecessary interference with the work of the jail.

3. In selecting subjects, the assistant will take only full grown men between the ages of 25 and 45. Accurate determination of age being of course impossible, and the age entered in the Admission Register of the jail being often inaccurate, the assistant must use his judgment in the matter, and be careful to reject any persons who are obviously not fully grown, or who appear to be over 45. Dwarfs, deformed persons, cripples, and men who have suffered from any disease affecting the form of the nose should be rejected. In measuring the higher castes it will be as well also to reject persons of very black complexion and with very broad and depressed noses, as in such cases there is at least a suspicion of the intermixture of low caste blood. Similarly among the lower castes, men of very fair complexion and high caste type of feature should be rejected. The object is to determine the standard type of each caste, and for this purpose individuals of clearly exceptional colouring and feature should be excluded.

4. While the subjects are being selected, the clerk will have taken out, wiped and arranged the instruments in the order in which they will be required, and will have provided himself with writing materials. The subjects should be made to sit down in line, and great care should be taken that this order is not disturbed, and that if a man gets up and goes out he returns to his proper place in the line. If this rule is not observed, the subjects will get mixed, and the dimensions recorded under one serial number will belong to different individuals. The risk of this is not so great if all the measurements required are taken consecutively on each subject. But, after trying both plans myself, I think the simplest and most expeditious plan is to take all the measurements for which the same instrument is required on each subject in order. For instance, all the subjects should be measured in order with the cephalometer, each man after measurement returning to his own place, then with the nasometer, then with the graduated square and steel pointer, and last of all with the goniometer. If the services of a jail warder should be available, as I have usually found to be the case, he may be told off to watch the subjects, to see that they do not change places, and to bring them up in order for measurement.

5. As each subject is brought up, the assistant should call out the jail number stamped on the wooden ticket round the prisoner's neck. This will be written down by the clerk under the serial number in column 1 of form I, thus $\frac{1}{5015}$. The jail number will enable the clerk to fill in columns 2 to 7 inclusive from the jail books (Admission Register) after the measurements have been completed. Weight should be entered as it stood when the prisoner was admitted, unless there are special reasons for taking his weight as ascertained at some subsequent period.

6. The points from and to which each measurement is taken are stated in appendix I to my note on Topinard's anthropometric system, and the instructions given there are illustrated by lithographs. In the description of the frontal measurement E—E the word "maximum" is wrong. It should be "minimum." I will now add a few remarks on each measurement, derived from experience acquired since the note was written.

7. Cephalic dimensions.—These are taken with the cephalometer (compas d'épaisseur de Broca). The subject should be seated on a chair or stool. For the anteroposterior diameter (A—A^1 in Fig. I) the starting point is the glabella. This should be felt for with the forefinger, and the instrument so held that its point will pass along the forefinger and remain firmly on the glabella. Care must be taken that the point does not slip off the glabella. The point of maximum length at the back of the head will usually be found nearly in the same plane with the glabella. In searching for it, the assistant must keep the posterior point of the cephalometer moving up and down in the central perpendicular line of the back of the head, and at the same time must watch the graduated scale of the instrument so as to see when the maximum diameter has been reached. The assistant should note that the inion or occipital protuberance is not the point to be measured to. If the assistant finds it difficult to read the scale of the cephalometer which is graduated rather minutely, he can use the magnifier supplied for this purpose. After having found the maximum, he should take care not to remove the instrument from the subject's head before reading off the measurement, or, if he does so, should tighten the screw. Experience shows that it is very difficult to remove the instrument without altering the reading, unless the screw has been tightened.

The maximum transverse diameter (B in Fig. I) is best measured from behind the subject. Its terminal points will usually be found somewhere near B. There is no special difficulty in measuring it. All that the operator has to do is to watch the graduation of the cephalometer, so as to see when he has hit upon the maximum diameter. He must also see that the branches of the instrument on either side are in the same plane.

8. Frontal dimensions.—The minimum frontal breadth is taken with the cephalometer from the points marked G in Fig. I. These should be felt for with the forefinger of each hand, and the points of the instrument directed accordingly. The minimum breadth will usually be found just above the external angle of the eyebrow.

In measuring the zygomata (posterior arches of cheekbones) care must be taken to hold the instrument steady, as the points are apt to slip off the ridges of bone on one side or other, and thus to record too small a dimension. For both measurements the subject may be either sitting or standing.

9. Nasal dimensions.—These are taken with the instrument which, for convenience of reference, I may call the nasometer (compas glissière de Broca). The lower point for the height of the nose is easily found. The nasometer being opened to the approximate height of the nose, the pointed end of the lower limb should be placed at the junction of the central nasal cartilage with the upper lip and pressed inwards and upwards until it meets with steady resistance from the nasal spine. The upper point also is easy to find in persons who have the root of the nose well defined. By feeling with the finger one can readily fix the point at which the bridge of the nose meets the frontal region of the skull and forms a depression or valley, the deepest point of which determines the measurement. This point can be either felt for and marked with red pencil or red ink before the instrument is applied, or can be ascertained by moving and adjusting the upper limb of the instrument itself.

Some races, however, notably Mongolians, such as Tibetan, Limbus and the like, have no well-defined depression at the root of the nose. In such cases a close inspection of the root of the nose will disclose either one or two transverse folds or wrinkles of skin running at right angles to the direction of the nose. Where there are two folds, the point of the instrument should be placed between them; where there is only one, the instrument should be placed on the fold. The folds are usually to be found about two millimeters above the transverse axis of the eyes.

The width of the nose (D—D in Fig. II) should be measured with the blunt ends of the nasometer. The object is to get the maximum width of the nostrils. The instrument therefore should just touch the skin on either side without depressing it.

I may mention here that all authorities agree in considering the dimensions of the nose the most valuable race-characteristic that can be tested by measurement. Special care should therefore be taken in measuring these, the more so as, the figures being comparatively small, the averages will be more liable to be thrown out by any error. The measurements are, however, easy to take, and if carefully done, show little variation in the hands of different operators on the same subjects.

10. Vertical proportions of the head.—These are the only measurements which present any serious difficulty, and after several experiments I hope that a mode of overcoming this difficulty has been discovered. The measurements are taken with the graduated T—square (Équerre céphalométrique), and the smaller steel sliding scale or the wooden triangular slide. Their accuracy depends upon the subject's head being exactly upright, and being kept in that position while the measurements are going on. There appear to be two recognised methods for placing the subject's head in an upright position The first, devised by Dr. Barclay in 1803, consists in making the subject hold with his teeth a flat plate of metal mechanically levelled. Topinard discusses this plan and condemns it as too complicated. For use in this country it is open to the further objection that unless all the subjects operated on at the same time belong to the same caste and sub-caste, the plate of metal would have to be continually washed in deference to caste prejudices. It also appears to me that if a man has got a plate of metal between his teeth, the height from the top of his head to the bottom of his chin cannot be correctly measured, and will in practice vary considerably. The second method, which Topinard prefers, "consists in directing the subject to look steadily at the horizon, and in correcting the position of his head if by accident or through nervousness he does not look straight before him in the natural manner." In this manner, Topinard adds, the head will be adjusted in accordance with the plane of vision, and will necessarily assume a correct position for the purpose of measurement.

We must, I think, take it on Topinard's authority that the head can be correctly placed by following these instructions. We are met, however, by the further difficulty that after the correct position has been ascertained the subject cannot keep his head absolutely still, and that every movement, however slight, materially affects the measurements. Having got the correct position, we want to fix it, in order that there may be no movement while the measurements are going on, and in order that the position may, if necessary, be reproduced for the purpose of repeating and testing measurements already taken. For this purpose I have had a small clamp with a horizontal bar attached to it, made by the Mathematical Instrument Department The clamp runs on the height measure which is in the box, and is used in the following manner:—

Adjust the subject's head correctly by the plane of vision as explained above. Then place the height measure with its plummet attached on the left side of the subject, and see by observing the plummet that the measure is upright. Run the clamp up until the horizontal bar attached to it touches the central cartilage of the subject's nose, and renders it impossible for him to depress his head. Then screw the clamp tight. The bar will rest exactly at the junction of the upper lip with the central cartilage—at the point, in fact, which forms the lower starting point for the measurement of the height of the nose (C—C^1 in Appendix I to the note). So long as the subject rests his nose on this bar he will be in the correct position as previously ascertained; and if the height of the bar on the graduations of the height measure is noted, the position can be reproduced at any moment. In fact the sources of error are reduced to one—the possibility of the subject raising his head,—and this can be easily guarded against by seeing that his nose is tightly pressed against the horizontal bar.

11. It will be seen that the horizontal bar in no way interferes with the process of measuring. It may even assist it, if the vertical arm of the T—square be steadied against the horizontal bar in taking the dimension from vertex to tragus. A jail warder will usually be available to hold the height measure steady; if not, the clerk can do this, or the subject can hold it himself.

12. The position of the head being thus secured, a few remarks may be added on the details of the measurements.

13. Height from vertex to intersuperciliary point.—(H—I in Fig. I.) The intersuperciliary point is defined by Topinard as "situated in the centre of a line drawn at a tangent to the convex surfaces of both eyebrows." It can be ascertained by laying the smaller metallic slide across the eyebrows, and drawing a line with red pencil along its upper edge, or simply by turning the slide slightly and pressing in the upper edge, so that it makes a slight depressed mark in the skin. The mark will last long enough to enable the measurement to be taken, and is perhaps more accurate than a pencil line. On the other hand, if a pencil line is made, the measurement can be repeated with greater certainty.

14. Height from vertex to chin.—This dimension is entered in column 19 of Form I. It can, however, be most conveniently taken immediately after the height from vertex to intersuperciliary point, as the T—square is in exactly the same position throughout. Care must be taken to read from the upper edge of the slide in measuring the chin dimension. The lower edge gives the reading for the intersuperciliary point if (as should be the case) the sharp point of the slide is touching the line drawn at a tangent to the convex surfaces of the eyebrows.

15 Height from vertex to tragus (H—K in Fig. I.)—According to Topinard, the point to be measured to is the centre of the tragus. K in figure I is therefore a trifle too low.

16. Facial angle of Cuvier (QNX in Fig. III).— A special instrument is provided to measure this angle. The subject holds between his teeth the small projection in the centre of the instrument; the bosses are put into his ears and held there; and the indicator is adjusted so that the round knob at the end of it touches the glabella. The angle is then read off on the scale. It should be observed that the upper front teeth are the point which determines the angle. If by reason of any malformation of the teeth the subject cannot grip the instrument himself, the operator should hold the instrument so that the projection is in contact with the upper front teeth. Care should be taken that the flexible band of steel which passes through the ear bosses is drawn fairly tight, and the instrument should be given time to settle before the angle is read off. When persons of different castes or sub-castes are being measured at the same time, each subject should, if he wishes to do so, be allowed to wash the part of the instrument which touches his teeth, after it has been used by another person. The assistant must, however, not allow the instrument to be roughly handled or bent in the process of washing, and must oil it very thoroughly afterwards.

17. General.—In reading all the instruments fractions of a millimeter should be disregarded, and the nearest whole figure taken. In practice it rarely happens that the indicator exactly divides a millimeter. The clerk must write clearly. After writing down each figure, he should repeat it to the operator, so as to make sure that he has recorded the measurement correctly.

The assistant will remember that minute accuracy in measuring is the one essential point. Inaccurate measurements are not merely worthless and misleading in themselves, but will throw out the averages of the whole set of figures concerned. If therefore a doubt arises as to the accuracy of any particular dimension, the measurement should be repeated. If after several trials the results still vary, an average should be struck, and that average entered in the form.

The foregoing instructions will apply in the main to measurements taken among the free population. In that case arrangements will have to be made for weighing the subjects. As a rule, there will be no great difficulty in this.

When the day's measurements have been completed and written up, the assistant will sign the form and despatch it to me by post. The number of persons measured should be entered in the blank space after the words "measurements of."

All the instruments must be carefully oiled after use with crude Rangoon oil or vaseline.

JOHN ELIOT,

Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.

METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL SUMMARY OF THE PROVINCE OF BENGAL FOR THE MONTH OF SEPTEMBER 1886.

THE weather conditions in Bengal during the month of September resemble in general character those of July and August. The south-west monsoon continues to bring up large amounts of aqueous vapour, which is condensed and distributed more or less irregularly over the province, but in strict accordance with the varying conditions from day to day. During the earlier weeks of the month, the rainfall, more especially in the western districts, is, in part, due to the Bombay branch of the monsoon current. This gives way earlier than the Bay of Bengal branch, and usually in the first or second week of September. The Bay of Bengal current also weakens and thins off during the month, and hence produces a smaller proportional effect in the western districts of the province than in the earlier months of the monsoon. Hence the rainfall decreases in amount generally over the province, but the decrease is usually much greater in the western divisions of the province, viz. Behar and Chutia Nagpur, than in Bengal and Orissa.

The intermittent character of the monsoon rainfall has been frequently pointed out in previous summaries. Each heavy burst of rainfall appears to exhaust for the time being the supplies of aqueous vapour available for condensation. Hence after each such burst the monsoon current falls off, and appears to die away in and near its northern limits. Local variable winds set in over the Gangetic plain and extend eastwards. This goes on until the moisture current in the rear accumulates fresh supplies of aqueous vapour and renewed energy, when it again advances and gives general rain. The majority of these advances accompany a certain amount of atmospheric disturbance, which frequently takes the form of small moving depressions or cyclonic circulations or storms. These usually occur near the front of the increasing monsoon current, or near its limits of retreat. Hence these depressions may originate either over the land or the sea, according to the strength and other conditions of the monsoon current at the time. The chief meteorological features of the month are usually the depressions which introduce and accompany the bursts of rain. Their place of formation, the rapidity with which they follow one another, and the total amount of rain they give, depend mainly upon the strength of the monsoon current itself, whilst the directions which the depressions pursue, and the local distribution of rainfall, are determined by the local meteorological conditions prevalent during their formation and existence.

Normal distribution of rainfall.—The average distribution of rainfall for the month of September depends mainly upon the geographical relations of the province to the Bay of Bengal monsoon current, which are similar to those of the preceding month. The withdrawal of the Bombay branch westward deprives a portion of the province (chiefly the western districts) of one of its sources of rainfall, and also somewhat alters the conditions and relations of the province to the other branch. Hence the average distribution of the month of September differs, more especially in the western districts, considerably from that of the two preceding months of July and August.

The average rainfall of the month exceeds 20 inches in the districts at the foot of the hills in North Bengal Between this area and a line running west and east through Bogdogra, and also in a small area in East Bengal including Fenny and Noakholly, the mean rainfall varies between 15 and 20 inches. Between these areas and a curved line defined by the stations of Bettiah, Durbhunga, Bhagulpore, Godda, Berhampore, Goalundo, Manickgunge, Bagirhat, Diamond Harbour, Kendrapara and Pooree, and thus including the greater part of North-East and South-West Bengal and the northern districts of North Behar, the average rain is from 10 to 15 inches. In the area to the south and west of this line, including the whole of Behar, except the most northern portions, the northern and central districts of South-West Bengal, the Sonthal Pergunnahs, Chutia Nagpur, and the western districts of Orissa, the average rainfall is less than 10 inches, and ranges between 6 and 10 inches. The greater part of South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur, within this area, has an average varying from 8 to 10 inches. The average rainfall of the month is least in the Patna, Gya and Shahabad districts of South Behar, and in a small area in South-West Bengal, including the stations of Magoorah, Bongong, Ranaghat, Krishnagur and Culna. In these districts the average rainfall very slightly exceeds 6 inches, and ranges between 6 and 7 inches.

Meteorology of the month.—The past month has been characterized by abundant and in some districts excessive rain. Backergunge, Noakholly, and the Chittagong Hill Tracts in East Bengal, and the Singhboom district of Chutia Nagpur, are the only districts in which the rainfall of the month was below the average. The deficiency in the three districts in East Bengal was comparatively small and of little importance, and was about 25 per cent. in Singhboom. In all other districts the rainfall was in excess, and in many cases largely so. North Bengal and South Behar received each nine inches more than the normal, Orissa five inches, North Behar and South-West Bengal four inches, Chutia Nagpur three inches and East Bengal one inch.

In the four districts of Dinagepore, Gya, Bhagulpore and the Sonthal Pergunnahs, the rainfall of the month was more than double the normal or average amount, as shown in the table :—

District.	Average rainfall, September 1886.	Normal average rainfall.	Percentage of actual to normal average.
Dinagepore	26·73	9·21	290
Sonthal Pergunnahs	21·57	9·50	227
Gya	17·35	6·16	281
Bhagulpore	17·15	7·39	233

The time distribution of the rainfall during any period is of even greater importance than its total amount. From this point of view the comparison of the data contained in the two following tables is of interest. The first table gives the stations at which the total rainfall of the month was more than double the normal amount, the average rainfall of the month, the ratio of the actual to the normal expressed as a percentage, and the greatest rainfall in 24 hours :—

District.	Station.	Total rainfall of month.	Average rainfall of month.	Percentage of actual to average.	Greatest fall in 24 hours.

	Jehanabad	16·87	5·61	301	2·82
	Gya	16·86	7·04	239	5·88

The following table gives the rainfall data of those stations at which the heaviest rainfall of the month exceeded 8 inches :—

District.	Station.	Heaviest rainfall in 24 hours.	Total rainfall of month.	Average rainfall of month.
Durbhunga	Bahera	11·65	21·11	?
Chumparun	Burhurwa	11·51	15·17	?
Dacca	Joydebpore	9·67	19·81	?

	Alipore	8·05	30·85	?
Darjeeling Hills ...	Buxa Fort	10·32	41·13

The comparison of these two tables shows that the heaviest rainfalls in 24 hours did not occur in the districts of most excessive rainfall. It also indicates that in the plain districts not directly under the influence of the hills, the heaviest rainfalls not only occur under a combination of conditions which are of comparatively rare occurrence, but which also tend to induce local changes of atmospheric conditions opposed to the recurrence of rain. This is most strikingly shown in the case of Sinhar in the Mozufferpore district. On the other hand the excessive rainfall in the Dinagepore, Bhagulpore, Gya districts, and the Sonthal Pergunnahs was due to frequent heavy showers during the whole month, and hence accompanied a more or less permanent meteorological condition of these districts with respect to the invading humid current. An exhaustive analysis of the relations of the monsoon rainfall during any month, and the meteorological conditions would hence require the determination of—1st, the conditions (chiefly external to the province) upon which depend the strength of the monsoon current, and therefore of its aqueous vapour supplies : 2nd, the conditions which determine the distribution of rainfall during the month in the different parts of the province. These are internal, and usually more or less permanent : and 3rd, the conditions which determine the occurrence of excessive local rainfall for brief periods. These are not only local, but also transitory in character, and much more difficult to ascertain than either the first or second sets of conditions.

Four depressions formed during the month and gave general and heavy rain in the province. The greater part of the rainfall of the month was brought up from the Bay by the indraught to them The following gives a brief account of their chief features :—

I. Depression of September 5th to 11th.—This was land formed and was initiated in Central Bengal on the 5th. Cyclonic circulation of the air was fairly well marked on that day over Bengal, and general rain fell in Bengal and Behar. The area of low pressure and of rainfall extended northwards and westwards on the 6th. It then began to concentrate in Behar and Chutia Nagpur, so that on the 8th there was a moderately deep depression, the centre of the air circulation of which was clearly defined, and lay between Bhagulpore and Patna. No change occurred on the 9th. It then moved slightly westwards, and the centre was nearer to Patna than on the 8th. Heavy general rain fell in all divisions between the 7th and 10th. It was exceptionally heavy in North Bengal and Behar. The depression began to fill up on the evening of the 10th and disappeared on the 11th.

II. Depression of September 13th to 17th —A short break in the rains followed the disappearance of the first depression. The second depression formed in the north-west angle of the Bay. The shift of the winds in South Bengal on the 13th was the first indication of its existence. During the period of gradual change of the winds over the province, heavy rainfall occurred in North Bengal on the 13th and 14th. The depression developed slightly on the 14th and 15th, and drifted slowly northwards. It crossed the Orissa coast on the evening of the 15th, passed into Chutia Nagpur on the 16th, when it spread out into a shallow depression over the greater part of Chutia Nagpur and Behar, and rapidly filled up.

III. Depression of September 18th to 24th.—This was formed slowly in the north-west angle of the Bay. Its existence was first indicated by the wind directions at the coast stations on the 18th. It continued almost stationary, increasing slightly in intensity until the 20th, and advanced to the coast of Orissa. The centre passed inland between False Point and Balasore on the evening of the 21st. Like the previous depressions, it moved through Chutia Nagpur (on the 22nd) into South Behar, which was during the month apparently a kind of sink to which the Bay of Bengal depressions naturally tended and drifted. Moderately strong cyclonic circulation of the air prevailed in Behar on the 23rd and 24th, when the depression filled up. It gave heavy rain to Orissa, South-West Bengal, and South and Central Behar, and moderate rain to Chutia Nagpur. Heavy rain also fell for a brief period in North Bengal on the 23rd and 24th, whilst the disturbance was breaking up in Behar.

IV. Depression of September 24th to 30th.—This was apparently formed off the Arracan and Pegu coast on the 24th, but did not begin to influence the Bengal coasts until the 27th, when it was approaching the Ganjam coast. It was apparently unable to surmount the Orissa hills and remained almost stationary in the immediate neighbourhood of that coast until the end of the month, when it filled up. The indraught produced by it gave heavy rain to Orissa and South-West Bengal, moderate rain to Behar, the Sonthal Pergunnahs and Chutia Nagpur.

The variations of pressure during the month were not large. They were mainly due to the four depressions of the month, which were all of very small intensity as measured by the fall of the barometer. Hence the mean pressure of the month differs very slightly from the normal. The mean pressure in Orissa was ·02″ in defect, of South-West Bengal ·01″ in defect, of South Behar and Chutia Nagpur normal, of East Bengal ·01″ in excess, and of North Behar ·02″ in excess.

The temperature of the month was, in consequence of the unusually heavy rainfall, below the average in all divisions except East Bengal and (perhaps) Orissa, where it was normal. The mean daily temperature of the month was 2° below the average in Behar, 1° in Chutia Nagpur, and ½° in South-West Bengal. The mean daily range of temperature averaged 9° in Bengal, 10½° in Behar, 12° in Chutia Nagpur, and (if the Cuttack maximum temperatures can be relied upon) was greatest at Cuttack in Orissa, where it averaged 15½°.

Ordinary monsoon winds obtained throughout the month, except during the existence of the depressions, when the air motion in the province was determined by their position. The following table shows that the average air motion was almost identical with the normal :—

The rainfall of the month was fairly well distributed. There were only two well marked breaks in the rains and these did not extend over the whole province. The first break extended from the 1st to the 4th and was general in Behar, Chutia Nagpur, South-West Bengal and Orissa. On the 1st heavy rain fell in East Bengal, and on the 2nd in East and North Bengal and also in the Purneah district. The 3rd was a fairly dry day throughout the province. Heavy rain occurred over the greater part of North Bengal on the 4th. The first depression of the month gave general rain between the 5th and 11th. It was confined to South-West Bengal, North Bengal and Behar on the 5th, but extended to all divisions on the 6th. It ceased in Orissa on the 8th, but continued in all other divisions on that day and the 9th and 10th, although the amounts in South-West Bengal were small. The rainfall during this period was unusually heavy in South Behar and North Bengal. A short and partial break occurred between the 11th and 13th. From the 13th to the 25th more or less general rain fell in all parts of the province, chiefly in connection with the second and third depressions of the month. In Orissa and South-West Bengal the most general rainfall occurred between the 18th and 22nd. North Bengal received very heavy rain on the 23rd and 24th, whilst Behar and Chutia Nagpur had more or less general rain every day during this period. The rainfall was heaviest in North Bengal, North Behar and parts of Chutia Nagpur. North Behar, and North Bengal experienced a heavy burst of rainfall on the 25th. The second break in the rains commenced on the 26th. It was interrupted in South-West and East Bengal by general rain on the 28th and by moderately heavy rain in South Behar and Chutia Nagpur on the 29th and 30th.

The rainfall of the month ranged from 4·11 inches at Nasirnagar in the Tipperah district to 41 13 inches at Buxa Fort The rainfall varied between 6 and 10 inches in a small portion of North Behar represented by Sarun, Chuprah and Mozufferpore a considerable portion of Chutia Nagpur, a small district in South-West Bengal including Jenidah, Magoora, Chooadanga and Meherpore, and of East Bengal including Perozepore, Burrisal and Madaripore. It was between 10 and 15 inches over the remainder of South-West and East Bengal (excluding one or two small districts), and the greater portion of Behar, and portions of the Hazaribagh and Manbhoom districts of Chutia Nagpur. It ranged between 15 and 20, inches over the greater part of the Gya and Hazaribagh districts, the Sonthal Pergunnahs, Bhagulpore, Purneah, Rajshahye; a portion of Comilla including Chandpore, and nearly the whole of Orissa. It exceeded 20 inches in portions of Bhagulpore (represented by Bhagulpore and Monghyr), the Sonthal Pergunnahs represented by (Rajmehal, Pakour and Nya Doomka) and nearly the whole of Purneah, Dinagepore, Julpigori, Maldah, parts of Bogra and Rungpore and in Cooch Behar. It exceeded the areas represented by 30 inches at Rajmehal, Julpigori, Raigunj (Dinagepore district), Cooch Behar, Dinhatta (Cooch Behar) and Buxa Fort.

The rainfall of the month was in defect only in portions of the Bankoora, Backergunge, Tipperah and Mymensingh districts, and in Singbhoom. The deficiency exceeded 2 inches, the case of the Singbhoom stations. The rainfall was between 0 and 5 inches in excess over South-West Bengal, excluding parts of the 24 Pergunnahs, East Bengal, portions of the Pubna and Rungpore districts of North Bengal, and the whole of North Behar, excepting Purneah district and Seetamurhi thana, and it was between 5 and 10 inches over the whole of South Behar, excepting the greater part of Gya and Bhagulpore, nearly the whole of Orissa, and a part of the 24 Pergunnahs. It ranged between 10 and 15 inches in the Gya and Bhagulpore districts of South Behar, the Sonthal Pergunnahs, and the greater part of the Dinagepore, Maldah, Bogra, and Rajshahye districts of North Bengal. It exceeded 15 inches in portions of the Purneah, Dinagepore, Julpigori, Rajshahye districts and the Sonthal Pergunnahs.

The following table gives a comparison between the actual monthly and total rainfall, and the normal rainfall of the province up to the end of September in the same form that has been employed in the previous monthly abstracts of the present year. The figures represent the ratio of the rainfall of each month of the present year to the normal rainfall expressed as a percentage. The table thus gives a condensed summary of the rainfall data of the present year for each meteorological division. The first nine columns gives the percentage amount of rainfall received in each month, and the last column the percentage rainfall of the whole period from the 1st of January to the end of September

These figures hence sh w that every division, except Chutia Nagpur, has received a total rainfall above the average, and that the excess averages 14 per cent. for the whole province. The excess is greatest in Behar, where the rainfall of the year up to the end of September was 32 per cent in excess of the normal rainfall.

The following table gives full data for the comparison of the actual and the normal rainfall of the month of September in all districts of the province. The figures are derived in the manner explained in preceding monthly summaries. The first column gives the average district rainfall as determined from the rainfall observations of the past 15 years The second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfalls of the month at the reporting stations in the district. The third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall to the normal district rainfall expressed as a percentage. The fourth column gives the same information as the third column in a slightly different form. It states by what percentage the actual rainfal varied in excess (+) or in defect (—) from the normal rainfall:—

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the reading during the same period for the past ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number of rainy days is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell. The numerical means or averages of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional stations for the period in question during the past ten years. Mean of the observations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations.

* Mean for 6 days.
† ,, for 6 days.

Calcutta, the 19th October 1886.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 19TH OF OCTOBER 1886.

THE most important features in the meteorology of the province at the end of last week were two depressions—one in Behar, and the other over a portion of the west coast districts of the Bay and the adjacent sea area. The former had given heavy rain to Behar for some days, but was showing indications of filling up at the end of the week. The latter continued to form a permanent feature of the meteorology of the week under review. At the commencement of the week (on the 9th) pressure was highest in East and North Bengal and over the east and west of the Bay. General rain fell on the 9th in Orissa, South-West Bengal, North Bengal, Behar, and Chutia Nagpur. The barometer, however, commenced to rise on that day, and pressure increased steadily until the 15th, when it was ·1″ higher than at the commencement of the week. The distribution of pressure changed on the 10th and 11th to that which usually accompanies fine dry weather in the month of October in the province. Pressure was from the 11th to the 15th highest in Behar, and decreased slowly eastwards and southwards Rainfall ceased over the whole of the province, except Orissa, South-West Bengal, and Chutia Nagpur on the 9th. In these divisions the weather was to some extent dependent on the depression in the Bay. This was one of a class of depressions which appear to have been unusually frequent during the present year, and in which there is ill-defined, irregular cyclonic motion, no well marked centre of air movement, prolonged moderate rain over a large area, brought up frequently by squalls. These depressions never progress beyond an early stage of cyclonic development, and notwithstanding have frequently a remarkably prolonged existence. The present depression was between Gopalpore and Madras on the 9th. It moved southwards on the 10th, and was between Vizagapatam and Madras on that day, and on the 11th it continued to extend southwards and was between Masulipatam and Negapatam during the remainder of the week. The amount of the depression was small, varying between ·1″ and ·15″ during the week. The first indications of its disappearance were shown on the 15th, and it completely filled up on the 16th, when another disturbing element came into action in the Bay, to be noticed in next week's summary. The indraught to this depression, although not very vigorous, affected a large area. It not only gave moderately heavy and in some cases excessive rain to the whole of the west coast districts from Gopalpore southwards, but brought up much cloud into Orissa, Chutia Nagpur and the southern districts of South-West Bengal. With the slow movement of the depression southwards the area in the province affected contracted southwards. Rain fell in moderate amounts in Orissa and Chutia Nagpur during the remainder of the week, but ceased in South-West Bengal after the 11th. A few local showers occurred in Bengal and Behar on the 15th, but they were of little importance and due to local conditions and actions.

The barometer was below the average at the end of last week. It fell rather rapidly during the rainfall of the 9th, and began to rise on the morning of the 10th. This rise continued until the 15th, when pressure was from ·02″ to ·04″ above the normal of the day. The increase of pressure during this period ranged from ·08″ to ·15″ and averaged 1″ for the province. The mean pressure of the week varied very slightly from the normal. It was in defect in Orissa and the southern districts of South-West and East Bengal and in excess elsewhere.

The termination of the rains was marked by an unusually rapid increase of temperature, and by high maximum or day temperatures, more especially in East Bengal; hence the mean temperature of the week is considerably above the normal. The excess averaged 2½° in South-West Bengal, 1½° in East Bengal, 1° in North Behar and Orissa, ½° in South Behar. On the last day of the week under review the excess ranged from 6° at Gya and Dacca to 1° at Cuttack.

Very light winds have prevailed throughout the province during the week. Their direction has been mainly determined by the depression in the Bay. In Bengal, Orissa, and Chutia Nagpur they varied generally between North-East and East. In Behar they were very variable, but chiefly from East.

The character of the rainfall of the week has been already noted. Rain fell in all divisions on the 9th and then ceased in Behar, East and North Bengal It continued in smaller amounts on the 10th and 11th in Orissa, Chutia Nagpur and South-West Bengal, and during the remainder of the week in Orissa and Chutia Nagpur. Light local showers fell on the 15th, chiefly in South Behar.

The rainfall of the week was below the average in all divisions except South Behar and Chutia Nagpur. The normal average varies from ·7 inch in Behar to 1·8 inches in East Bengal and 1·95 inches in Orissa. Orissa received an average of 1·41 inches or 28 per cent in defect, Chutia Nagpur 3 2 inches or nearly four times its average for the week, South Behar 1 25 inches or 69 per cent in excess. In South-West Bengal an average of ·87 inch or 37 per cent in defect was received, in East Bengal ·27 inch or 85 per cent in defect; in North Bengal ·58 inch or 47 per cent in defect, and in North Behar ·64 inch or only 7 per cent in defect. There was on the average one rainy day in North Behar, two rainy days in Bengal and South Behar, three rainy days in Orissa, and 4½ in Chutia Nagpur.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 15th of October 1886 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The month of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA;
Calcutta, the 18th October 1886.

MEMORANDUM.

THE birth and death returns of the principal Municipalities in Bengal for the week ending 25th September 1886, exhibit the following results:—

1. That births and deaths were recorded in these Municipalities at the rates, respectively, of 26·3 and 37·8 per 1,000 of population as opposed to 23·0 and 32·1 per 1,000 in the preceding week ending 18th September, indicating a considerable improvement in the registration of both events.

2. That these events were returned in the highest proportions from the following Municipalities:—

Births.

	Ratio per mille.
Monghyr	52·2
Durbhanga	51·9
Gya	45·1
Bhagulpore	38·9
Comillah	38·5
Serampore	35·4

Deaths.

	Ratio per mille
Gya	172·1
Monghyr	50·6
Beauleah	49·9
Bhagulpore	44·3
Suburbs of Calcutta	41·2
Patna	36·7
Puri	35·7
Serampore	3 ·4
Purneah	31·2

3. That the mortality from the specific death-causes stood as follows in comparison with the similar information for the preceding week:—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending— 25th Sept 1886	18th Sept 1886
Cholera	7·7	4·6
Small-pox	...	...
Fever	15·5	12·3
Bowel-complaints	4·7	4·3
Injury	·9	·7
Other causes	9·0	10·2

The above figures show mainly that there was a considerable increase of fatal results from cholera and fever, with a decrease in those from the maladies grouped under the head of "other causes."

4. That, eliminating small-pox from which no death was reported, bowel-complaints which proved noticeably severe only in the Gya and Puri towns, viz., at the rates of 15·0 and 12·6 per 1,000 of population, respectively, and injury, the casualties from which were nowhere large, cholera, fever and "other causes" caused the highest mortality in the following Municipalities:—

Cholera.

	Ratio per mille
Gya ...	79·9
Monghyr	6·3
Suburbs of Calcutta ...	6·2
Howrah ...	5·7
Patna	5·5

Fever.

	Ratio per mille.
Gya	58·7
Beauleah	39·4
Purneah	24·3
Monghyr	23·5
Durbhanga .	21·2
Chittagong	21·1

Other causes.

	Ratio per mille
Bhagulpore ..	24·4
Gya	17·8
Suburbs of Calcutta .	13·8
Monghyr	12·6
Patna	11·3

It will be noticed that cholera prevailed with very great severity in Gya town.

5. That the mortality according to Sex, Class and Age, stands as follows:—

According to Sex.

	Ratio per mille.
Males	39·7
Females	35·7
Ratio of male deaths to every 100 female deaths	125

According to Class.

	Ratio per mille.
Christians	8·7
Hindus	39·9
Mahomedans ...	34·0
Other classes ...	36·4

According to Age.

	Ratio per mille.
Under 1 year	289·8
1 and under 5 years ...	62·6
5 „ 10 „ ...	28·6
10 „ 15 „ ...	11·8
15 „ 20 „ ...	12·5
20 „ 30 „ ...	20·9
30 „ 40 „ ..	25·7
40 „ 50 „ ...	30·8
50 „ 60 „ .	51·3

N. St.L. Carter,
Traffic Manager.

Traffic Manager's Office, Jamalpur, the 18th October 1886.

General remarks on the fluctuation of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during five weeks ended 28th August 1886.

INCREASES.

Coal.—There was a decrease in the downward traffic, which was more than covered by an increase in the upward direction, and this was due to the demand from foreign railways and mills in Upper India.

Cotton.—The increase under this head was assignable to both the demand and prices being better this year than in 1885.

Piece-goods.—The small increase in this staple was due to a brisk business in the mofussil market.

Wheat.—Good prices and low exchange rates account for the increase in this staple.

Rice (husked and unhusked).—The satisfactory increase in this staple was due to improved crops during the last season.

Seeds.—Firm Home markets high quotations of prices and low rates of exchange all operated to cause an increase in the traffic in seeds

Tobacco.—This may be accounted for by improved supply and demand.

DECREASES.

Railway material, Foreign.—This decrease was due to completion of railways which were under construction last year.

Gram and pulses.—The decrease in these articles is assignable to ordinary fluctuation of trade.

Other rain and spring crops.—Due to there being no local demand for these commodities.

Salt.—Completion with weakness in demand is the cause for the decrease in this staple.

Sugar.—There was an increase in weight carried, but a decrease in the earnings owing to the traffic being for shorter distances.

'ASAB BAY ENTRANCES.

(1).—Buoy marking Fieramosca shoal.

THE British Admiralty, London, announces that the Italian Government has given notice on the authority of the Commander of the Italian gun-boat Scilla that a buoy has been placed near the N. E. edge of the Fieramosca shoal, northward of 'Asab Bay.

The buoy, cylindrical in shape, with tripod and flag, is painted black, and is moored in 15 feet with the following bearings :—

West extreme of Jezirat Fátimah	... S. 10° W.
Sella, or Saddle mount, south peak	... S. 54° W.
Sanáh Bór islet summit	. S. 75° W.

Fieramosca shoal is found to be about a mile long N W. and S. E., and two-thirds of a mile broad, with soundings varying from 15 feet to 26 feet.

(2) —Position and particulars of a shoal.

Also, that in the northern entrance to 'Asab Bay, a shoal lies about 1¾ miles E. ¾ N. from the position assigned to Bosanquet shoal.

This shoal (not marked by discoloured water), composed of coarse sand and broken shells, with depths of 3½ to 5½ fathoms at low-water, extends about 3¾ cables in a N. W. and S. E. direction, with a breadth of 2¾ cables; on its northern side the depths increase quickly to 11 fathoms; it lies with the following bearings :—

West extreme of Jezirat Fátimah	... S. 33° E
Sella, or Saddle mount	... S. 49° W.
Sanáh Bór islet summit	.. S. 86° 30′ W.

When on this shoal, Ganga and Sella mounts are nearly in line.

Note.—A beacon (pyramid) has been erected on Rás Makawwa, to indicate Rubattino channel entrance, approach to 'Asab Bay from the eastward.

Two beacons (pyramid) have also been erected on Halib Island, eastern entrance to 'Asab Bay, to lead through the Rubattino channel.

The bearings are magnetic.

RED SEA—WEST COAST.

COAST OF ABYSSINIA.

NORTH MUSAWWA CHANNEL.

(1).—Shoal off Rás Kuba.

The information contained in this Notice has been published by the Hydrographer to the British Admiralty, London.

THE Italian Government has given notice on the authority of the Commander of the Italian gun-boat Scilla of the existence of a shoal lying about 2 miles from the shore and about 1 mile S.E. of the coral reef, extending N.E. of Rás Kuba, northern entrance to North Musawwá channel.

This shoal, with a depth of 4¾ fathoms, lies with the following bearings :—

Centre of Entc'silch islet	. N. 35° E.
White Cone	... N. 61° W.

Position.—Latitude 16° 22′ N., longitude 39° 13′ E.

Note.—The depths on the coral bank situated about 5 miles southward of Ente'sileh islet have been found to be 4 fathoms at low-water, instead of 5 fathoms as heretofore shown. On the southermost of the two 4-fathoms shoals, lying about 4 miles N.N.W. of Rás Harb, the depth is 3½ fathoms at low-water.

HARKIKO BAY.

(2).—Shoal off Rás Guddam.

Also, of the existence of a shoal, lying about half a mile N.E. of Rás Guddam South side of Harkiko bay.

This shoal, with a depth of 3½ fathoms and marked by discoloured water, lies with the following bearings :—

Quoin hill, Hartau peninsula	... S. 32° E.
Northern extreme of Rás Guddam	... N. 77° W.

Position.—Latitude 15° 38′ N., longitude 39° 35′ 30″ E.

Note.—The shoal of 5 fathoms off Rás Guddam and about 1 mile N.W. of the last mentioned shoal does not exist. The detached shoal of one fathom and marked P. D., shown as lying about 5 miles S.E. by S. of Rás Guddam, does not exist ; in this locality depths of one fathom extend about half a mile from the shore.

SOUTH MUSAWWA CHANNEL.

(3).—Shoal southward of South Assarka Island.

Also, of the existence of a shoal, lying about one mile southward of South Assarka Island, northern entrance to South Musawwá Channel. This shoal, composed of rock and coral, with a depth of 4¾ fathoms at low-water, extends about 1¾ cables in a North and South direction, with a breadth of about half a cable ; it lies with the following bearings :—

Southern extreme of Shumma Island	... N. 88° E.
Jebel Dulhe	... S. 8° W.
Southern extreme of South Assarka Island ..	... N. 9° W.

Position —Latitude 15° 30′ 30″ N., longitude 39° 55′ 0″ E.

The bearings are magnetic.

NOTIFICATION.

The 16th October 1886.—The following rules passed by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal for the payment of revenue by means of postal money-orders are published for general information. As an experimental measure, the rules will come into force on the 1st November, only in the districts of Burdwan, Bankoora, Beerbhoom, Midnapore, Hooghly, Howrah, Dacca, Furreedpore, Backergunge, and Mymensingh.

P. NOLAN,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rules relating to Revenue Money Orders.

These rules are divided into five parts—

PART I.—Form of Revenue Money Order.
PART II.—Issue of Revenue Money Orders.
PART III.—Payment of Revenue Money Orders.
Section A.—Payment from Disbursing Offices at the head-quarters of districts.
Section B.—Procedure to be followed in the Collectorate.
PART IV.—Treatment of Revenue Money Orders not accepted by the Collector.
PART V.—Disposal of Acknowledgments.

PART I.

THE FORM OF REVENUE MONEY ORDERS.

1. The Revenue Money Order form is divided into four parts, viz. :—
(a) the Money Order,
(b) lower portion of Money Order or the Receipt,
(c) the Coupon or Chalan,
(d) the Acknowledgment

2. Parts (a) and (b) require no description, as they are exactly like the corresponding portions of the ordinary inland Money Order form. Parts (c) and (d) are considerably larger than the Coupon and Acknowledgment of an ordinary Money Order. Part (c) contains on one side all the particulars required by the Treasury and on the reverse instructions for remitters of Revenue Money Orders. Part (d) is on one side a duplicate of the Chalan and is returned to the remitter as his receipt; on the reverse of this part are the remitter's name and address.

3. This form is to be used for Revenue Money Orders only and for no other purpose.

4. The forms of Revenue Money Order should be freely distributed among the revenue-paying classes, and no restrictions whatever should be placed in the way of zemindars obtaining these forms.

5. Every Postmaster, Sub-Postmaster and Village Postmaster will be personally responsible that a sufficient supply of Revenue Money Orders is always available in his office. In cases of emergency, supplies may be obtained by telegraph direct from the Stock Depôt of the Circle. Divisional Superintendents and Inspectors when visiting offices will see that a sufficient supply of Revenue Money Order forms is available, and mention in their diaries and inspection reports that they have done so.

PART II.

ISSUE OF REVENUE MONEY ORDERS.

6. Revenue Money Orders are issued from every Head, Sub and Village Post Office under the rules which govern the issue of ordinary Inland Money Orders. The following paragraphs contain additional instructions which relate solely to the issue of Revenue Money Orders :—

7. No Revenue Money Order may be issued for more than 50 rupees. The rule prohibiting the inclusion of pies (fractions of an anna) in the amount of a Money Order is not applicable to Revenue Money Orders, which may be for amounts including any fraction of an anna not less than one pie.

8. The Office of Issue will help the remitter in making the requisite entries, and, if necessary, will make entries for him in the form of a Revenue Money Order, but no fee or any other gratification whatsoever is to be demanded or accepted, either directly or indirectly, by any official of the Postal Department for this service. Disregard of this order will be punished by dismissal of the official in fault, who will, moreover, be liable to any further penalties provided by law.

9. The Office of Issue is responsible that no Revenue Money Order is issued of which the Coupon (Chalan) is blank or is not completely filled up. The Post Office has no means of ascertaining the correctness of the information supplied by a remitter; all that it is necessary to see is that entries are made against every printed item in the Coupon (Chalan), and that the Money Order is not for a larger sum than 50 rupees.

10. The letter "R" should be written before the number of every Revenue Money Order, and this mode of distinguishing Revenue Money Orders should be adopted wherever the number is entered.

11. The number assigned to a Revenue Money Order by the Head Office or Selected Sub Office of Issue will also be entered at the top of the Coupon (Chalan) by the Money Order Clerk of the Head Office or the Sub-Postmaster of the Selected Sub Office of Issue as the case may be. The number on the acknowledgment will, as in the case of an ordinary Money Order, be the number of the receipt given to the remitter.

12. On the 5th of every month Head and Sub Offices will prepare a return (Form $\frac{4}{R.M.O.}$) of all Revenue Money Orders issued during the last month, and forward the same to the Disbursing Postmaster who will compile a General District Return and submit it to the Head of the circle not later than the 15th of the month following that to which it relates. Village Offices will not submit returns, as Revenue Money Orders issued from such offices will be included in the returns of the Account Offices to which they are attached. The district return submitted by the Disbursing Postmaster will be in Form $\frac{5}{R.M.O.}$

PART III.

PAYMENT OF REVENUE MONEY ORDERS.

SECTION A.—Procedure in the Disbursing Office.

13. When the Revenue Money Orders are in all respects ready to be handed over to the Postman, a list in duplicate (Form $\frac{2}{R.M.O.}$) should be made out by the Money Order Clerk, and the entries in the money column of the list carefully totalled.

14. The Money Orders, both copies of the list, and a slip receipt (Form $\frac{3}{R.M.O.}$) duly filled up, should then be handed over to the Postman for delivery at the Collectorate, the Postman's receipt for the documents being taken in the usual manner in the register of Money Orders received.

15. The Postman will deliver all the documents mentioned in paragraph 14 to the treasury officer (or other responsible official authorized by the Collector, in writing, to receive Revenue Money Orders and whose name has been communicated by the Collector to the Postmaster), and will take back to the Post Office the slip receipt duly signed by the officer receiving the Money Orders. The slip receipt will be kept by the Money Order Clerk under lock and key.

16. When the original list, duly signed by the treasury officer or other authorized officer, is received back, along with the refused Money Orders (if any), the Postmaster will give in exchange for the list a treasury voucher (Form A C—17) representing the value of the Money Orders accepted, as shown in the certificate at the foot of the list.

17. The Postmaster should on no account give a treasury voucher, in payment of Revenue Money Orders, without receiving the original list with the certificate of acceptance written at the foot thereof.

18. The Postmaster will be responsible always to have sufficient funds at his credit in the district treasury to meet Revenue Money Order demands, and it will be his duty, when giving a treasury voucher, to see that there are funds in the District Treasury to meet it.

19. The original list and the slip receipt will be filed together by the Money Order Clerk. The refused Money Orders (if any) will be dealt with in accordance with the instructions laid down in Part IV of these rules.

20. On receipt of the Money Orders, together with the receipts and acknowledgments duly signed, the Money Order Clerk will examine and compare all the documents with the original list already in his possession and with the duplicate presented to him along with these documents and if all are found correct will sign the duplicate list and return it to the Collectorate official who brought back the documents to the Post Office.

21. The Money Order Clerk should be particularly careful to see that he receives from the Collectorate an acknowledgment for every Money Order accepted, and that every acknowledgment which he receives is in acknowledgment of the full amount of the Money Order to which it appertains.

22. The Money Order received back from the Collectorate, with their receipts, will be entered in the Journal of Money Orders paid and be disposed of in the usual manner. The acknowledgments will be returned to the remitters in the manner described in Part V of these rules.

23. The amount of the treasury voucher will be entered in the Post Office and Treasurer's cash day books and the cash account on the receipt side opposite the item "Drawn from District Treasury," and will be included in the sum entered on the disbursement side under the head "Amount of Money Orders paid." The amount will also appear in the Treasury account as money drawn from the District Treasury. All these entries must be made on the same date.

24. Before the duplicate list is finally returned to the Collectorate, the Money Order Clerk will carefully compare it with the original and see that they are exactly alike, any remark recorded in the one list (either in the Collectorate, or by the Money Order Clerk, or the Postmaster) being copied in the other list.

25. It will be the duty of the Money Order Clerk to report to the Postmaster if the Money Orders and other documents sent to the Collectorate are not returned to him before 12 o'clock (noon) on the day following that on which they were sent.

26. The Money Order Clerk will report to the Postmaster every case in which the Coupon (Chalan) of a Revenue Money Order received by him is blank or is imperfectly filled up.

27. On the 5th of every month the Money Order Clerk will prepare a return (Form $\frac{6}{R.M.O.}$) of all Revenue Money Orders received during the last month, and this return will be submitted by the Postmaster to the Head of the circle along with the District Return of Revenue Money Orders issued.

SECTION B.—Procedure to be followed in the Collectorate.

28. On receipt of the Money Orders, with other documents, in the Collectorate, the treasury officer, or other responsible official authorised as above (see Rule 15) to receive Revenue Money Orders, will carefully compare the entries in the list with the Money Orders, and, when satisfied of their correctness, will sign the slip receipt and hand it over to the Postman who has brought the documents to the Collectorate, retaining the other papers for subsequent disposal.

29. The next business to be done in the Collectorate will be the careful examination of the Money Orders to see that the necessary particulars of remittance are given in each case, and that the Money Orders are otherwise such as should be accepted.

30. The original list, together with refused Money Orders (if any), must be returned to the Post Office and a treasury voucher be obtained immediately on the certificate of acceptance being signed. The officer signing the certificate will be responsible that the check prescribed in paragraph 29 has been carried out, and that the original list, with the certificate duly endorsed, is returned to the Post Office on the day of receipt.

31. On receipt of the treasury voucher from the Post Office the treasury officer will on the same day credit the amount thereof in the accounts of the Collectorate as remittances received by means of Money Orders from the zemindars concerned, and will charge the amount against the monthly letter-of-credit of the Postal Department as money paid to the Disbursing Postmaster.

32. After the amount of the treasury voucher has been credited in the Collectorate in the accounts of the mahals concerned, the acknowledgments will be signed by the appropriate officers.

33. The Money Orders will then be signed by the treasury officer or other officer authorized as above to receive them, and that officer, after detaching the Coupons (Chalans) from the Money Orders, will return the original orders, with the receipts, acknowledgments, and the duplicate list, to the Post Office and retain the Chalans in the Collectorate.

34. When the duplicate list, with the Postmaster's acknowledgment for the documents returned to him written thereon, is received back from the Post Office, it should also be filled in the Collectorate.

35. The original Money Orders with their receipts and acknowledgments must be returned by the Collectorate before 12 o'clock (noon) on the day following their receipt. This period is on no account to be exceeded.

PART IV.

TREATMENT OF REVENUE MONEY ORDERS NOT ACCEPTED BY THE COLLECTORATE.

36. If the Collector or the officer to whom he delegates authority in this matter declines to accept a Money Order, because of the omission of necessary particulars in the Coupon (Chalan), or other cause, the Money Order will be treated as refused and be disposed of in the usual manner.

PART V.

DISPOSAL OF ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

37. The acknowledgments appertaining to Revenue Money Orders received from the Collectorate will be sorted separately for each office of issue and enclosed in envelopes (Form $\frac{9}{\text{R. M. O.}}$) addressed to the Postmasters of those offices; the numbers of Money Orders to which the acknowledgments appertain being detailed on the back of the envelopes, thus $\frac{103}{314}$ where 103 is the number of the acknowledgment and 314 the number of the Money Order.

38. These envelopes will be entered in detail, in a special memorandum book (Form $\frac{7}{\text{R. M. O.}}$) and be despatched as letters registered on Postal Service. The total number of acknowledgments closed in each envelope will be the registered number assigned to that envelope.

39. On arrival in the Office of Issue, the envelopes will be opened and the acknowledgments contained in each envelope compared with the entries on the back thereof. The acknowledgments will then be stamped with the Money Order stamp and be sorted for distribution to Postmen. The numbers of all acknowledgments to be given to each Postman will be detailed separately in a special memorandum book (Form $\frac{8}{\text{R. M. O.}}$) and the Postman's signature obtained against the entry. The acknowledgments will then be handed over to the Postmen. The envelopes will be retained for 12 months sorted in daily and monthly bundles, and will be destroyed after the expiration of that period.

40. The Postmen will enter the acknowledgments in detail in their books, and will obtain the remitter's signature or mark when delivering each acknowledgment.

41. Acknowledgments which cannot be delivered in consequence of the remitter not being found will be returned by the Postman to the Sub-Postmaster or the Money Order Clerk (as the case may be), and his signature obtained in the Postman's book.

42. Undelivered acknowledgments will be kept in the Office of Issue (if a Head Office) for a period of 12 months, and, if still unclaimed, will be destroyed.

43. In Sub Offices and Village Offices undelivered acknowledgments will be retained for a period of three months, and, if still unclaimed, will be forwarded to the Head Office under a Postal Service Registered cover. Such acknowledgments will be kept in the Head Office for a further period of nine months, and, if then still on hand, will be destroyed.

44. Postmasters, Sub-Postmasters and Village Postmasters of the Offices of Issue will be responsible that acknowledgments are delivered to remitters of Revenue Money Orders without any unnecessary delay and free of charge. Enquiries as to the punctual and free delivery of acknowledgments should be made from time to time from zemindars who may call at the Post Office to have Revenue Money Orders issued.

CALCUTTA SMALL CAUSE COURT.

NOTICE.

IN accordance with suggestions contained in a report to the High Court, signed by Mr. Justice Wilson and Mr. Justice Trevelyan, on their inspection of the Calcutta Small Cause Court, a new system will, on and after the 28th October 1886, be tried for the purpose of revising the list of cases which come daily into the court.

All summons cases will, on the returnable date of the summons, come before one only of the Judges, who will revise the whole list of the court for each day.

He will go through the list, enter "compromises," make decrees in cases in which the defendant does not appear, give fresh summonses in cases where the summons has not been served, grant necessary postponements, ascertain what causes are defended, and dispose of any cases which, in his judgment, can be disposed of summarily.

This would leave the whole time of the other Judges free for the trial of defended causes The defended causes will be assigned by the Judge revising the list to the lists of the different Judges on the earliest possible days, and will be adjourned by him to those days. The Judge revising the list will have before him the list of each Judge for each day, so far as already filled up, and will arrange that there should always be a sufficient number of cases, say 25 or 30, on each Judge's list. Each of the other Judges will thus have each day his list of defended cases provided for him. When a second summons has been granted, the case will, on the new return day, come again before the Judge who revises the list for that day.

If under this system a Judge should at any time find his list becoming clogged, he will communicate with the revising Judge, and inform the latter that he must have a day or days left clear to enable him to pull up. Thus if on the first of the month a Judge finds that his lists were getting blocked, and that it will take a day to get them clear, he will tell the revising Judge that this is the case. The latter, when revising the lists of the Judge in question, may see that they are already filled, say up to the 9th: he will leave the 10th blank. The Judge who had found himself blocked, knowing that the 10th would be a clear day, will use his discretion: he will either go on as usual up to the 10th, trusting to clear himself on that day, or will adjourn a sufficient number of cases to that day to enable him to take the other cases as nearly as possible on their proper dates.

ADJOURNMENTS.

No "costs of the day" will be allowed on adjournments.

Nor will adjournments be allowed, even by consent, except upon good cause shown.

By order of the Court,

COURT OF SMALL CAUSES OF CALCUTTA,
The 28th July 1886.

C. Y. C. BOLST,
Clerk of the Court.

Orders and Notifications by the Government of India, &c.

[Reprinted from the Gazette of India.]

The following order, issued by the Government of India, Home Department, is republished for general information.

F. B PEACOCK,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATIONS—PUBLIC.

Simla, the 4th October 1886.

No. 1572.—The following Resolution is published for general information.

No. $\frac{34}{1573-96}$.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Department (Public),—under date Simla, the 4th October 1886.

RESOLUTION.

A prolonged correspondence has taken place with Her Majesty's Government on the subject of the system under which Natives of India are admitted either to the Covenanted Civil Service under the Statute 21 and 22 Vic., cap. 106, section 32, or under the Statute 33 Vic., cap 3, section 6, to offices formerly reserved exclusively to members of that service. As a result of this correspondence, Her Majesty's Secretary of State has recently accepted a suggestion made by the Government of India that the question of the admission of Natives of India to such service and offices should be re-opened and carefully considered, and has requested that a Commission should be appointed in India for that purpose. He has also expressed a desire that the enquiry to be made by the Commission should extend, not only to the admission of Natives to the offices referred to above, but to their employment in all branches of the public service connected with the civil administration of the country. From the subjects to be referred to the Commission, all questions connected with the conditions on which English candidates are admitted to the Indian Civil Service examination in England are excluded.

In regard to the constitution of the Commission, the Secretary of State indicates his view that it should include a proportion of Native members, which may sufficiently represent the different classes and modes of thought in India, and that it should also include a trained English lawyer, if possible, of judicial experience. In regard to its object, the Commission would, broadly speaking, be required to devise a scheme which may reasonably be hoped to possess the necessary elements of finality, and to do full justice to the claims of Natives of India to higher and more extensive employment in the public service The Governor-General in Council fully and cordially accepts this decision, and in accordance therewith has resolved to appoint a Commission for the purpose of giving effect to it In making the suggestion which has now resulted in this decision, the Government of India expressed the belief that any scheme to be entirely satisfactory would require parliamentary legislation hereafter. It may be further remarked that the investigations of the Commission now to be constituted will be preparatory to the Parliamentary enquiry into Indian affairs which it is the intention of Her Majesty's Government to undertake at an early date.

2. As regards the composition of the Commission, the Governor-General in Council, in view of the scope of the enquiry and the magnitude and variety of the interests involved, considers that the matter can be best dealt with by a Commission consisting of about fifteen members, including the President, for which office His Excellency in Council has selected the Hon'ble Sir Charles Aitchison, K.C.S.I., C.I.E., Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab. The Governments of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, and the North-Western Provinces with Oudh will each be invited to submit the names of three officers whose personal experience of the actual working of district administration (including as far as possible in that term both executive and judicial branches) has been sufficiently varied and extensive to entitle them to speak with authority upon that subject for their own Provinces. From the names thus submitted the Governor-General in Council will select a representative for each of the four Provinces above mentioned. The Punjab will be represented by the President. With a view to ensure the proper representation of Native opinion on the Commission, the Local Governments named should at once take such steps as many in their opinion be necessary to ascertain the persons regarded as most completely representative of Native opinion, and as commanding the widest confidence amongst their fellow-countrymen; and the Governor-General in Council would be glad to be furnished as soon as may be found possible by each of the above Local Governments, with the names of not less than three gentlemen, being natives of the Province concerned, who are considered best fitted to represent on the Commission the several classes and modes of thought in the Province. From the names so submitted, His Excellency in Council will choose four Provincial representatives, and he will also reserve the power of making, after due consideration and enquiry, additional nominations, with a view to the more complete representation of Native views. A representative of the non-official European and of the Eurasian community, respectively, will be selected by the Governor-General in Council, and to this end the Local Governments mentioned above are requested to submit the names of the gentlemen who, in their opinion, would best represent the views of those communities respectively. His Excellency will also appoint a delegate on behalf of the Government of India and a trained English lawyer of judicial experience. The duties of Secretary of the Commission will be performed by Mr. F. C. Daukes, one of the Under-Secretaries to the Government of India, who will be specially deputed for this purpose.

3. The enquiry is to embrace the employment of Natives of India not only in appointments ordinarily reserved by law for members of the Covenanted Civil Service, but also in the Uncovenanted Service generally, including in this term the lower administrative appointments, executive and judicial, and all special Departments connected with the civil administration of the country. The enquiry thus contemplated is not only one of great magnitude and importance, but such as requires a careful preliminary collection of facts. Such an investigation has already been made in regard to the class of appointments hitherto ordinarily reserved for the Covenanted Civil Service and in regard to uncovenanted executive and judicial posts; but no such investigation has been prosecuted in the case of other branches of the public service. For these reasons, and also because the constitution of a Commission, settled rather with reference to the considerations likely to arise in connection with the posts above referred to, might not be altogether suitable for an enquiry into special branches of the public service, it seems desirable that the two matters should be separately dealt with. For the present, accordingly, the Government of India thinks it well that the Commission should direct its attention mainly to the question of the conditions under which natives of India should be employed in the posts which are ordinarily reserved for the Covenanted Service, and to questions relating to the admission of Natives of India and Europeans respectively to those branches of the Uncovenanted Service which are directly engaged in the executive and judicial administration of the country. The enquiry in regard to other branches of the public service will thus be postponed until the more important question has been dealt with. It may afterwards be convenient to reconstitute the Commission with a view to enable it to deal with the remaining questions, which are more or less technical in their character, and for a proper settlement of which it is essential that recourse should be had to the professional opinion of experts.

4. With reference to the preliminary collection of facts declared in the foregoing paragraph to be a necessary preparatory step in this enquiry, it must here be stated that the question of the proper strength of the Covenanted Service has already formed the subject of careful examination, and important decisions upon it have been arrived at by the Government of India in communication with Her Majesty's Secretary of State. All relevant papers bearing on this question will be laid before the Commission, and it is believed that, in view of the discussions which have already taken place, and the conclusions which have been come to, there will be no necessity to go over the same ground again. The Commission, however, is not precluded from reviewing the facts thus collected or the conclusions thus arrived at. Accordingly, should it find in the course of its investigations reasons for thinking that a further limitation in the number of posts reserved by law for the Covenanted Service is desirable, or that the larger employment of Natives of India in particular offices or classes of offices connected with the civil administration not now usually held by them may be conducive to the public good, either absolutely or on condition of the freer admission of Europeans to offices from which they in their turn are now excluded, it will not be debarred from submitting any recommendations it may desire on such points. These, however, should be regarded as supplementary points, and the most important duty of the Commission in this portion of its enquiries will be to consider the means best adapted to secure the admission of competent Natives of each Province of India to such full proportion of the Covenanted Service employed in that Province as may not, under the orders of Her Majesty's Government, be reserved for Europeans.

5. As regards the scope of the enquiry to be entrusted to the Commission, it may further be stated that the investigation should not be confined to the rules framed under the Statute 33 Vic., Cap. 3, section 6, but should be instituted with a view to Parliamentary legislation, if necessary. It is not possible to specify at the present moment, with any approach to completeness, the various points which should come under the consideration of the Commission, but attention may be drawn to the great importance of conducting a careful enquiry into the evidence as to the existence and extent of any dissatisfaction which may be felt by the Native community in regard to the existing Statutory Service; into the grounds upon which any such feeling, if it prevails, is based; into the question whether it is the Statute of 1870 itself that is objected to, or the rules framed under it; and into the results of the selections made under the Statute. It may be observed that the Statute of 1870 is one of remarkable breadth and liberality; that it empowers the Government of India and the Secretary of State acting together to frame rules under which Natives of India may be admitted to any of the offices hitherto reserved to the Covenanted Civil Service; and that it would appear that there is practically no method of selecting Natives for higher employment in India which its provisions would not allow to be attempted. The grounds therefore of any objection to a Statute of this character require careful scrutiny.

6. It has been suggested that the Act of 1870 is open to objection, because it admits persons to specific appointments only, and not to membership in an organized "Service." The reasons for this desire to be enrolled in a Service should be fully weighed, and it should be considered how far the privileges of pay, promotion, and retiring annuity, which Indian public servants enjoy through belonging to the Covenanted Civil Service, and the conditions generally under which they hold their offices, are suitable to Natives of India obtaining office under the Statutory Rules. It appears to be expressly suggested that the Act of 1870 is unpopular, because a person appointed under it draws, according to the rules laid down, pay at a lower rate than if he were a member of the Indian Civil Service appointed after competition in London. This point will require serious consideration from the Commissioners, because, among other reasons, it raises an important question as to the financial saving, which it is generally supposed will arise from the more extensive employment of Native gentlemen in the public service.

7. If it be found on enquiry that it is the Statutory Rules which excite dissatisfaction and not the Statute itself, the grounds of such dissatisfaction should be closely examined. It will be most useful to ascertain, for example, whether the communities of the various Provinces, and especially the classes from which Native public servants are commonly drawn, disapprove of selection in any form, with or without probation; whether competition of some sort is the only mode of selection which commends itself to them; and whether they think that a combination of both systems possesses advantages, more especially with regard to the promotion to higher office of deserving members of the Subordinate Executive and Judicial Services. It is scarcely necessary to remark that in a country of such extent as India, inhabited by a population so vast and various, and of such unequal civilization, the evidence taken on these points, to be of real value, should be collected over a wide area and from numerous classes of people.

8. In connection with the question whether or not it is desirable that there should be a competitive examination in England for Natives of India; the Commission will no doubt fully examine into and report on the advantages and disadvantages of competitive selection in India, on the conditions of such competition, on the view which is likely to be taken of such a system by the Native community at large, and on the desirability or otherwise of requiring or encouraging candidates selected in India to proceed to England with a view to passing there a period of probationary training. If the Commissioners are favourable to the maintenance, substantially, of the present system, which permits Natives to compete in England, it will be necessary to enquire what are the limits of age for Native candidates and what the changes (if any) in the character of their examination which the Commissioners would recommend. It has already been stated that no question regarding English candidates is referred to the Commission; but in view of the difficulty of reconciling the systems which are respectively best adapted to the two classes, and supposing that the Commission decide on recommending the maintenance of the present system of competitive examination in England, the Commissioners should give special attention to a suggestion made by the Bengal Government that the number of Native probationers to be selected by competitive examination in London should be first fixed, and that the Native candidates should be selected by an examination separate from that of the Europeans, and specially adapted as regards limits of age and otherwise to the conditions of Natives of India.

9. With regard to the question of affording facilities to Natives of India to proceed to England to compete for the Indian Civil Service, the Commissioners will doubtless be able to obtain much valuable evidence from an enquiry on the following points: (1) whether there is reason to believe that the young Natives obtained under the existing system of the open competition in England for the public service in India are the best as regards character and capacity who could be got for it under any system; (2) whether such a system is favourably looked upon by large and important classes in India; and (3) what is the relative weight to be attached to recent representations which affirm the general willingness of Indian youths to cross the sea for education and to others which as strongly deny it.

The British Indian Association, for example, appears to have said in a petition to Parliament that "a journey to England entails not only expense and hardship, but the loss of social position to all but the small minority who break with Indian society from personal motives and are unable to faithfully reflect its sentiments by reason of their isolation."

10. In conclusion, the Governor-General in Council would observe that he has no desire to fetter the discretion of the Commission as to the particular method of enquiry which it desires to pursue. The correspondence which has taken place with Her Majesty's Secretary of State and with Local Governments and Administrations on the subject of the Statute of 1870 and the Rules framed thereunder will be placed at the disposal of the Commission, and, with this correspondence before it, it will devolve upon the Commission to determine the particular method or methods of enquiry which may be best calculated to effect the object which the Government has in view.

A complete list of the names of the members composing the Commission will be published in the subsequent Resolution.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be forwarded to the Local Governments and Administrations marginally noted, with the request that due facilities may be afforded to the Commission in the discharge of the duties entrusted to it. The attention of the Governments of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh is at the same time invited to the instructions contained in paragraph 2 of the Resolution.

ORDERS BY THE LIEUT.-GOVERNOR OF BENGAL.

MUNICIPAL AND LOCAL.

NOTIFICATION.

The 18th October 1886.—It is hereby notified for general information that the Lieutenant-Governor intends, in the exercise of the powers conferred on him by section 221 of Act III (B.C.) of 1884, and in accordance with the recommendation of the Commissioners of the Barisal Municipality, made at a meeting, to extend the provisions of sections 249 and 268 of the said Act throughout the Municipality, and those of sections 236 to 244 within the boundary specified in the margin, unless good reasons be shown to the contrary within one month from the date of the publication of this notification within the Municipality.

Boundary.

On the north by the Jail Khal; on the south by Chamarpoti and Purnida road; on the east by the Barisal river; on the west by an imaginary line including the premises of Dengu Chaprasi, Govinda Chandra Pal Chowdhuri, Kasick Chandra Chackravarti, Sadhuram Mistry, Hur Govindo Karmakar, Bhagaban Banerjee, Ram Chundra Poddar, Govinda Mohun Das, Pyari Mohun Shaha, and Matan Mohun Aera.

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

The 19th October 1886.—In exercise of the power conferred on him by section 342 of Act IV (B.C) of 1876, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to confirm the revised bye-laws stated at foot of this notification which have been approved by the Commissioners of the Town of Calcutta, and which have already been published three times in the English and Bengali Government Gazettes in the manner prescribed in section 343 of the Act. These bye-laws will supersede the existing bye-laws Nos. 26 to 34 on the subject of burials and cremation, which were published under Government notification, dated the 21st September 1878:—

Second interments prohibited, except under certain conditions.

26. All graves must be at least six feet deep, but no masonry grave constructed after the 1st of September 1886 shall be used for a second interment unless there is space for five feet of earth between the top of the second coffin and the surface of the ground. For masonry graves constructed before that date, three feet of earth shall suffice as heretofore.

Intervening space between graves

27. No person shall build or dig, or cause to be built or dug, a grave in any burial-ground at a less distance than two feet from any other existing grave.

Graves to be dug in regular line.

28. No person shall build or dig, or cause to be built or dug, a grave in any burial places in any other line than that specially marked out by the Superintendent to the Burial Board for the purpose; or, in the case of cemeteries not under the Board, by the Commissioners.

Graves not of masonry shall not be opened within 10 years without permission.

29. No grave other than a masonry grave shall be opened for a second interment within a period of 10 years, without the special permission of the Burial Board, or, in the case of cemeteries not under the Board, by the Commissioners.

Corpse to be carried decently covered

30. No one shall carry a corpse, or part of a corpse, through any highway, unless it be decently covered and concealed from public view.

Exhumation of bodies prohibited without permission of proper authorities

31. The Commissioner of Police shall have power to order the exhumation of bodies whenever such exhumation is deemed necessary by him for police purposes, informing the Burial Board when the disinterment is in any cemetery under their control. In all other cases the sanction shall be given by the Burial Board, or, in the case of cemeteries not under the Board, by the Commissioners.

Depositing corpses on roadsides, except for ordinary relief, prohibited.

32. No person, while carrying any corpse, or part of a corpse, through the precincts falling within municipal limits, shall deposit it on or near any public highway, except for the purpose of ordinary relief.

Corpses used for dissection to be removed in covered carts.

33. No person shall cause to be removed any corpse, or part of a corpse, that has been kept or used for purposes of dissection otherwise than in a closed vehicle, and in such manner as may prevent any offensive odour, and at such hours as may be fixed by the Commissioners in meeting.. Nothing contained in this section shall apply to the removal of a body by the relatives of a deceased person after a Coroner's inquest.

PROHIBITION AGAINST THE INTRODUCTION INTO WESTERN AUSTRALIA OF HORNED CATTLE, SHEEP AND SWINE FROM PLACES BEYOND THE LIMITS OF THE AUSTRALIAN COLONIES.

No. 3308—86, dated Perth, the 13th August 1886.

From—M. S. SMITH, Esq., Acting Colonial Secretary, Western Australia,
To—The Hon'ble the Home Secretary to the Government of India, Calcutta.

I HAVE the honour, by direction of His Excellency Governor Sir F. N. Broome, to enclose six copies of a Proclamation, issued on the 26th ultimo, prohibiting the introduction into Western Australia from any place beyond the limits of the Australasian Colonies of all horned cattle, sheep, and swine, and to request that you will kindly give due publicity to the same.

No. 2676.—C.S.O.

PROCLAMATION

Western Australia, to wit.

(L. S.)
F. NAPIER BROOME,
Governor.

BY His Excellency SIR FREDERICK NAPIER BROOME, Knight Commander of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Territory of Western Australia and its Dependencies, &c., &c., &c.

WHEREAS under the provisions of an Act of the Legislative Council, passed in the 43rd year of the reign of Her present Majesty, numbered 23, intituled "An Act for the prevention of the Importation of Diseased Stock," the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, is empowered by Proclamation to prohibit the introduction into the Colony, either by land or sea, of any cattle within the meaning of the said Act and of "The Cattle Diseases Ordinance, 1865," and "The Imported Stock Act, 1876," or either of them: Now THEREFORE I, the said Governor, in exercise of such power and of all other powers enabling me in this behalf, do by this Proclamation, with the advice of the Executive Council, prohibit the importation into, and landing in, Western Australia, either by land or sea, from Great Britain or Ireland, or from any other place beyond the limits of the Australasian Colonies, of all horned cattle, sheep, and swine.

Given under my hand and under the Public Seal of the said Colony, this twenty-sixth day of July 1886.

By His Excellency's Command,

M. S. SMITH,
Acting Colonial Secretary.

Explanation of the Weekly Summary. The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the reading during the same period for the past ten years. The mean daily humidity is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number of the number of rainy days is that on which 0·01 inch or more of rainfall on that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub divisional stations for the period in question during the past stations in the district, is in turn divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 22nd October 1886.

years. The variations are negative when the mean for the week is less than the corresponding normal mean, and positive when greater.
ding cloud amount represents the part of the sky covered, the whole sky being denoted by 10. Under the head "District observations of rainfall" the normal means
2 years. The means of the district are the numerical averages of the rainfall return received in the district, i.e., from the total rainfall at the sub-division

CALCUTTA, the 26th October 1886.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 22ND OF OCTOBER 1886.

AT the commencement of the week pressure was very uniform over the whole of the province. This continued until Sunday afternoon, when a depression began to form in the Bay. It was in the immediate neighbourhood of the west coast between Gopalpore and Vizagapatam on Monday morning (18th), and intensified slightly during the next 24 hours. It moved slowly westwards and crossed the coast near Vizagapatam early on the morning of the 20th, and drifted during the next 36 hours across the Peninsula, slowly filling up. It gave heavy rain to the west coast districts of the Bay from Gopalpore to Negapatam. Orissa, Chutia Nagpur, and the southern districts were in the outer circle of the disturbance as it advanced westwards. Hence rain showers fell in that area during this period, the amounts received being greatest in Orissa. A rapid fall of the barometer commenced in East Bengal on Tuesday (the 19th), which was shown to be due to the advance of a small depression (apparently subsidiary to the previous) across the north-east angle of the Bay. This depression covered the greater part of East Bengal on Wednesday and Thursday (the 20th and 21st), when it extended westwards and commenced to fill up. The residual shallow depression occupied the whole of Bengal and part of Behar on the 22nd. It disappeared almost entirely during the course of the day. This disturbance gave some heavy showers in the eastern districts of East Bengal, and the Jessore and Khoolna districts of South-West Bengal on the 21st, and light showers in the Julpigoree, Cooch Behar and Darjeeling districts on the 22nd.

The barometric variations during the week were large. Pressure on the 15th was slightly below the average (·02″). It fell 02″ on the 16th, ·08″ on the 17th, and ·05″ on the 18th, so that on the morning of the 19th it was ·12″ below the mean of the period. The decrease during this period was greatest in Orissa and the coast districts of South-West and East Bengal. A rapid rise, averaging only ·06″, accompanied the passage of the first depression of the week across the Ganjam coast. A general fall of ·03″ occurred on the 20th and 21st during the advance of the second depression into East Bengal (in which area the fall exceeded ·10″). The barometer began to rise generally on the 22nd, but pressure was at the end of the week ·05″ below the normal. The mean pressure of the week is hence considerably below the average. The deficiency was greatest in East Bengal, for which it was ·08″. It averaged ·06″ in Behar and South-West Bengal, ·05″ in Orissa, and ·03″ in Chutia Nagpur.

The most prominent feature during the week was unusually high temperature. The mean temperature of the week was 4° above the normal in North Behar, 3½° in South Behar, 3° in Chutia Nagpur, 2½° in Bengal, and 1½° in Orissa. Both the day and night temperatures were above the average, but the excess was most marked in the night temperatures, more especially in Behar, Chutia Nagpur, and the northern and central districts of Bengal. This was mainly due to the unusually high humidity of the air, and the absence of dry westerly winds down the Gangetic plain. The following table shows the more important features in the variations of temperature from the normal at a glance :—

	Normal mean maximum temperature, September 17th to 24th.	Mean maximum temperature, September 17th to 24th.	Difference	Normal mean minimum temperature, September 17th to 24th, 1886.	Mean minimum temperature September 17th to 24th, 1886.	Difference.

Darjeeling	59·5	62·4	+2·9	65·0	71·6	+6·6

Winds were very light and variable during the week, and were governed entirely by the two depressions. The air was very humid for the season, and skies more or less clouded during the greater part of the week.

The normal average rainfall of the week varies from one inch in North Bengal to a quarter of an inch in North Behar. The rainfall of the week was below the average in all divisions except Orissa and East Bengal. Orissa received ·83 inch or 22 per cent. in excess of its normal amount, and East Bengal ·93 inch or 21 per cent. in excess. Over the remainder of the province an average of barely a tenth of an inch fell, or less than one-fifth of the normal.

Rain, as has been already stated, fell in Orissa in moderate amounts on the 18th and 19th, and in light showers in the southern districts of South Behar on the 17th and 18th. Heavy showers fell in the Khoolna, Jessore, Chittagong, Backergunge and Noakholly districts on the 21st. At Cox's Bazar 5 3 inches were registered on that day, at Bauphal (Backergunge) 4 05 inches, and at Bhola (Backergunge) 3·56 inches. Light showers were received in the most northern districts of North Bengal on the 22nd.

The past week has hence been characterized by excessive temperature, high humidity and deficient rainfall.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 22nd of October 1886 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h 10h 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA;
Calcutta, the 25th October 1886.

MEMORANDUM.

The mortuary statistics of the districts in Bengal (excluding Lohardugga, from which no return has yet been received), for the month of August 1886, present the following results:—

1. That the deaths of 111,378 persons were registered among a population of 64,554,640, representing an annual casualty-rate of 20·64 per 1,000 against 16·80 per 1,000 in the preceding month, and 24·72 per 1,000 in the corresponding month of 1885, indicating, as compared with the latter period, a considerable falling off in the number of deaths registered.

2. That the following districts returned the highest proportions of deaths:—

Districts.	Ratio per mille.	Districts.	Ratio per mille.
Patna	42 60	Jalpaiguri	27 36
Shahabad	41·88	Sarun	27·24
Gya	38·52	Bhagulpore	26·88
Darjiling	35·40	Rungpore	25·92
Monghyr	34 32	Bogra	25·20

3. That the mortality from the principal diseases under record stood during the month under review, contrasted with similar information for the corresponding month of the preceding year, as follows:—

	Ratio per mille during—
	August 1886.	August 1885.
Cholera	·84	4·08
Small-pox	·03	·06
Fever	15·00	15·72
Bowel-complaints	·84	1·08
Injury	·72	·72
Other causes	3·00	2·88

The only noticeable fact disclosed by the above comparison is that the death-rate from cholera was considerably lower.

4. That cholera and fever exhibited greatest activity in the undermentioned Municipalities, while the rest of the diseases did not display noticeable fatality anywhere, excepting in Puri, where 10·44 per 1,000 of the population died from the maladies classed under the head of "other causes":—

Cholera.	Ratio per mille	Fever.	Ratio per mille.
Darjiling	5 76	Shahabad	30 72

OFFICE OF SANITARY COMMISSIONER FOR BENGAL,
The 25th October 1886.

R. LIDDERDALE, M.D.,
Deputy Surgeon-General, Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal.

MEMORANDUM.

THE table annexed to this memorandum shows :—

1. That during the week ending 2nd October 1886, the birth and death-rates of the principal Municipalities in Bengal amounted to 20·8 and 36·5 per 1,000 of population, respectively, as opposed to 26·3 and 37·8 per 1,000, respectively, in the preceding week ending 25th September, showing large decrease in the registration of both the events, particularly of births.

2. That the following Municipalities returned the highest proportions of births and deaths :—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille.
Gya	38·2	Gya	147·6
Monghyr	38·0	Suburbs of Calcutta...	50·9
Bhagulpore	32·6	Bhagulpore	47·1
Beauleah	31·5	Serampore	43·2
Comillah	30·8	Patna	42·2
		Mozufferpore	41·3
		Monghyr	38·0
		Puri	33·6

3. That the principal diseases specified in the appended table proved fatal at the rates exhibited below :—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
	2nd Oct. 1886.	25th Sept 1886.
Cholera	8·4	7·7
Small-pox	...	...
Fever	12·7	15·5
Bowel-complaints	5·9	4·7
Injury	·5	·9
Other causes	9·0	9·0

The above figures denote principally that in comparison with the preceding week the severity of fever had, on the whole, declined considerably, and that of bowel-complaints had increased to a noticeable extent.

4. That of the above-mentioned death-causes while no death was reported to have occurred from small-pox, and the casualties from injury were nowhere large, the rest of the diseases proved most fatal in the Municipalities noted below:—

Cholera.	Ratio per mille.	Fever.	Ratio per mille.	Bowel-complaints.	Ratio per mille.	Other causes.	Ratio per mille.
Gya ...	62·8	Gya ...	47·1	Gya ...	16·4	Bhagulpore ...	21·7
Mozufferpore ...	21·9	Beauleah ...	21·0	Puri ...	12·6	Gya	19·1
Suburbs of Calcutta ...	12·0	Purneah ...	20·8	Suburbs of Calcutta ...	10·7	Puri	18·9
Patna ...	8·4					Midnapore ...	13·9
Monghyr ...	6·3					Serampore ...	13·7
						Patna	13·3
						Suburbs of Calcutta	11·8

It is gratifying to find that the severity of cholera had abated considerably in Gya, in comparison with its incidence during the preceding week.

5. That the death-rates in relation to Sex, Class and Age were returned at the rates indicated below :—

According to Sex.	Ratio per mille.	According to Class.	Ratio per mille.	According to Age.	Ratio per mille.

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Births" the ratios under which have been omitted inasmuch as

RED SEA—WEST COAST.

COAST OF ABYSSINIA.

Bank southward of S. E. Jezirat Kudd'Ali.

THE British Admiralty, London, has given notice—on the authority of the Commander of the Italian gun-boat Scilla—of the existence of a bank lying about two miles S ½ E. from South-East Jezirat Kudd'Ali, and nearly one mile from the shore.

This bank (Scilla bank) extends about 9 cables in a N. N E and S. S. W. direction with a breadth of 2½ cables; on the northern end there is a patch of 19 feet at low-water (the shoalest spot found), and on the southern end a patch of 21 feet; on other parts of the bank, the depths range from 23 to 33 feet.

The Scilla anchored near the southern edge of this bank in 21 feet with the following bearings :—

South-West summit of Saddle island	...		...	S. 89° E.
Jezirat Kudd'Ali summit	...	...	...	N. 37° W.
South-East Jezirat Kudd'Ali summit			...	N. 5° W.

Position—Latitude 13° 53′ 15″ N, longitude 41° 51′ 30″ E.

Note.—From the shoalest spot, Barn rock is shut in by South-East Jezirat Kudd'Ali, and the North-East extreme of Saddle Island is in line with the highest peak of Jebel 'Abáyil.

The Commander of the Scilla reports that Haycock hill and the islands in the vicinity are not well charted.

'ASAB BAY ENTRANCES.

(1).—Buoy marking Fieramosca shoal.

THE British Admiralty, London, announces that the Italian Government has given notice on the authority of the Commander of the Italian gun-boat Scilla that a buoy has been placed near the N. E. edge of the Fieramosca shoal, northward of 'Asab Bay.

The buoy, cylindrical in shape, with tripod and flag, is painted black, and is moored in 15 feet with the following bearings :—

West extreme of Jezirat Fátimah	...	...	... S. 10° W.
Sella, or Saddle mount, south peak	...	.	... S. 54° W.
Sanáh Bór islet summit	...	...	... S. 75° W.

Fieramosca shoal is found to be about a mile long N W. and S. E., and two-thirds of a mile broad, with soundings varying from 15 feet to 26 feet.

(2).—Position and particulars of a shoal.

Also, that in the northern entrance to 'Asab Bay, a shoal lies about 1¾ miles E. ¾ N. from the position assigned to Bosanquet shoal.

This shoal (not marked by discoloured water), composed of coarse sand and broken shells, with depths of 3¼ to 5¼ fathoms at low-water, extends about 3¾ cables in a N. W. and S E. direction, with a breadth of 2¾ cables; on its northern side the depths increase quickly to 11 fathoms; it lies with the following bearings :—

West extreme of Jezirat Fátimah	...	...	... S 33° E.
Sella, or Saddle mount	...	...	... S. 49° W.
Sanáh Bór islet summit	...	...	.. S. 86° 30′ W.

When on this shoal, Ganga and Sella mounts are nearly in line.

Note.—A beacon (pyramid) has been erected on Rás Makawwa, to indicate Rubattino channel entrance, approach to 'Asab Bay from the eastward

Two beacons (pyramid) have also been erected on Halib Island, eastern entrance to 'Asab Bay, to lead through the Rubattino channel.

The bearings are magnetic.

CALCUTTA SMALL CAUSE COURT.

NOTICE.

IN accordance with suggestions contained in a report to the High Court, signed by Mr. Justice Wilson and Mr. Justice Trevelyan, on their inspection of the Calcutta Small Cause Court, a new system will, on and after the 28th October 1886, be tried for the purpose of revising the list of cases which come daily into the court.

All summons cases will, on the returnable date of the summons, come before one only of the Judges, who will revise the whole list of the court for each day.

He will go through the list, enter "compromises," make decrees in cases in which the defendant does not appear, give fresh summonses in cases where the summons has not been served, grant necessary postponements, ascertain what causes are defended, and dispose of any cases which, in his judgment, can be disposed of summarily.

This would leave the whole time of the other Judges free for the trial of defended causes. The defended causes will be assigned by the Judge revising the list to the lists of the different Judges on the earliest possible days, and will be adjourned by him to those days. The Judge revising the list will have before him the list of each Judge for each day, so far as already filled up, and will arrange that there should always be a sufficient number of cases, say 25 or 30, on each Judge's list. Each of the other Judges will thus have each day his list of defended cases provided for him. When a second summons has been granted, the case will, on the new return day, come again before the Judge who revises the list for that day.

If under this system a Judge should at any time find his list becoming clogged, he will communicate with the revising Judge, and inform the latter that he must have a day or days left clear to enable him to pull up. Thus if on the first of the month a Judge finds that his lists were getting blocked, and that it will take a day to get them clear, he will tell the revising Judge that this is the case. The latter, when revising the lists of the Judge in question, may see that they are already filled, say up to the 9th: he will leave the 10th blank. The Judge who had found himself blocked, knowing that the 10th would be a clear day, will use his discretion: he will either go on as usual up to the 10th, trusting to clear himself on that day, or will adjourn a sufficient number of cases to that day to enable him to take the other cases as nearly as possible on their proper dates.

ADJOURNMENTS.

No "costs of the day" will be allowed on adjournments.

Nor will adjournments be allowed, even by consent, except upon good cause shown.

By order of the Court,

COURT OF SMALL CAUSES OF CALCUTTA,
The 28th July 1886.

C. Y. C. BOLST,
Clerk of the Court.

Notes on Forestry

BY C. F. AMERY,

Deputy Conservator, Forests, N.-W. Provinces.

THIS little work, published with the approval of the Government of India, treats of the general principles of forest management in all its branches, and is recommended not only to forest officers, but to all who are interested in the progress of forest management in this country.

May be obtained of Messrs. King, King & Co., Bombay, and of Messrs. Wyman & Co., Calcutta. Price Rs. 3-8, or including postage, Rs. 4. Or of the publishers, Messrs. Trübner & Co., Ludgate Hill, London. Price five shillings.

The following revised advertisement is published in substitution of that which appeared at page 1084, Part II of the Calcutta Gazette of the 9th July 1884:—

The Indian Law Reports,

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat; the copies for subscribers registered by Messrs. Thacker, Spink & Co., are distributed by that firm; and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1885, the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows:—

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[First publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 21st October, 1886:—

No. 26 of 1886.

A Bill to regulate the supply of electricity for lighting and other purposes.

WHEREAS it is expedient to regulate the supply of electricity for lighting and other purposes; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Electricity Supply Act, 1887.

(2) It shall extend to the whole of British India; and

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "electricity" includes galvanism, magnetism, magneto-electricity and electro-magnetism:

(2) "telegraph", "message", "telegraph line", "post", "telegraph authority" and "local authority" have the meanings respectively assigned to those expressions in the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885: and

(3) "purpose" includes any purpose except the transmission of a message or the use of electricity in medical treatment.

Prohibition of supply of electricity without license.

3. Save as provided in this Act, electricity shall not be supplied for a price by any person for any purpose without a license from the Governor-General in Council authorizing the person in that behalf.

Grant and contents of license.

4. (1) The Governor-General in Council may from time to time license any person to supply electricity for any purpose, and in any local area, specified in the license.

(2) The license may prescribe the duties of the licensee and provide for the revocation of the license on his failure to perform any of those duties, and generally may contain such regulations and conditions as the Governor-General in Council thinks expedient.

(3) By a license granted under this section the Governor-General in Council may, subject to such conditions as he thinks fit to impose, confer on the licensee, with respect to the placing of appliances and apparatus for the supply of electricity, any of the powers which the telegraph authority possesses under the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885, with respect to the placing of telegraph lines and posts for the purposes of a telegraph established or maintained by the Government or to be so established or maintained. XIII of 1885.

(4) The Governor-General in Council may from time to time amend, add to or cancel any of the regulations and conditions contained in a license, and withdraw any of the powers conferred by a license or impose amended or additional conditions with respect to the exercise of those powers.

Supply of electricity by certain persons without license.

5. (1) Section 3 shall not apply to any person supplying electricity for any purpose in any local area at the time of the passing of this Act so far as regards the supply of electricity for that purpose within that area.

(2) If any question arises with respect to the purpose or the local area for or in which electricity was being supplied at that time, it shall be decided by an authority to be appointed by the Governor-General in Council in that behalf, and the decision of that authority on the question shall be final.

Grant of licenses to those persons

6. (1) Notwithstanding anything in the last foregoing section, the Governor-General in Council may, on the application of any person supplying electricity for any purpose in any local area at the time of the passing of this Act, grant to the person a license for that purpose in that area under the provisions of section 4.

(2) Where a license is granted under sub-section (1), it shall supersede any engagement between the person to whom it is granted and any local authority with respect to the conditions on which electricity may be supplied by that person for the purpose, and in the local area, specified in the license.

Penalty for supplying electricity without license or contravening license.

7. If a person does either of the following things, namely,—

(a) being a person to whom section 3 is applicable, supplies electricity for a price without a license, or,

(b) having a license under this Act, commits or suffers to be committed a breach of any duty prescribed in the license or of any regulation or condition contained therein, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, and, in the case of a continuing offence, with a further fine which may extend to two hundred rupees for every day during which the electricity is supplied or the breach of the duty, regulation or condition continues.

Power to make rules.

8. (1) The Governor-General in Council may from time to time make such rules as he thinks expedient for protecting the public in person and property from injury by reason of contact with, or the proximity of, appliances or apparatus used in the supply of electricity, and for preventing telegraph lines from being injuriously affected by any of those appliances or apparatus.

(2) A rule under this section may apply to the appliances and apparatus of a person not having a license under this Act as well as to those of a person having a license thereunder.

(3) In making a rule under this section, the Governor-General in Council may direct that a breach of it shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees and, in the case of a continuing breach, with a further fine which may extend to two hundred rupees for every day during which the breach continues.

Procedure for making rules.

9. (1) The Governor-General in Council shall, before making rules under the last foregoing section, publish, in such manner as he deems sufficient, a draft of the proposed rules for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

(2) There shall be published with the draft a notice specifying a date at or after which the draft will be taken into consideration.

(3) The Governor-General in Council shall receive and consider any objection or suggestion which may be made by any person with respect to the draft before the date so specified.

(4) The publication in the Gazette of India of a rule purporting to be made under the last foregoing section shall be conclusive proof that it has been duly made.

(5) Rules under that section may from time to time be amended, added to or cancelled by the Governor-General in Council.

Saving of prosecutions under other laws.

10. Nothing in this Act shall prevent any person from being prosecuted under any other law for any act or omission which constitutes an offence under section 7 or against a rule under section 8, or from being liable under that other law to any other or higher punishment or penalty than that provided by section 7 or a rule under section 8 :

Provided that a person shall not be punished twice for the same offence.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE primary object of this Bill is to empower the Governor-General in Council to make rules (a) for protecting the public in person and property from injury by reason of contact with, or the proximity of, appliances or apparatus used in the supply of electricity for lighting, and (b) for preventing telegraph-lines from being injuriously affected by any of those appliances or apparatus.

2. The danger to the public from electric light connections arises from the fact that currents of great strength are used in the production of the light, the currents being powerful enough to cause death to any person, or set fire to any inflammable material, coming in contact with the wires while the currents are passing, that is to say, while the lamps are being used. Protection may be afforded either by placing these wires or connections in such a position that contact with them is impossible, or by so covering them with insulating material that contact with them is innocuous.

Interference with telegraph and telephone signals is caused by obstructive currents being induced in the telegraph and telephone wires when the electric light wires pass within a certain distance of them. The remedy is to arrange that the electric light wires shall be placed sufficiently far off. It is impossible of course to determine what the safe distance is without knowing the strength of the current employed for the electric light, which again varies with the number of lamps in circuit, but the distance can be determined from time to time with reference to the maximum current to be used in any particular local area.

3. A company desiring to supply electricity in any local area for any purpose must, if the company was not supplying it in that area for that purpose at the time of the passing of the Act, obtain a license from the Governor-General in Council. By this license the Governor-General in Council may impose such regulations and conditions as he thinks expedient, and confer on the licensee, with respect to the placing of appliances and apparatus for the supply of electricity, any of the powers which the telegraph-authority possesses under the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885, with respect to the placing of telegraph lines and posts for the purposes of a telegraph established or maintained by the Government or to be so established or maintained.

Companies which were supplying electricity in any local area for any purpose at the time of the passing of the Act may elect to continue supplying it without a license, and therefore without the obligations which may be imposed, or the privileges which may be conferred, by a license.

The 21st October, 1886.

T. C. HOPE.

S. HARVEY JAMES,
Offg. Secretary to the Government of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[First publication.]

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the law relating to Civil Courts in Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Assam was presented to the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 21st October, 1886 :—

Preliminary Report on the Bengal Civil Courts Bill, 1881.

THE Bill to amend the law relating to Civil Courts in Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Assam was introduced into the Council of the Governor-General by the Hon'ble Mr. Stokes in 1881, was referred to a Select Committee and was circulated for opinion, but its further progress was suspended in consequence of a proposal to establish appellate benches in Bengal. That proposal having been abandoned for the present, the opinions on the Bill of 1881 have been examined, and most of the recommendations in them incorporated in the amended copy of the Bill which accompanies this Report.

The few recommendations which have not been adopted have reference to the relation of Courts of Small Causes to District Courts, and will be best considered in connection with the Provincial Small Cause Courts Bill, 1885. I propose therefore to move at the next meeting of Council that all members of the Select Committee appointed to consider and report on that Bill who are residents of, or are or have been officially connected with, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces or Assam be added to the Select Committee on the Courts Bill to which this Preliminary Report relates.

2. The following portions of the amended Bill seem to call for remark :—

(a) Section 5.—A sub-section has been added on the advice of the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh for the purpose of removing any doubt there may be as to the competence of a Local Government to appoint a Judge of a Court of Small Causes to be a Subordinate Judge, or to appoint a District Judge or Subordinate Judge to discharge temporarily the functions of another District Judge or Subordinate Judge, as the case may be, in addition to the performance of his own duties.

(b) Section 7.—The powers vested in the High Courts at Fort William and Allahabad by the Statute 24 & 25 Vic., cap. 104, section 15, seem to render it unnecessary to provide in this and other sections of the Bill that a District Judge is in all matters connected with the administration of the Courts to act under the control of the High Court, the District Judge being already in those matters under the obligation of obeying any instructions which the High Court may be pleased to issue.

(c) Section 8.—It has been objected that the provision of the Act of 1871 which requires an Additional Judge or Subordinate Judge in charge of the office of a District Judge to discharge "such of the current duties thereof as are connected with the filing of suits and appeals, the issue of processes and the like functions," is too indefinite, and has in practice resulted in inconvenience and loss to parties. An attempt is made in sub-section (2) of section 8 of the revised Bill to define more particularly the powers which an Additional Judge or Subordinate Judge in charge of the office of a District Judge may exercise.

(d) Section 9.—Objection has been taken by the High Court for the North-Western Provinces to the words "on leave" in section 9 of the Act of 1871, and to the words in the same section which empower the District Judge to transfer cases only to his own Court or to the Court of a Subordinate Judge. The High Court points out that a Subordinate Judge may be absent from his district otherwise than on leave, as, for instance, on deputation to another district, and that, where, as occasionally happens, the Court of a Subordinate Judge is for any tract of country the Court of lowest jurisdiction, it may be convenient to transfer cases from his Court to that of a Munsif. The section has in these respects been amended, and two sub-sections (3) and (4) have been added, the former being supplementary to the amendment of sub-section (1), and the latter designed to remove a difficulty which has been felt in the North-Western Provinces.

(e) Section 10.—The expression of this section, which was inaccurate in the Act of 1871, has been amended in the manner proposed by Mr. Justice Prinsep

(f) Section 11.—This section has been modified in accordance with the recommendations of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, the Chief Commissioner of Assam and Mr. Justice Prinsep.

(g) Section 16.—A sub-section has, on the suggestion of Mr. Justice Prinsep, been added to meet the case of officers in the territories referred to in section 11 who dispose of civil business while on tour at any place within the local limits of their jurisdiction.

(h) Section 17.—On the suggestion of Mr. Justice Field, a sub-section has been added to the effect that a judicial act shall not be invalid by reason only of its having been done on a holiday.

(i) Section 18.—This section has been so drawn as to remove difficulties experienced in Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Assam in the working of the corresponding section of the Act of 1871.

(j) Section 21.—A sub-section has been added with reference to the cases at 13 B. L. R. 376; 10 B L R., App., 30; 19 W. R. 201; and 5 C. L. R. 6.

(k) Section 22.—Sub-section (2) of this section has been re-drawn with advertence to the cases at 18 W. R. (F. B.) 261; 18 W. R. 316; and 19 W. R. 131.

Sub-section (3) has been added on the suggestion of Mr. Justice Prinsep.

(l) Section 23.—The case at I. L. R. 7 All. 775 suggests an expansion of this section.

(m) Section 25.—Sub-section (1) will empower the District Judge to transfer appeals from orders of Munsifs, as well as from their decrees, to Subordinate Judges.

Sub-section (2) has, on the suggestion of Mr. Justice Prinsep, been so drawn as to enable the District Judge to transfer to any other competent Court under his control an appeal withdrawn from the Court of a Subordinate Judge.

Sub-section (3) is suggested by the cases at 16 W. R. 235 and 18 W. R. 292.

(n) Section 26.—This section has been amended in several particulars. It is proposed, on the suggestion of Mr. Justice Field, that the order of the High Court may be either general or special; on the suggestion of Mr. Justice Prinsep, that the High Court may authorise a Subordinate Judge or Munsif to take cognizance of the proceedings mentioned in the section; on the suggestion of the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, that references by Collectors under section 322C of the Code of Civil Procedure should be added to the list of proceedings; and on the suggestion of the same Government and of Mr. Justice Field and Mr. Justice Maclean, that several of the proceedings specified in section 26 of the Bill of 1881 should be excluded therefrom.

(o) Section 27.—On the suggestion of Mr. Justice Prinsep, it is proposed that appeals from orders passed by Subordinate Judges in proceedings mentioned in section 26 shall, when appeals are permitted, lie to the High Court.

(p) Section 34.—With respect to section 35 of the Bill of 1881, Mr. C. J. Daniell, District Judge of Moradabad, recorded the following remarks :—

"I consider it essential to the efficiency of the ministerial officers of the subordinate Civil Courts in a judgeship that a stream of promotion should be maintained from the lowest to the highest grade of these officials throughout the judgeship. If this is secured, every hard-working man knows that there are several appointments to which he can aspire, the field for his promotion is widened, and he is more encouraged to do his work well than if he had only to look to the rare vacancies in a single munsifi for advancement. On the other hand, the Judge can promote any man from any one of several situations to any other that he may be qualified for in the whole judgeship, and a stimulus is provided to efficient and industrious work which is entirely absent if the Judge can promote no one but the officials of his own office, or if, in order to promote a deserving man in a munsifi, he is obliged to place him over the heads of other men in his own office, without being at the same time able to provide any of his own officials with a step on promotion in any of the munsifis subordinate to him.

"There can, I think, be no doubt that better men are obtainable and better work done in a wide than in a narrow field of work; but this section (35), as it stands, reduces the area over which a subordinate official's career extends within the most confined limits.

* * * * * * * * * *

"In former times, when the subordinate Civil Courts were never inspected, something might be said in favour of allowing Munsifs to nominate and promote the officials of their own Courts; but in these days Munsifs are frequently changed, while Judges are seldom changed, and a judgeship is becoming more and more the unit of judicial administration. It is as well that this should be so, for such a condition is an incentive to a more careful supervision on the part of a Judge over his subordinates, and consequently to better work on the part of all below him. This incentive, however, will fail to act if the area of nomination and selection in a judgeship is confined to single munsifis instead of extending to all the Courts in the judgeship."

The Government of the North-Western Provinces expressed concurrence in Mr. Daniell's remarks, as the Government of Bengal did in similar remarks recorded by Mr. Justice Field.

(q) Section 35.—This section provides for the case of Civil Court amins and the joint process-serving establishments now maintained throughout Bengal and the North-Western Provinces under the superintendence of central nazirs and the control of the District Judge.

(r) Section 38.—The addition to this section was suggested by Mr. Justice Oldfield.

(s) Section 40.—This section seems to be required for the purposes of applications under section 108 of the Code of Civil Procedure and other proceedings not referred to in sections 623 and 649 of that Code.

No. II.

A Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Civil Courts in Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Assam.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to Civil Courts in Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Assam; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 1.] Short title, local extent, commencement and application.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Civil Courts Act, 1887.

(2) It extends to the territories for the time being respectively administered by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces and the Chief Commissioner of Assam, except such portions of those territories as for the time being are not subject to the ordinary civil jurisdiction of the High Courts and except the Jhánsi Division; and

(3) It shall come into force on the first day of April, 1887.

(4) Except this section and sections 17, 23, 28, 40 and 41, nothing in this Act applies to Courts of Small Causes established under the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, 1887.

VI of 1871. Repeal.

2. (1) The Bengal Civil Courts Act, 1871, and Act No. XIX of 1877 (to enable certain District Judges to suspend and remove certain ministerial officers, and for other purposes), section 1, are hereby repealed:

(2) But all appointments, nominations, rules and orders made, jurisdiction and powers conferred, and lists published under the Bengal Civil Courts Act, 1871, or any enactment thereby repealed, shall be deemed to be respectively made, conferred and published under this Act; and

(3) Any enactment or document referring to the Bengal Civil Courts Act, 1871, or to any enactment thereby repealed, shall be construed to refer to this Act or to the corresponding portion thereof.

CHAPTER II.

CONSTITUTION OF CIVIL COURTS.

Act VI of 1871, ss. 3 & 4.] Number of District Judges and Subordinate Judges.

3. The Local Government may reduce, and, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, increase, the number of District Judges and Subordinate Judges now fixed.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 4.] Number of Munsifs.

4. The Local Government may, subject to the control of the Governor-General in Council, alter the number of Munsifs now fixed:

Provided that, except in the case of Munsifs of a grade the salary of which does not exceed two hundred and fifty rupees per mensem, an increase of the number of Munsifs now fixed shall not be made by the Local Government without the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 5.] Vacancies in District or Subordinate Judgeships.

5. (1) Whenever the office of District Judge or Subordinate Judge is vacant by reason of the death, resignation or removal of the Judge or other cause, or whenever the Governor General in Council has sanctioned an increase of the number of District Judges or Subordinate Judges, the Local Government shall fill up the vacancy or appoint the additional District Judges or Subordinate Judges, as the case may be.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent a Local Government from appointing any Judge of a Court of Small Causes to be also a Subordinate Judge, or from appointing a District Judge or Subordinate Judge to discharge, for such period as it thinks fit, in addition to the functions devolving on him as such District Judge or Subordinate Judge, all or any of the functions of another District Judge or Subordinate Judge, as the case may be.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 6.] Vacancies in Munsifships.

6. (1) Whenever the office of Munsif is vacant, or whenever the Local Government increases the number of Munsifs, the High Court shall nominate such person as it thinks fit to be a Munsif, and the Local Government shall appoint him accordingly.

(2) The Local Government may, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, make rules as to the qualifications of persons to be appointed to the office of Munsif.

(3) When rules have been made under sub-section (2), a person shall not be nominated under sub-section (1) unless he possesses the qualifications required by the rules.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 7.] Additional Judges.

7. (1) When the business pending before any District Judge requires the aid of Additional Judges for its speedy disposal, the Local Government may, upon the recommendation of the High Court, and with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, appoint such Additional Judges as may be requisite.

(2) Additional Judges so appointed shall discharge any of the functions of a District Judge which the District Judge may assign to them, and, in the discharge of those functions, they shall exercise the same powers and be subject to the same control as the District Judge.

Act VI of 1871, s. 8.] Temporary charge of District Judgeship.

8. (1) In the event of the death, resignation or removal of the District Judge, or of his being incapacitated by illness or otherwise for the performance of his duties, or of his absence from the place at which his Court is held, the Additional Judge, or, if an Additional Judge is not attached to the Court, the senior Subordinate Judge present at the place where the office of the District Judge is situate, shall, without relinquishing his ordinary duties, assume charge of that office, and shall continue in charge thereof until the office is resumed by the District Judge or assumed by an officer duly appointed thereto.

(2) While in charge of the office of the District Judge, the Additional Judge or Subordinate Judge, as the case may be, may, subject to any rules which the High Court may make in this behalf, exercise any of the powers of the District

(Chapter III.—Ordinary Jurisdiction.—Section 18.)

Judge with respect to the admission of plaints, applications and appeals, the issue and stay of process before judgment or in execution of a decree or order, and the transfer of suits and other proceedings.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 9.]

Transfer of proceedings on vacation of office of Subordinate Judge.

9. (1) In the event of the death, resignation or removal of a Subordinate Judge, or of his being incapacitated by illness or otherwise for the performance of his duties, or of his absence from the place at which his Court is held, the District Judge may transfer all or any of the proceedings pending in the Court of the Subordinate Judge either to his own Court or to any Court under his control competent to dispose of them.

(2) Proceedings transferred under this section shall be disposed of as if they had been instituted in the Court to which they are so transferred.

XIV of 1882.

(3) Notwithstanding anything in section 25 of the Code of Civil Procedure, if a suit of which the amount or value of the subject-matter exceeds fifty rupees is transferred to the Court of a Munsif under this section from the Court of a Subordinate Judge exercising with respect thereto the jurisdiction of a Judge of a Court of Small Causes, the Court of the Munsif shall not, for the purposes of the suit, be deemed to be a Court of Small Causes.

(4) For the purposes of applications which are not pending in the Court of the Subordinate Judge on the occurrence of an event referred to in sub-section (1), and with respect to which that Court has exclusive jurisdiction, the District Judge may exercise all or any of the jurisdiction of that Court.

Act VI of 1871, s. 9.]

Temporary charge of Munsifship.

10. (1) A District Judge, on the occurrence within the local limits of his jurisdiction of any vacancy in the office of Munsif, may appoint such person as he thinks fit to act in the office until that person is relieved by a Munsif appointed under section 6 or his appointment is cancelled by the District Judge.

(2) The District Judge shall forthwith report to the High Court the occurrence of every such vacancy and the making and cancelling of every such appointment.

Act VI of 1871, s. 10.]

Power to confer judicial powers on officers in Chutiá Nágpur, Jalpaigori, Darjiling and Assam.

11. (1) The Local Government may invest with the powers of any Court under this Act any officer in the Chutiá Nágpur Division, or in the Jalpaigori or Darjiling Division, or in any part of the territories administered by the Chief Commissioner of Assam except the district of Silhat, or in any other part of the territories to which this Act extends, and to which the Governor-General in Council has, by notification in the official Gazette, declared this section to apply.

(2) Nothing in sections 3 to 10 (both inclusive) or sections 30 to 39 (both inclusive) applies to any officer so invested, but all the other provisions of this Act shall apply to him so far as those provisions can be made applicable.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 11.]

Control of Civil Courts.

12. Subject to the superintendence of the High Court, the District Judge shall control all the Civil Courts within the local limits of his jurisdiction.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 12.]

Present Judges to be deemed duly appointed.

13. Appointments of District Judges, Additional Judges, Subordinate Judges and Munsifs made before the commencement of this Act shall be deemed to have been made in accordance with law.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 14.]

Seals of Courts.

14. Every Court under this Act shall use a seal of such form and dimensions as are for the time being prescribed by the Local Government.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 15.]

District Judges, Additional Judges, Subordinate Judges and Munsifs to be deemed Civil Courts.

15. Every District Judge, Additional Judge, Subordinate Judge and Munsif under this Act shall be deemed to be a Civil Court within the meaning of the Code of Civil Procedure and of this Act.

XIV of 1882.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 16.]

Place of sitting of Courts.

16. (1) The Local Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, fix and alter the place or places at which any Court under this Act is to be held.

(2) All such places now fixed shall be deemed to be fixed under this Act.

(3) Where the place at which a Court under this Act is to be held has not been fixed, the Court may be held at any place within the local limits of its jurisdiction.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 17.]

Vacation.

17. (1) Subject to such orders as may be issued by the Governor General in Council, the High Court shall prepare a list of days to be observed in each year as close holidays in the Courts subordinate thereto.

(2) The list shall be published in the local official Gazette.

(3) A judicial act done by a Civil Court on a day specified in the list shall not be invalid by reason only of its having been done on that day.

CHAPTER III.

ORDINARY JURISDICTION.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 18.]

Power to fix local limits of jurisdiction.

18. (1) The Local Government shall fix, and may vary, the local limits of the jurisdiction of any Court under this Act.

(2) If the same local jurisdiction is assigned to two or more Subordinate Judges or to two or more Munsifs, the District Judge may assign to each of them such civil business cognizable by the Subordinate Judge or Munsif, as the case may be, as he thinks fit.

(3) Where, in the territories mentioned in section 11, the same local jurisdiction is assigned to two or more officers invested with the powers of a Munsif, the officer invested with the powers of a District Judge may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, delegate his functions under sub-section (2) to an officer invested with the powers of a Subordinate Judge or to one of the officers invested with the powers of a Munsif.

The Bengal Civil Courts Bill, 1886.
(Chapter III.—Ordinary Jurisdiction.—Sections 19-24.)
(Chapter IV.—Special Jurisdiction.—Sections 25-26.)

(4) A Judge of a Court of Small Causes appointed to be also a Subordinate Judge or Munsif is a Subordinate Judge or Munsif, as the case may be, within the meaning of this section.

(5) The present local limits of the jurisdiction of every Civil Court (other than the High Court) shall be deemed to be fixed under this Act.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 19.]

Extent of original jurisdiction of District Judge or Subordinate Judge.

19. The jurisdiction of a District Judge or Subordinate Judge extends, subject to the provisions of section 15 of the Code of Civil Procedure, to all original suits for the time being cognizable by the Civil Courts. XIV of 1882.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 20.]

Extent of jurisdiction of Munsif.

20. The jurisdiction of a Munsif extends to all like suits in which the amount or value of the subject-matter in dispute does not exceed one thousand rupees.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 21.]

Appeals from District Judges and Additional Judges.

21. (1) Save as provided by the Code of Civil Procedure or by any other enactment for the time being in force, an appeal from a decree or order of a District Judge or Additional Judge shall lie to the High Court. XIV of 1882.

(2) An appeal shall not lie to the High Court from a decree or order of an Additional Judge in any case in which, if the decree or order had been made by a District Judge, an appeal would not lie to that Court.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 22.] XIV of 1882.

Appeals from Subordinate Judges and Munsifs.

22. (1) Save as otherwise provided by the Code of Civil Procedure or by any other enactment for the time being in force, an appeal from a decree or order of a Munsif shall lie to the District Judge.

(2) Save as aforesaid, an appeal from a decree or order of a Subordinate Judge shall lie—

(a) to the District Judge where the amount or value of the subject-matter in dispute in the original suit in which or in any proceeding arising out of which the decree or order was made did not exceed five thousand rupees, and

(b) to the High Court in any other case.

(3) Where the function of receiving any appeals which lie to the District Judge under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) has been assigned to an Additional Judge, the appeals may be preferred to the Additional Judge.

(4) The High Court may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, order, by notification in the official Gazette, that appeals lying to the District Judge under sub-section (1) from the decrees and orders of any Munsif shall be preferred to the Court of such Subordinate Judge as may be mentioned in the notification, and the appeals shall thereupon be preferred accordingly.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 24.]

Certain decisions to be according to Native law.

23. (1) Where in any suit or other proceeding it is necessary for any Court under this Act to decide any question regarding succession, inheritance, marriage or caste or any religious usage or institution, the Muhammadan law in cases where the parties are Muhammadans, and the Hindu law in cases where the parties are Hindus, shall form the rule of decision, except in so far as that law has by legislative enactment been altered or abolished.

(2) In cases not provided for by sub-section (1) or by any other law for the time being in force, the Court shall act according to justice, equity and good conscience.

Judges not to try suits in which they are interested.

24. (1) A Munsif, Subordinate Judge, Additional Judge or District Judge shall not try any suit to which he is a party or in which he is personally interested, or adjudicate upon any proceeding connected with or arising out of any such suit. Act VI of 1871, s. 25.

(2) A Subordinate Judge, Additional Judge or District Judge shall not try an appeal against a decree or order passed by himself in another capacity.

(3) When any such suit, proceeding or appeal as is referred to in sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) comes before any such Munsif, Subordinate Judge, Additional Judge or District Judge, he shall forthwith transmit the record of the case to the Court to which he is immediately subordinate, with a report of the circumstances attending the reference.

(4) The superior Court shall thereupon dispose of the case under section 25 of the Code of Civil Procedure. XIV of 1882

(5) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the extraordinary original civil jurisdiction of the High Court.

(6) For the purposes of this section the Munsif and Subordinate Judge shall be deemed to be immediately subordinate to the District Judge, and the Additional Judge and District Judge to the High Court.

CHAPTER IV.

SPECIAL JURISDICTION.

[Act VI of 1871, ss. 26 & 27.]

Power to transfer to Subordinate Judges appeals from Munsifs.

25. (1) A District Judge may transfer to any Subordinate Judge under his control any appeals pending before him from decrees or orders of Munsifs.

(2) The District Judge may withdraw any appeal so transferred, and either hear and dispose of it himself or transfer it for disposal to another competent Court under his control.

(3) Appeals transferred under this section shall be disposed of subject to the rules applicable to like appeals when disposed of by the District Judge.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 27.]

Exercise by Subordinate Judge or Munsif of jurisdiction of District Court in certain proceedings.

26. (1) The High Court may, by general or special order, authorise any Subordinate Judge or Munsif to take cognizance of, and any District Judge to transfer to a Subordinate Judge or Munsif under his control, any of the proceedings next hereinafter mentioned or any class of those proceedings specified in the order.

(2) The proceedings referred to in sub-section (1) are the following, namely:—

(a) proceedings under Bengal Regulation V of 1799 (to limit the Interference of the Zillah

The Bengal Civil Courts Bill, 1886.

(Chapter IV.—Special Jurisdiction.—Sections 27-28.—Chapter V.—Misfeazance.—Section 29-32.—Chapter VI.—Ministerial Officers.—Section 33-36.)

and City Courts of Dewanny Adawlut in the Execution of Wills and Administration to the Estates of Persons dying intestate);

(b) applications for certificates under Act No. XXVII of 1860 (for facilitating the collection of debts on successions, and for the security of parties paying debts to the representatives of deceased persons); and XIV of 1882. (c) references by Collectors under section 322C of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(3) The District Judge may withdraw any such proceedings taken cognizance of by, or transferred to, a Subordinate Judge or Munsif, and may either himself dispose of them, or transfer them for disposal to any other competent Court under his control.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 28.] Disposal of proceedings referred to in last foregoing section.

27. (1) Proceedings taken cognizance of by, or transferred to, a Subordinate Judge or Munsif, as the case may be, under the last foregoing section shall be disposed of by him subject to the rules applicable to like proceedings when disposed of by the District Judge:

Provided that an appeal from an order of a Munsif in any such proceeding shall lie to the District Judge.

(2) An appeal from the order of the District Judge on the appeal from the order of the Munsif under this section shall lie to the High Court if a further appeal from the order of the District Judge is allowed by the law for the time being in force.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 29.] Power to invest Subordinate Judges and Munsifs with Small Cause Court jurisdiction.

28. The Local Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, confer, within such local limits as it thinks fit, upon any Subordinate Judge or Munsif the jurisdiction of a Judge of a Court of Small Causes under the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, 1887, for the trial of suits cognizable by such Courts, up to such value not exceeding five hundred rupees in the case of a Subordinate Judge or fifty rupees in the case of a Munsif, as it thinks fit, and may withdraw any jurisdiction so conferred.

CHAPTER V.

MISFEAZANCE.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 31.] Suspension or removal of Judges by Local Government.

29. Any District Judge, Additional Judge, Subordinate Judge or Munsif may, for any misconduct, be suspended or removed by the Local Government.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 32.] Suspension of Subordinate Judge by High Court.

30. (1) The High Court may, whenever it sees urgent necessity for so doing, suspend any Subordinate Judge under its control.

(2) Whenever the High Court suspends a Subordinate Judge under sub-section (1), it shall forthwith report to the Local Government the circumstances of the suspension, and the Local Government shall make such order with respect thereto as it thinks fit.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 33.] Suspension or removal of Munsif by High Court.

31. (1) The High Court may appoint a Commission for inquiring into the alleged misconduct of any Munsif.

(2) On receiving the report of the result of any such inquiry, the High Court may, if it thinks fit, remove the Munsif from office, or suspend him, or reduce him to a lower grade.

(3) The provisions of Act No. XXXVII of 1850 (for regulating Inquiries into the behaviour of Public Servants) shall apply to inquiries under this section, the powers conferred by that Act on the Government being exercised by the High Court.

(4) The High Court may, previous to the appointment of a Commission under this section, suspend any Munsif pending the result of the inquiry.

(5) The High Court may, without appointing any such Commission, remove or suspend any Munsif, or reduce him to a lower grade.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 34.] Suspension of Munsif by District Judge.

32. (1) Any District Judge may, whenever he sees urgent necessity for so doing, suspend any Munsif under his control.

(2) Whenever a District Judge suspends a Munsif under sub-section (1), he shall forthwith report to the High Court the circumstances of the suspension, and the High Court shall make such order with respect thereto as it thinks fit.

CHAPTER VI.

MINISTERIAL OFFICERS.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 35.] Appointment and removal of ministerial officers of District Judges and Additional Judges.

33. District Judges and Additional Judges shall appoint the ministerial officers of their respective Courts, and, subject only to the control of the Local Government, may remove or suspend those officers or fine them in an amount not exceeding one month's salary.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 36.] Appointment and removal of ministerial officers of Subordinate Judges and Munsifs.

34. (1) The ministerial officers of the Courts of Subordinate Judges and Munsifs shall be appointed—

(a) in the case of a vacancy not likely to last, and not lasting, longer than one month, by those Courts respectively, and

(b) in any other case, by the District Judge.

(2) A Subordinate Judge or Munsif may, by order, remove or suspend or fine in an amount not exceeding one month's salary, any of the ministerial officers of his Court who is guilty of any misconduct or neglect in the performance of the duties of his office.

[New.] Appointment and removal of ministerial officers on joint establishments.

35. Ministerial officers ordinarily employed in the service or execution of the processes of more than one Court shall be appointed, and may be removed or suspended, by the Court of highest grade by which they are employed; and any Court by which they are employed may, by order, fine them in an amount not exceeding one month's salary.

[Act XIX 1871, s. 1.] General powers of District Judge.

36. (1) The District Judge may, by order, suspend or remove any ministerial officer to whom section 34 or section 35 applies,

The Bengal Civil Courts Bill, 1886.

(Chapter VI.—Ministerial Officers.—Sections 37-39.)

(Chapter VII.—Supplemental Provisions.—Sections 40-41.)

and may, on appeal or otherwise, reverse or modify any order made under either of those sections by any Court under his control.

(2) The District Judge shall himself be subject to the control of the Local Government in the exercise of the powers conferred on him by sub-section (1).

Saving of penal and other consequences under other laws.

37. Nothing in the foregoing sections of this Chapter shall exempt any officer from any penal or other consequences to which he may be liable under any other law for the time being in force.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 37.]

Transfer of ministerial officers.

38. (1) The Local Government may, at the instance of the High Court or of the District Judge, transfer from any Court in the territories under its administration to any other Court in those territories all or any of the ministerial officers of any District Judge, Additional Judge, Subordinate Judge or Munsif.

(2) The District Judge may transfer all or any of the ministerial officers of any Court under his control to any other such Court.

[Act VI of 1871, s. 38.]

Recovery of fines.

39. Any fine imposed under this Chapter shall, if the order imposing it so directs, be recovered by deduction from the salary of the person fined.

CHAPTER VII.

SUPPLEMENTAL PROVISIONS.

[New.]

Continuance of proceedings of abolished Courts.

40. (1) Where a Court has from any cause ceased to have jurisdiction with respect to any case, any proceeding in relation to that case which, if that Court had not ceased to have jurisdiction, might have been had therein may be had in the Court to which the business of the former Court has been transferred.

(2) Nothing in this section applies to cases for which provision is made in section 623 or section 649 of the Code of Civil Procedure or in any other enactment for the time being in force. XIV of 1882.

Powers exercisable from time to time.

41. All powers conferred by this Act may be exercised from time to time as occasion requires.

F. NAPIER BROOME, Governor.

BY His Excellency SIR FREDERICK NAPIER BROOME, Knight Commander of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Territory of Western Australia and its Dependencies, &c., &c., &c.

WHEREAS under the provisions of an Act of the Legislative Council, passed in the 43rd year of the reign of Her present Majesty, numbered 23, intituled "An Act for the prevention of the Importation of Diseased Stock," the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, is empowered by Proclamation to prohibit the introduction into the Colony, either by land or sea, of any cattle within the meaning of the said Act and of "The Cattle Diseases Ordinance, 1865," and "The Imported Stock Act, 1876," or either of them: Now THEREFORE I, the said Governor, in exercise of such power and of all other powers enabling me in this behalf, do by this Proclamation, with the advice of the Executive Council, prohibit the importation into, and landing in, Western Australia, either by land or sea, from Great Britain and Ireland, or from any other place beyond the limits of the Australasian Colonies, of all horned cattle, sheep, and swine.

Given under my hand and under the Public Seal of the said Colony, this twenty-sixth day of July 1886.

By His Excellency's Command,

M. S. SMITH,

Acting Colonial Secretary.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN!!!

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON CHARITABLE DISPENSARIES IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1885.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL.

Darjeeling, the 29th October 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report on the Charitable Dispensaries in Bengal for the year 1885.

The Report for 1884 and the Resolution recorded on it.

On the 31st December 1884 there were 230 dispensaries under Government supervision. During the year 1885, seven new institutions were established, while four were closed or removed from the Government list. The total number of dispensaries open at the close of the year under review was therefore 233 against 230 of the previous year. Twenty-four Assistant Surgeons were received by transfer from the Imperial list. Eighteen Civil Hospital Assistants were admitted into the service, of whom seven came from the Campbell Medical School, five from Patna, four from Dacca, and two from Cuttack. It was pointed out to the Government of India that the limit of age for the entrance of Assistant Surgeons into the service of Government should be raised from 25 to 28 years. So long as the limit remained at 25 years it pressed hard on many of the best students, especially those who commenced the study of medicine after taking the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Since the close of the year the Government of India has ordered that the limit of age for the entrance of Assistant Surgeons into the service of Government in Bengal should be raised to 28 years.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with pleasure the testimony borne by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals to the proficiency exhibited by the students of the Dacca Medical School at the last annual examination Dr. Cowie is invited to express more fully his views regarding the propriety of increasing the fees paid by the recipients of medical education in this Province. It is presumed that the suggestion that young men who desire to study medicine should contribute more largely towards their education, has reference to students at the Medical College as well as to students at the medical schools. The Lieutenant-Governor would ask for an early expression of the Inspector-General's recommendations upon this point.

3. Returns have been received from 229 out of the 233 dispensaries, and the following table compares the amount of work done in them during 1884 and 1885 :—

	In-door.										Out-door.
	Under 25.	25 to 50.	50 to 75.	75 to 100.	100 to 250.	250 to 500.	500 to 750.	750 to 1,000.	Upwards of 1,000.	Total.	Under 250.	250 to 500.	500 to 750.	750 to 1,000.	1,000 to 2,500	2,500 to 5,000.	5,000 to 7,500.	7,500 to 10,000.	Upwards of 10,000.	Total.

The total number of dispensaries which received in-door patients was 136 against 132 in the previous year.

4. Of these 229 dispensaries, 50 were visited by the Civil Surgeons daily or frequently, seven more than four times during the year, eleven four times, twenty-one three times, twenty-three twice, fifty-three once, and fourteen were not inspected at all. The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals observes :—

"I have been struck with the real interest in sanitation evinced by the medical officers in charge of the institutions I have been able to personally inspect during the year, and I have no reason to question that the same healthful progress obtains generally elsewhere.

Some of the institutions were models of cleanliness. Hygienic arrangements were conducted systematically and intelligently. Civil Surgeons encourage their subordinates in this direction as in all other professional matters; and, judging from practical results, I must say their endeavours have met with no mean success."

It is not stated how many institutions were inspected during the year by the Inspector-General himself. This information should be given in future reports.

5. The following table shows the number of patients treated in 1885 and in the previous seven years, and the ratio of mortality among in-patients :—

	In-patients treated.	Out-patients treated.	Total.	Mortality among in-patients, per cent.
1878	28,473	927,783	956,256	20·01

1885	25,766	960,218	985,984	15 59

The total number of patients attending the dispensaries shows a decrease of 4,648 as compared with the number treated in 1884. The number of in-door patients, however, exceeded by 689 that recorded in the previous year.

6. The total income and expenditure of the dispensaries during the year are shown below :—

The opening balance on 1st January 1885, as shown above, is less by Rs. 3,207 than the closing balance of the previous year, as given in that year's report. The difference is explained to be due to the closure of one dispensary and the removal of another from the Government list.

7. The total receipts from Government amounted to Rs. 18,659 against Rs. 18,651 in 1884. Out of the Rs. 18,659, the sum of Rs. 5,043 was contributed to municipal dispensaries. After deduction, however, of the cost of registers and forms, and of diet in police cases, the Government contribution towards municipal dispensaries amounted to Rs. 2,570 against Rs. 3,106 in 1884. Of this Rs. 2,449 represents salaries of medical officers in the Utterpara and North Suburban Municipalities, and Rs. 121 the cost of repairs to the Pooree dispensary. The Government contribution towards dispensaries that are not municipal institutions amounted to Rs. 13,616 against Rs. 12,890 in the previous year.

8. The receipts from local sources, exclusive of municipal funds, amounted to Rs. 1,18,685 against Rs. 35,906 in the previous year. Of this, municipal dispensaries received Rs. 91,265 against Rs. 9,340 in 1884. The increase was mainly due to the fact that Rs. 68,000 were received in the Monghyr dispensary as sale proceeds of house property belonging to that institution; almost the whole of this sum was invested. The amount of subscriptions from Europeans was Rs. 16,872, and from Natives Rs. 1,06,185. It is to be regretted that the amount of native subscriptions showed a falling off of nearly Rs. 5,000 compared with the previous year. Of these subscriptions Rs. 40,263 were paid in aid of municipal dispensaries, and Rs. 82,794 in aid of other institutions. The amount received by the sale of securities and withdrawal of deposits was Rs. 25,389 against Rs. 15,769 in 1884 The interest on investments amounted to Rs. 30,890 against Rs. 27,914 in 1884. The amount contributed by municipalities was Rs. 1,43,574 against Rs 1,16,766 in 1884, showing an increase of Rs. 26,808.

9. The gross expenditure on dispensaries, exclusive of the amounts invested, was Rs. 3,86,574 against Rs. 3,49,712 in 1884, thus showing an increase of Rs. 36,862 Of this increase, Rs. 25,200 was incurred on account of buildings and repairs. The increase of Rs. 8,633 under the head of establishment should have been explained. Medical stores were obtained from the Government Store Department and from private druggists. Of the 229 dispensaries, the accounts of which were received, 180 obtained their supplies from private sources. The cost of diet was Rs. 39,409 against Rs. 38,894 in the previous year. The average cost of each diet varied from 2 annas 7 pies to 6 pies

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution, with a copy of the Report, be submitted to the Government of India, Home Department, for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, to the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, and to all Commissioners of Divisions, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE PRESIDENCY DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1885-86.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 2nd November 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

General Administration Report for the Presidency Division for 1885-86.

The report was not received until seven weeks after the date on which it was due—a delay attributed to the necessity for further references to district officers after receipt of their reports. This explanation cannot be accepted as satisfactory. The Commissioner should have prepared his report from such materials as were supplied by the district reports, or as could be procured within the time allowed by Government.

Annual tours.

2. In September and October the Commissioner spent a considerable number of days in the districts which had suffered from floods to concert measures of relief, and subsequently to inspect the arrangements made. His tour during the cold weather was of limited extent. The Collectors and, with one exception, the Sub-divisional Officers in this division made good use of their time in camp. The Collector of the 24-Pergunnahs was out for 72 days, which for this district, the circumstances of which are altogether exceptional, is an unusually long tour.

Weather and crops

3. The rainfall was above the average of the preceding five years in all the districts of the division; but, except in Khulna, the fall was not well distributed, and the crops suffered alternately from drought and flood. In the 24-Pergunnahs the season began well, but transplantation of rice was retarded by an insufficient rainfall in July, while the August downpour was so heavy as to swamp large areas of the young crops. The total outturn, however (except in the tract affected by the September floods), is reported to have been nearly up to the average. In the small portion of Nuddea that was unaffected by the floods, the outturn of aus paddy was good, and throughout the district the soil, enriched by alluvial deposit left by the inundation, yielded excellent cold-weather crops. The cultivation of wheat is rapidly expanding in this district, and received a special stimulus from the loss of the winter rice in the year under review. Of the sub-divisions of Jessore, Magoora and Narail reaped good crops of winter rice but lost most of the aus crop; while in the Sudder sub-division and in Bongong the floods had the reverse effect, destroying most of the amun, but only slightly injuring the aus. In Jhenidah, in spite of the inundations, the year is characterised as exceptionally prosperous. In Moorshedabad the distribution of the year's rain was very unfavourable to the crops, the whole of the aus paddy being destroyed by flood, while the yield of amun was up to the average only in the Kandi sub division. Khulna enjoyed well-timed as well as plentiful rain, the floods affected only a small portion of the Satkhira sub-division, and everywhere else the crops were excellent. The Commissioner might with advantage adopt the practice in vogue in other divisions, of giving quantitative estimates in annas of the outturn of each crop, instead of the less precise information conveyed by such adjectives as "fair" or "good."

Floods.

4. The exent and general effects of the September floods have been dealt with in special Resolutions of this Government. The breach of the Lahtakuri embankment in Moorshedabad. and the overflow of the Ganges at other points, brought large volumes of water into all the rivers of the division, which the usual drainage channels could not carry off, with the result that inundations, more or less serious, occurred in every district In Moorshedabad and Nuddea extensive damage was done, both to the rice crops and to houses, cattle, and stocks of grain; and special measures of relief were undertaken. In the 24-Pergunnahs the injury was confined to portions of the Baraset and Basirhat sub-divisions, aggregating about 200 square miles and containing 223 villages Private charity, supplemented by a grant of Rs. 1,500 from the Central Relief Committee, sufficed to meet the most urgent cases of distress. The Commissioner makes special mention of the liberality of Baboo Siristidhur Konch, a merchant of Gobardanga, who contributed over Rs. 2,000 for the relief of distressed persons in his neighbourhood. In the northern part of Jessore considerable damage was caused; but in southern Jessore and Khulna the floods were less destructive, and no special measures of relief were found necessary.

Public health

5. There was a great decline in registered mortality, the ratio of deaths per thousand falling from 28·4 to 25·3. The following table compares the results of the year in each district of the division:—

Districts.	Number of deaths from fever.			Number of deaths from cholera.			Number of deaths from other causes.			Total number of deaths from all causes.			Average of previous two years.

"It is apparent from the statistics," Mr. Smith observes, "that the past year was healthier than the preceding one, and the people generally enjoyed better health. This, I believe, is due to some extent, to the floods, which caused temporary distress, discomfort, and inconvenience, but conduced to improved health. It swept away the accumulation of filth and refuse of years, flushed and cleansed cess-polls and other stagnant water, and replenished tanks with wholesome fluid. The decrease in mortality is also partly due to sanitary improvements which are being gradually made in municipalities, and the attention which is given to the supply of good drinking-water." It would be most gratifying if a steady progressive improvement could be shown in the death-rate of urban tracts, such as might fairly be attributed to progressive sanitary arrangements. The figures given, however, only indicate that there was a considerable increase in mortality during 1884-85, followed by a still greater decrease during 1885-86—fluctuations which can hardly be connected with the slow and uniform course of municipal reform. Moreover, it is notorious that the registration of deaths is still very imperfect, and that, though it is fair to infer an improvement in health from a simultaneous decline in the recorded death-rate of several districts, it is hardly safe to go much further in drawing deductions from the returns.

Wages.

6. There was no change in the wages of labour except in the 24-Pergunnahs, as to which the Commissioner writes:—

"The price of labour is reported to have been on the increase in every part of the district, especially in the neighbourhood of the metropolis, where the numerous mills, factories, presses, &c., pay high rates for labour. In this district labourers, both skilled and unskilled, are said to be on the whole very fairly off, except of course when depression in any particular trade causes an occasional loss of work. The earnings of the lowest order of unskilled labourers vary from six to eight annas a day."

Material condition of the people.

7. The Commissioner states that—

"The condition of the people during the past year was not on the whole very favourable. It was affected by the floods to a more or less extent in every district, and in Moorshedabad and Nuddea depression had been caused by drought in previous years. The increased registration of bonds and of sales and mortages chiefly of small quantities of immoveable property, exhibited in the remarks on civil justice, show that money was wanted in a more than ordinary large number of cases. In the 24-Pergunnahs the year was not a favourable one for petty landowners and the agricultural classes generally. For persons with small fixed income, such as the amlah class, Mr. Forbes, the Magistrate and Collector of the 24-Pergunnahs district, says: 'The times are certainly bad. Prices of food have increased, and common rice sold at the Sudder at an average of 13 4 seers throughout the year, as compared with 15·4 seers during the preceding year and an average of 15·8 seers for the preceding five years.' For the labouring classes work during the present year has been fairly abundant, except in jute and cotton mills. Depression of trade, owing in a great measure to excessive production, forced the former to reduce their outputs. Towards the close of the year, however, work was again resumed, and the work-people were thus spared any very great privations. Indeed, in some cases they were well enough off when the work of the mills was slack to strike against any reduction in their wages In Nuddea the condition of the people is said to have remained unchanged except in the tracts flooded by the inundation, where there was temporary distress and inconvenience owing to the washing away of houses"

The condition of agriculturists in Jessore and Khulna was generally prosperous. In Moorshedabad on the other hand, the state of things was not satisfactory, owing to the heavy floods following on the deficient rainfall of previous years. Mr. Smith observes:—

"High prices ruled almost throughout the year. The holding off of the rains in May and June alarmed the mahajans. They stopped loans, and the cultivators in consequence got alarmed: the landless day-labourers found it difficult to get work. When the flood came and destroyed the crops in Bagri, a cry for relief from Government was raised Assistance was given in all urgent cases, and with great care, chiefly from local sources, which had been already more or less developed, for relief in the high lands in consequence of the previous drought."

Manufactures

8. Forty-seven mills and factories of all kinds, employing over 40,000 hands, were at work in the 24-Pergunnahs during the year. The jute and cotton industries continued in a depressed condition; and the production of gunnies in the jute mills has been much curtailed in order to reduce the glut of stock in the market. As regards the cotton mills, the Commissioner quotes the following extract from the Collector's report:—

"The previous year had bequeathed to a trade embarrassed by the over-production occasioned by the starting of new spindles the remains of about the worst crop of Bengal cottons which had been grown for many seasons, and at the outset prospects were not encouraging. Many mills restricted their output by reducing the hours of labour, and the production was still more curtailed by strikes against a reduction of 12½ per cent. in wages, which was necessitated by the depressed state of the trade and very generally enforced. With the rains, as usual, a better demand sprang up; prices of yarn advanced, and when new cotton came to market in November, the industry was established on a firm basis. The new Bengal cotton showed good quality at first, but rapidly deteriorated. Fortunately the abundance and cheapness of Bombay cotton largely compensated for this; and though the consumption of yarns fell off when the hot weather set in, the year ended with fairly encouraging prospects. Full time working with artificial light has been resumed in the cold weather, and the production has been larger than ever. It is therefore very unsatisfactory to note that the temporary closing of an important outlet for Calcutta yarn in Burmah, owing to the troubles in that country, has seriously hampered the trade, which has, moreover, to compete with ever-increasing imports of Bombay spinnings. The tendency of the Bombay competition apparently is to drive the Calcutta mills on to the coarser number of yarns, since Bombay, with its splendid selection of cotton, better climate, and better work-people, can spin 20s. cheaper than Calcutta."

9. The silk industy of Moorshedabad is also depressed, owing to the competition of other silks in the European market. Good prices were realised for the indigo of Nuddea, Moorshedabad, and Jessore; but in the two latter districts the season was unfavourable and the outturn was small. Sugar continues to be largely manufactured in the Bussirhat and Baraset sub-divisions of the 24-Pergunnahs, and in Nuddea, Khulna, and Jessore. In the last-named district there are over 250 sugar factories, which are estimated to have turned out 3,3 ,448 maunds of sugar. Excellent pottery is made on the bank of the Ichamati in Khulna, and specimens have been sent to the Indo-Colonial Exhibition in London.

Trade.

10. The year was not, in the opinion of the Commissioner, very favourable for trade Nuddea, a district which always imports rice, imported an unusual quantity in 1885-86 owing to the failure of local crops. In the Ranaghat sub-division of the same district, the tobacco crop was successful, and there was a large export of the leaf. In Jessore the bulk of the trade is still carried by river, the Bengal Central Railway and the Central Flotilla Company not having as yet been able to make convenient arrangements for loading and unloading. The Kotechandpore sugar, however, is now carried from Jhinkergacha by the railway. The falling off in trade at Baluchar and Azimgunge, in Moorshedabad, caused by the failure of local banks, has been still further accentuated during the year under report, while the export of hides from the Kandi sub-division in the same district has increased.

Public feeling.

11. The Commissioner states that the one subject on which there was any serious amount of local feeling during the year was the inundation, which spread over a large area in Moorshedabad, Nuddea, and Jessore, and affected in a less degree Khulna and the 24-Pergunnahs. These floods are, he considers, more or less periodical, and though they cause immediate trouble, they are welcomed by the mass of the people as enriching the exhausted soil and improving the fertility of future crops. The more educated class, however, living in towns, know less of the ultimate utility of such inundations, and realise very strongly the initial suffering. The people who take an interest in Local Self-Government showed less enthusiasm during the year on the subject, apparently resting in satisfaction that the desired boon had been bestowed. Only a small number were interested in the Burmese war and such public topics. Mr. Smith adds:—

"The political agitation and the deputation of candidates to try for seats in the Imperial Parliament; the attempt to get up monster meetings by the aid of merry-go-rounds, &c, to discuss political questions, and the interest taken by the educated few in such works as New India and the Old Man's Hope, are, however, noticeable features of the time"

Public press.

12. In reviewing the annual reports of other divisions, the Lieutenant-Governor has been able to notice the favourable comments made by Commissioners on the tone of the local newspapers, which in the interior of the country is for the most part moderate and good. It is matter for regret that the same cannot be said of the native press of the metropolis. Mr Smith writes:—

"Of late years there has been a considerable increase in the number of newspapers published at Calcutta. These papers are circulated in the mofussil, and the number of their readers is increasing with the advance of education. The tone of the press, as reflected in the native papers, has been generally antagonistic to the legislative and administrative action of the Government. The expedition to Burmah and its annexation have been the subject of specially hostile animadversions The rancorous antipathy to the European community, which has been a marked feature of the press for some years now, has not abated. It seems to me to be the deliberate aim of the writers to excite and keep alive feelings of hostility to Europeans. Every crime of which a European is charged is accepted as true and as typical of the conduct of Europeans generally. If enquiry proves it false, the papers continue to assert its truth, and declare the decision to be only a result of the gross partiality of the courts, impugning alike the mofussil tribunal and the High Court"

13. The Commissioner notices a case of extortion which occurred during the year in the Moorshedabad district

"A young man who had received a good education and was a constant contributor to the Calcutta press, was charged with attempting to extort money by writing threatening letters to a native landholder. He wrote that he had received from many respectable correspondents accounts showing that the zemindar had been guilty of high-handed and oppressive conduct, murder and riot, and that he had been asked to publish the accounts in the newspapers, and if he were to publish the real facts it would probably be serious: If he did not publish the information he would lose Rs. 500 a year, which he received as a correspondent of the newspapers, but he would remain silent if he were compensated for the loss. The zemindar prosecuted, and a sentence of three months' imprisonment was passed. It was upheld on appeal The case, though not strictly a press case, is typical of an evil that results from the freedom with which malicious statements are published"

Civil Justice.

14. The following statement shows the number and value of suits of all kinds instituted during the years 1884 and 1885:—

Districts	Number of suits						Value of suits
	For money or moveables.		Suits under the rent law.		Title or other suits.		In money or moveables.		Suits under the rent law		Title or other suits

The increase in rent-suits in the 24-Pergunnahs and Moorshedabad is attributed to a large number of institutions shortly before the introduction of the new Tenancy Act, landlords being anxious to bring their cases under the old law, which they understood, rather than under the new law, as to the operation of which they were uncertain. The larger number of institutions of suits for money or moveables is accounted for by the temporary agricultural distress caused by the floods; debtors were unable to discharge their obligations, and creditors therefore went into court to sue for the amounts due to them.

Crime.

15. There were 15,916 reports of cognizable cases during the year against 16,844 in 1884, showing a decrease of 928, or 5·5 per cent.; and there was also a decrease in non-cognizable crime. Rioting, dacoity, and offences punishable under the Arms Act are mentioned as offences in which a decrease was particularly observed. The total number of persons arrested during the year was 15,188, of whom 9,051, or 59·5 per cent., were convicted, the proportion of convictions in 1884 having been 58·3 per cent.

Excise.
Stamps.
License-tax.

16. The total collections of excise revenue during the year amounted to Rs. 25,72,052, a decrease of Rs. 1,39,317 on the receipts of the previous year. Of the whole revenue, nearly half, Rs. 12,72,192, was realised from country spirits. The decrease was most marked in country spirits, rum, imported wine, ganja and opium. The unfavourable agricultural circumstances of the year had the usual effect on excise receipts, and in the case of country spirits the income was affected by uncertainty as to the policy to be adopted by Government on the report of the Excise Commission, which checked competition at the auction sales. A short crop of ganja in the producing districts caused an enhancement of price and smaller consumption of the drug. In Berhampore the sudder distillery system was re-introduced in and around the municipalities at the head-quarters of the district. The experience of one year, and that a year of agricultural depression, is not sufficient to warrant any clear inference as to the probable results of the change. The gross income from stamp revenue for the year was Rs. 38,35,154 against Rs. 37,21,000 in the previous year—an increase of Rs. 1,14,154. This increase was accompanied by a decrease in charges, and the improvement in the net revenue amounted to Rs. 1,25,202. Duty and penalty were levied by Civil Courts and Collectors on insufficiently stamped documents in 739 cases against 512 in 1884-85, the increase being almost entirely accounted for by the impounding of 199 indigo kabulyats in Nuddea. The net collections of license-tax amounted to Rs. 1,23,901 against Rs. 1,25,040 in the previous year—a percentage of 98·05 on the net demand. The only district in which the demand of the previous year was not reduced was Nuddea, where it increased by Rs. 1,180. The license-tax operations in the town of Calcutta are shown in the following statement:—

Land revenue and canals.

17. The percentage of land revenue collections on demand was very satisfactory in all districts but Nuddea, where it fell from 97·4 to 95·5, and Khulna, where only 91·6 per cent. of the demand was collected. The navigable channels under the Canals Act of 1864—the Circular and Eastern Canals and the Nuddea Rivers—yielded a revenue of Rs. 6,63,265, a decrease of Rs. 1,01,918 on the receipts of the previous year, owing partly to the floods, which enabled boats to evade the toll-stations, and partly to the depressed state of the Calcutta market.

Roads.

18. The District Road Committees of this division, except in Moorshedabad and Khulna, have so many miles of metalled roads to keep up at a heavy cost that they have very small funds at their disposal for new works. To this normal disadvantage was added, in the year under review, serious damage done by the floods to the existing roads; and it is not therefore surprising to learn that no new works of any great importance could be undertaken in any district. In the Diamond Harbour sub-division of the 24-Pergunnahs, in Jessore, and in Khulna, the want of feeder roads to the railway is still severely felt, and, in the Commissioner's opinion, the Bengal Central Railway has no prospect of receiving the goods traffic passing through Jessore and Khulna until such roads are constructed.

Local Committees

19. The District Road Committees and Branch Committees are reported to have taken a fair degree of interest in the duties entrusted to them. Of the 35 municipalities in the division, the elective system has been introduced into all but three in the district of Khulna, and in 26 out of the 32 towns in which the Municipal Commissioners are elected, they have the right to elect their own Chairman. In four cases, however, the Commissioners waived this right, and a Chairman was appointed by Government on their application. Of the working of the new system, the Commissioner writes—

"Much improvement is said to have been made during the year in the affairs of the municipalities in the districts of the 24-Pergunnahs, Nuddea, and Moorshedabad. Roads, drains, culverts, wells, temporary latrines, and general conservancy have been fairly attended to. Generally speaking, the new Commissioners appear to have done their work well. I fully agree with Mr. Forbes in thinking that they, as a whole, show a decided interest in their work, and may be fairly accredited with a good average stock of practical common sense, with an honest desire to do their duty, while the frequent references made by them, and the readiness shown to comply with the suggestions, argue well for their willingness to listen to advice."

The Commissioner, however, thinks that the supervision exercised over the municipal accounts and over the proceedings of the collecting staff is more lax than it should be. This he properly attributes to want of acquaintance with business habits in many of the new honorary office-holders, and the strict inspections made by the Examiner of Local Accounts should soon supply the necessary remedy. The Commissioner notices a tendency to listen readily to applications from municipal employés for increased allowances, and to spend freely on higher education.

Education.

20. The following statement shows the progress made in the numbers of schools and pupils during the year:—

The floods, while they lasted, interfered greatly with educational work, 400 schools of different classes remaining closed for periods of from three days to four months. In the 24-Pergunnahs, Nuddea, and Jessore, both the number of lower primary schools and the number of pupils attending them, owing principally to the new rule enforced by the Education Department under which all schools in existence for less than six months, or having less than ten pupils, are excluded from the returns. The number of successful candidates at the lower primary scholarship examination was 941 out of 2,056 candidates, against 900 out of 2,214 in the previous year. The following account is given by the Commissioner of two new technical schools in Moorshedabad:—

"Two technical schools, entered in the returns as industrial schools, were started for the first time during the year in Moorshedabad under the auspices of the Magistrate. Of them, one is called the Lalbagh technical school, and the other the Berhampore technical school. The former has worked for a full year, and the Moorshedabad Municipality contributed Rs. 469 for its support; Rs. 145 were received by subscription and Rs. 20 from other sources. The institution is managed by a Committee, who have appointed an Honorary Superintendent and two teachers. The school is attended by 63 pupils, who receive general education in the adjoining schools. An examination was held, and prizes were awarded to the successful students. The school began by imparting instructions (gratis) in clock-repairing, carpentry, and electro-plating. Latterly, drawing and soap-making have been introduced. It is stated that ivory, bidri, and embroidery works will shortly be taken in hand.

"The Berhampore school was opened in February 1886 Ninety-six students were on the roll on the 31st March last. They are mostly pupils of the several schools for general education in the vicinity; but private gentlemen, such as pleaders, ministerial officers, &c., also attend. The local municipality contributed Rs. 120 towards the expenses of the institution, and Maharani Sornomoyee of Cossimbazar gave a donation of Rs. 500 for the purchase of tools and implements. Drawing, carpentry, and clock-repairing are the subjects of instruction."

Conduct of zemindars.

21. The Commissioner records the names of those zemindars who were most prominent in contributing subscriptions and in organizing and distributing relief during the distress caused by the floods. The thanks of Government have already been conveyed to these gentlemen. On the general conduct of the zemindars of the Division, Mr. Smith has little to report either of praise or blame.

Mr. Smith has conducted the administration of a laborious and important division with ability and success.

22. The Commissioner's remarks on the work of his subordinates will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

RESOLUTION.

In the "Notes" referred to in the preamble, Mr. B. M. Malabari of Bombay a gentleman known to the Indian public for his public-spirited efforts to promote social reform, brings to the notice of the Government of India important considerations connected with the questions of infant marriages and widowhood in India. In his "Notes" Mr. Malabari forcibly depicts the evils incident to those customs, and calls upon the Government to take measures for mitigating them, while he at the same time suggests the direction which, in his opinion, such measures of mitigation might follow. He thinks that the practice of infant marriage might be discouraged were the Educational authorities to rule that no student with a child-wife should be eligible for University degrees, and if the various Heads of Government Departments were instructed to give the preference to those applicants for employment in the public service who were unmarried. In regard to widow re marriage, Mr. Malabari thinks that, among other palliatives, good would come if Government were to take action with a view to providing (1) that no Hindu girl who during her minority, had lost her husband, or the person to whom she had been betrothed, should be condemned to perpetual widowhood against her will; (2) that arrangements might be made in suspected cases to ascertain whether a widow had adopted seclusion voluntarily, or whether it had been forced upon her; (3) that every widow, of whatever age, should have the right to complain to the authorities of social ill-usage, and that proper facilities should be afforded her for the purpose; and (4) that it should be declared illegal for priests to excommunicate either the parties contracting a second marriage, or their relations and connexions

2. Copies of Mr. Malabari's notes were forwarded to Local Governments and Administrations, with the remark that the subject was one of great importance to the social well-being of the people, and that the Governor-General in Council would be glad to receive any observations which the local authorities might desire to make on the proposals. Local Governments and Administrations were at the same time encouraged to consult such official or non-official persons as were considered to be well acquainted with native feeling on the question.

3. All replies from Local Governments and Administrations have now been received. They bear testimony to the good which even already has been done by Mr. Malabari's endeavours to apply a remedy to a state of things which no section of the community regards altogether with approval, and which some consider to be a great abuse. But while thus regarding with sympathy Mr. Malabari's praiseworthy efforts, all the Local Governments and Administrations exhibit complete unanimity of opinion against the adoption of the legislative action, and the imposition of the executive disqualifications which Mr. Malabari advocates. After careful consideration, the Governor-General in Council agrees with the unanimous conclusion arrived at on the subject by the local authorities, and he will endeavour to state as briefly as possible the reasons which have led him to that conclusion.

4. In dealing with such subjects as those raised in Mr. Malabari's Notes, the British Government in India has usually been guided by certain general principles. For instance, when caste or custom enjoins a practice which involves a breach of the ordinary criminal law, the State will enforce the law. When caste or custom lays down a rule which is of its nature enforceable in the Civil Courts, but is clearly opposed to morality or public policy, the State will decline to enforce it. When caste or custom lays down a rule which deals with such matters as are usually left to the option of citizens, and which does not need the aid of Civil or Criminal Courts for its enforcement, State interference is not considered either desirable or expedient.

In the application of such general principles to particular cases, there is doubtless room for differences of opinion; but there is one common-sense test which may often be applied with advantage in considering whether the State should or should not interfere in its legislative or executive capacity with social or religious questions of the kind now under notice. The test is, "Can the State give effect to its commands by the ordinary machinery at its disposal?" If not, it is desirable that the State should abstain from making a rule which it cannot enforce without a departure from its usual practice or procedure.

If this test be applied in the present case, the reasons will be apparent why His Excellency in Council considers that interference by the State is undesirable, and that the reforms advocated by Mr. Malabari, which affect the social customs of many races, with probably as many points of difference as of agreement, must be left to the improving influences of time, and to the gradual operation of the mental and moral development of the people by the spread of education

It is true that the British Government in India has by its legislation set up a standard of morality independent of, and in some material respects differing from, the standard set up by caste; and it may be that the former standard has had some beneficial effect in influencing native customs, practices, and modes of thought. But legislation, though it may be didactic in its effect, should not be undertaken for merely didactic purposes; and in the competition of influence between legislation on the one hand, and caste or custom on the other, the condition of success on the part of the former is that the Legislature should keep within its natural boundaries, and should not, by overstepping those boundaries, place itself in direct antagonism to social opinion.

5 Of the suggestions made in the course of the voluminous correspondence quoted in the preamble, the only two which do not seem to the Government of India to be open to serious objection on ground of principle are (1) the amendment of section 2 of Act XV of 1856 as to the forfeiture of property of a widow on re-marriage; and (2) the supply of machinery by which a Hindu widow, who fails to obtain the consent of her caste-fellows to her re-marriage, may nevertheless marry without renouncing her religion.

But although there is much to be said in favour of each of these suggestions, the Governor-General in Council, as at present advised, would prefer not to interfere, even to the limited extent proposed, by legislative action until sufficient proof is forthcoming that legislation is required to meet a serious practical evil, and that such legislation has been asked for by a section, important in influence or number, of the Hindu community itself.

6. With this expression of his views, His Excellency in Council has decided to publish all the opinions which have been submitted to the Government of India on this important question in the form of a Selection from its Records.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to all Local Governments and Administrations for information; that the Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India for general information; and that the Resolution, together with the papers read in the preamble, be published as a Selection from the Records of the Government of India.

ADELAIDE JUBILEE INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION, 1887.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department (Museums and Exhibitions),—Circular No. $\frac{58\text{Ex.}}{103-9}$ dated Simla, the 7th October 1886.

Read again Circular No. $\frac{1\text{Ex.}}{1-7}$, dated the 6th September 1886, regarding the proposed Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition of 1887.

Read also the following revised papers relating to the Exhibition, received with the Secretary of State's despatch No. 95 (S-and-C), dated the 26th August 1886.

ADELAIDE JUBILEE INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION, 1887.

(1) System of Awards.

Judges shall be appointed—one-half of whom may be nominated by the official representatives of the countries and colonies exhibiting, acting in conjunction with the Executive Committee; and the balance by the Executive Committee.

Judges will be selected for their qualifications in relation to the special class of work assigned to them, and will be chosen from the best sources available, and will impartially recognise merit without regard to nationality.

The Executive Committee will appoint a sufficient number of Judges to each section of classes.

The Executive Committee will appoint Judges for collective exhibits; but no collective exhibit shall obtain a higher award than the best exhibit it contains is entitled to.

The Executive Committee will appoint a Superintendent of Judges and Awards to frame rules for the guidance of Judges, to regulate their meetings and facilitate their work, and otherwise carry out the instructions of the Judges and Awards Committee.

Judges absent from three consecutive meetings, unless by written permission of the Executive Committee, will be held to have surrendered their posts.

A vacancy in any body of Judges shall at once be reported by the said Superintendent of the Judges and Awards, and such place declared vacant, and such vacancy shall forthwith be filled by the Executive Committee.

Experts may be called in by a majority of any Judges, their names having been previously submitted to and approved by the Superintendent of Judges and Awards.

No exhibitor, or his agent, shall be a Judge in any class in which he exhibits.

An exhibitor, who is not the manufacturer or producer of the article exhibited, shall not be entitled to an award. (Live-stock excepted.)

Awards shall consist of three classes, viz.—

1st Class—Diploma of First Order of Merit, and an Official Medal in bronze.

2nd Class—Diploma of Second Order of Merit.

3rd Class—Diploma of Third Order of Merit.

Awards to be based on reports made in writing by the Judges and attested by their signatures, setting forth the merits of the product adjudged, which have formed the ground of the award; and the award so made shall be forthwith forwarded to the Superintendent of Judges and Awards, to whom the records of Judges shall be open for inspection.

The elements of merit shall include originality, invention, discovery, utility, quality, skill, workmanship, fitness for the purposes intended, adaptation to public wants, economy and cost.

The Executive Committee hope to be able to secure additional valuable awards for exhibits of a special character.

All decisions of Judges must be returned to the Superintendent of Judges and Awards on or before a date to be declared by the Judges and Awards Committee, unless special written permission for an extended time shall have been granted by such Committee.

The Judges and Awards Committee will constitute a Final Court of Appeal.

In case of appeal, a fee of £ 1 1*s.* must be deposited with the Superintendent of Judges and Awards: if appeal allowed, the fee will be returned.

The reports of the Judges recommending awards shall be forwarded by the Judges and Awards Committee to the Executive Committee, by whom awards will be announced.

(2) Regulations for Exhibitors.

1. Early application for space is requested to be made to the Secretary in Adelaide, or to the Secretary to the London Commission. Applications must be made through the Commissioner or other official representative of the country or colony to which the applicant belongs, but in the event of no such representative existing, intending exhibitors can communicate direct as above. No applications for space will be received later than the 1st January 1887. The form (A) of application is appended hereto.

2. All space exceeding twenty square feet will be charged for at the rate of one shilling per square foot for floor space, and six pence per foot for wall space, excepting approved sculpture and paintings, which will be admitted free. Special arrangements may be made by the Executive Committee for the charge for space for machinery, agricultural implements, and other bulky goods. No transfer of space will be permitted, and no refund of money will be made to exhibitors withdrawing from the Exhibition and not occupying the space allotted them.

3. Governments intending to take part in this Exhibition are requested to forward to the Secretary of the London Committee an intimation to that effect not later than the 1st October 1886.

4. The Exhibition Buildings will be constituted a Bonded Store; but exhibits sold will be subject to duty.

5. Articles manufactured in the Exhibition buildings may be sold and removed with the consent of the Executive Commissioner. Other exhibits may be sold during the Exhibition, but may not be removed until its close.

6. An Act of the South Australian Legislature protects inventors, provided that application for a patent is lodged within six months of first exhibition.

7. The Commission may refuse entry to articles they consider of a dangerous or offensive character.

8. Articles intended for exhibition will be received on or after the first day of March 1887, and not later than the twentieth day of May 1887.

9. Space allotted to countries and colonies, and not occupied by the twentieth day of May 1887, will revert to the Commission for re-assignment.

10. The utmost precautions will be taken to preserve exhibits from injury, and to protect the buildings. No responsibility can be undertaken, either by the Royal Commissioners or by any other body or person, for damage or loss, whether arising from fire, accident, or depredation, either in the buildings of the Jubilee Exhibition, or while being conveyed to or from. Exhibitors will have to make their own arrangements for effecting insurances, or they can be effected by the Secretary at their charge and risk.

11. Subject to the approval of the Executive Commissioner, exhibitors may appoint their own watchmen during the hours the Exhibition is open to the public.

12. Arrangements will be made for the supply of steam power by the Executive Committee at the expense of the exhibitors; but exhibitors must make application for the power required, and will be charged in proportion for the power used. Exhibitors of machinery in motion will be allowed to work at such hours as may be sanctioned by the Executive Commissioner.

13. If exhibits are not intended for competition, such fact should be distinctly stated when making the entry.

14. Exhibitors will be required to furnish and decorate their own courts or lesser constructions at their own cost, in conformity with the general plans adopted by the Executive Committee.

15. Special constructions may be made by exhibitors, in the building or on the grounds, after receiving the approval, in writing, of the Executive Commissioner.

16. Exhibitors or their agents shall be responsible for the receiving, unpacking, and arrangement of objects, as well as for their removal at the close of the Exhibition.

17. The transportation, unpacking, and the arrangment of the exhibits will be at the expense of the exhibitor.

18. Commissioners representing countries or colonies and private exhibitors may adopt one of two courses, namely,—

(a) They may ship their exhibits to Adelaide, and make their own arrangements for their reception and exhibition; or

(b) If consigned to the Exhibition, they should be addressed as follows:—

To the Commissioner for [here specify country or colony],
Jubilee International Exhibition,
Adelaide,
South Australia;

and, if from other countries or colonies, should have two labels bearing the flag of the country or colony to which the exhibitor belongs.

In cases where no representative has been appointed, the address will be as follows:—

To the Executive Commissioner,
Jubilee International Exhibition,
Adelaide,
South Australia.

Two labels must also be affixed to different, but not opposite, sides of the package, giving the following information:—

I.—The country from which it comes.
II.—Name or firm of exhibitor.
III.—Residence of exhibitor.
IV.—Department, section, and class to which the exhibit belongs.
V.—Total number of packages sent by same exhibitor.
VI.—Serial number of that particular package.

Each package must have prominently painted on it outside the distinctive mark—and a detailed list of the contents of each case should be enclosed therein.

19. If no authorized person be at hand to receive goods sent to the Exhibition, they will be removed and stored by the Executive Commissioner at the cost and risk of the exhibitor.

20. Immediately after the close of the Exhibition, exhibitors must remove their exhibits, and complete such removal within one month from the close of the Exhibition, unless further time be allowed by the Executive Committee.

21. Goods not removed in accordance with Regulation No. 20 may be removed by the Executive Committee and sold to defray expenses, or be otherwise disposed of as they may think fit.

22. An official catalogue (the sale of which is reserved by the Executive Committee) will be published in English: no other catalogue published in the English language can be sold in the building.

23. No work of art or any article whatever exhibited in the buildings or on the ground of the Exhibition may be drawn, copied, or reproduced in any manner whatever without the joint consent of the Exhibitor and the Executive Commissioner.

24 The executive Committee reserves the right to explain, amend, or extend these regulations whenever it may be deemed necessary in the interests of the Exhibition.

25. Communications concerning the Exhibition from any part of Europe or the United States should be addressed—

To the Secretary to the London Commission,
Adelaide Jubilee International Exhibition,

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Explanation.—summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the reading during the same period for the past ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number of rainy days is the numerical means or averages of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub divisional stations for the period in question during the past week ending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

* Mean for 6 days.

REMARK.—Dacca in the column of total rainfall for the week ending 22nd October 1886 for 3·00 read "nil."

for the week ending Friday, the 29th October 1886.

years. The variations are negative when the mean for the week is less than the corresponding normal mean, and positive wh[en] [the] denoting could amount represents the part of the sky covered, the whole sky being denoted by 10. Under the head "District [ob]serv[ations] ... rainfall" the normal means 2 years. The means of the district are the numerical average of the rainfall return received in the district, [i.e.], from the total rainfall at the sub-division

CALCUTTA, the 2nd November 1886.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 29TH OF OCTOBER 1886.

THE week under review has been marked by rapid and large fluctuations of the atmospheric pressure, and by excessive temperature. The horizontal air motion over the province was not only unusually small, but was mainly due to slight local differences of conditions; and was hence very variable and irregular. The excessive temperature apparently caused unusually large vertical motion of the atmosphere. This gave two very large and rapid oscillations of pressure, and caused frequent development of cloud, more especially in the coast districts of Orissa and Bengal, where the air is still largely charged with vapour, and this, as usually happens in Bengal with large and unusual vertical motion of the air, gave frequent thunder-storms. The atmosphere was hence in a slightly disturbed state during the whole week, the variations of pressure over the province large, and the variations in the changes of pressure from station to station, also large in amount. A considerable amount of rain fell during the week, due generally to thunder-storms, and as is usually the case with rainfall under such conditions, it was very irregularly distributed. The rainfall occurred chiefly in the coast districts, so that Orissa, South-West and East Bengal each received amounts slightly in excess of their average fall. The whole of Behar (with the exception of the Sonthal Pergunnahs) received no rain during the week. As the rainfall of the latter half of October generally accompanies the advance of cyclonic storms from the Bay, it is evident that the rainfall of the past week in Orissa and Bengal has occurred under an unusual and very favourable combination of conditions.

Pressure was below the average at the commencement of the week by amounts which ranged from zero at Chittagong to ·10″ at Patna and ·11″ at Gya. If increased from 09″ to ·12″ on Saturday. This was followed by a rapid fall on Sunday (the 24th) and Monday (the 25th), averaging ·17″ throughout the province, but varying considerably in amount at different stations A more rapid increase of pressure occurred on Tuesday (the 26th) and Wednesday (the 27th). This, like the preceding movement, varied considerably in amount at different stations. It was followed on Thursday (the 28th) and Friday (the 29th) by a more moderate, but equally irregular fall, which averaged ·08″ throughout the province. Pressure at the end of the week differed very slightly from the normal. The mean pressure of the week was below the normal at all stations except False Point, Saugor Island, Jessore, Chittagong and Dacca, where it was practically normal. The deficiency was greatest at Bankipore (·05″) and at Darjeeling (06″).

The most marked feature of the week was its excessive temperature The mean temperature of the week was 6·3° above the normal mean in South Behar, 5 2° in Chutia Nagpur, 4° in Orissa, South-West Bengal and North Behar, and 2° in East Bengal. In the coast districts the day and night temperatures have been almost equally excessive. Thus in Orissa and South Bengal the maximum day temperature was 3½° above the normal, whilst the minimum day temperature was 4½° above it. On the other hand, it is the night temperature chiefly which was excessive in the interior of the province. Thus in Behar the mean maximum day temperature of the week was 2½° above the average, whilst the mean minimum night temperature was 8½° above it. The variations of the day and night temperatures in different parts of the province from the mean of the period are shown more fully in the accompanying table :—

	Normal mean maximum temperature, September 23rd to 29th.	Actual mean maximum temperature, September 23rd to 29th, 1886.	Excess of actual over normal.	Normal mean minimum temperature, September 23rd to 29th.	Actual mean minimum temperature, September 23rd to 29th 1886.	Excess of actual over normal.

The general character of the air motion and of the rainfall of the week has been already stated.

Local showers fell in East Bengal and Orissa on the 23rd. Very heavy rain fell at some stations in the south-eastern portions of East Bengal. Thus at Harishpore in the Noakholly district b 31 inches were registered, and at Feeny 3 2 inches. Moderate showers were received in the sub-montane districts of North Bengal on the 25th. Light to moderate showers occurred at many stations in South-West Bengal, North Bengal, and Chutia Nagpur on the 26th, and in South-West and East Bengal and Chutia Nagpur on the 27th. The heaviest rainfall during these two days was received at Gournadi in the Backergunge district on the 27th, when 2·55 inches were registered. The rainfall of the two remaining days of the week (the 28th and 29th) was confined almost entirely to Orissa and South-West Bengal. On the 28th the following were the largest amounts registered:—Bussirhat 3·35 inches, Bongong 2·91 inches, and Satkhira 2·35 inches. The rainfall of the 29th was much smaller in amount than that of the 28th. The irregularity of the rainfall of the week is shown by the fact that in Orissa it ranged between ·1 inch (at Pooree) to 5·14 inches (at Cuttack), in East Bengal from ·15 inch (at Jamalpore) to 5·31 inches (at Harishpore), and in South Bengal from nil to 3·35 inches.

Orissa received an average of 1·74 inches or 10 per cent. in excess; South-West Bengal an average of 1·04 inches or 5 per cent. in excess; East Bengal 1·3 inches or 18 per cent. in excess; Chutia Nagpur ·57 inch or 10 per cent. in excess. The average of North Bengal was ·52 inch or 23 per cent. in defect. No rain fell in Behar except in the Southal Pergunnahs, the average fall being one-third of an inch.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 29th of October 1886:—

MEMORANDUM.

DURING the week ending 9th October 1886, the principal Municipalities in Benga (excepting Midnapore, from which no data have yet been received) returned the birth and death rates of 18·3 and 29·4 per 1,000 of population, respectively, against 21·0 and 36·7 per 1,000, respectively, in the preceding week ending 2nd October, indicating a considerable falling off in the registration of both the events, particularly of deaths.

2. The following Municipalities returned the highest proportions of births and deaths :—

Births.

	Ratio per mille.
Serampore	39·3
Gya	34·9
Durbhanga	32·3

Deaths.

	Ratio per mille.
Gya	92·2
Serampore	59·0
Suburbs of Calcutta...	42·0
Patna	36·9
Monghyr	33·4
Puri	31·5

3. The subjoined table gives the death rates from the principal diseases. The figures denote that, as compared with the results of the preceding week, there was an abatement of mortality from all the diseases excepting small-pox, from which no death was registered :—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
	9th Oct. 1886.	2nd Oct 1886.
Cholera	6·6	8·5
Small-pox	...	...
Fever	11·4	12·8
Bowel-complaints	4·0	6·0
Injury	·4	·5
Other causes	7·0	8·9

4. The highest death rates from cholera and the diseases coming under the head of "Other causes" were returned from the following Municipalities, the rest of the maladies not proving conspicuously fatal anywhere, excepting fever which appears to have prevailed with noticeable fatality only in the Gya town, viz, at the rate of 31·5 per 1,000 of population :—

Cholera.

	Ratio per mille.
Gya	25·3
Serampore	15·7
Chupra	12·7
Suburbs of Calcutta	9·9
Patna	8·4
Puri	8·4
Monghyr	6·3
Mozufferpore	6·1
Howrah	4·0

Other causes.
